Some Game Themes

Arizona works to maintain momentum gained in its 36-point victory (48-12) over UCLA last week... UA sees if the Price (Keith, UW QB) is right after vanquishing the Prince (Kevin, UCLA QB)... Arizona QB Nick Foles ventures onto turf where he last threw for 384 yards in a 39-for-53 outing that came up short when one of the tosses bounced off a dude's foot (or the ground) for a pick-six and the winning points... Did the UCLA game truly snap Arizona out of the coulda-shoulda funk it endured in its last dozen FBS games?... Will interim coach Tim Kish's "let's have fun" sense of purpose keep Arizona loose? Can the Dawgs maintain their 4-0 mastery at home?... Meantime, the Cats try to win a league game on the road for the first time since last October (at UCLA, 2010)... Washington plays for bowl eligibility while Arizona plays for the lifeline that could give it that opportunity down the road... The Cats get their fourth and final look at the Pac-12 North... Two of the nation's active career receiving touchdown leaders face off (UW's Kearse with 28, UA's Criner with 27)... It's Homecoming weekend on the University of Washington campus, setting the Cats up for their own alumni fete a week hence in Tucson against Utah... Is another thrilling finish in store between a pair of schools that have produced some instant classics in Seattle over the last decade-plus?

Arizona Football Media Policies

Postgame Interviews

Arizona has a closed locker room policy after games. There is no player availability on the field immediately after the game.

Head coach Mike Stoops will address the assembled media only after his postgame radio show responsibilities have been completed both at home and on the road. Coach Stoops will address the media prior to any player comments.

At home games, individual players and coaches will be made available to media members for postgame interviews in the Media Room near Gate 15 only through request and approval of the media relations and coaching staffs. On the road, the locker room situation will dictate postgame protocol. Please consult the UA SID staff members.

Weekly Practices

All practices will be closed to the media during the season. Arizona players and coaches will be available post-practice to the media on Monday-Wednesday only. Players and coaches will not be available to the media post-practice on Thursdays and Fridays. Media members are requested to make post-practice interviews with individual players through the media relations staff.

Phone Interview Requests

Phone interviews Monday through Wednesday with requested players will be taken by the media relations staff and every effort will be made to fulfill them. However, due to class schedules and team commitments, not all interview requests can be honored. Student-athletes are not available for phone interviews on Sunday, Thursday or Friday. No student-athlete phone numbers will be provided to media members.

Weekly Availability

Monday's

Weekly Press Conference in McKale Center Room 106

11 a.m. -- Noon

Coaches and players may also be available to media members in attendance.

Tuesday's

Weekly Pac-12 media teleconference

Arizona Last Week

Arizona went out and played some ball from the onset, scoring six touchdowns on its first six possessions to put the game out of reach before halftime in a 48-12 victory over UCLA. The Cats won the toss, took the ball and didn't look back. UA picked up a pair of turnover TDs with 60-yard drives in that mix, plus put together four drives of around 80 yards. As definitive, place kicker John Bonano tacked on all six PAT kicks to give him seven consecutive (one at OSU) makes and cement his new grip on the kicking chores. (He later socked field goals of 41 and 21 yards on his first career attempts to put 12 total points on the board.) Early keys besides UA's offensive persistence were answering the Bruins first-quarter touchdown drive (which cut it to 14-7) with a long UA scoring drive, and otherwise holding UCLA to 19 plays and 114 yards total on its other first-half possessions. At the break the Cats had 416 yards in offense to 177 by UCLA. In the end, Arizona scored six touchdowns on six red zone forays, converted 10 of 16 third downs and one fourth down, and rushed for a season-high 254 yards. Nick Foles backed it up with 291 throwing yards and three touchdowns -- all to Juron Criner -- while the Cats featured five different running backs in shotgun, spread, pistol, twin and other formations. Defensively the best news was the scoreboard, holding UCLA to as few points as it did against Northern Arizona. The Bruins picked up two of their markers on a safety with six minutes left in the game and UA's second unit on the field. The win snapped a five-game losing streak and snapped a string of 10 consecutive losses to FBS schools. All the numbers aside, the game's outcome and process proved that college football's an emotional game: you have to have some and if you do, good things can happen. Ten days after their head coach was dismissed, the Wildcats played without caution.

The Coaches

Arizona - Tim Kish (Otterbein '76), interim head coach (1-0)... This is Kish's first assignment as a head coach. The 36-year veteran of the college ranks has coached at Pac-12, Big Ten (Illinois, Northwestern), the Ohio prep ranks, Mid-American Conference schools (Ball State, Bowling Green State, Ohio) and a service academy (Army). He has been on Mike Stoops' Arizona staff as linebackers coach each of the latter's eight years in Tucson, the last two as co- or defensive coordinator. Kish played college ball as a DB at Otterbein, and later earned a master's degree from Bowling Green. He began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Mariemont High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1976. He has been on the defensive side of the ball all but one year in his college career, the 1982 season as QBs coach at Ball State. He and his wife, Angela, have two daughters and a son. His eldest, Megan, is a student at Ohio State. Washington - Steve Sarkisian (BYU '97), third year at Washington (17-15) and third year overall as a head coach. A former WAC Offensive Player of the Year ('96) as a quarterback, he started his coaching career mentoring the position at El Camino College in 2000, and then spent three and four seasons at USC sandwiched around a QB coach job for the Oakland Raiders in 2004. His last two seasons in Los Angeles (2005-08) were as offensive coordinator. He's been on that side of the ball throughout his coaching career. He is 1-1 against Arizona with the victory coming in Seattle in 2009.

Caretaking Coaching

UA defensive coordinator Tim Kish's fill-in work as a head coach (following the Oct. 10 dismissal of Mike Stoops) is unusual but not exclusively so. The acting job is a second for the Wildcats in the past decade. Then AD Jim Livengood removed John Mackovic from head coaching duties on Sunday, Sept. 28, 2003 after UA opened the season with a 1-4 record. He appointed defensive coordinator Mike Hankwitz to take over the program for the duration of the season. Hankwitz, now defensive coordinator at Northwestern, led UA to a 1-6 finish for the program's lowest mark in the modern era, 2-10 (.0167). (The 1957 club under Ed Doherty, 1-8-1, had a lower winning percentage (.015). A few months after Mackovic's ouster, Mike Stoops was appointed. A search by UA Athletics Director Greg Byrne for his successor is well under way.

