

Rematch: Cats vs. Cardinal for Pac-10 Tournament Championship

WHAT'S HAPPENING: The second-seeded University of Arizona women's basketball team (24-7) will be looking to prove it is THE Pac-10 champion when it faces No. 1 seed Stanford in the championship game of the Pac-10 Tournament on Monday, Mar. 8. The contest will tip at 7:30 p.m. PST and will be broadcast live nationally on Fox Sports Net. All of the Cats' postseason games can be heard live in Tucson on KJLL 1330 AM and over the internet at www.arizonaathletics.com.

This contest is a rematch of last year's tournament title game, when then-ninth-ranked Stanford logged a 59-49 win over the Wildcats on Mar. 10, 2003. This year, Arizona tied the Cardinal for the Pac-10 regular-season championship, each finishing 14-4 in league action. The title was the first for the Arizona program.

ANOTHER CAREER RECORD ON THE HORIZON FOR GRZYB: With her appearance in Monday's game, senior guard Aimee Grzyb will tie former Wildcats Lisa Griffith (1997-2000) and Felecity Willis (1997-2000) as the Arizona career leaders, with 122 games played each. Another appearance for Grzyb will make her the all-time leader in games played. She is already the Arizona career leader in minutes played.

SCOUTING ARIZONA: On a six-game win streak, the Wildcats are 24-7 overall after blowing-out sixth-seeded Washington, 77-55, in semifinal action on Sunday. Arizona has played exactly the same opponents in each round of this year's Pac-10 Tournament as it did last season, facing Oregon State in the quarterfinals, Washington in the semifinals and Stanford in the championship.

Arizona has reached the 20-win mark for the fourth time in the last five years and the seventh time in the last nine seasons. The Cats' 24 wins is just one away from the school record of 25 set by the 1999-2000 squad.

Junior guard Dee-Dee Wheeler remains Arizona's top scorer, averaging 17.3 points per game. She is the team's assists leader as well, registering 4.8 per contest.

Sophomore center Shawntinice Polk is second in scoring, at 16.7 points per game, and is the top rebounder, grabbing 10.1 rpg. Senior guard Aimee Grzyb is third in scoring, averaging 11.1 ppg, followed by sophomore guard Natalie Jones with 8.9 ppg. Jones is the squad's second-leading rebounder, grabbing an average of 4.6 per game, with fellow sophomore CoCoa Sanford standing third, averaging 4.2 rpg.

