Arizona - Stanford Series History

All-Time Series: Arizona leads, 14-13

Last Meeting: Sept. 17, 2011 (Stanford 37, Arizona 10 at Tucson, Ariz.)

Some Game Themes: The calendar has turned for two once-unbeaten teams set to face off after disappointing ends to college football's opening month . . . Each side opened the season 3-0 with feather-in-their-cap victories over nationally ranked foes, but neither was able to remain unscathed as the initial weeks of the rigorous Pac-12 Conference slate commenced . . . For Arizona, it continues to face an unrelenting schedule, one that has it playing a top-25 opponent for the third consecutive week and the fourth time in the last five weeks . . . The Cardinal return home after a tough road loss at Washington that dropped it out of the top-10 and into the No. 18 spot, a number the Wildcats are familiar given recent contests against then-No. 18 Oklahoma State and also then-No. 18 Oregon State at the time of the meetings . . . It's another physical, hard-nosed opponent for the Wildcats, whose depth will surely be tested on both sides of the ball . . . On paper, the matchup appears to be Arizona's offense (third in the Pac-12, 538.2 ypg) against Stanford's defense (third in the Pac-12, 316.5 ypg). But the X's and O's may be just as curious the other way around as Stanford ranks No. 10 in the conference in total offense (326.3 ypg) against UA's No. 10 total defense (451.2) . . . Can the Cats rekindle their early-season form that featured a potent, but more consistent offensive attack and a ball-hawking, bend-but-don't-break defense? Will the Cardinal assert itself on the ground the way it has in recent seasons against Arizona? And how will the Wildcats handle playing in the early bird special of college football? A noon start is a full seven hours earlier than their previous five games this season . . . So set your alarms, grab some breakfast grub and get ready for the October edition of Pac-12 football.

The Coaches: Arizona – Rich Rodriguez (West Virginia '86), first year at Arizona (3-2) and 18th as a head coach overall (123-86-2). Rodriguez was introduced as the 30th head coach of the UA football program on Nov. 22, 2011. He carries Division I records of 3-2 at Arizona, 60-26 at West Virginia (2001-2007) and 15-22 at Michigan (2008-10). He began his head coaching career at Salem (W.Va.) University in 1988 and then coached at Glenville State (W.Va.) from 1990-96. Rodriguez's West Virginia teams were Big East Champions in 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2007 while appearing in two BCS bowls, the 2005 Sugar Bowl with a victory over Georgia for an 11-1 record and a victory over Oklahoma in the 2007 Fiesta Bowl to finish 10-2 shortly after Rodriguez had left for Michigan. Stanford - David Shaw (Stanford '95), second year at Stanford (14-3) and second year as a head coach. He was offensive coordinator on the Farm for the previous four seasons under then-head coach Jim Harbaugh and has been an offensive coach since 2001 after starting his career as an outside linebackers coach at Western Washington in 1995. He spent nine seasons as an NFL assistant. He lettered as a Cardinal receiver in 1991-94.

2011 Stanford at Arizona (full stats and recap on page7): Arizona played Stanford toe-to-toe for one half, then could not thwart the Cardinal balanced attack as 21 second-half points led No. 6 SU to a 37-10 victory over the Cats in Arizona Stadium. The toe factor might have made it tighter early, with a missed field goal as the first half expired left UA trailing, 16-10, and another miss to cap a decent UA drive at the start of the second half cost it a chance at a three-point game and some momentum. Stanford piled up 242 rushing yards and Heisman hopeful Andrew Luck threw for 325 and a pair of scores at a whopping rate of 10.5 yards per attempt. UA's Nick Foles (239 yards) and Bryson Beirne (43) had some success moving the ball through the air, but SU held the Cats to 51 net rushing yards by snaring either Foles or RBs 10 times behind the lines for 54 yards in losses. The Cats finished with a modest 333 total yards and their resulting quotient -- just the 10 points. After Arizona's 11-play, 79-yard drive for a second-quarter TD, it had two drives of around 50 yards for the missed field goals by Jaime Salazar and no other drive of more than 40 yards the rest of the way. The Cardinal, however, had the horses to put together the punctuation marks -- three near flawless drives of 81, 80 and 91 yards for TDs in the second half. Stanford's power formations -- often three tight ends -- set up numerous runs by Stepan Taylor (22-153) or 14 catches by the big guys or fullback Ryan Hewitt. Arizona welcomed back receiver Juron Criner after his Sept. 5 appendectomy, with the senior snaring six receptions for 48 yards and the Cats' lone TD. Busy at the second level, UA safety Marquis Flowers turned in 16-tackle performance. A national audience (ESPN) witnessed the No. 6 team in the country looking every bit the part, and SU rose to No. 5 a day later.

Last Week: Arizona stormed back from a 17-0 first-half deficit to take a 21-17 lead in the third quarter, then spent the remainder of the second half trading scores with No. 18 Oregon State, which rallied and held on for a 38-35 victory at Arizona Stadium. Matt Scott threw for a career-high 403 yards and three touchdowns, but it wasn't enough. Or perhaps it was too soon. Scott's 7-yard touchdown pass to Austin Hill with 5:34 left in the game put the Wildcats on top 35-31. However, that was more than enough time for Sean Mannion, who had 433 yards of his own, and the Beavers' offense, which put together a composed 10-play, 75-yard drive capped by the go-ahead and eventual game-winning score -- a nine-yard pass to Connor Hamlett with just 1:09 left. With a pair of timeouts and down just a field goal, the Cats had plenty of time to tie or win the game, but Scott was intercepted by Rashaad Reynolds with 43 seconds left to seal the game. The turnover was one of two in the second half for the Wildcats, a vital factor for sure. The Beavers turned the ball over just once and racked up 613 yards of offense while owning a 36:41 to 23:19 advantage in time of possession. The two sides combined for 1,158 yards of offense and each averaged at least 7.0 yards per play. With 115 yards and two scores, Ka'Deem Carey topped 100 rushing yards for the third time on the season, plus he added a career-best 68 yards on pass receptions. Dan Buckner hauled in 119 receiving yards and one touchdown to give the Cats a second player with 100-plus yards of all-purpose yardage. The Beavers did one better, as running back Storm Woods (203) and receivers Markus Wheaton (168) and Brandin Cooks (149) each surpassed the century mark. Oregon State defeated Arizona for the third straight year. It was also the Beavers' sixth-straight win at Arizona Stadium, with the last three such victories being decided by seven total points.