Sleepless In Seattle

It started with the "Leap by the Lake" in 1998 and continued over a decade later with the "Immaculate Interception" in 2009. Indeed, Arizona-Washington games in Seattle have produced some edge-of-your-seat, down-to-the-wire excitement that have made some sleepless nights for fans of both schools. The last seven matchups in Seattle have seen the Huskies win four games, while the Wildcats hold a 223-216 overall scoring edge. The Huskies' four wins have all come by four points or less, while the Wildcats have 10-point, seven-point and three-point margins in their favor. Ortege Jenkins' head-over-heels flip into the endzone with only a few ticks of the clock remaining is one of the iconic plays in Arizona football history and gave UA a 31-28 victory that was one of the highlights in a 12-1 season in 1998. Then two years ago, the Wildcats seemingly had a comfortable fourth quarter lead after Alex Zendejas kicked a field goal to give UA a 33-21 advantage with 4:22 remaining. But Jake Locker led a quick-strike attack that cut the deficit to 33-28. On UA's ensuing possession, Nick Foles checked a run-pass option into a seemingly safe wide receiver screen pass, but some outside pressure forced Foles to change the angle of his pass to Delashaun Dean. The ball skipped off the Husky Stadium field turf near the very spot Dean's foot was planted and ricocheted into the hands of Mason Foster, who returned it 37 yards for a touchdown (and UW's subsequent two-point conversion), capping a 15-point swing in 18 seconds. Officials upheld the call on the field as an interception, but some replay evidence indicated the ball likely hit the turf. Either way, it was another thrilling chapter in the series history in Seattle. Here's how the last seven games have gone (* winning score):

	ARIZ	WASH		ARIZ	WASH
2009	33	36*	2001	28	31*
2007	48*	41	2000	32	35*
2004	23*	13	1998	31*	28
2002	28	32*

Against the Huskies

In recent years, Arizona has been able to put up some impressive offensive numbers against Washington. In the last four meetings (2007-10), the Wildcats have averaged 43.3 points and 478 total offense yards per game against the Huskies. The breakdown has been 148 yards on the ground compared to 330 through the air, all averaging out to 6.5 yards per play.

Quick Nick Notes

They're elaborated on elsewhere in this missive (see page 6 of this release for career/single season charts) but here are some quick records-watch blurbs. Senior quarterback Nick Foles is on pace to establish Arizona records for season passing yards, pass completions and passing attempts, among others. He has 227 completions (No. 5), 281 attempts (12 shy of No. 4) and 2,546 yards (No. 4), with five regular-season games remaining. His 18 TD throws (tied No. 7) also project to challenge Willie Tuitama's UA record of 28. His completion percentage of .709 would be a record if it held up, besting Keith Smith's .685 mark in 1998. He needs 11 more TDs throws to eclipse Tuitama's career mark of 67 touchdown throws from 2005-08. He needs 989 more passing yards to surpass Willie's UA record of 9,211. All remarkable numbers for a guy who's played in 30 Arizona games, a couple of those as a backup.

3,000 Club

QB Nick Foles needs 454 passing yards to post a 3,000-yard level in a season, accomplished only four times. He did it a year ago with 3,191 passing yards. Willie Tuitama (record 3,683 in '07 and 3,088 in '08) did it twice and Jason Johnson (3,327 in '02) reached 3,000 once. Foles' 2011 campaign (2,546) currently is No. 4 on the chart. Mike Stoops was thought of as a defensive coach but between Tuitama and Foles his quarterbacks will own five of the top 10 single-season passing yards totals in Arizona history.

Toughest Schedule

According to Jeff Sagarin's NCAA Football ratings, Arizona's schedule ranks as the toughest in the Pac-12 and the sixth-toughest in the nation to date. It's no excuse for a five-game losing streak that the Cats snapped last week, but it still serves as a notable fact. Added together, Arizona's five losses have come against teams with a combined 28-7 record. Three of those teams are ranked in the top seven spots of the AP Top 25 poll and BCS standings this week, with Stanford and Oklahoma State boasting undefeated records.

Staring at the Stats

Arizona improved its scoring average to 30 points per game for the first time since the season opener after its 48 markers against UCLA. Assuming it's within reach of doing so here on out, the 2011 club would become only the third Arizona team since 1998 (33.7) to do so. The other was the 36.6 figure posted in 2008. In fact, since matriculating with the Pac-10 in 1978 only one other Arizona team -- the 1983 Larry Smith squad (32.1) finished with a scoring average above 30 points... Arizona's red-zone factor of 72% touchdowns contrasts with last year's figure of 72% scores in the red zone... Time of possession average for UA and opponents is close to one minute overall, with the bad guys holding a 30:42 to 29:18 edge... Arizona has settled into a groove with more running focus, but still tracking toward a potential school-record for season yards-per-play. The team is at 6.3 and the record is 6.5 posted in 1999 by Keith Smith/Ortega Jenkins at QB, and school record-holders Trung Canidate (RB) and Dennis Northcutt (WR)... UA's current passing yardage of 2,617 (2,546 by Nick Foles), is already its No. 9 season figure during its Pac-10/12 years. All nine of those have come since 1998 and seven of them have come in the past 11 seasons. The current total of 233 completions is No. 6 all-time for UA... The Cats set a school mark with 23.6 first downs per game last year. This year the average is 26.0 after seven games... Despite a season-low crowd of 46,565 on a Thursday night with kickoff at rush hour last week, UA is averaging 51,000 fans per game, close to 90 percent of capacity at Arizona Stadium...

Century City

It wasn't in L.A. but it was against UCLA. Two Arizona players had 100 receiving yards against the Bruins -- Juron Criner (10-103) and Gino Crump (9-103). Criner also scored three touchdowns to take sole possession of the No. 2 career spot in career TDs with 27. He passed Dennis Northcutt (24) and is within three of the Arizona record held by Theopolis "T" Bell who had 30 from 1972-75 in Jim Young's prolific UA offenses. Crump's receptions and yardage were his career bests. Arizona had two other receivers notch dual 100-yard games earlier this season -- Dan Buckner (10-142, TD) and Austin Hill (8-128) at Oklahoma State. Other 100-yard receiving games came this year for Criner against NAU (6-151), David Douglas against Oregon (7-120) and Buckner at Oregon State (8-144). Despite those numbers probably the best overall receiving game came in the loss at USC when nine Wildcats had three or more receptions and QB Nick Foles completed single passes to three other guys.

