Prior to being named head coach, Ianello helped guide the Wildcats to a fifth place finish at the 2010 NCAA Women's Golf Championships in her final act as an assistant coach. The Wildcats regained a considerable amount of their previous luster in 2009-10, winning three tournaments including back-to-back postseason wins at the Pac-10 Championships and the NCAA West Regional Championships.

Ianello, who played for the Wildcats from 1998-2003 as Laura Myerscough, spent the previous five seasons playing professionally on the LPGA Tour, Futures Tour and the West Coast Ladies Golf Tour before joining the Arizona coaching staff. Her best season was 2004 in which she finished 147th on the LPGA Tour money list. Ianello ranked eighth on the 2003 Futures Tour with a 72.1 stroke average with three top-10 finishes.

Ianello was a part of one NCAA Championship (2000) and three Pac-10 Championship (2000, 2001, 2002) teams during her five seasons as a Wildcat. In 33 career collegiate appearances, Ianello posted a 75.92 stroke average to go with eight top-10 and four top-20 finishes.

She was a National Golf Coaches Association honorable mention All-American and a second-team All-Pac-10 selection in 2002. Ianello earned honorable mention All-Pac-10 accolades in 2001 and 2003, as well. She was the UA team captain as a senior in 2002-03.

Originally from Charleston, Ill., Ianello was the runner-up at the 2000 U.S. Women's Amateur Championship. She also played in the 2001, 2002 and 2004 U.S. Women's Opens, the 2002 Curtis Cup and represented the U.S. at the 2000 and 2002 World Amateur Championship. For three seasons (2000-03), Ianello was ranked in the top 10 in Golfweek magazine's amateur rankings.