Against The Top 25: With a 59-38 victory over then-No. 18 Oklahoma State on Sept. 8, Arizona has defeated a ranked team in the AP Top-25 poll in eight of the last nine seasons. The 59 points and 21-point margin of victory were convincing, especially when taking into account the initial 14-0 deficit. In 137 previous games against top-25 opponents, Arizona had topped the 50-point barrier just once -- a 52-14 thrashing of No. 7 UCLA in 2005. The highest-ranked foe to go down in the last nine seasons was then-No. 2 Oregon, 34-24, in Tucson on Nov. 15, 2007. Historically, Arizona is 40-99-1 against teams ranked in the Associated Press poll.

Back-to-Back-to-Back: For the third consecutive week, Arizona faces a ranked opponent. The Wildcats are hoping the third time will be a charm. Two weeks ago, then-No. 3 Oregon shut out Arizona, 49-0, at Autzen Stadium in Eugene, Ore. Last week, then-No. 18 Oregon State left Arizona Stadium with a 38-35 victory in tow. Now the Wildcats face a Stanford squad ranked No. 18. Interestingly, it will be the third time this season that the Wildcats will play the current No. 18 team in the Associated Press Top 25. On Sept. 8, 2012, Arizona upset then-No. 18 Oklahoma State, 59-38, at Arizona Stadium. The current stretch of three straight games against ranked teams is the first time the Wildcats have done so since facing No. 9 Oklahoma State, No. 6 Stanford and No. 10 Oregon in successive weeks last September.

Carey The Load: Sophomore running back Ka'Deem Carey is emerging as one of the Pac-12's top offensive players. The 5-foot-10, 197-pounder from Tucson's Canyon del Oro High School possesses a blend of power and burst that makes him a force in nearly all situations on the field. He leads the squad with a career-high 538 yards and seven touchdowns on the ground, while ranking fourth on the club with 152 yards and another score through the air. To boot, he's not afraid to mix it up as a blocker in pass protection. Coaches describe him as a guy who "loves the game of football", a true football player that gives maximum effort and production regardless of score, time or situation.

- Ranks No. 3 in Pac-12 and tied for No. 17 nationally with 107.6 rushing yards per game.
- His 538 rushing yards are tied for 11th-most in the nation (FBS).
- Has three 100-yard rushing games in 2012 (Toledo, Oklahoma State, Oregon State).
- Eight touchdowns (seven rushing, one receiving) are tied for seventh-most in nation.
- Ranks tied for No. 3 nationally with seven rushing plays of 20+ yards.
- Ranks tied for No. 15 nationally with 15 rushing plays of 10+ yards.
- Ranks No. 20 nationally with 706 all-purpose yards.

Matt's The Man: Quarterback Matt Scott, who redshirted in 2011, is putting together a stellar senior season, if statistics are any indication. The Corona, Calif., native entered 2012 with five previous career starts and is now a 10-game starter (7-3 record) as a Wildcat. He possesses a complete repertoire of skills at the quarterback position, including ability to make all the throws on the field and hurt defenses with his legs. Here's a look at his career statistics:

Year	Rushing			Passing				INT	Comp Pct.	Tot. Off.	GP	GS
	Rush	Yards	TD	Comp	Att	Yards	TD
2008	23	188	2	7	11	84	1	0	63.6%	272	6	0
2009	41	309	0	41	73	441	1	3	56.2%	750	9	3
2010	35	135	0	66	93	776	4	2	71.0%	911	7	2
2012	52	228	2	141	220	1,608	10	6	64.1%	1,836	5	5
TOTALS	151	860	4	172	264	2008	16	11	64.2%	3,769	27	10

Tracking Matt: Quarterback Matt Scott is nearing several career statistical milestones. The senior signal caller is 91 passing yards shy of 3,000 for his career. If and/or when he reaches the 3,000-yard mark, he'll be the 14th player to do so at Arizona. Scott needs 140 rushing yards to reach 1,000 markers for his career tally. And Scott needs 231 yards (throwing or passing) to reach 4,000 total offense yards. Here's a look at where Scott's current season stats rank nationally:

- Leads Pac-12 and ranks No. 5 nationally with 1,608 passing yards.
- His 141 pass completions lead Pac-12 and rank tied for No. 3 nationally.
- His 1,836 total offense yards lead Pac-12 and are second-most nationally.
- Leads Pac-12 and ranks No. 3 nationally with 69 pass plays of 10+ yards.
- Tied for Pac-12 lead and tied for No. 10 nationally with 21 pass plays of 20+ yards.

Pac-12 Player of the Week: Punter Kyle Dugandzic was named the Pac-12 Special Teams Player of the Week on Monday. Against Oregon State, Dugandzic punted five times for a total of 234 yards — a 46.8 yard average. He landed a single-game career-best four punts inside the 20-yard line and his career-long of 70 came at a crucial moment in the game with OSU leading UA, 24-21, late in the third quarter and pinned the Beavers on their own five-yard line. On the next drive, Oregon State gave up a fumble that was recovered by an Arizona defender to set up Arizona's go-ahead score (28-24). Dugandzic also served as the holder on all five of kicker John Bonano's made PATs. His punting average of 44.89 yards per kick ranks No. 3 in the Pac-12 and No. 18 in the NCAA.

Pass Happy: Matt Scott and the Arizona offense continue to put up impressive numbers in the pass game. Scott ranks No. 5 nationally and leads all Pac-12 quarterbacks with 1,608 passing yards, and the Wildcats rank No. 6 nationally and are second in the Pac-12 with 343.8 passing yards per game. Compare that to former head coach Mike Stoops' first season (2004) when Arizona passed for just 1,876 yards in 11 games. This year, Arizona's opponents are finding success through the air as well, totaling 1,422 yards on the season (248.4 per game). Combined, you have 3,141 passing yards during five Arizona football games to date.