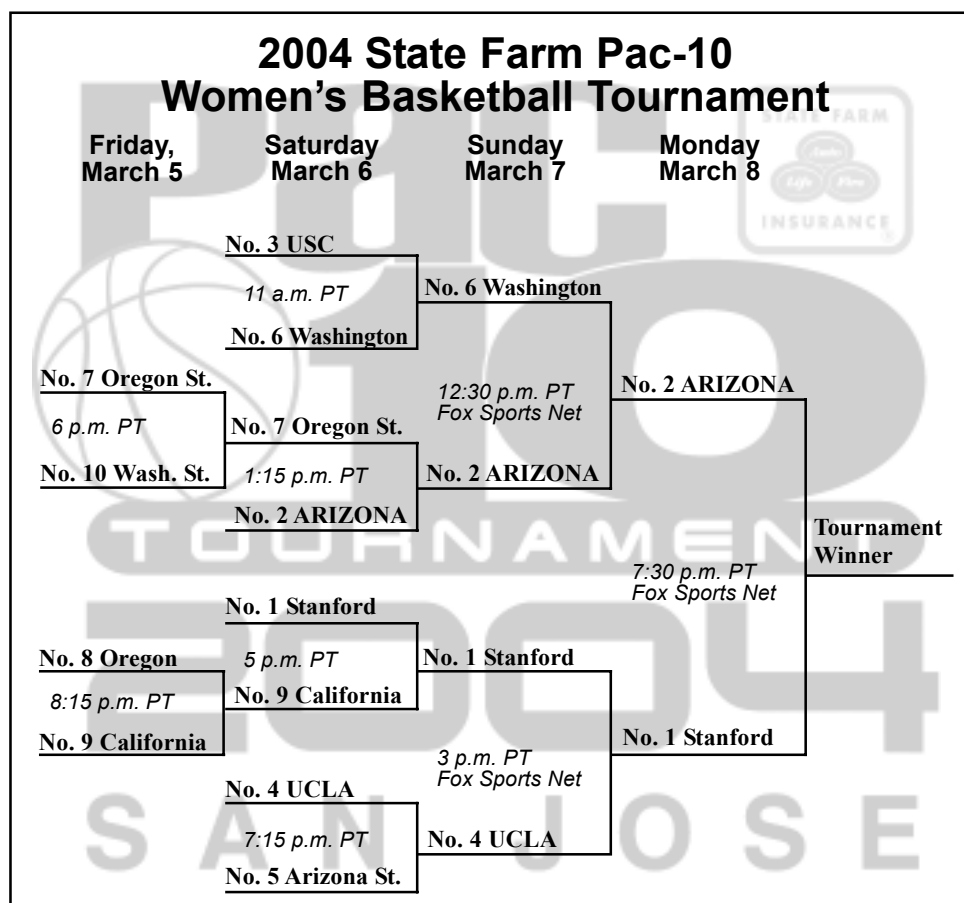

ARIZONA IN THE PAC-10 STATS: Through games of Feb. 29, Arizona was leading the Pac-10 in scoring (73.2 ppg), was first in field goal percentage (.462), second in scoring margin (+8.9 ppg), second in field goal percentage defense (.398), second in rebounding (38.2 rpg), second in rebounding defense (33.5 rpg), second in rebounding margin (+4.7 rpg), second in blocked shots (3.93 bpg) and third in turnover margin (+2.72 topg).

Individually, Polkey was the Pac-10 leader in blocked shots (2.59 bpg), was second in rebounding (10.2 rpg), second in field goal percentage (.575) and fourth in scoring (16.4 ppg). Dee-Dee Wheeler was third in scoring (17.7 ppg), third in steals (2.86 spg), fourth in assists (4.72 apg), fifth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.27), sixth in field goal percentage (.481) and 10th in free throw percentage (.747).

Natalie Jones was eighth in free throw percentage (.769), while Aimee Grzyb was fifth in three-pointers made per game (1.66 pg) and 17th in scoring (10.6 ppg).

ARIZONA IN THE NATIONAL STATS: As of Mar. 1, Arizona was 17th in the nation in field goal percentage (.462) and 29th in scoring (73.2 ppg). Shawntinice Polk was 14th in blocked shots (2.6 bpg), 14th in field goal percentage (.575) and 21st in rebounding (10.2 rpg).

WILDCATS IN THE PAC-10 TOURNAMENT: Arizona now holds a 4-2 record all-time in Pac-10 Tournament play, including Sunday's win over the Huskies (77-55) and Saturday's victory over Oregon State (81-58).

In San Jose last season, the third-seeded Wildcats plowed through No. 6 Oregon State (70-56) and No. 2 Washington (74-51) before coming up short against No. 1 seed Stanford (59-49) in the championship game. Wildcats Krista Warren, Shawntinice Polk and Dee-Dee Wheeler were named to the All-Tournament Team.

That was a far better showing than Arizona had during the inaugural Pac-10 Tournament on the Oregon campus in 2002. Entering tourney action as the No. 6 seed, the Cats lost to No. 3 seed and eventual tournament champion Arizona State, 66-58, in their first game on Mar. 2, 2002.

SCOUTING STANFORD: Ranked 12th in last week's Associated Press Top 25 and 11th in the USA Today Coaches Poll, the Cardinal are on a three-game win streak and have won six of their last seven after being swept in Arizona early in February. The only loss in that stretch was a narrow 67-66 defeat at Oregon on Feb. 26. The Cardinal are 23-6 on the season.

Averaging 19.8 points and 11.4 rebounds per game, senior forward Nicole Powell leads Stanford in both categories. Junior guard Kelley Suminski is second in scoring, at 10.0 ppg, while freshman center Kristen Newlin is the squad's second-leading rebounder, at 5.8 per game.

In her 18th season at the helm of the Cardinal program, head coach Tara VanDerveer (Indiana, 1975) holds a 446-116 mark at Stanford. She is 598-167 in 25 years as a collegiate head coach.

THE SERIES vs. STANFORD: The Cardinal have a big 36-12 lead in the series with Arizona, including wins in six of the last eight meetings with the Wildcats. The two squads split during regular-season play this year, each winning on its own home court. Stanford handed the Cats an 84-62 loss in Palo Alto on Jan. 10, but Arizona slipped past the Cardinal, 88-83, in Tucson on Feb. 5.

