

ONE OF THE BEST EVER: CBS-TV announced its list of the "Ten Greatest Coaches in College Basketball History" during the 2003 Final Four and it included UA head coach Lute Olson. In voting done by a 500-member panel, Olson was joined on the list by Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, Henry Iba, Bob Knight, Mike Krzyzewski, Pete Newell, Adolph Rupp, Dean Smith, John Thompson and John Wooden.

ALL-CONFERENCE: The Wildcats were well represented on the Pac-10's postseason honor roll, as no fewer than eight players and coaches were recognized. Jason Gardner and Luke Walton both earned all-conference accolades, while teammates Hassan Adams and Andre Iguodala were named to the all-freshman team. Head coach Lute Olson, who shared the honor with Stanford's Mike Montgomery, was named league Coach of the Year for the seventh time in his career. Rick Anderson, Channing Frye and Salim Stoudamire also received honorable mention all-conference honors.

CONFERENCE TITLES: Arizona won its 10th Pacific-10 Conference regular season championship in 2002-03 and the school's 21st conference title overall. It was UA's first league title since 1999-2000 and its first outright championship since 1997-

98. Over the last 20 seasons, Lute Olson has guided the Wildcats to 10 conference regular season championships, a feat matched nationally only by Kansas in the nation's top six conferences (Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and Southeastern).

TOP CAT: UA finished the Pac-10 slate with a 17-1 record, marking the 18th time in the last 19 seasons that the Cats have won at least 12 conference games, a feat matched by no other league foe. Dating back to 1984-85, Arizona has averaged 14.4 league wins per season. The only time in that span that Arizona failed to win at least 12 conference games was 1996-97, the year UA won the national championship.

SELECT SIX: Arizona's 17-1 record in Pac-10 play equaled the best league record since the conference expanded to 10 teams in 1978-79. In those 25 seasons, six teams have gone 17-1 with Arizona accomplishing the feat five times (1988, 1989, 1993, 1998, 2003) and Oregon State (1981) once.

SELECT COMPANY: Jason Gardner's and Luke Walton's statistical accomplishments have put them into very select company. Gardner is one of just four players in Pac-10 history to reach 1,500 points, 500 assists and 200 steals. Meanwhile, Walton is one of only three Pac-10 players to amass 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 500 assists.

2003 Review

1,500 points/500 assists/200 steals	Pts.	Ast.	Stl.
Gary Patyon, Oregon State (1986-90)	2,172	938	321
Tyus Edney, UCLA (1992-95)	1,515	652	224
Brevin Knight, Stanford (1993-97)	1,714	780	298
Jason Gardner, Arizona (1999-2003)	1,984	622	225

1,000 points/500 rebounds/500 assists	Pts.	Reb.	Ast.
Ron Lee, Oregon (1972-76)	2,085	580	572
Pooh Richardson, UCLA (1986-89)	1,461	565	833
Luke Walton, Arizona (1998-2003)	1,179	662	582

ALWAYS ON THE RUN: One of the Arizona calling cards this season was an ability to make big scoring runs. The UA has posted a double-figure scoring run seven times this season. Here is a look at the list:

28 points – 32-4 run over 11:10 vs. USC, Feb. 15
 24 points – 26-2 run over 5:58 vs. UCLA, Feb. 13
 22 points – 24-2 run over 6:16 vs. Western Kentucky, Nov. 23
 19 points – 24-5 run over 8:04 at Arizona State, Feb. 22
 17 points – 20-3 run over 12:22 at Kansas, Jan. 25
 16 points – 16-0 run over 3:38 vs Kansas, March 29
 14 points – 18-4 run over 5:08 vs. Oregon, March 8

AGAINST RANKED OPPONENTS: Arizona finished the season 8-1 against nationally-ranked opponents, including a 5-1 mark away from home. In the Lute Olson era, Arizona is 93-58 (.616) against ranked opposition.

BALANCED ATTACK: With five players averaging in double figures, it's easy to see that Arizona was at its collective best when firing on all cylinders. The Wildcats were a spotless 10-0 when five players finished in double figures. Twice during the season Arizona placed more than five players in double digits, including a high of seven in the season opener against Western Kentucky.

A TOP-10 GUY: Arguably the most-decorated player in school history, Jason Gardner ended his career as Arizona's all-time leader in games played (136), games started (135), minutes played (4,825), average minutes per game (35.5), three-point field goals (318), and three-point field goal attempts (875). He leaves Arizona ranked in the top 10 in seven other statistical categories. Additionally, he ranks in the top 10 in five Pac-10 statistical categories.