Big Plays: If you like big plays, then last Saturday's Oregon State-Arizona game was one for you. The contest featured 21 offensive plays that went for 20 or more yards, led by 13 for the Wildcats and eight for the Beavers. Individually, 12 different players had a 20-plus yard play. For the Wildcats, that included running back Ka'Deem Carey who had a 47-yard pass reception and rushes of 24 (TD) and 23 yards. Receivers Tyler Slavin (32 and 20 yards), Dan Buckner (31, 29, 26 and 24 yards), David Richards (22 yards), Richard Morrison (21 yards) and Austin Hill (21 yards) combined for nine 20-plus yard plays through the air. Quarterback Matt Scott added a 21-yard rush on the ground. On the season, Arizona has 30 offensive plays that have gone for 20-plus yards, led by Carey and Hill, who have eight apiece. Carey has scores of 73 yards, 25 and 24 on the ground, while Hill has a 30-yard through the air.

Slow Starts: Arizona would like nothing more than to get off to a fast start at Stanford this week. It's something the Wildcats have failed to do seemingly all season. In fact, the Wildcats have scored just 20 of their 174 total points and are being outscored 28-20 in the first quarters of games this season. In their last three games against FBS teams, the Wildcats have trailed at the end of the first quarter in each, including 14-10 against Oklahoma State, 7-0 against Oregon and 7-0 against Oregon State.

600-Yard Games: Before the season started, Arizona football games had produced just a dozen 600-yard total offense games by the Wildcats or their opponents. After five weeks, there have already been four such occurrences this season. Arizona rolled up 689 yards against South Carolina State (Sept. 15) and 624 yards against Toledo (Sept. 1), the second and third-most single-game offensive outputs in program history. However, UA's opponents have also notched a pair 600-yard games. Oklahoma State racked up 636 yards in a loss on Sept. 8, while Oregon State totaled 613 yards in last week's victory. Those are the fifth and eighth-highest single game performances by opposing teams against Arizona.

Rushing Game: Arizona has rushed for 100 yards in four of its first five games in 2012, just a season removed when it did so in just five games last fall. The Wildcats have 972 yards on the ground, an average of 194.4 yards per game (No. 3 in Pac-12). That's a significant improvement over last season's 94.5 per-game tally, which finished ranked second to last in the Pac-12 and No. 114 nationally. In fact, this year's rushing total (972) is nearing last year's 12-game total of 1,134 yards. Running back Ka'Deem Carey leads the club with 538 yards, while quarterback Matt Scott ranks second with 228 yards.

Big Play Guy: Sophomore receiver Austin Hill has emerged as Arizona's go-to receiver for big plays. The versatile 6-foot-3 target can play in the slot or split out, making him a mismatch for opposing defense. In five games, Hill leads the team with 31 receptions for 443 yards and three touchdowns. He has an impressive 14.3 yards per reception tally, boosted by a plethora of big plays. In fact, Hill has 18 plays of 10-plus yards on the season, including five of 30-plus yards, which is tied for ninth-most among all FBS players. Hill's 88.6 receiving yards per game are good enough for No. 29 nationally and No. 5 in the Pac-12.

Pass to Buck: Senior Dan Buckner is quietly putting together a productive season as one of the team's top options in the passing game. The 6-foot-4 receiver is tied with Austin Hill for the team lead in receptions (31), and narrowly trails in the yardage count (422 yards). Buckner has scored a touchdown in each of the last two games, including last week against Oregon State when he hauled in six catches for 119 yards – his second 100-yard game of the year. Of his 31 total receptions, 21 have gone for 10-plus yards, which is tied for sixth-most among all FBS players.

A Budding Star: Converted safety Marquis Flowers continues to develop as a linebacker, a position he was switched to about a week before the start of the season. At 6-foot-3, 221 pounds, Flowers is Arizona's biggest linebacker and ranks as team's leader with 2.5 sacks. Flowers is also second with 5.5 tackles for loss and third on the squad with 38 total tackles. He has added three pass breakups and has forced one fumble. Flowers had a season-high 11 tackles against Oregon State last week, and now faces a bruising Stanford attack in which he registered a career-high 16 tackles against as a safety last September.

Newbies: With senior receiver Terrence Miller sidelined with an injury the last two weeks, the Wildcats have turned to a pair of younger players for production. Redshirt freshman David Richards has started each of the last two games in place of Miller, and has nine catches for 78 yards in those contests. On the season, Richards has 11 grabs for 92 yards. Meanwhile, sophomore Tyler Slavin has emerged as a productive backup, collecting 152 yards on 14 receptions this season. Those numbers are tied with running back Ka'Deem Carey for fourth-best on the squad.

Man In The Middle: Junior Jake Fischer has been a stalwart middle linebacker in Arizona's new 3-3-5 defensive scheme implemented this season by defense coordinator Jeff Casteel. Fischer, who missed the 2011 season with an ACL injury, leads all Pac-12 players and ranks No. 17 nationally with 49 tackles after five games. That's just a tackle shy of 10 per game for the slightly undersized 6-foot, 215-pounder. Don't tell that to Fischer, though, who has shown a nose for the ball early in the season. Fischer has 3.5 tackles for loss, one pass breakup, two forced fumbles and a pair of fumble recoveries. He was named Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week following a career-high 13-tackle season debut against Toledo on Sept. 1.

Red Zone Improvement: After being shut out in a 0-for-6 effort in the red zone at Oregon (Sept. 22), the Wildcats were much improved last week against Oregon State as they were 4-for-5 with four touchdowns. However, the one miss was costly. Trailing 10-0 in the second quarter, the Wildcats put together a drive that moved the ball inside the Beavers' 10-yard line. But after a first-and-goal, an intentional grounding penalty put the Wildcats behind the chains and they missed a 41-yard field goal attempt. Sure enough, those three points proved to be the winning margin for Oregon State. Red zone scoring continues to be an area UA will look to improve. The Wildcats rank No. 114 in the FBS with a 63.6 percent success rate in the red zone and have scored touchdowns on just 51.5 percent of their red zone trips. Meanwhile, Stanford has allowed just four red zone touchdowns all season, among the top-14 nationally for fewest allowed.

Yes, Sir: One of the bright spots for the Wildcats on defense has been the emergence of redshirt freshman line-backer Sir Thomas Jackson. As a walk-on, Jackson ranks fourth on the team in tackles (36) and third in tackles for loss (4.5). Jackson registered a career-high 2.5 tackles for loss last week against Oregon State, including his first career sack. He set his career-high for tackles a week earlier with 10 stops at Oregon.

