ARIZONA GOLF™

Rick LaRose
Director of Golf
Men's Head Coach

Entering his 22nd season at the helm of the Wildcats, Rick LaRose, director of golf and head coach of Arizona men's golf teams, has established the Wildcat golf program as one of the nation's best. The only coach in collegiate history to win both a men's and women's NCAA golf title, he has consistently produced winning programs and individual golfers who have been among the country's elite.

LaRose's teams have won two NCAA titles (1992 men's/ 1996 women's), six NCAA regional championships, five Pac-10 crowns and two Rolex Match Play titles. He has also produced five national player of the years, seven Pac-10 Players of the Year, 53 All-Americans and 74 All-Pac-10 Conference performers. His players have left their mark on the professional tours, with such players as Jim Furyk, Robert Gamez, Mike Springer, Larry Silveira, Manny Zerman, David Berganio and most recently Rory Sabbatini carrying on the UA golf tradition in the pro ranks.

Greg Allen
Women's Head Coach

Greg Allen was named head coach of Arizona's women's golf team in July 2000 after two years as the assistant coach for the University of Texas men's golf program. While at Texas, Allen was instrumental in the development of the Longhorn Junior Golf Camp and was the assistant while PGA Tour player and 1999 U.S. Amateur Champion David Gossett played on the team. Prior to his arrival at Texas, Allen spent five years as both director of tournament operations and tournament director for the American Junior Golf Association (AJGA).

Under Allen's leadership, the current Wildcat team will be trying for the school's fourth consecutive Pac-10 title, third NCAA Regional Championship and third NCAA Championship. Allen helped Lorena Ochoa reach the pinnacle of the collegiate golf scene as she was named 2001 Player of the Year, 2001 Freshman of the Year and 2002 NGCA Collegiate Golfer of the year. Ochoa and former Wildcat Natalie Gulbis both earned All-America honors under Allen.