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING: UA's balanced offensive attack accomplished a feat matched by four other Lute Olson-coached clubs at the University of Arizona: have seven players score 200 or more points. It is the first time since 1995-96 that UA has matched the feat, and joins the 1989-90, 1990-91 and 1991-92 clubs in placing seven players above the 200-point plateau.

WINNERS: Led by the duo of Jason Gardner and Luke Walton, Arizona posted a four-year record of 107-29 (.787), won two Pac-10 titles, a Pac-10 postseason tournament and advanced to the 2001 national championship game. The 107 wins equaled the second-most over a four-year period in school history.

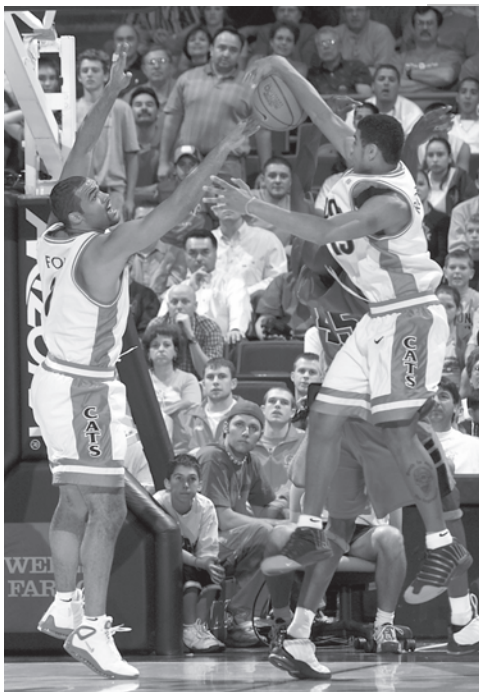

Here are two notes relating to four-year accomplishments in Tucson: 1.) every four-year player to enter the program since the fall of 1985 has won at least 101 games in that span, which covers the last 15 senior classes; and 2.) every four-year player to enter the program since the fall of 1990 has played in at least one Final Four.

ON THE ROAD: With a 9-0 conference road record, the 2002-03 Wildcats became just the third Pac-10 team to finish unbeaten in league play on the road since the conference expanded to 10 teams in 1978-79. Oregon State (1980-81) and Stanford (2000-01) are the two others to accomplish the feat.

STREAK BREAKERS: Arizona's road successes went a long way towards ending several homecourt win streaks in 2002-03. No fewer than three streaks of note were snapped courtesy of a Wildcat victory. UA's 81-72 win at Oregon on Jan. 2, 2003, ended the Ducks' 23-game streak at McArthur Court; UA's 91-74 win at Kansas on Jan. 25, 2003, ended the Jayhawks' 25-game streak at Allen Fieldhouse; and UA's 88-75 win at California on Feb. 27, 2003, ended the Golden Bears' 17-game streak at Haas Pavilion. No Pac-10 team has a better overall road record over the last 20 years than Arizona's 224-118 (.655) mark.

TWO OF A KIND: Jason Gardner capped his collegiate career with a 23-point effort vs. Kansas. It was his team-leading 24th double-figure game of the season and the 100th of his career. Over the last 20 years, the only other UA player to finish his career with 100 or more double-figure scoring games was Sean Elliott (1985-89) with 128.

BIG GAME PLAYER: Senior forward Rick Anderson was at his best when it mattered most...in the postseason. The native of Long Beach, Calif., averaged 12.5 points and 9.3 rebounds, while shooting 54.1 percent from the floor, in four NCAA Tournament games. That was nearly two points and three rebounds better than his season averages. If you add the Pac-10 Tournament game, his averages jump to 14.6 points and 9.6 rebounds.

Game 3

No. 1 Arizona 91, Saint Louis 58 Dec. 3, 2002 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona relied on its depth to methodically build and keep the lead in a 91-58 win over Saint Louis. A solid rebounding effort by the Billikens kept the deficit to less than 10 points through the first 15 minutes of play, but ultimately the pace was more to Arizona's liking. UA used a 15-2 run late in the first half to push the lead to 19 points. Jason Gardner's game-high 16 points led five Wildcats in double figures. Freshman Andre Iguodala added 10 boards in the effort.