Criner Back In Form

After a couple quiet weeks by his standards (and hindered by some nagging injuries), Juron Criner returned to form last Thursday against UCLA. He collected his second 100-yard game of the season (eighth of career) to go with three touchdowns. The three scores pushed him into sole possession of the No. 2 spot on the UA all-time touchdown receptions chart. Next on the list is the top spot held by Theopolis "T" Bell, who had 30 in his career from 1972-75. See page seven of this release for a complete recap of where Criner stands on some selected UA career and single season receiving lists.

Choosing to Run

Arizona ran the ball 46 times for a whopping 254 yards last week, including positive yardage from quarterback Nick Foles, in averaging 5.5 yards per carry. In the preceding three games the Cats had 87 rushing attempts for 264 total yards against Oregon, USC and Oregon State. The focus against the Bruins was for balance -- those rushing yards and 319 passing for a second 500-yard outing (also at USC) this year. Keola Antolin had 77 yards against UCLA on eight totes, a nifty 9.6 yards per carry, Taimi Tutogi added 32 markers and two scores and freshman Ka'Deem Carey totaled 9-67 and a touchdown to help UA with its best rushing effort of the season.

Chain Gang

Arizona's young offensive line -- two freshmen (redshirt), a soph and two juniors -- has been improving steadily, with no indication of proof more evident than the average of 30 first downs each of the past three contests. UA had 37 against USC, 23 against OSU and 32 against UCLA for 92 total in those games. Arizona has had less than 20 first downs in only one game this year, 19 against Stanford. The Cats have had more first downs than opponents in four games -- the last three and against NAU in the season opener. Conversely, holding the opponents down will help. UCLA had an opponents' season-low 15 first downs, one behind NAU (16) in the opener. Oregon had the most against UA this year, 29.

Mobile Backer

True freshman Tramayne Bondurant started at one of the linebacker spots for Arizona against UCLA and turned in a game-high (tying, with UCLA safety Dietrich Riley) eight tackles. It was easily his career best. Bondurant played most of the secondary positions in camp, special teams in all the games and was an answer as UA played some flex defense against the Bruins. He might fit in the picture this week somewhere else in the secondary but his speed and physical style put him in the picture for a good spell.

Digging a Hole

After trailing by 21-0 at Oklahoma State, 10-0 against Stanford, 14-0 against Oregon, 17-0 at USC and 14-0 at Oregon State before UA could stick a score on the board, the Wildcats came out, won the toss-took the ball and drove in succession to take their own 14-0 lead. After the Bruins put a drive together, Arizona answered with four more drives for a halftime lead of 42-7. You might say UA got the message about starting fast. The good thing about the UCLA drives were that they covered 80, 76, 80, 63, 79 and 59 yards -- no gimmies. The last two came after a missed field goal and a Bruins fumble but still required some chain-moving and time of possession. Arizona's longest possession in the UCLA game came in the second half, a 4:17 span to close out the game.

Penalty Parade

A typical game for Arizona involves drawing eight penalties for 65 yards. UA has 57 flags for 448 yards. That's more in seven games than the Cats drew in two different seasons under Mike Stoops -- 56 in 2004 and 53 in 2008. The last team to draw some real ire was John Mackovic's final UA team with 87 penalties for 768 yards in 2003. Dick Tomey's 1998 team (12-1) drew a Pac-10 era high 96 penalties for a high of 881 yards.

Zoning In and Zoning Out

The game in Seattle features some red zone similarities. Both Arizona and Washington have scored 24 times in red zone trips, but UA has two more (29) attempts than UW (27) for a rating difference of 57th and 23rd. The Cats and Dawgs are tied at No. 78 in red zone defense, with UA giving up 31 scores in 37 penetrations and Washington allowing 30 scores in 35 trips, both 86%. On offense Arizona has scored 10 rushing touchdowns and 11 passing TDs and three field goals in its red zone forays while the Huskies have scored four rushing touchdowns and 17 passing TDs and three field goals. Each team has allowed 13 rushing scores by opponents who've ventured inside the 20 yard-line.

The Davids

Senior wide receivers David Douglas (#85) and David Roberts (#81) have quietly put together a pair of similarly consistent careers as Wildcats. Each has played in 44 games and each has 118 receptions. Coincidence or not, the receivers have etched their names into the school's career receptions list. The 118 grabs ranks as the ninth-best tally in program history. Each is a reception shy of matching Richard Dice's (1993-96) who had 119 catches as a Wildcat. Here's a look at how eerily the two careers stack up to this point:

	Games	Rec.	Yds.	TD
Roberts	44	118	1,189	5
Douglas	44	118	1,202	7
Totals		236	2,391	12

Bonano On Target

Arizona made another switch at placekicker as it named John Bonano the starter before the UCLA game. It proved to be a wise choice as Bonano, previously the team's kickoff specialist, connected on all six of his PAT tries and made his first two career field goal attempts (41 and 22 yards). Prior to Bonano taking over, the Wildcats had a combined five missed PATs and were just 2-for-6 on field goals. Bonano attempted -- and made -- his first career PAT in the fourth quarter at Oregon State earlier this month, which added with 12 points from the UCLA game gives him 13 on the season. He booted three more touchbacks on kickoffs, giving him 16 for the year -- the most in the Pac-12 and the 10th-highest total nationally. He was named Pac-12 Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts.

Tracking Some Cats

Nick Foles' and Juron Criner's career numbers are well-documented, but here are some notable Cats closing in on other top career marks ... Keola Antolin has 24 rushing touchdowns and three receiving scores in his career for a career tally of 162 points scored -- tied with Dennis Northcutt's (1996-99) for No. 13 all-time on UA's career scoring chart. Next up is current New York Jets kicker Nick Folk, who had 169 points at Arizona ... Senior place kicker Alex Zendejas has collected 186 points in his career, which is tied for ninth-most in school history ... Senior wide receivers David Roberts and David Douglas have 118 career receptions, which ranks No. 9 all-time at Arizona. They are one shy of matching Richard Dice, who had 119 from 1993-96 ... Antolin became the 13th player in school history to rush for 2,000 yards in his career when he surpassed the benchmark against Oregon. He now has 2,125 career rushing yards, good enough for No. 10 in program history. He is now 187 yards behind Jim Upchurch (2,389, 1972-74).

Career Tracker

Here's a quick look at where some notable Wildcats rank nationally among active career leaders in respective statistical categories.

