

Two-time National Coach-of-the-Year Andy Lopez is proud to host the 2003 Arizona Baseball Academy at Frank Sancet Field on the campus of the University of Arizona.

One of only seven active coaches with a national championship to his credit, the Wildcats' skipper has won over 700 career games and has taken three different teams to Omaha and the College World Series. His teams have made nine NCAA regional appearances and have won three regional titles. They have won seven conference titles and finished with 30 or more victories 16 times.

Major League Baseball has taken 70 of his players in its amateur draft and he has mentored 19 All-Americans, 20 All-Region and 45 All-Conference players.

Camper's that attend Coach Lopez's Academy will receive nationally renowned coaching and intensive instruction with an emphasis on hard work, hustle and FUN.

Players of all ages and skills are invited to attend the first of the three five-day camps in July. The instructors and counselors will provide hands on instruction to help campers learn the fundamentals and techniques of baseball

The High School All-Star Camps, from July 13-17 and 20-24, are reserved for the top prep players in the nation to come and compete with the best and improve their skills.

Coach Lopez, the Arizona coaching staff and a select group of instructors will help develop the All-Star campers' talents and provide a stage for them to demonstrate their skills. Over the past seven years, 21 All-Star campers have been offered Division I scholarships to play for Coach Lopez.