LAST MEETING WITH STANFORD: One of the worst free throw shooting teams in the Pac-10 came up big when it counted, as the Cats used a 13-for-16 performance from the line in the final two minutes to exact revenge on No. 7 Stanford, 88-83, at home on Feb. 5. The victory tied for the highest-ranked team the Wildcats have ever beaten, with a previous best win over then-No. 7 Washington (93-62) on Jan. 10, 1998.

The game was tight right from the outset, with six ties and four lead changes in the first 12 minutes of the contest. The Wildcats used an 11-3 run to gain an eight-point (30-22) lead with 3:46 left in the first, but Stanford countered with a 10-4 spurt that cut Arizona's advantage to just two points (34-32) at the break.

The Wildcats opened the second half with a 17-6 run that gave them a 13-point (51-38) lead, their largest of the game, with 14:40 to play. Fueled by All-American Nicole Powell, who had been held scoreless in the first half, the Cardinal out-scored the Cats, 20-7, over the next six minutes to tie the game at 58-58 with 9:40 remaining.

The two teams were still knotted at 62-62 with 6:30 left, when the Cats put on a 9-2 mini-run, getting six points from guard Natalie Jones during that stretch and gaining a seven-point (71-64) lead at 4:24. Stanford crawled back to within three points (73-70) at 2:20, but Arizona responded and pushed back out to a seven-point (77-70) lead with 1:16 to go.

Powell drained a three-pointer just 13 seconds later, bringing her team back to within four points (77-73). The Cardinal then began fouling to stop the clock, but the Cats responded by shooting 11-for-14 from the charity stripe in the final 58 seconds to keep Stanford at bay and to win their 24th straight home game.

Shawntinice Polk led the Wildcats with 21 points and a career-high 19 rebounds. Dee-Dee Wheeler added 19 points, while Jones ended the game with 17.

LAST YEAR'S PAC-10 TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIP GAME: Never able to fully recover from a 20-point first-half deficit, then 22nd-ranked Arizona fell to then-No. 9 Stanford, 59-49, in the Pac-10 Tournament championship game on Mar. 10, 2003.

Stanford came out of the gates on fire, immediately jumping out to an 11-2 lead in the first four minutes. Arizona managed to get back to within six (13-7) at 14:23, then the Cardinal blew the game open with a 20-6 run that gave them a 20-point (33-13) lead with 3:17 to play in the first half. The Wildcats out-scored Stanford, 11-2, over the remainder of the period, but they still trailed the Cardinal, 35-24, at the break.

Arizona opened the second half with a 15-8 run that sliced the Cardinal's lead to just four points (43-39) at 14:09. Stanford answered with a 9-4 spurt that gave them a nine-point (52-43) advantage with 9:23 to play. The Cats made another run at the Cardinal but could get no closer than five points for the rest of the game, as Arizona saw its six-game win streak come to an end.

Dee-Dee Wheeler led the Cats with 13 points, while Krista Warren and Aimee Grzyb added 10 points apiece. Shawntinice Polk grabbed a game-high nine rebounds but was held to a season-low five points.

Wheeler, Warren and Polk were all named to the All-Tournament Team.

HITTING ON ALL CYLINDERS IN THE PAC-10 TOURNEY: Arizona won its first two Pac-10 Tournament games by an average of 22.5 points per game. In the first two games combined, the Cats out-rebounded their opponents by an average of 9.5 rpg, and Arizona has shot a hot 49.2 percent (58-118) from the floor while limiting opponents to just 35.6 percent (42-118) shooting.

Individually, San Jose native Aimee Grzyb has dominated in her homecoming, putting up 19.0 points per game while shooting a blazing 62.5 percent (10-16) from three-point range. Shawntinice Polk has averaged 20.5 ppg and 8.5 rpg, while Natalie Jones is also grabbing 8.5 rpg to go with 10.5 ppg. Dee-Dee Wheeler has been limited to just 10.5 ppg, but she has been grabbing 7.5 rebounds per game.

ARIZONA HEAD COACH JOAN BONVICINI: The winningest coach in Arizona women's basketball history, Joan Bonvicini has taken the Wildcat program from obscurity into the national limelight. In her 13 seasons at the helm of the Arizona program, Bonvicini has guided the Wildcats to seven post-season appearances, including five NCAA tournament berths and two in the WNIT.

Now in her 13th season with the Wildcats, Bonvicini holds a 238-146 (.620) mark at Arizona and is 563-217 (.722) in 25 years as a head coach. She has a career record of 23-15 in NCAA tournament play and has lost in the first round only once in 13 appearances.