- Keola Antolin's 444 career carries are 18th-most for active players
- Juron Criner's 170 career receptions are 18th-most for active players.
- Juron Criner's 2,344 career receiving yards are 18th-most for active players.
- Juron Criner's 27 career receiving touchdowns are 6th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 747 career pass completions are 7th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 8,223 passing yards are 8th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 57 passing touchdowns are for 13th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 66.9% career completion percentage is 5th-best for active players
- Nick Foles' 274.1 career passing yards per game is 7th-best for active players
- Nick Foles' 25.8 career completions per game is 5th-best for active players
- Nick Foles' 1,155 career pass attempts is 8th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 773 pass completions are 7th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 38.5 pass attempts per game is 4th-most for active players
- Nick Foles' 7,955 total offense yards are 13th-most for active players
- Trevin Wade's 11 career interceptions are tied for sixth nationally for active players.

Youth Be Served

A lot of teams around the country have played true freshmen this year. Arizona has played a total of 10 in 2011. The Cats have used DT Sani Fuimaono (started), LBs Rob Hankins and Hank Hobson (each with starts), RB Ka'Deem Carey, DBs Tramayne Bondurant and Cortez Johnson (mostly on special teams), DE Reggie Gilbert, TE Michael Cooper, WR Trevor Ermisch (special teams) and Josh Elias (snapper). Arizona also has played 13 redshirt freshmen -- OT Mickey Baucus (starter), OT Fabbians Ebelle (starter), DT Ailua Fanene, safety/nickel back Jourdon Grandon (formation starts), defensive back Blake Brady (special teams) receiver Austin Hill (has started), OG Carter Lees (has started), DE Dan Pettinato, WR Tyler Slavin, OT Trent Spurgeon, DT Kirifi Taula (has started), and receiver Garic Wharton (KOR starts.). All added up, it's 23 freshmen playing for the Wildcats this season.

True Freshmen Starters

Arizona's defense has featured at least one true freshman in six of the seven games this season. Rob Hankins started at linebacker in UA's first three games, while Sani Fuimaono started at defensive tackle in the Stanford and Oregon games. Earlier this month at USC, Hank Hobson earned his first start at linebacker and collected three tackles. Against UCLA, defensive back Tramayne Bondurant started as a linebacker in UA's flex defense look. True freshman starters are somewhat rare but not unheard of under Mike Stoops at Arizona. In 2004, WR B.J. Dennard started two games, while future Jim Thorpe Award winner Antoine Cason started all 11 contests. In 2005, defensive end Mike Shelton started one game, while future school passing leader Willie Tuitama earned four starts, as did future All-Pac-10 receptions leader Mike Thomas. Future Houston Texans DT Earl Mitchell started seven games in 2006 (although at fullback on offense) and Terrell Turner started in one game. In 2007, future New England Patriot Rob Gronkowski started nine games at tight end for the Wildcats, while running back Nic Grigsby started eight games en route to a nearly 3,000-yard career. The Cats did not start a true freshman in 2009, and cornerback Shaquille Richardson (three games) was the only player to do so in 2010.

A Swarm Was Born

Deja vu. In 1991 Arizona played 19 freshmen -- 10 of them true freshmen -- with a combined 72 starts for the group. It was a 4-7 season marked by field-testing the troops. Among them were four freshmen offensive linemen, some frosh RBs, two freshmen linebackers and some freshmen safeties. The Cats were smothered by a Steve-Emtman-led No. 3 Washington, 54-0 (the siren was wailing that day), and 36-9 by No. 2 Miami. The next year the team, with some experience via the hard knocks, lost at No. 1 Miami by a point (8-7), beat No. 11 UCLA and stunned No. 1 Washington en route to a Sun Bowl appearance in a 6-5-1 year. They called the Cats' 'Desert Swarm,' thanks to the first Gulf War and its 'Desert Storm.' A year after that, UA was 10-2 and this time No. 10 Miami went down 29-0 in the Fiesta Bowl. No one's saying the parallels will pan out, but this year Arizona has played 23 freshmen, 10 of them the true variety. It's not going to hurt the next Arizona coach.

Spread the Wealth

You can look at Arizona's receiving corps -- 13 different players have caught ball -- in a variety of ways. The best look is the spread-the-ball effect wherein quarterback Nick Foles has found five guys with 29 catches or more led by senior Gino Crump with 39 (387 yards, TD). The leader in yards is junior Dan Buckner (36-541, 2 TD), while senior Juron Criner is the scoring leader with six touchdown grabs (36-441). The others are seniors David Douglas (32-326), David Roberts (29-277). Interestingly, redshirt freshman Austin Hill has the highest yards-per-catch tally (15.1) despite having just 15 receptions. Richard Morrison is another speedy option on the inside who has made the most of his 17 grabs (169 yards) as he has two touchdowns. RBs Keola Antolin (14-108, TD) and Ka'Deem Carey (7-77, TD), and HB/FB/TE Taimi Tutogi (5-51, TD) have been targets out of the backfield, too.

Chunk Plays

One of the goals for Arizona's defensive improvement will be to limit long plays by opponents. Through seven contests, the Wildcats have yielded 45 total offensive plays (14 rushing, 31 passing) of 20 or more yards, which is already more than the 41 allowed in 13 games a season ago. That's an astonishing 6.5 plays per game of 20 yards or more, for an average of nearly 140 yards. Sure, the competition has been much stiffer to start the 2011 campaign, but needless to say the Cats need to find a solution to slowing down opposing teams. Forcing teams to matriculate the ball down the field without the chunk plays will be a good place to start.

Chunk Plays Part II

Nick Foles and the passing attack have totaled 31 plays of 20 or more yards through the air in the first seven games of the season. That's well on the way to eclipsing the total of 46 long pass plays a year ago. In fact, eight different Wildcats have a reception of 20 or more yards so far, including six with a 40-yarder and seven with a 30-yarder. But the Wildcats would also like to find some balance with the run. So far only four rushing plays have gained 20 or more yards -- all totes by Keola Antolin. In 2010, UA had 14 rushing plays of 20 or more yards, which leaves the Cats with some work to do if they would like to match that total. But, two 20-plus yarders against the Bruins a week ago is a good start.