Will Bynum and Rick Anderson combined for 36 points and 17 rebounds to lead Arizona to the eight-point win in the team's first road game of the season. Playing before the first sellout crowd in Cox Arena history, Bynum scored 14 of his career-high 19 points in the first half to stake the Cats to a nine-point halftime lead. Anderson followed by scoring 13 of his season-high 17 points in the second half, as Arizona built as much as a 19 point lead. Only an SDSU bucket at the buzzer cut the UA lead to less than double figures in the final 20 minutes.

Game 6

Louisiana State 66, No. 1 Arizona 65

Dec. 21, 2002 • Baton Rouge, La.

Arizona erased most of a 15-point second half deficit, but couldn't convert on its final possession in a 66-65 loss at LSU. The one-point loss belied a game in which LSU controlled tempo throughout, limiting Arizona to a season-low 32.9 field goal percentage and at one point holding a 30-18 rebound advantage. Prior to its late-game efforts, Arizona missed its first 13 shots of the second half and saw LSU outscore it 27-11 over a 15:17 stretch dating back to the first half.

Jan. 2, 2003 • Eugene, Ore.

Arizona used a 50-28 advantage on the glass to erase an 11-point deficit with 14:32 to play and pick up the win the Pac-10 opener. Thirteen of Jason Gardner's game-high 21 points came in the second half, and the senior was responsible for igniting the key run. He nailed treys on consecutive possessions to start a 13-2 run over 2:41 to tie the game, then hit another trey at 2:13 to give the Cats the lead for good. It was Arizona's first win in Eugene since 1999 and snapped the Ducks' 23-game homecourt win streak.

Game 10

No. 4 Arizona 80, Oregon State 65

Jan. 4, 2003 • Corvallis, Ore.

A balanced scoring and rebounding effort enabled Arizona to coast to the 15-point win and earn a road sweep in Oregon for the first time since 1997-98. Hassan Adams' 14 points led five UA players in double figures, while Isaiah Fox's 10 boards led five players with as many as five rebounds. The game wasn't in doubt after a 10-0 run midway through the first half broke an 11-11 tie, and the UA lead reached as many as 21 points five times in the second half.

Game 11

No. 2 Arizona 82, Washington State 69

Jan. 9, 2003 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona snapped out of a lethargic performance just long enough to post a 15-0 run midway through the second half in earning its third straight Pac-10 victory. Channing Frye, Jason Gardner and Luke Walton combined for 13 points and four assists in the key run, which covered 3:37 and pushed the lead to 19. A balanced UA attack, featuring four players in double figures, offset a 35-point effort by WSU's Marcus Moore while Frye and Rick Anderson each collected double-doubles.

Game 12

No. 2 Arizona 79, Washington 61

Jan. 11, 2003 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona used a 9-0 run midway through the first half to break away from a pesky Washington club that forced five ties through the game's first 10 minutes. Salim Stoudamire scored 13 of his game-high 23 points in the first half to lead the Cats as it slowly built as much as a 21-point lead. Jason Gardner added 11 points and a season-high nine assists, while Andre Iguodala added four points, four rebounds, five assists and three steals.

No. 2 Arizona 87, UCLA 52

Jan. 18, 2003 • Los Angeles, Calif.

Salim Stoudamire led five Wildcats in double figures as Arizona rolled to the 87-52 win. The 35-point defeat was UCLA's largest in Pauley Pavilion history. Stoudamire connected on 8-of-13 attempts en route to a game-high 19 points. The Arizona defense held UCLA to a season-low 31.8 percent shooting for the game, including 25 percent shooting and 18 points in the first half. It marked UA's first sweep of Los Angeles since 1992-93.

Stanford 82, No. 1 Arizona 77

Jan. 30, 2003 • Tucson, Ariz.

Rebounds, turnovers and free throw shooting proved to be the difference as Stanford picked up the five-point win. Stanford outrebounded UA, 43-39, forced 19 turnovers and benefitted from 14-of-26 Wildcat free throw shooting as the Cardinal won in McKale Center for the third straight season. Stanford built as much as a 14-point lead in the second half before UA went on a 20-3 run and took a 65-62 lead with 7:18 to go. Julius Barnes and Matt Lottich hit treys on the next two possessions to get Stanford back on top for good.

Game 18

No. 1 Arizona 95, No. 20 California 80

Feb. 1, 2003 • Tucson, Ariz.