Prior to taking over at the UA, Bonvicini led Long Beach State to 10 consecutive NCAA appearances, including two trips to the Final Four. She registered a 325-71 mark in 12 seasons with the 49ers.

DID YOU KNOW: Since Joan Bonvicini took over the Arizona program in 1991, the Wildcats have gone 132-103 against Pac-10 teams, although they have an 108-55 mark against conference teams over the last eight seasons combined. These numbers include both regular-season Pac-10 games and conference tournament games.

LOOKING AHEAD: On Sunday, Mar. 14, the Wildcats will gather in the Lohse Room in McKale Center to watch the NCAA Selection Show, which starts at 3 p.m. MST. The Cats will be looking for their second straight NCAA tournament berth, their sixth appearance all-time.

NCAA first- and second-round games will be played at various host institutions from Saturday, Mar. 20, through Tuesday, Mar. 23.

RECAPING ARIZONA'S LAST ACTION -- vs. Washington (Mar. 7): A 14-4 run early in the second half gave second-seeded Arizona all the momentum it needed to roll to a 77-55 win over sixth-seeded Washington in the semifinals of the Pac-10 Tournament on Mar. 7.

Arizona opened the game with a 15-8 run in the first five minutes, then pushed out to a nine-point (19-10) spread at 12:41. The Huskies used a 10-3 spurt to slash the Cats' advantage to just two points (22-20) with 7:56 left in the half. After a quick timeout, the Wildcats regained control with seven unanswered points, then stretched their lead to 10 points (35-25) at 1:50. Arizona owned a 37-30 lead at halftime.

Just over two minutes into the second half, the Cats were still holding onto a tenuous six-point (42-36) edge, when they went on a 14-4 run to go ahead by 16 points (54-38) at 12:26. During that stretch, Washington made just one of its 11 field goal attempts.

The Huskies drained a pair of jumpers to get back to within 12 points (54-42) with 9:58 to play, but that was the closest they would come for the rest of the game. Arizona out-scored Washington, 23-13, over the remainder of the contest to move on to the Pac-10 Tournament championship game for the second straight year.

Scoring 12 points in the first half, Shawntinice Polk racked up 19 points and a game-high 10 rebounds for her 37th career double-double, becoming Arizona's career leader in that category. Aimee Grzyb had another tremendous performance from beyond the arc, shooting 4-for-7 from long range on her way to 14 points and four rebounds.

Natalie Jones had another solid outing, with 11 points, seven rebounds and a career-high-tying seven assists. Dee-Dee Wheeler added 11 points, six rebounds and five assists.

REACHING 500, AGAIN: Last season, Shawntinice Polk and Dee-Dee Wheeler both reached the 500-point plateau in scoring, marking the first time in school history that two players had reached that milestone in the same season. The same thing has happened again this year, as Wheeler currently has 535 points and Polk has 518. Polk and Wheeler have combined for four of the top 10 single-season scoring performances in Arizona history. Wheeler's current point total ranks as the fourth-best single-season total all-time, while Polk is seventh on that list.

POLKEY PICKING UP THE PACE: Over the last five games, Shawntinice Polk has averaged 21.0 points, 10.8 rebounds, 2.2 steals, 2.0 blocks and 2.0 assists per game. She has shot a blazing 62.5 percent (45-72) from the floor over that stretch and has scored 20 points or more in three of those contests.

SEEING A LOT OF DEE-DEE LATELY: Dee-Dee Wheeler has played 1061 minutes this season, the most minutes for any Wildcat since Brenda Pantoja saw 1130 minutes in 1995-96. Wheeler's total also is the third-highest single-season minutes total in the program's history, behind Pantoja's total from 1996. Yolanda Turner played a school-record 1261 minutes in the 1986-87 season.

GRZYB BECOMES ALL-TIME MINUTES LEADER: Late in the first half at Washington on Feb. 28, senior guard Aimee Grzyb became Arizona's career leader in minutes played, now with 3786. The previous record holder was Regina Grennan (1987-90) with 3700 minutes.

STUFF THIS: Just a sophomore, Shawntinice Polk is already Arizona's career leader in blocked shots, now with 157. Against Oregon on Feb. 21, she passed former Wildcat Elizabeth Pickney (1999-2002), who tallied 147 blocks in her career.

Polkey also stands in the No. 9 spot on the Pac-10 career blocked shots chart. She needs just five more swats to move up to No. 8, a spot currently occupied by USC's Michelle Campbell (1994-97), with 162.