From Start To Finish

Since 2004, Arizona has proved to be a pretty dominant team when it starts fast. Consider that the Wildcats are 28-6 (.823) since the start of the 2004 season when holding a lead after the first quarter. That mark is even more impressive in recent seasons, as UA has won 19 of its last 20 contests since the start of 2008 when leading after the opening period (lone defeat came after a 14-7 lead at Oregon in 2010). At home, the Wildcats are 19-3 in such games, including a streak of 14s straight victories dating back to 2007. Away from home, the Cats hold a solid 9-3 (.750) mark with leads after the first quarter. However, trailing or being tied with an opponent is an ominous omen for Arizona as the club is just 14-44 (.241) when tied or trailing after the first quarter since the start of 2004. The Cats are 8-20 (.286) at home and 6-24 (.200) away from home in such games.

Up Next

Arizona returns home to host Pac-12 newcomer Utah in the school's annual Homecoming game at Arizona Stadium on Saturday, Nov. 5. Kickoff has been set for 4 p.m. (MST) and the game will be televised locally in Tucson on KWBA-TV and across the state on Fox Sports Arizona Plus.

Game 1

Northern Arizona 10

Arizona..... 41

Sept. 3, 2011 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (51,761)
 Start: 7:07 p.m. // TOG: 2:56 // Weather: 95 degrees, clear

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) -- Nick Foles threw for 412 yards and had three of his five touchdown passes in third quarter, helping Arizona shake off a first-half funk to open the season with a 41-10 win over Northern Arizona Saturday night.

The Wildcats flew around the field while building a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, then went stagnant in the second, allowing the FCS Lumberjacks to get within four points.

Triggered by Trevin Wade's interception, Arizona pulled away in the third quarter on touchdown passes from Foles to Keola Antolin, Richard Morrison and Austin Hill.

Juron Criner also caught a TD pass, finishing with six catches for 151 yards. Foles was 34 for 42 passing.

Northern Arizona's Cary Grossart threw for 179 yards on 20 of 26 passing. Zach Bauman ran for 99 yards on 27 carries.

The Wildcats were hoping Northern Arizona would serve as a warmup for a schedule that's about to get real tough.

After the Lumberjacks, Arizona has a short turnaround for a road game against No. 9 Oklahoma State on Thursday. Two home dates follow: against No. 7 Stanford and Heisman Trophy favorite Andrew Luck on Sept. 17, then third-ranked Oregon on Sept. 24.

With plenty of new players, including the entire offensive line, the Wildcats needed this game to build some confidence -- for the inexperienced guys and the ones who suffered through the season-ending five-game losing streak in 2010.

Everyone looked good early against Northern Arizona.

Foles opened by hitting Criner on a 42-yard play-action pass, then floated in a 10-yard touchdown pass to him in the corner of the end zone two plays later.

Arizona kept rolling, Taimi Tutogi making it 14-0 in the closing seconds of the first quarter on a 5-yard TD run through a huge hole off right tackle.

Arizona's defense was good, too, swarming the Lumberjacks while holding them to 14 yards on 12 plays.

Rout on the way, right? Not quite.

Once the second quarter started, the offense sputtered, with the running game nonexistent -- five yards on six carries in the first half -- and Foles unable to find his receivers as readily.

Grossart started to find some seams going the other way, picking the Wildcats apart to go 16 of 17 for 145 yards in the first half.

Matt Myers hit a 28-yard field goal midway through the second quarter, and Grossart found Khalil Paden on a 12-yard touchdown pass in the closing seconds of the half, getting NAU within 14-10.

Arizona quickly moved into position for a field-goal attempt, thanks to a 42-yard up-for-grabs catch by Criner, but Jaime Salazar's 36-yard attempt was way right.

It wasn't too much of a surprise that Northern Arizona kept it close; the Lumberjacks were within a touchdown in the fourth quarter against Arizona State last season and had the Wildcats still in their sights at halftime the year before.

Arizona was still in a fog to open the second half, going three-and-out.

Wade's interception jolted the Wildcats back.

Stepping front of a receiver on NAU's second play, Wade made the pick at the 12-yard line, and Antolin scored on a swing pass the next play, bowling over a defender, tightropeing the sideline then diving the final few yards to the pylon.

Morrison followed with a 24-yard touchdown reception from Foles across the middle, and Hill all but sealed it with his first career catch, a 24-yard TD that Arizona up 34-10.

Arizona's defense was just as dominant, holding Northern Arizona to 25 yards in the third quarter and no points in the second half.

Game 2

Arizona..... 14

(9) Oklahoma State 37

Sept. 8, 2011 // Stillwater, Okla. // Boone Pickens (54,654)
 Start: 7:06 p.m. // TOG: 3:16 // Weather: 81 degrees, clear

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) - Brandon Weeden connected with Justin Blackmon on two short touchdown tosses, Joseph Randle ran for two scores and No. 9 Oklahoma State used an early burst of offense to beat Arizona 37-14 on Thursday night in a rematch of last year's Alamo Bowl.

The Cowboys (2-0) scored on their first three drives to open a 21-0 lead in the first 16 1/2 minutes, then put it away with two scores midway through the second half.

Randle had 121 yards rushing and nine catches for 99 yards, and Blackmon had 128 yards on 12 receptions to extend his NCAA record streak to 14 straight games with at least 100 yards receiving.

Weeden finished with 397 yards passing, one less than Arizona's Nick Foles, in a duel between the nation's top two passers from the first week of the season.

The Wildcats (1-1) played without Juron Criner, who was the Pac-10's top receiver last season and tied the school record with 11 touchdown catches. He had an appendectomy on Monday, and it's unclear whether he'll be able to return in time for Arizona's home games the next two weeks against No. 6 Stanford and No. 12 Oregon.

But even with Criner out, Foles flung it around without many issues. Texas transfer Dan Buckner had 10 catches for 142 yards, including a 54-yarder for a touchdown, and Austin Hill had 128 yards on eight receptions.

The Wildcats' running game continued to struggle. Keola Antonin had just 22 yards on 13 carries, including a 1-yard touchdown run during a stretch when Arizona made five straight defensive stops to give itself a chance.

Oklahoma State flipped the field when punter Quinn Sharp took off for a 23-yard gain on a fake, and the Wildcats then got in their own way with a series of penalties that backed them up to their own 1-yard line before punting it back.

Weeden capitalized on the short field by feeding Blackmon on four straight plays, the last one a 3-yard fade pattern to the right side of the end zone. Randle highlighted the Cowboys' next drive by coming out of the backfield to catch a 63-yard flip over the middle and set up Jeremy Smith's 6-yard TD run that made it 34-7 early in the fourth quarter.

