Some Game Themes: Arizona seeks some answers to a four-game tailspin... UA takes a break from nine straight games against Pac-10 opponents to face a national power from the Big 12. The Cats last such contest was a Sept. 18 tilt against No. 9 Iowa in Tucson... The Cats' defense, under siege from Andrew Luck, USC tailbacks and Nike U in recent outings, takes on the national leader in total offense and a host of All-Big 12 talent... Can Arizona contain the primary threesome therein -- QB Brandon Weeden, WR Justin Blackmon and RB Kendall Hunter? Can the Cowboys -- near last in FBS pass defense -- contain Arizona QB Nick Foles and All-Pac-10 receiver Juron Criner? Does anyone want either team to contain either collection of dudes? (No, it's a bowl game.)... The Cats look to win an eighth game for the third consecutive year, modest perhaps against OSU's 10-2 campaign, but forward-looking nonetheless... Cowboys placekicker Dan Bailey (24-28) and Arizona's Alex Zendejas (13-16) combined for 37 field goals in solid fashion so likely there are points to be had if the run-and-catch fellows don't get it done. Zendejas had some extra-point trouble in the last game but has been good from distance... Push comes to shove: OSU scored less than 30 points once, Arizona allowed more than 30 twice... The Cats look to keep the Cowboys out of the red zone: OSU brings a 95 percent red-zone rate (vs. 75% for UA), no doubt a function of its balanced attack and 5-yards-a-pop rushing game. Hunter has nearly as many TDs (16) as Arizona's rushing attack (20)... A couple of teams from the changing landscape of college football, with UA to begin play next in the Pac-12 and Oklahoma State returning to a 10-team Big 12... A couple of head coaches named Mike with reputations for hot-collar moments... The Cats look to ignore their last game against a Big 12 power (Nebraska 33, Arizona 0, Holiday Bowl last year) and take on this one with deep respect and open minds; have some fun, but don't forget there's a football game...

What to Expect From the Cats: Arizona has made its name under Mike Stoops as a team that plays fast and fearless, regardless of the opponent. Perhaps no game was better evidence of that mantra than the 34-27 upset victory over No. 9 Iowa in Tucson in September. Unfortunately for the Wildcats, that game remains the highlight of the season despite a 7-1 start that was followed up by four straight losses to quality foes in Stanford, USC, Oregon and Arizona State. Arizona faltered down the stretch mostly due to its inability to stop the run and its failure to capitalize on all of its scoring opportunities. Indeed, three of the final four teams rushed for over 200 yards and Arizona State still put up over 100 against the Wildcats defense. Meanwhile, UA's redzone offense ranks outside the top 100 in the nation, scoring just 75-percent of the time and converting touchdowns just 58-percent of the time. That will be challenge against an Oklahoma State squad that doesn't waste redzone opportunities (see 95-percent scoring rate) and is known for flinging the ball around, notably to All-American wide receiver Justin Blackmon. But OSU's balance with talented runner Kendall Hunter and his 1,500-plus yards on the ground will leave the UA defense with quite the challenge in stopping one of the nation's most explosive offenses, led by quarterback Brandon Weeden. Arizona saw plenty of similarly electric teams down the stretch and was unable to stop them in the end (Stanford 42 points, Oregon 48 points). However, perhaps a few weeks of preparation and healing time will allow the UA defense to get back to its fast, attacking ways from the first half of the season when it rated as on of the nation's top units. Should that happen, Wildcats will look to spread the ball around to their offensive weapons which are headlined by quarterback Nick Foles and receiver Juron Criner, who is pretty good in his own right. The Cats also would not mind leaning on a big special teams play that has eluded to club since two such game-changing plays in the Iowa game. For Arizona, it certainly gets back to an attitude of playing fast, physical and relentless in all phases of the game. That will be a refreshing approach, if taken, after four tough losses to end the regular season.

UA-OSU Series History, Notes: Arizona and Oklahoma State renew a series that was split evenly at three wins apiece during pre-World War II years from 1931-1942 ... The Wildcats have won three of the four most recent meetings, including the last, which was a 20-6 Arizona victory in Tucson in 1942 ... The Cowboys claimed the first two meetings in 1931-32 by scores of 31-0 and 13-6 in Oklahoma, before the Wildcats broke through with a 22-13 winning margin in a neutral site game at Phoenix in 1937 ... When the series commenced in 1931, the Wildcats were coached by Fred A. Enke, who won 509 games as the school's basketball coach from 1926-1961. Fred A. Enke coached just the one season on the gridiron, posting a 3-5-1 record. His son, Fred. Enke Jr., played quarterback at Arizona and was drafted in the seventh round of the 1948 NFL draft, where he went on to play seven seasons ... In addition to Fred. A. Enke, Arizona has been coached by A.W. Hardwick (1932), G.A. Oliver (1937) and Miles Casteel (1940-42) in games against Oklahoma State ... That will make Mike Stoops the fifth UA coach to take the sidelines against the Cowboys in just seven all-time meetings ... Interestingly, Casteel's 45 coaching victories remain the fourth-most for an Arizona head coach in school history. Mike Stoops remains five wins shy of Casteel, but just one behind Jim LaRue, whose 41 victories are currently fifth-most ... As noted, the UA-OSU series stopped after the 1942 meeting, and Arizona did not play any football in the 1943 and 1944 seasons, due to World War II. Some years later, the UA Student Union Memorial Building incorporated the bell from the U.S.S. Arizona, sunk during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. An electronic rendition of the bell still tolls every 15 minutes during the day from the speakers atop the UA Administration Building on campus.