CRASHING THE BOARDS: With 313 rebounds on the season, Shawntinice Polk needs just 23 more to break the single season record of 335 that she set last year.

Polk's total of 209 rebounds in Pac-10 play is a new school record for the most rebounds in conference action. She surpassed her own mark of 176 set last season. Her average of 11.6 boards per game in league action this year is a new school record as well.

LONG-RANGE DEFENSE?: The Wildcats are allowing opponents to drain a rather high average of 6.3 three-point field goals per game this season. The Cats have tied the school record for most three-pointers allowed in one season. The current total of 193 opponent treys made equals the existing school record of 193, allowed by the 2000-01 team.

The Wildcats also set a new school record this season by allowing Pac-10 opponents to hit 129 three-pointers in league play. The previous record was 106, set by the 2001-02 team. Arizona allowed more three-pointers in regular-season conference action this year than any other Pac-10 team.

STICKY FINGERS: With a career-best season total of 88 steals on the year, Dee-Dee Wheeler is just nine thefts from setting a new school record in that category. Her 88 steals is the highest number for any Wildcat since Reshea Bristol set the school record at 96 thefts during the 2000-01 season.

In Pac-10 play, Wheeler set a new school record with 62 steals against conference opponents. The previous record was 57, set by Keisha Anderson during Pac-10 play in 1992-93.

STARTING SUITS HER: Freshman forward Shannon Hobson seems finally to be coming into her own. Since entering the starting lineup for the Cats 12 games ago, Hobson has averaged 5.9 points and 3.8 rebounds per game and has made 53.3 percent (32-60) of her shot attempts. Hobson averaged just 3.2 points and 1.3 rebounds per game when coming off the bench.

WINS vs. LOSSES: This is a very noticeable difference in Arizona's statistics in its victories versus its losses this season...

AS DEE-DEE GOES...: So goes her team, or at least that's the way it has seemed since her arrival at Arizona. During Dee-Dee Wheeler's career, the Wildcats have gone 15-6 when she has reached the 20-point mark in scoring. At the same time, the Wildcats are 36-11 when she scores 15 points or more.

LOOKING AT THE TRENDS: This season, Arizona is... 20-0 when scoring 70 points or more... 23-1 when shooting better than its opponent from the field, but 1-6 when shooting worse... 19-1 when tied or leading at the half... 21-2 when giving up 69 points or less, but 3-5 when allowing 70 points or more... 21-3 when shooting 40% or better from the field... 19-2 when committing fewer turnovers than its opponent... 14-1 when four or more players reach double digits in scoring.

WE LIKE TO SCORE: During Joan Bonvicini's tenure at Arizona, Wildcat teams have won 77 games by margins of 20 points or more. Nine of those blowouts have happened this season alone.

80 IS THE MAGIC NUMBER: It seems that the 80-point mark almost always means adding another to the "win" column for the Wildcats. In the 32-year history of UA women's basketball, the Cats have posted a 156-21 record when scoring 80 points or more in a game. Under Joan Bonvicini, the Wildcats have gone 116-14 when topping the 80-point plateau.

GOING POLLING: Five of Arizona's 2003-04 opponents were either ranked or received votes for ranking in this week's polls.

According to the Associated Press poll, Stanford is No. 12 and LSU is No. 15. New Mexico was among teams that received votes for ranking.

In the USA Today/ESPN/WBCA Coaches Poll, Stanford is No. 11, and LSU is No. 14. Arizona State and UCLA both received votes for ranking.

CAT SCRATCHES: The Arizona women's basketball program has a 398-438 (.476) all-time record, however it is 188-81 (.699) from the 1996 season to present... Joan Bonvicini has a 224-116 career record against Pac-10 teams.

ON LOCATION: This season, the Wildcats have a 14-0 record at home, are 7-6 on the road and 3-1 in neutral contests. Last year, Arizona was 13-1 at home, 7-6 on the road and 2-2 in neutral games.

WILDCATS EARN PAC-10 HONORS: For the second year in a row, the conference's most potent inside-out combination was honored by the league's coaches. Shawntinice Polk and Dee-Dee Wheeler were both named to the 10-member All-Pac-10 team for the second straight year. A junior, Wheeler has been honored each of her three seasons at Arizona with some form of all-conference laurels, as she was the Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and was chosen to the Pac-10 All-Freshman Team at the end of the 2001-02 season.

Freshman forward Shannon Hobson earned honorable mention Pac-10 All-Freshman Team recognition this year as well.