Buckner answered with his long TD on a stop-and-go down the right sideline against Devin Hedgepeth, but it was too little, too late for Arizona.

The Wildcats, who lost 36-10 in the Alamo Bowl to complete a five-game free fall at the end of last season, hadn't put up nearly enough resistance at the start and lost to OSU for the second time in nine months.

Weeden completed 19 of his first 20 passes as Oklahoma State charged down the field on scoring drives of 88, 80 and 70 yards. Randle had touchdown runs of 1 and 4 yards, and in between Weeden tossed a 3-yard fade pass that Blackmon caught over his shoulder before tapping his right foot in the corner of the end zone.

Weeden's first 13 passes were completed before he overshot Tracy Moore on a deep ball. He then reeled off nine more completions before finishing the first half with 240 yards on 28-for-32 passing.

Game 3

(6) Stanford 37

Arizona..... 10

Sept. 17, 2011 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (49,636)

Start: 7:51 p.m. // TOG: 3:18 // Weather: 78 degrees, clear

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Andrew Luck threw for 325 yards and had both of his touchdown passes in the second half, helping No. 6 Stanford pull away for a 37-10 victory over Arizona on Saturday night in the Pac-12 opener for both teams.

Stanford (3-0) struggled to find the end zone in the first half, then wore Arizona down in the second.

Luck picked the Wildcats apart on 20-of-31 passing, throwing touchdown passes to Zach Ertz in the third quarter and Levine Toilolo in the fourth. Stepfan Taylor added a career-high 153 yards rushing and Stanford had a balanced 567 yards to win its 11th straight game, the Cardinal's longest run since taking 13 straight from 1939-41.

Nick Foles threw for 239 yards and a touchdown, but couldn't overcome Arizona's anemic running game by himself. The Wildcats (1-2) had just 51 yards rushing on 23 carries in their sixth straight loss to an FBS team.

Stanford rolled through its first two games, outscoring San Jose State and Duke by a combined score of 101-17. Luck, not surprisingly, was the catalyst, throwing for 461 yards and six touchdowns with one interception.

Playing Arizona in the desert figured to be a stiffer challenge for the Cardinal.

The Wildcats have one of the nation's best quarterbacks in Foles, who, like Luck, figures to be a first-round NFL draft pick. The 6-foot-5 senior doesn't have the polish that Luck has, but is prolific, completing 76 percent of his passes for 810 yards and six touchdowns the first two games.

Arizona also sent Stanford home with a disappointing loss in its last trip to Tucson, scoring two touchdowns in the fourth quarter for a 43-38 comeback victory.

That was just two years ago, but it seems like forever with the direction these teams have headed since.

The Cardinal rolled over the Wildcats 42-17 last season behind Luck's 293 yards and two touchdowns. Luck may be even better this season and Arizona struggled against a good passer last week, allowing Oklahoma State's Brandon Weedon to pick it apart for 397 yards and two touchdowns in a 17-point loss.

The Wildcats also have been one-dimensional on offense, relying almost solely on Foles while the running game has averaged just 58 yards per game, 115th in the nation. Stanford was second nationally through the first two games, allowing 28.5 yards per game, so it was weakness against strength.

And, though it wasn't pretty at times, the game turned out about how you might think.

Arizona again had trouble running the ball - minus-6 yards on 10 carries in the first half - but Foles made up for it, completing his first 17 passes while throwing for 198 yards and a touchdown. The score went on a 6-yard pass to Juron Criner, who showed no ill affects from the appendectomy that kept him out of last week's game against Oklahoma State.

The Wildcats kept it close, but could have been closer: Jaime Salazar missed field goals to end the second quarter and start the third, making him 1-for-4 on the season after Arizona was haunted by missed kicks a year ago.

Stanford's kicking game worked just fine - Jordan Williamson hit from 20, 45 and 33 yards - but the Cardinal wanted touchdowns after getting so deep into Arizona's end. The only one Stanford got came late in the first quarter, when Anthony Wilkerson scored on a 24-yard run on a fourth-and-a-foot misdirection play.

Leading 16-10 after one half, Stanford stomped the Wildcats down in the second.

Luck hit tight end Ertz on a 16-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter, then had two choices to open the fourth quarter on a defensive breakdown by Arizona. He settled on Toilolo (he was deeper), who scored easily on a 34-yard pass to put the Cardinal up 30-10.

That's seven touchdowns to tight ends - out of nine - for Luck this season and 53 TDs overall, moving him one ahead of Jim Plunkett for third all-time in Stanford history.

Stanford closed it out with a drive that took nearly seven minutes, capped by Jeremy Stewart's 2-yard TD run.

Game 4

(10) Oregon 56
 Arizona..... 31

Sept. 24, 2011 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (56,096)
 Start: 7:26 p.m. // TOG: 3:28 // Weather: 88 degrees, high clouds

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - LaMichael James kept zipping and zagging through the desert night, playing the Road Runner to Arizona's Wile E. Coyote.

By the time he had finished slashing his way through and around the Wildcats on Saturday night, he had a school record 288 yards. He also broke the Oregon mark for career rushing touchdowns with two scores to lead the No. 10 Ducks to a 56-31 victory over Arizona in their Pac-12 opener.

Oregon (3-1), the two-time defending Pac-10 champion, won its 13th consecutive conference game, blowing open a 35-3 lead and then holding off a Wildcats rally before pulling away again with its lightning-quick offense.

All but the last of the Ducks' seven touchdown drives lasted less than three minutes. Darron Thomas passed for two scores and ran for two more

Nick Foles completed 33 of 55 passes for 391 yards and three touchdowns for the Wildcats (1-3).

Arizona, playing its third consecutive top-10 team, has lost eight of nine dating to last year. The lone victory was this season's opener against Northern Arizona.

Oregon has the top-ranked offense in the Pac-12. Arizona's defense statistically is the worst. So the results from the opening kickoff were predictable.

James, who also had a 51-yard punt return, averaged 12.2 yards per carry in his second consecutive and fifth career 200-yard rushing game. He broke Oregon's single-game rushing record of 257 yards by Ontario Smith against Washington State in 2001.

With his touchdown runs of 12 and 19 yards, the speedy back has 43 scoring runs, breaking Derek Loville's school record of 42.

Oregon coach Chip Kelly said defenses have a tough time with the Ducks' triple running threat of James, Thomas and Kenjon Barner.

The Ducks amassed 516 yards, 415 on the ground.