Moving The Chains: Arizona continues to lead the nation in offensive first downs, as it is tied this week with Nevada with 155 first downs to date. The Wildcats, who set a school record with 43 first downs against South Carolina State on Sept. 15, are averaging 31.0 chain-movers per game. That clip is nearly a half-dozen first downs more per game than the 2011 Wildcat squad that set a new school record for per-game production (25.8 first downs per game).

Swarming Secondary: Arizona is tied with Oregon for the national lead with 40 passes defended. Indeed, the back level of Jeff Casteel's 3-3-5 defense has given opposing quarterbacks fits all season long, something that may not stand out when you are giving up 284 yards through the air per game. But the Wildcats have broken up the most passes of any team (35), led by cornerback Shaquille Richardson's nine PBUs. Arizona also has five interceptions, including three by opposite corner Jonathan McKnight. Opposing teams are completing just 56.3 percent of their passes against Arizona, the third-lowest percentage among Pac-12 teams.

McKnight's McPicks: Sophomore cornerback Jonathan McKnight has three interceptions, including one returned for a 48-yard score against Oklahoma State, to tie for sixth-most nationally to date. McKnight, who missed all of 2011 with an ACL injury, also has 22 tackles and three pass breakups in his first season as a starter.

Nose For The Ball: Sophomore "Bandit" Jared Tevis has emerged as one of the playmakers on the UA defense, and after suffering an ankle injury against Oregon State, his availability may be in question this week. A former walk-on from nearby Canyon del Oreo high school, Tevis earned a scholarship after impressing coaches in the spring. Now Tevis ranks second on the team in three categories, including tackles (42), interceptions (2) and passes broken up (5). He has a team-leading three forced fumbles. Coaches have called him perhaps the best player on the UA defense early in the season, so his presence would be missed as it was last week in the second half.

Step Right Up: When Jared Tevis went down with an ankle injury against Oregon State, the Wildcats turned to redshirt freshman Patrick Onwuasor. A former receiver who switched to safety during fall camp, Onwuasor saw his first significant duty as a defender after emerging as a playmaker on special teams coverage units early in the season. Onwuasor finished Saturday's game with eight tackles, including six solo stops. Onwuasor leads the team with six tackles on kickoff and punt coverage.

Third Down Defense: One area the Wildcats are working to improve is on third down defense. Arizona currently ranks No. 79 in the nation surrendering first downs at a 41-percent clip. The benefit of third down defense is it stops drives and gives the ball back to Matt Scott and the Wildcat offense, which will face one of the nation's best third down defense teams this week. Stanford has allowed just two third down conversions in two games (24.2 percent), good enough for No. 4 in the nation.

Chunk Plays: Arizona ranks No. 6 nationally in total offense, with 2,691 total yards (538.2 per game). A big reason is the Cats have moved the chains at ease, evidenced by a nation-leading 155 first downs to date. Arizona is averaging a steady 6.1 yards per play, boosted by a high volume of 10+ yards plays. In fact, the Wildcats rank No. 2 in the FBS with 102 plays that have gone for 10-plus yards through five games.

Scoring In Perspective: Arizona's 174 points in five games (actually four due to a shutout) are already challenging some season totals from the past decade. Mike Stoops' first UA team scored 164 points over 11 games in 2004, one season after the Wildcats scored 181 in an 11-game 2003 campaign. To his credit, Stoops' teams steadily improved after the lowly '04 campaign and topped out at 476 points in a 13-game season in 2008. In fact, the 36.6 points per game that season was the second-highest average in program history. The 1954 gridiron squad holds the top mark, a 38.5 per game clip. Rich Rodriguez's first team is sitting at 34.8 with two-thirds of the regular season schedule still to come.

September Starts: The opening month often times sets the tone for the rest of the season, and that has held true for the Cats in recent years. The 2011 campaign began with a 1-3 month of September en route to a 4-8 final record. In the three prior seasons, UA posted a combined 10-2 record en route to three consecutive bowl berths. This year, Arizona opened 3-0 before finishing 3-2 in the opening month. Rich Rodriguez boasts an impressive 34-9 (.810) record in the month of September in his 11 seasons as a head coach of FBS programs at West Virginia, Michigan and now Arizona. His teams have gone to bowl games in seven of those years, including two BCS berths. Where will this year's start put the Cats by season's end? Stay tuned.

Flag Days: Arizona's opponents have seen plenty of yellow in the early stages of the 2012 season. The Wildcats lead all FBS schools in opponent penalty yards (508), a staggering number inflated by a school-record 167 yards against Oklahoma State last month and an additional 107 markers for South Carolina State a week later. Arizona, meanwhile, has been flagged just 26 times for 227 yards (45.4 per game), among the top-50 teams for fewest penalty yards.

In A Snap: Fans are getting their money's worth of football this season watching the Wildcats play. Arizona's five football games have featured 857 snaps, which is the second-most for any team in the country. Marshall has seen 881 snaps in its game to date and is the only team to run more offensive plays than the Wildcats. Arizona has 440 offensive plays, while the Thundering Heard has run 462. Defensively, Arizona has faced 417 plays, while Marshall has seen 419.

In The Trenches: Arizona is quietly gaining experience along the offensive line, though its depth is being challenged. Trace Biskin, a 14-game starter, missed last week's game with an injury, and was replaced by Shane Zink, who made his fourth career start against Oregon State. Against the Beavers, center Kyle Quinn, who has started 18-consecutive games, suffered an ankle injury and was replaced by Addison Bachman, who has proven to be a reliable backup when called upon. Tackles Mickey Baucus and Fabbians Ebbele have each started the last 17 games at left and right tackle for the Wildcats, while guard Chris Putton made his fifth start of the season and 14th career start against Oregon State. Putton is perhaps UA's most versatile lineman, a guy who can slide out to tackle, play either guard spot and even play center. All added up, the Wildcats have 84 career starts among their offensive lineman just a year removed from when Quinn entered the season as the only lineman who had started a game (2010 Alamo Bowl).

Graduates: Kudos to offensive linemen Kyle Quinn and Trace Biskin, who each earned their degrees from The University of Arizona last spring. The two completed their undergraduate work in four years, and both begin their final season in the program as fifth-year seniors. Quinn, a 17-game starter at center in his career, graduated with a bachelor's degree in history and is now enrolled in graduate school, exploring a master's degree in educational leadership. Biskin, a 14-game starter at right guard, graduated with a degree in political science and is now enrolled in UA's graduate program, studying international security.