HOME WIN STREAK STANDS AT 27: The Wildcats ended their home slate with their winning streak at McKale Center still intact. Arizona has won 27 games in a row at home, the longest home winning streak in the program's history and tied with Louisiana Tech and Western Illinois for the second-longest active home winning streak in the nation. Texas ended its home schedule with the nation longest streak, at 34 games.

The previous longest home winning streak for the Cats was 15 games from Jan. 4, 1999, to Jan. 6, 2000. Arizona hasn't lost a home game since suffering a close 78-71 overtime defeat by LSU on Nov. 22, 2002. The Wildcats have also won 19 straight Pac-10 games at home, with their last home conference loss coming to USC (71-64) on Feb. 16, 2002.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME: The Wildcats have won 36 of their last 43 home games and are 112-22 on their home court over the last seven seasons combined. Under head coach Joan Bonvicini, the Wildcats have posted a 143-50 mark in McKale Center. Arizona has an all-time record of 209-158 on its home court since the 1976-77 season.

JONES-ING FOR THE PAC-10: Sophomore guard Natalie Jones' numbers went up significantly after the Cats started Pac-10 play. Against conference opponents, she averaged 10.4 points, 4.8 rebounds, 2.8 assists and 2.1 steals per game. She also shot a solid 40.8 percent (58-142) from the floor in Pac-10 action.

By contrast, Jones' averages against non-conference opponents were 6.3 points, 3.6 rebounds, 3.6 assists and 1.1 steals per game, and she made just 27.2 percent (22-81) of her field goal attempts.

BEEN CAUGHT STEALIN': After registering a paltry 4.2 steals per game during non-conference play, the Wildcats lifted their average to a solid 10.8 thefts per contest in Pac-10 action.

GOTTA TAKE CARE OF THE BALL: After entering Pac-10 play, the Wildcats' turnover average went through the roof. After averaging just 15.9 miscues per game in non-conference action, Arizona's average went up to 18.4 per contest in Pac-10 games. The Cats committed a season-high 36 turnovers in their win over USC at home on Jan. 15, the highest turnover total for an Arizona squad since the Wildcats had 36 at Arizona State on Jan. 17, 1998.

POLKEY EARNS THIRD PLAYER OF THE WEEK HONOR (Mar. 1): Shawntinice Polk was named the Pac-10 Women's Basketball Player of the Week for Feb. 23-29. She averaged 20.5 points, 14.0 rebounds, 3.5 blocks, and 3.0 assists in a road sweep against Washington and Washington State, giving Arizona a share of the program's first Pac-10 regular-season championship. On the week, Polk shot 66.7 percent from the field (20-of-30), and also notched her 35th and 36th career double-doubles, tying her for the most double-doubles in school history. The honor was Polk's third this season, seventh for her career, and 32nd all-time for Arizona.

POLK BREAKS 1,000-POINT MARK: At the 13:02 mark of the first half at Washington on Feb. 28, Shawntinice Polk scored the 1,000th point of her career, reaching that milestone in just 60 games. That made her the fastest Wildcat and the only UA sophomore ever to reach the 1,000-point plateau.

Former Cat and all-time leading scorer Adia Barnes (1995-98) previously held the distinction of being fastest to score 1,000, reaching that mark in 61 games, the first contest of her junior season. Dee-Dee Wheeler is the third-fastest, gaining that mark in just 70 career games.

NEW ADDITIONS TO THE 1,000-POINT CLUB: For the first time in three years, the Wildcats had new additions to the "1,000-Point Club" this season. Shawntinice Polk (Feb. 28), Aimee Grzyb (Jan. 2) and Dee-Dee Wheeler (Dec. 27) became the newest members of the UA's 1,000-Point Club this year. They are the first players to achieve this feat since both Elizabeth Pickney and Reshea Bristol joined that list during the 2000-01 season. This is the first time in the program's history that three players have joined the 1,000-Point Club in the same season.

CATS SEE SECOND-BEST ATTENDANCE AVERAGE IN HISTORY: An average of 2,774 fans per game came to see the Wildcats play in McKale Center this year, the second-best attendance average in the program's history. Last year's average of 2,867 is the program's best.

The Wildcats logged four of the program's best crowds this season as well. The home finale against Oregon on Feb. 21 drew 5,003, the third-best crowd ever. The 4,350 for the UCLA game on Jan. 17 is sixth-best, and the 4,111 for both the Stanford (Feb. 5) and Arizona State (Jan. 2) games are tied for eighth-best all-time. The Cats saw an average attendance of 3,368 for home Pac-10 games this year.