With his team down 35-3, Foles led the Wildcats to three consecutive touchdowns. His 7-yard pass to David Roberts, and 2-point conversion toss to David Douglas, cut Oregon's lead to 35-24 with 3:14 to go in the third quarter. Kelly had seen Foles do this in previous encounters.

But the Ducks simply zipped to another score. James had a 31-yard run, and Thomas went the final 5 yards for the touchdown.

Foles got Arizona to the Oregon 6 on the subsequent kickoff, but the drive stalled. On fourth down he was sacked.

The Ducks reeled off five of their trademark lightning-fast touchdown drives, in six possessions, to open a 35-9 lead at the half.

James led the way, rushing for 133 yards in 11 carries in the first two quarters.

Oregon's first-half TD drives went 2:42 (8 plays, 80 yards), 2:19 (10 plays, 72 yards), 2:06 (8 plays, 80 yards), 2:02 (6 plays, 55 yards) and 1:37 (4 plays, 28 yards).

The Ducks amassed 300 yards in the first two quarters, 214 on the ground. Barner also ran for a pair of scores.

Of the Ducks' 28 touchdown drives this season, 22 have taken less than three minutes. Another went 3:01.

The stadium was almost full, and the student section was packed at kickoff, but about half of the students and a good share of the rest of the crowd was gone by halftime.

Foles' performance included a left-handed toss as he was being swarmed on the sideline - 11 yards to Keola Antolin and a first down at the Oregon 34 as the third quarter ended.

Game 5

Arizona..... 41

USC 48

Oct. 1, 2011 // Los Angeles // L.A. Memorial Coliseum (63,707)

Start: 12:41 p.m. // TOG: 3:07 // Weather: Sunny, 85 degrees

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- Matt Barkley passed for a school-record 468 yards and four touchdowns, Robert Woods made 14 catches for 255 yards and two scores, and Southern California outlasted Arizona 48-41 Saturday.

Freshmen Marqise Lee and Xavier Grimble caught TD passes from Barkley, who also rushed for a score while breaking Carson Palmer's 2002 yardage record with a blistering performance against Arizona's maligned defense.

The Trojans (4-1, 2-1 Pac-12) needed almost every yard against Arizona's Nick Foles, who passed for 425 yards and four TDs of his own. USC outgained Arizona 582-554 in a game largely devoid of defense.

Ka'Deem Carey rushed for two touchdowns and caught another scoring pass for the Wildcats (1-4, 0-3), who haven't beaten an FBS opponent in nearly a year.

Barkley went 32 for 39 with one interception, bouncing back from a rough start at Arizona State last week with another landmark game. After setting the USC record for single-game completions in the season opener, the junior has thrown nine TD passes in his last two home games.

Woods is having the most prolific season by a receiver in USC's long history through five games, starting off this chapter with an 82-yard score on the Trojans' second play.

The speedy sophomore, who set the USC mark with 17 catches in that season-opening win over Minnesota, fell 5 yards short of R. Jay Soward's 260-yard school record when Arizona held him to one catch for 2 yards in the fourth quarter.

Keola Antolin rushed for 87 yards for Arizona, which has lost four straight despite its prolific offense. Star receiver Juron Criner was limited to three catches for 29 yards and a touchdown.

Foles went 41 for 53, but threw two drive-killing interceptions to T.J. McDonald in the first half that allowed USC to pull away with a 27-12 halftime lead. The Trojans stayed ahead throughout the second half to stay unbeaten in four home games this season, repeatedly covering up for defensive struggles with offensive brilliance.

Woods took charge from USC's second play, catching a short pass from Barkley and splitting two defenders before outrunning the entire Arizona secondary down the sideline for a score. Lee caught a wide-open 38-yard TD pass from Barkley late in the first quarter when Arizona's entire defense appeared to focus on Woods, and Grimble caught a 7-yard scoring strike midway through the second quarter.

Arizona's spread offense also moved the ball easily against USC, punting just once in the first three quarters -- but Foles' mistakes put the Wildcats in a huge hole. Foles' first interception of the season killed the Wildcats' second drive in USC territory, and Foles badly overthrew David Douglas in the Trojans' end on the next drive.

McDonald, the hard-hitting safety, made both interceptions for the Trojans, who had just one interception in their first four games.

Woods caught a 28-yard TD pass down the middle just 2:03 into the third quarter, putting the Trojans up 34-12. But Foles kept the Wildcats moving for back-to-back touchdowns in the third quarter, bookending Barkley's only turnover.

After Curtis McNeal rushed for a 9-yard score with 9:28 to play to put the Trojans up by 14 points, USC turned the ball over on downs at midfield in the closing minutes. Austin Hill caught a 4-yard TD pass from Foles with 1 minute to play, but McDonald recovered an onside kick to seal it.

USC has won nine of its last 10 meetings with the Wildcats, who won in their last visit to the Coliseum two years ago.

Game 6

Arizona..... 27

Oregon State 37

Oct. 8, 2011 // Corvallis, Ore. // Reser Stadium (40,403)

Start: 12:40 p.m. // TOG: 3:14 // Weather: 59 degrees, partly cloudy

CORVALLIS, Ore. --- Sean Mannion threw for 267 yards and two touchdowns and Oregon State defeated the mistake-prone Arizona Wildcats 37-27 on Saturday for the Beavers' first victory of the season.

Quarterback Nick Foles was intercepted twice and the Wildcats (1-5, 0-3 Pac-12) lost two fumbles in their fifth straight loss overall and eighth straight conference loss.

Oregon State (1-4, 1-2) led 27-6 at halftime and nearly squandered it but held on to snap a six-game losing streak dating to last season.

With only a narrow 30-27 lead and 5:22 left, Oregon State went for it on fourth-and-2 -- succeeding when Mannion hit diving tight end Joe Halahuni for the touchdown.

The Beavers made a crucial stand on the other end when the Wildcats also took a chance on fourth down with two yards to go, and Dan Buckner couldn't catch Foles' pass in the end zone.

Foles completed 31 of 45 passes for 378 yards and a touchdown to Buckner, who caught eight passes for 144 yards.

Mannion, a redshirt freshman who didn't become the Beavers' official starter until the third game of the season, completed 32 of 41 passes.

The Wildcats were hurt early after starting wide receiver Juron Criner left with what appeared to be a right knee injury. Criner, ranked second in career touchdown catches for the Wildcats, has three this season.

The Beavers went up on Jovan Stevenson's 1-yard touchdown run, then extended it in the second quarter when Clayton York blocked an Arizona punt and ran the ball back for a score.