Fresh Faces: Arizona has played 10 true freshmen in 2012, a tally that is among the top-20 nationally and tied for second in the Pac-12. Among the Wildcats' true freshmen are defenders Jamar Allah, William Parks, Anthony Lopez, Keoni Bush-Loo, Dakota Conwell, Wayne Capers Jr., Vince Miles, Cody Ippolito and C.J. Dozier. Offensively, lineman Cayman Bundage has seen playing time at guard. Colorado is the leader in the category in the Pac-12.

Building for the Future: The Lowell-Stevens Football Facility, scheduled to open in August 2013, marks a dynamic shift in the Arizona football culture as it will become the centerpiece of the program on the north end of Arizona Stadium. Supported by private funds, including significant leadership gifts from David and Edith Lowell and from Jeff and Sharon Stevens, the $72.3 million project will provide the Wildcats with one of the premier football facilities in the nation. The facility will be a four-floor operations center with strength training, sports-medicine, coaches offices, locker rooms, meeting rooms, equipment and facility service areas. The structure will enclose the north end of the stadium and create a full bowl with nearly 4,000 premium spectator seats, including a donor lounge with outdoor seating. Additionally, stairways and elevator towers for the concourse will connect the structure to the existing east and west stadium sections. Restrooms, amenity areas and a cafeteria will also serve the campus community. Arizona Stadium has an official capacity of 51,811 for this season, but once work is completed on the Lowell-Stevens Football Facility, the venue will near the some 57,000 seats it has held in recent years.

Up Next: Arizona will take a welcomed week off as the one and only open date in the schedule presents itself for the weekend of Saturday, Oct. 13. Thereafter, the Wildcats will host home games against Washington (Family Weekend) on Oct. 20 and USC on Oct. 27 to close out the October calendar. Time in television information for those games is expected to be announced on Monday, Oct. 8, and Monday, Oct. 15, respectively, as part of the conference's 12-day selection process.

2011: Stanford at Arizona

(6) Stanford 37

Arizona..... 10

Sept. 17, 2011 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (49,636)

Start: 7:51 p.m. // TOG: 3:18 // Weather: 78 degrees, clear

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Andrew Luck threw for 325 yards and had both of his touchdown passes in the second half, helping No. 6 Stanford pull away for a 37-10 victory over Arizona on Saturday night in the Pac-12 opener for both teams.

Stanford (3-0) struggled to find the end zone in the first half, then wore Arizona down in the second.

Luck picked the Wildcats apart on 20-of-31 passing, throwing touchdown passes to Zach Ertz in the third quarter and Levine Toilolo in the fourth. Stepfan Taylor added a career-high 153 yards rushing and Stanford had a balanced 567 yards to win its 11th straight game, the Cardinal's longest run since taking 13 straight from 1939-41.

Nick Foles threw for 239 yards and a touchdown, but couldn't overcome Arizona's anemic running game by himself. The Wildcats (1-2) had just 51 yards rushing on 23 carries in their sixth straight loss to an FBS team.

Stanford rolled through its first two games, outscoring San Jose State and Duke by a combined score of 101-17. Luck, not surprisingly, was the catalyst, throwing for 461 yards and six touchdowns with one interception.

Playing Arizona in the desert figured to be a stiffer challenge for the Cardinal.

The Wildcats have one of the nation's best quarterbacks in Foles, who, like Luck, figures to be a first-round NFL draft pick. The 6-foot-5 senior doesn't have the polish that Luck has, but is prolific, completing 76 percent of his passes for 810 yards and six touchdowns the first two games.

Arizona also sent Stanford home with a disappointing loss in its last trip to Tucson, scoring two touchdowns in the fourth quarter for a 43-38 comeback victory.

That was just two years ago, but it seems like forever with the direction these teams have headed since.

The Cardinal rolled over the Wildcats 42-17 last season behind Luck's 293 yards and two touchdowns. Luck may be even better this season and Arizona struggled against a good passer last week, allowing Oklahoma State's Brandon Weedon to pick it apart for 397 yards and two touchdowns in a 17-point loss.

The Wildcats also have been one-dimensional on offense, relying almost solely on Foles while the running game has averaged just 58 yards per game, 115th in the nation. Stanford was second nationally through the first two games, allowing 28.5 yards per game, so it was weakness against strength.

And, though it wasn't pretty at times, the game turned out about how you might think.

Arizona again had trouble running the ball - minus-6 yards on 10 carries in the first half - but Foles made up for it, completing his first 17 passes while throwing for 198 yards and a touchdown. The score went on a 6-yard pass to Juron Criner, who showed no ill effects from the appendectomy that kept him out of last week's game against Oklahoma State.

The Wildcats kept it close, but could have been closer: Jaime Salazar missed field goals to end the second quarter and start the third, making him 1-for-4 on the season after Arizona was haunted by missed kicks a year ago.

Stanford's kicking game worked just fine - Jordan Williamson hit from 20, 45 and 33 yards - but the Cardinal wanted touchdowns after getting so deep into Arizona's end. The only one Stanford got came late in the first quarter, when Anthony Wilkerson scored on a 24-yard run on a fourth-and-a-foot misdirection play.

Leading 16-10 after one half, Stanford stomped the Wildcats down in the second.

Luck hit tight end Ertz on a 16-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter, then had two choices to open the fourth quarter on a defensive breakdown by Arizona. He settled on Toilolo (he was deeper), who scored easily on a 34-yard pass to put the Cardinal up 30-10.

That's seven touchdowns to tight ends - out of nine - for Luck this season and 53 TDs overall, moving him one ahead of Jim Plunkett for third all-time in Stanford history.

Stanford closed it out with a drive that took nearly seven minutes, capped by Jeremy Stewart's 2-yard TD run.

Game 1

Toledo..... 17
Arizona..... 24 OT

Sept. 1, 2012 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (48,670)
Start: 7:37 p.m. // TOG: 3:47 // Weather: 93 degrees, Partly cloudy

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) -- Toledo coach Matt Campbell flipped a coin to determine his starting quarterback on Saturday. Unfortunately for him and the Rockets, who took snaps for Arizona did not come down to chance.

Arizona quarterback Matt Scott, scrambling to his right, barely inbounds and with a defender grabbing his jersey, tossed a 10-yard touchdown pass to Terrence Miller in overtime to give the Wildcats a 24-17 victory on Saturday night.