Jason Gardner's team-high 18 points led a balanced UA attack as the Wildcats claimed sole possession of first place in the Pac-10 with a 15-point win over California. Gardner, who hit 6-of-10 field goal attempts, was one of six Wildcats to finish in double figures. Arizona used a 7-1 run over the last 2:24 of the first half to push the lead to double figures then quickly ran it out to 18 points with 17:40 remaining in the second half.

Game 19

No. 2 Arizona 88, Washington 85 (OT)

Feb. 6, 2003 • Seattle, Wash.

A Salim Stoudamire trey with 1:18 to go in overtime put Arizona ahead for good as the Wildcats escaped with a three-point win in overtime. Stoudamire connected on 9-of-13 field goal attempts, including 5-of-8 from three-point range, en route to a game-high 25 points. Channing Frye scored 15 of his career-high 24 points in the second half and added 12 rebounds to help UA erase a 10-point deficit. It was Frye's second straight double-double.

Game 27

No. 1 Arizona 88, Oregon 80

March 8, 2003 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona used an 18-4 run over 5:08 of the second half to break open a tight game and claim an eight-point win over Oregon. Jason Gardner proved to be the difference as he tallied 21 of his 27 points in the second half as UA outscored the Ducks, 53-42 after the break. Arizona forced 20 Oregon turnovers and held a 27-10 advantage in turnover points. Salim Stoudamire chipped in with 19 points as the UA backcourt tallied 46 of the team's 88 points.

Game 28

(8) UCLA 96, (1) Arizona 89 (OT)

Pac-10 Tournament Quarterfinals

March 13, 2003 • Los Angeles, Calif.

UCLA placed five players in double figures, limited Arizona to just 37.5 percent shooting and held its own on the glass to defeat Arizona, 96-89. The Bruins' Ray Young hit a trey with 4.9 seconds to go in regulation to send the game into overtime. UA struggled offensively in the second half and overtime, shooting just 29.4 percent (15-of-51) from the floor. The loss snapped Arizona's 10-game win streak on the season and its 12-game win streak in the Pac-10 Tournament.

(1) Arizona 80, (16) Vermont 51

2003 NCAA West Region First Round

March 20, 2003 • Salt Lake City, Utah

Salim Stoudamire scored a team-high 18 points and was one of four Wildcats in double figures as Arizona defeated Vermont, 80-51, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament's West Region. The sophomore scored 16 of his points in the first half to lead UA to a 39-22 lead at the break. The Wildcats used a 16-4 run over the last 5:31 of the first half to break open the game and followed with a 24-12 run over the first nine minutes of the second half to put the game out of reach.

Game 30

(1) Arizona 96, (9) Gonzaga 95 (2OT)

2003 NCAA West Region Second Round

March 22, 2003 • Salt Lake City, Utah

Luke Walton grabbed the rebound following a miss by Gonzaga's Blake Stepp to end what can easily be described as an NCAA Tournament classic — a 96-95 double overtime UA victory. The game featured seven ties and 10 lead changes, four ties and four lead changes in the overtime periods alone, the last coming on a Salim Stoudamire floater with 1:59 to go. Arizona, which committed just nine turnovers in the game, shot 58.3 percent from the floor in the overtime periods.

Game 31

(1) Arizona 88, (5) Notre Dame 71

2003 NCAA West Regional Semifinal

March 27, 2003 • Anaheim, Calif.

A balanced offensive attack and a solid defensive effort helped Arizona earn a 16-point win in the NCAA West Regional semifinal. Five UA players finished in double figures at one end to the court, while forcing 19 Irish turnovers and limiting them to just 33.3 percent shooting in the second half. Hassan Adams scored six of his 14 points in an 18-3 run over 3:53 of the first half. Jason Gardner added 19 points, six assists and three steals, while Luke Walton contributed 16 points, seven boards and eight assists. UA shot 53.5 percent in the first half and posted a 44-36 rebound advantage.

Game 32

(2) Kansas 78, (1) Arizona 75

2003 NCAA West Regional Final

March 29, 2003 • Anaheim, Calif.

Kansas had an answer for every UA run to win the West Regional championship. After withstanding a 13-0 UA run in the first half and a 16-0 run in the second, Kansas made every play down the stretch to earn a trip to the 2003 Final Four. Kirk Hinrich scored 28 and Jeff Graves added 13 points and 15 rebounds, including a key tip-in with 3:12 to go, for the Jayhawks that ended Arizona's season at 28-4. Jason Gardner scored a team-high 23 points, but missed two three-point attempts in the final three seconds to send the game to overtime. Luke Walton added 18 points, 10 rebounds and six assists.