Arizona answered with Foles' 28-yard TD pass to Buckner, but Alex Zendejas' extra-point attempt was wide left to make it 14-6.

The Beavers pulled off a fake punt to keep alive a drive that ended with Trevor Romaine's 37-yard field goal. On Arizona's ensuing drive, Foles' arm was hit and he was intercepted by Michael Doctor and the Beavers capitalized with Mannion's 3-yard scoring pass to Halahuni.

The Wildcats had one more chance in the first half, but fumbled and gave the ball back to the Beavers, who got a 40-yard field goal from Romaine.

Arizona running back Daniel Jenkins fumbled on Arizona's first drive of the second half and Beavers safety Lance Mitchell recovered, before the Beavers went up 30-6 on Romaine's 20-yard field goal.

The Wildcats had a scary moment midway through the third quarter when Foles was hit hard and stayed prone on the field for several moments while trainers attended to him. After he made his way to the sidelines, Keola Antolin ran 13 yards for a score. Foles came back and completed the two-point conversion pass to David Douglas.

The Wildcats' rally continued when Mannion was intercepted by Shaquille Richardson, who ran it back 20 yards for a touchdown. This time the two-point try failed, but Arizona was back in it at 30-20.

Oregon State missed a chance to extend its lead when James Rodgers' catch in the end zone was called back by a penalty and Romaine's 42-yard field goal attempt at the end of the third quarter went wide left.

Arizona pulled to within 30-27 early in the fourth quarter on Ka'Deem Carey's 1-yards scoring run.

The Wildcats have struggled this season with a brutal schedule, with losses to top-10 teams Oklahoma State, Stanford and Oregon, as well as their 48-41 loss last weekend at USC.

The Beavers were off to their worst start since 1996. After a season-opening overtime loss to lower-division Sacramento State, Oregon State dropped games to Wisconsin, UCLA and Arizona State.

Last season, Foles threw for 440 yards and three touchdowns against the Beavers, but Oregon State pulled out a 29-27 upset over the then-No. 9 Wildcats. Rodgers went down with a knee injury in that game that would require two surgeries and keep him out until the Beavers' third game this season.

Game 7

UCLA 12

Arizona..... 48

Oct. 20, 2011 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (46,565)
 Start: 6:02 p.m. // TOG: 3:42 // Weather: Clear, 80 degrees

TUCSON, Ariz. -- Tim Kish has had a simple message for his players since taking over for Mike Stoops: Have fun.

The Wildcats did just that with an emotional victory that was marred by a wild brawl, giving their interim coach a victory in his first game while sending UCLA's coach possibly closer to losing his job.

Dusting off an aggressive defensive scheme and relying on a recharged running game to complement Nick Foles' passing, Arizona ran over the Bruins 48-12 Thursday night.

Foles threw for 291 yards and connected with Juron Criner for three touchdown passes. That wasn't much of a surprise considering the way Arizona (2-5, 1-4 Pac-12) has piled up yards through the air.

The running game, dormant all season, came to life behind huge holes created by the much-maligned offensive line, churning out 254 of Arizona's season-high 573 yards and three touchdowns -- two by Taimi Tutogi.

The defense, another sore spot under Stoops, was just as good behind a throwback scheme called the "Double Eagle Flex," an aggressive front designed to clog up lanes against good running teams.

The combination allowed the Wildcats to build a 35-point halftime lead and cruise to an emotional victory, ending a five-game losing streak that had cost Stoops his job on Oct. 10.

The Bruins (3-4, 2-2) couldn't withstand the emotion of a team playing under a new coach and may have put theirs in jeopardy with a lackluster effort. On the hot seat before the season started, Rick Neuheisel may have taken big blow with a loss that puts a serious dent in UCLA's bowl chances.

Within a half-game of Arizona State and USC in the Pac-12 South heading into the game, the Bruins came out flat against Arizona in front of a national TV audience, which likely won't go over well back in Southern California.

One of the nation's best rushing teams, UCLA had 37 yards on 25 carries against a team that was 100th in the nation at 196 yards per game. Kevin Prince was mostly ineffective in his return to the starting lineup, hitting 17 of 35 passes for 286 yards and a touchdown.

The Bruins also lost a pair of fumbles in the first half and the defense had no chance at stopping the Wildcats -- ground or air -- as the game quickly got out of hand.

Frustration boiled over in the closing seconds of the first half, when a wild brawl spread about 60 yards across the field after a streaker dressed like an official ran onto the field.

Players pushed and shoved, a few wild punches were thrown and two players were ejected: Arizona defensive back Shaquille Richardson and UCLA receiver Taylor Embree.

The streaker? He got down to his underwear before a security person made a crushing tackle -- one as good as any UCLA made in the entire first half.

One of Kish's main goals was to make football fun again for the Wildcats, who had lost 10 straight games against FBS opponents and eight straight in conference.

They certainly enjoyed themselves against UCLA, getting touchdowns on all six of their first-half drives while scoring 42 points, their most in a half in Pac-10/Pac-12 play and more than any of their previous six games.

Keola Antolin ran for 77 yards on just eight carries, freshman Ka'Deem Carey had an 18-yard TD run and Criner finished with 10 catches for 101 yards to give Arizona its first win over an FBS opponent since beating UCLA 29-21 last Oct. 30 in Pasadena.

Neuheisel was concerned about Arizona's passing game and rightly so after Foles had thrown for more than 2,200 yards and 15 touchdowns the first six games.

Foles did what he expected, hitting 26 of 39 passes while connecting with Criner on TD passes of 4, 7 and 25 yards in the first half.

What Neuheisel didn't anticipate was getting run over by the Wildcats.

One of the nation's worst rushing teams, Arizona carved out huge holes in UCLA's defense that Antolin, Tutogi and Carey had no trouble racing through. The Wildcats surpassed their season average of 71.8 yards per game after one quarter and had 174 by halftime.

Arizona also had been plagued by slow starts, left scrambling after being outscored 41-3 in the first quarter in its previous five losses.

No such problem this time.

Foles hit Criner on a 4-yard TD pass on the Wildcats' opening drive. Carey followed with a juiking, dive-for-the-ylon score from 18 yards out.

Criner added his second touchdown by snatching the ball away from UCLA's Aaron Hester early in the second quarter. UCLA fumbled, Tutogi scored on a 1-yard dive, then Foles and Criner connected again, this time from 25 yards.