Arizona pulled out Rich Rodriguez's coaching debut after its kicker, John Bonano, missed a 25-yard field goal as regulation ended. Bonano missed a 24-yarder earlier in the game.

Scott threw for a career-high 387 yards and rushed for 74 yards. Ka'Deem Carey had 147 yards on 20 carries, including a 73-yard touchdown run.

Arizona amassed 624 yards, second-most in school history, to Toledo's 358 but had two touchdowns called back by penalties, turned the ball over three times and missed the two short field goals.

Terrance Owens threw a 59-yard TD pass to Alonzo Russell for the Rockets, who have never beaten a Pac-12 team.

With both teams disdaining the huddle, the game was played at a frenetic pace. In all, the teams combined for 182 plays, 94 by Toledo and 88 by Arizona.

Campbell, at 32 the youngest head coach in the FBS subdivision, flipped a coin to decide which of his experienced quarterbacks would start. Austin Dantin won the toss, but Owens replaced him after two series.

Owens didn't return after he was hit hard and fumbled the ball away in the third quarter. Owens was 11 of 22 for 134 yards, Dantin 10 of 25 for 63 yards.

Scott, who sat out last season as a redshirt junior while Nick Foles completed his college eligibility, kept Arizona's offense on the move all night. He completed 30 of 46 passes, including two touchdowns. He was intercepted once.

Dan Buckner caught 10 for 116 yards and Austin Hill seven for 139 yards, including a spectacular, diving, fingertip grab of Scott's 30-yard pass for Arizona's first touchdown.

Arizona seemed to have the game in hand when Scott rushed for 31 yards in three carries as the Wildcats drove to the Toledo 5 in the waning seconds, but he was tackled near the right hash mark, leaving Bonano a slight angle on his kick. The attempt wasn't even close, hooking far to the left to send the game into overtime.

Toledo, with both quarterbacks and several other significant players returning from last season's 9-4 team, moved the ball most of the night on the young, susceptible Arizona defense. But the Wildcats stopped David Fluellen for a 2-yard loss on third-and-1 at the Arizona 21, forcing the Rockets to settle for Jeremiah Detmer's 40-yard field goal that tied it at 17-17 with 14:18 to play.

Arizona led 3-0 after the first quarter on Bonano's 26-yard field goal.

After Detmer missed a 48-yard field goal, Arizona quickly advanced to the Rockets' 9-yard line. But after Richard Morrison caught a short pass from Scott, he dropped the ball, and Toledo's Toll Molls recovered at the Rockets' 6.

Toledo took it downfield from there, going 94 yards in 10 plays, with Owens finding Russell wide open on the 59-yard touchdown play that made it 7-3 with 13:55 left in the half. The Wildcats came back with a 10-play, 64-yard scoring drive, ending with Hill's diving grab to put Arizona ahead 10-7 with 12:04 left in the half.

Arizona had a 67-yard touchdown run by Daniel Jenkins negated by a holding penalty. Toledo regained the lead with a 63-yard drive aided by a defensive holding penalty and personal foul against Arizona.

Owens had a 23-yard pass to Cordale Scott on the drive, which ended with Cassius McDowell scoring on a 1-yard run to put the Rockets ahead 14-10 with 12:04 left in the second quarter, a lead that held until halftime.

Arizona blew another scoring opportunity in the second quarter when Scott threw over the middle to Hill on a 32-yard play, but the receiver fumbled when he was hit, and the ball bounced into the hands of Toledo's Robert Bell at the Rockets' 34-yard line.

Game 2

18) Oklahoma State..... 38

Arizona..... 59

Sept. 8, 2012 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (45,602)
 Start: 7:37 p.m. // TOG: 3:36 // Weather: 80 degrees, Windy

TUCSON, Ariz. -- Oklahoma State quarterback Wes Lunt set a Big 12 freshman record by throwing for 436 yards and connected with Tracy Moore for four touchdown passes.

The Cowboys piled up 636 yards of offense, the second straight week they eclipsed 600 yards, and scored 38 points.

Those weren't the numbers that mattered.

Lunt threw three interceptions and Oklahoma State set a school record with 167 penalty yards, sending the 18th-ranked Cowboys to a frustrating 59-38 loss to Arizona in the desert on Saturday night.

Arizona (2-0) fell into a quick 14-0 hole before scoring the next 30 points as Oklahoma State (1-1) unraveled under a shower of yellow flags. Even with all the penalties, the Cowboys settled down enough to rally within two points late in the third quarter.

The Wildcats wouldn't let them any closer, scoring 29 points after the 3-minute mark of the third quarter to run away from the Cowboys.

Ka'Deem Carey ran for 147 yards in his debut as the featured back last week and followed it up by scoring four touchdowns while rushing for 126 yards on 26 carries.

Matt Scott also had a nice follow-up to his dazzling opener, throwing for 320 yards and two touchdowns on 28-of-41 passing while running for 55 yards and another score.

Together, they helped Arizona take a step toward becoming relevant again.

Lunt hit 37 of 60 passes and threw for the fourth-most yards in school history in his second game as Oklahoma State's starter. He also had some shaky moments, tossing three interceptions, including one returned 48 yards for a touchdown by Jonathan McKnight in the fourth quarter.

Joseph Randle added 123 yards on 23 carries but the Cowboys just couldn't seem to stay out of their own way, committing 15 penalties and turning it over four times.

Defensive tackle Calvin Barnett was called for consecutive personal fouls on one play, setting up Scott's 15-yard touchdown pass to Richard Morrison.

A fumble by Randle on the next drive, followed by a late-hit penalty on cornerback Broderick Brown, set up a 22-yard field goal by John Bonano.

A fourth personal foul by Oklahoma State in the half, on linebacker Shaun Lewis for hitting Scott as he slid, led to a third field goal by Bonano, a 24-yarder. Carey added a 1-yard touchdown run - with a little help from teammates - late in the quarter to put Arizona up 23-14 at halftime.

Oklahoma State had nine penalties for 110 yards in the half and its last drive ended when Arizona's Jared Tevis intercepted a tipped pass by Lunt at the Wildcats' 29.

The second half opened the same way: Barnett was flagged for a late hit on the opening play and Arizona scored on a 13-yard screen pass from Scott to Carey for a 30-14 lead.