POLKEY EARNS SECOND PAC-10 PLAYER OF THE WEEK HONOR (Feb. 9): Sophomore center Shawntinice Polk was named the Pac-10 Women's Basketball Player of the Week for Feb. 2-8. Polk averaged 18.0 points, 16.5 rebounds, 5.0 assists and 4.5 blocks in a home sweep of Stanford and California. Polk also shot 16-of-30 from the floor (53.3 percent) and recorded her ninth and 10th double-doubles of the season. The Player of the Week honor was Polk's sixth, her second this season and the 31st all-time selection for Arizona.

ARIZONA GOVERNOR MAKES SPECIAL APPEARANCE AT CAL GAME: In conjunction with the celebration of National Girls & Women in Sports Day, Arizona governor Janet Napolitano was a "guest coach" on the Wildcat bench at the home game against California on Saturday, Feb. 7.

As a guest coach, Governor Napolitano sat on the Arizona bench during the game and was in the locker room with the team both before and after the contest. She also served as the honorary Master of Ceremonies for the halftime celebration of National Girls & Women in Sports Day.

Napolitano previously served as a guest coach last season during the Cats' 80-50 blowout of Washington State on Feb. 8, 2003.

WHEELER CANDIDATE FOR NATIONAL POINT GUARD OF THE YEAR: Dee-Dee Wheeler was among 22 women's basketball players under consideration for The Nancy Lieberman Award as the top point guard in the nation for the 2003-04 season. The award, presented by the Rotary Club of Detroit, honors the nation's top collegiate point guard in women's Division I basketball. In looking for the finest point guard, the criterion for the award will be the floor leadership, play-making and ball-handling skills that personified Hall of Famer Nancy Lieberman during her career. Sportswriters from across the country will nominate the finalists and eventual winner.

The list of this year's candidates included Wheeler, last year's winner Diana Taurasi (Connecticut), Jamie Carey (Texas), Erin Grant (Texas Tech), Temeka Johnson (LSU), Laurie Koehn (Kansas State), Kelly Mazzante (Penn State), Cappie Pondexter (Rutgers) and Lindsay Whalen (Minnesota). Wheeler was the only Pac-10 player on the list.

POLKEY NAMED PAC-10 PLAYER OF THE WEEK (Jan. 19): Shawntinice Polk was named the Pac-10 Women's Basketball Player of the Week for Jan. 12-18. She averaged 19.0 points, 9.5 rebounds, 2.5 blocks and 2.5 steals in a home sweep of the Los Angeles schools. In two games, she shot an amazing 80.0 percent from the floor (16-of-20).

OVERALL WIN STREAK ENDS AT 10 GAMES: Winning 10 straight games from Nov. 29 through Jan. 2, the Wildcats tied the school record for longest winning streak, but they saw that streak come to an end with a 76-66 loss at 17th-ranked LSU on Jan. 4. The streak was the longest for any Wildcat team since the 1996-97 squad posted a 10-game streak early in that season.

TALK ABOUT HAPPY HOLIDAYS: The Wildcats finished the month of December with a perfect 7-0 record, going undefeated during the month for the first time since the 1996-97 team went 6-0 that December. This year's 7-0 mark is also the best record for the month since the Cats went 8-0 in December of 1995.

NICE WEEKEND: Sophomore guard Natalie Jones had a big weekend for the Cats as they opened Pac-10 play with a sweep of the Washington schools. In the first two conference games of the season, Jones averaged 15.0 points, 3.5 assists, 3.0 steals and 2.0 rebounds per game. She also shot a blazing 71.4 percent (10-14) from the floor and 83.3 percent (10-12) from the line.

DUBIOUS DISTINCTION: The Wildcats' 50-49 win at New Mexico on Dec. 20 made UA history in several ways that may or may not be good, depending on how you look at them. The win at The Pit marked the first victory in Albuquerque for an Arizona women's basketball team since an 83-33 win there on Feb. 28, 1975. The 50 points that the Cats scored is the lowest point total ever in a win for a Joan Bonvicini-coached squad at Arizona. It is also the lowest point total in a win since a 46-36 victory over Utah at home on Jan. 17, 1975. The 35 three-pointers that New Mexico attempted set a new Arizona school record for opponent three-point attempts in a game.

GOOD BEGINNINGS: With Joan Bonvicini at the program's helm, the Wildcats have won 10 of their 13 season openers. They had a streak of seven straight season-opening wins snapped with a close 78-71 overtime loss to then-No. 3 LSU at the start of last season.