But the score seemed to snap the Cowboys out of their funk.

Lunt hit Morgan for a 9-yard touchdown pass and the Cowboys kept marching on Arizona the next drive, setting up Jeremy Smith's 10-yard touchdown run that cut Arizona's lead to 30-28.

It turned out to be their last gasp.

The Wildcats raced down the field on their next drive, setting up Scott's 8-yard touchdown run up the middle. Lunt, facing pressure for one of the few times all game, threw up a weak pass early in the fourth quarter and McKnight picked it off for an easy touchdown. Oklahoma State was called for pass interference on the 2-point try - naturally - and Arizona converted on the second attempt to go up 45-31.

Carey sealed it with a 25-yard TD run up the middle and added a 1-yarder for good measure in the closing minutes to send the Zona Zoo into a frenzy and the Wildcats to a look-at-us win.

"There's some excited guys in the locker room and I'm proud of them," Rodriguez said. "It's a nice win, the guys played and made the plays when they needed to."

And with it should come some extra - and wanted - attention.

Game 3

South Carolina State 0

24) Arizona 56

Sept. 15, 2012 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (43,919)
Start: 7:37 p.m. // TOG: 2:59 // Weather: 83 degrees, clear, calm

✪ TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — South Carolina State had trouble stopping No. 24 Arizona's offense, allowing the Wildcats to run a whopping 102 plays.

It was just as bad for the Bulldogs on offense, maybe even worse.

Overmatched against the bigger, faster Wildcats, South Carolina State managed just eight first downs in a 56-0 loss to Arizona on Saturday night.

Arizona knocked off No. 18 Oklahoma State last week and opens the Pac-12 next weekend at No. 4 Oregon. Sandwiched in between was a game against the Bulldogs, one the Wildcats couldn't afford to take lightly.

They didn't.

Instead of a letdown as coach Rich Rodriguez feared, Arizona (3-0) handled a from the Football Championship Subdivision as any good program would, racing out to a 28-0 lead by halftime and a school-record 43 first downs overall.

Matt Scott threw for 288 yards and three touchdowns on 30-of-36 passing, and added a 10-yard scoring run in another stellar performance to start his senior season.

Arizona's try-to-keep-up-with-us offense ran a school-record 102 plays and had 689 total yards, two short of another record.

The defense was just as dominant, holding South Carolina State (1-2) to 154 total yards for its first shutout in four years.

Yep, this was just the kind of confidence-building tuneup the Wildcats needed before heading to rowdy Autzen Stadium for their first road game of the season.

South Carolina State had little chance against Arizona's athleticism, unable to top the Wildcats from marching down the field or get anything going on offense.

The Bulldogs failed to crack double-digits in first downs and had virtually no running game, gaining 65 yards on 29 carries. Quarterback Richard Cue trouble against Arizona's speedy defenders, badly missing several receivers while going 12 for 25 for 89 yards with an interception.

After rolling over Oklahoma State 59-38 last week, the Wildcats moved into The Associated Press poll for the first time in nearly two years.

They needed an easy win with a tough Pac-12 run coming up next. After the Ducks next weekend, Arizona plays a conference schedule that includes No. 2 Southern California, No. 21 Stanford, No. 22 UCLA and rival Arizona State.

The Wildcats had no trouble moving the ball against the Bulldogs, but did have a little problem getting out of their own way in the early going.

Arizona raced to a touchdown on its first possession, Scott capping it with a 15-yard touchdown pass to Richard Morrison.

Moving quickly again, the Wildcats lost the ball near midfield when Morrison fumbled and the Bulldogs recovered. Another fast-moving drive ended with John Bonano, the reigning Pac-12 special teams player of the week, pushing a 25-yard field goal wide right.

Those turned out to be just blips in the Wildcats' march of dominance.

Scott hit Taimi Tutogi on a 14-yard touchdown to open the second quarter after the Bulldogs bit hard on a play-action fake. Ka'Deem Carey capped the next drive with a 7-yard touchdown run around the right end.

Scott closed out the impressive first half by pinballing off several defenders into the end zone for a 10-yard run that made it 28-0.

Scott, who entered the game tied with Syracuse's Ryan Nassib for the national lead with 836 total yards, threw for 175 yards and ran for 61 more in the first half.

Arizona's offense had 323 yards by halftime and its defense held South Carolina State to 69.

If it wasn't over already, the Wildcats made sure in the third quarter, when Scott hit Dan Buckner on a 27-yard touchdown pass and Jenkins carried half of South Carolina State's defense with him on a 5-yard scoring run that made it 42-0.

By then, pretty much all of Arizona's starters were on the sideline, resting up for what will certainly be a much tougher task against the fast-flying Ducks.

The Wildcats will at least go there on a high instead of coming off letdown after taking care of the Bulldogs.

Game 4

22) Arizona 0

3) Oregon 49

Sept. 22, 2012 // Eugene, Ore. // Autzen Stadium (58,334)
Start: 7:36 p.m. // TOG: 3:19 // Weather: 65 degrees, cloudy, drizzle

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Redshirt freshman Marcus Mariota threw for 260 yards and two touchdowns, including a 55-yard scoring pass to freshman Bralon Addison late in the third quarter, and No. 3 Oregon beat No. 22 Arizona 49-0 Saturday night.

Billed as an offensive juggernaut between the Pac-12's fastest scoring teams, Oregon didn't find its stride until the second half — and Arizona never did — and the Ducks (4-0, 1-0) got their seventh straight conference-opening victory.

Much had been made about the meeting between the quick-striking Ducks under Chip Kelly and Arizona's spread offense under no-huddle, up-tempo pioneer Rich Rodriguez. Oregon went into it the averaging 54 points per game, while Arizona wasn't far behind with an average of a little more than 46 points.

However, Arizona (3-1, 0-1) couldn't find the end zone and quarterback Matt Scott, a fifth-year senior who spent the last two seasons behind Nick Foles, passed for 210 yards but was intercepted three times — one returned for a touchdown.

The game got off to a sloppy start as Oregon failed on fourth down and each team turned the ball over before Mariota found Daryle Hawkins with a 17-yard touchdown pass midway through the first quarter.

Arizona got as close as the 2-yard line on the next series, but couldn't punch it in and turned the ball over on downs. The Wildcats' struggles continued when John Bonano's 31-yard field goal was blocked early in the second quarter.

Rob Beard hit a 27-yard field goal to increase Oregon's advantage to 10-0. It was the Ducks' first FG of the season. Beard added a 41-yarder late in the first half to make it 13-0 at the break.

While both offenses appeared to sputter at times, defenses made the difference in the first half. Oregon's hybrid 3-4 under longtime defensive coordinator Nick Aliotti held the Wildcats to 141 yards in total offense in the first 30 minutes. Meanwhile, Arizona's new 3-3-5 defense kept the normally prolific Ducks from piling on points.

There was more of the same to open the second half, and the first two possessions by both teams ended in punts.

But then the Ducks started rolling. De'Anthony Thomas returned Arizona's third-straight punt 38 yards, setting up a 35-yard pass to Colt Lyerla, who finished it off with a 1-yard touchdown run. The drive took just three plays and 29 seconds.

Kiko Alonso intercepted Scott, leading to Mariota's long TD pass to Addison, before Ifo Ekpre-Olomu ran his interception back 54 yards to make it 35-0.

Bryan Bennett added an 8-yard scoring run with 4:02 left in the game before Troy Hill intercepted Scott's backup, B.J. Denker, for a 29-yard touchdown and the final margin.

Arizona opened coach Rodriguez's tenure with a victory over Toledo before upsetting then-No. 18 Oklahoma State 59-38 in their second game. Last weekend in a 56-0 win over South Carolina State, the Wildcats ran a school-record 102 offensive plays.

The Wildcats were the first big test for Oregon, which opened the season with victories over Arkansas State, Fresno State and lower-division Tennessee Tech.

Before this season, Arizona hadn't been ranked in the AP Top 25 since November 2010, when the No. 20 Wildcats were knocked out with a 48-29 loss to the then-No. 1 Ducks.

Last season, Oregon defeated Arizona 56-31 in Tucson.

Oregon's last shutout of Arizona came in 1964, when the Ducks won 21-0 at Hayward Field in Eugene.

Game 5

18) Oregon State 38

Arizona..... 35

Sept. 29, 2012 // Tucson, Ariz. // Arizona Stadium (44,153)

Start: 7:08 p.m. // TOG: 3:35 // Weather: 86 degrees, clear

TUCSON, Ariz. -- A momentum-swinging game hanging in the balance, Oregon State coach Mike Riley pulled out a play he had been saving all game.

So what if he would have liked more space to run it. This was the time to do -- and it couldn't have worked out any better.

Sean Mannion threw for a career-high 433 yards and hit Connor Hamlett on a 9-yard pass with 1:09 left for his third touchdown, lifting No. 18 Oregon State to wild 38-35 win over Arizona Saturday night.

Oregon State (3-0, 1-1 Pac-12) took a 17-0 lead, Arizona charged back and the teams traded scores in the second half of a game filled with big plays and 1,158 yards of combined offense.

Arizona (3-2, 0-1 Pac-12) landed a big blow in the can-you-top this second half, going up 35-31 with 5:34 left when Matt Scott hit Austin Hill on a 7-yard touchdown. The problem was that it left too much time for Mannion.

Knowing his team had moved the ball all game against the Wildcats, the calm-and-cool sophomore guided the Beavers 75 yards down the field in 10 plays. Facing a third-and-5 with just over a minute left, Mannion called out a play that sent one receiver into the left flat and Hamlett down the sideline. Arizona's defenders followed the receiver in the flat and Mannion whipped a pass to Hamlett, who slipped just inside the pylon for the winning score.

Mannion finished 29 of 45 for the fifth-most passing yards in school history while setting a career high for the second week. He hit Markus Wheaton 10 times for 166 yards and a pair of touchdowns, and Brandin Cooks nine times for 149 yards.

Storm Woods added for 161 yards and a touchdown for the Beavers, off to their first 3-0 start since 2002. Arizona nearly kept up with them.

Scott fought through a sprained ankle in the second half to throw for a career-high 403 yards and three touchdowns, but had two interceptions, including one near midfield in the final minute. Ka'Deem Carey ran for 115 yards and two touchdowns. Dan Buckner caught six passes for 119 yards and a score.

It wasn't enough for Arizona, which has lost two straight after opening 3-0.

Mannion was sharp early, hitting Cooks on a 57-yard pass in the first quarter to set up a 2-yard touchdown pass to Wheaton in the back of the end zone.

Next series, Mannion hit Wheaton for a 51-yard gain, leading to Trevor Romaine's 30-yard field goal.

Mannion found Kevin Cummings next, on a 38-yard pass to position Tyler Anderson for a 1-yard touchdown dive that put the Beavers up 17-0.

Arizona's offense tried to answer after sputtering early.

The Beavers bogged Arizona down in the first quarter and held when the Wildcats had their first sustained drive, which ended with John Bonano pushing a 30-yard field goal wide right after Scott was called for intentional grounding.

That wasn't a good sign for the Wildcats, who went 0-for-6 in the red zone in a 49-0 loss to Oregon last week.

Arizona managed to end its red-zone woes late in the second quarter, though, when the officials checked the replay to see if Carey fumbled at the 1-yard line and determined he actually went into the end zone for a score that cut Oregon State's lead to 17-7.

Arizona kept rolling on its opening drive of the second half, quickly marching 91 yards in 10 plays for a 3-yard pass from Scott to Hill.

The Wildcats needed a minute to score again, this one a 24-yard run up the middle by Carey, who carried a couple of Oregon State defenders into the end zone with him to put Arizona up 21-17.

Scott made a mistake on the next drive, when Jordan Poyer missed an interception at midfield, then got it when the ball caromed off Richard Morrison. That set up a 1-yard touchdown run by Woods to give Oregon State the lead back.

Woods followed with a mistake of his own, losing a fumble at Oregon State's 40. Scott then threw to the corner of the end zone to Buckner, who's over-the-shoulder, 16-yard TD catch put the Wildcats up 28-24.

Mannion's turn was next. Using a pump fake, he got the entire right side of Arizona's defense to bite and winged a 20-yard touchdown to Wheaton that put the Beavers back out front.

Scott answered, marching the Wildcats for a 7-yard touchdown pass to Hill, who dove in the final yard to make it 35-31.

He just left too much time for Mannion and the Beavers, who head home to play Washington State next week with plenty of momentum on their side.