POLKEY EARNS A SLEW OF PRESEASON HONORS: The preseason honors rolled in for sophomore center Shawntinice Polk this year. She was named a preseason All-American by Street & Smith's, Athlon Sports and Women's Basketball News Service. She was also named to the list of top 30 preseason candidates for the John R. Wooden Women's Award, and she was a preseason candidate for the Wade Trophy. Polkey was selected for the five-member Preseason All-Pac-10 Team, and most recently, she was chosen as one of the nation's "Top Five Centers" by ESPN.com.

CATS PRESEASON RANKED FOR FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS: Arizona was ranked No. 23 in this year's preseason AP Poll and No. 22 in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll. This marked the first time since the 1999-2000 season that the Wildcats were preseason ranked in either poll.

Arizona didn't even receive votes for ranking in last year's preseason polls, nor in the 2001-02 preseason polls. The Wildcats earned 71 votes in the 2000-01 preseason Coaches Poll and 15 votes in that year's AP poll. The Cats were last preseason ranked No. 24 in the USA Today poll and No. 25 in the AP poll heading into the 1999-2000 season.

The Cats were listed among the top 25 teams in seven of the nine preseason polls released this year. The Wildcats were preseason ranked No. 16 by ESPN.com, No. 17 by Lindy's, No. 20 by Women's Basketball News Service, No. 21 by Full Court Press, No. 22 by the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll, No. 23 by Athlon Sports and No. 23 by the Associated Press.

ARIZONA PICKED TO FINISH SECOND IN PAC-10: Both the Pac-10 women's basketball coaches and the conference women's basketball media picked Arizona to finish second in the Pac-10 standings this year, behind Stanford.

2002-03 IN BRIEF: After two seasons of mediocrity, the Arizona women's basketball team burst back onto the national scene in 2002-03, racking up a solid 22-9 mark and earning the most victories for any team in three years. The Wildcats were 13-5 in Pac-10 play and finished in a tie for second place with Washington, equaling Arizona's best-ever finish in the league standings. The Cats received a No. 3 seed in the second annual Pac-10 Tournament and ran over Oregon State and Washington before falling by a narrow margin to powerhouse Stanford in the championship game.

Arizona earned an at-large bid in the 2003 NCAA Tournament, making the Big Dance for the first time since the 1999-2000 season. With just four juniors and seniors, the young and inexperienced Wildcat team lost in the first round of the tournament to a veteran Notre Dame club, but merely getting back into the tourney was a step in the right direction.

The 2003 Wildcats set or tied 52 school records this season, including most blocked shots (120), lowest opponent field goal percentage (.378) and most double-doubles (26). By herself, freshman phenom Shawntinice Polk set or tied 19 of those school records, a number that included new marks for single season rebounds (335), rebounding average (10.8 rpg), blocked shots (80) and freshman scoring (538).

Polk was named both an Associated Press and Kodak/WBCA honorable mention All-American and was the 2003 Pac-10 Freshman of the Year, marking the second straight season that Arizona featured the league's top rookie. Polk and sophomore guard Dee-Dee Wheeler were named first team All-Pac-10, while Polk also received Pac-10 All-Freshman Team laurels. Fellow rookie Natalie Jones was an honorable mention Pac-10 All-Freshman Team selection. For the third time in the last six seasons, head coach Joan Bonvicini was named a finalist for the Naismith College Coach of the Year Award.

INDIVIDUALLY IN 2002-03: With averages of 17.4 points and 10.8 rebounds per game, freshman center Shawntinice Polk led Arizona in both categories last year. Racking up a school-record 21 double-doubles on the season, Polk also set new school records for single-season rebounding (335), single-season blocked shots (80) and freshman scoring (538 pts). She became only the seventh player in the program's history to reach the 500-point mark in one season and became the first freshman ever to finish among the top 10 in the Pac-10 in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage.

Sophomore guard Dee-Dee Wheeler was second in scoring, with 16.2 ppg, and was third in rebounding, with 4.6 rpg. She logged 501 points for the season, making her just the eighth player to reach that mark in one year. It also marked the first time in the program's history that two Wildcats have reached 500 points in the same season.

Senior forward Krista Warren was second in rebounding, averaging 7.2 boards per game, and was third in scoring (11.9 ppg). Junior guard Aimee Grzyb was fourth on the scoring chart, at 10.5 ppg.