ARIZONA OFFENSIVE SUMMARY

Arizona's offensive attack is guided by a pair of coordinators in Seth Littrell and Bill Bedenbaugh, who worked under current Louisiana Tech head coach Sonny Dykes in his coordinator days at Arizona and previously at Texas Tech. Each is in his first season as a co-coordinator at Arizona, with Littrell coaching out of the press box and calling the plays on game day, and Bedenbaugh serving as the on-field communicator with players. Certainly, it is a collaborative effort throughout each week in practice and preparation for the specific game plan.

The Wildcats will operate out of a multiple spread offense, but will mix in a handful of traditional power sets to keep defenses honest. However, the bread and butter in 2010 has been the passing attack, which averages 310 yards per game and ranks No. 9 in the nation. The trigger man in the system is junior quarterback Nick Foles, who is cool, calm and collected at the controls. The 6-foot-5, 245-pounder is a 20-game starter who has thrown for nearly 3,000 yards this season, despite missing two and a half games with a dislocated knee cap in October.

Foles looks to a bevy of wide receivers, led by junior wide receiver Juron Criner, who has 73 receptions for 1,186 yards and 10 touchdowns on the season. A pair of unheralded players – David Douglas and David Roberts – offer reliable alternatives if defenses focus attention on the 6-foot-4, 120-pound Criner. Roberts and Douglas, both smaller receivers, have combined for 88 receptions, resulting in 892 yards and seven touchdowns.

Added up, Arizona has nine players with at least 13 catches on the season. UA splits its receiving corps into two categories: outside receivers and inside receivers. Criner, Douglas and Travis Cobb are the primary outside targets that look to stretch defenses vertically and to the sidelines. Inside, Roberts, Terrence Miller and Bug Wright are a trio that threaten teams across the middle and seek to find wholes in zone coverage.

The Wildcats are not afraid to balance out teams with the run, although coaches will tell you they wish it was a more consistent effort. UA averaged 135 yards on the ground in the regular season, with Keola Antolin pacing the ground game with 667 yards and seven touchdowns. The more explosive Nic Grigsby has been hampered by injuries the second half of the season, but otherwise has 474 yards and eight touchdowns of his own.

Arizona runs behind a veteran offensive line that features senior starters at every position. The leader of the group is 6-foot-4, 295-pound Colin Baxter, a Rimington Award finalist and a starter in 49 consecutive games. He has played the last month of the season with a torn meniscus, and may opt for surgery prior to the bowl game to prepare for professional tryouts down the road.

Another veteran in the group is sixth-year graduate student Adam Grant, who anchors UA's left tackle spot. Grant is a massive 6-foot-8, 325-pounder who battled knee injuries in his first three seasons before finishing his career now as an every game starter since the start of 2009. His fellow line mates include guards Conan Amituanai and Jovon Hayes, along with right tackles Phillip Garcia and Jack Julsing.

In the power game, the Wildcats will employ sophomore H-back Taimi Tutogi and senior tight end A.J. Simmons who are both steady blockers. Arizona can go with even a heavier set with a second tight end in redshirt freshman Jack Baucus.

Arizona's primary concern throughout the season has been redzone scoring, where the squad has a 74.5 success rate, but just a 56.9 percent touchdown scoring percentage. The culprits have been six total turnovers inside the redzone, untimely penalties and an inconsistent rushing attack. Otherwise, the Wildcats can move the ball against anybody, evidenced by 445 yards per game, which ranks No. 23 in the country.

OFFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS

- WR Juron Criner was a unanimous selection to the All-Pac-10 First Team as voted on by the coaches. Criner also was cited as a second or third team All-America pick by various publications, including Sports Illustrated.
- Criner ranks No. 5 in UA history with 20 career receiving touchdowns and his 125 career receptions are No. 7 in UA history. He checks in at No. 9 all-time with 1,856 career receiving yards.
- QB Nick Foles was named honorable mention All-Pac-10 for the second straight year. The junior has thrown for 5,397 yards (No. 8 in UA history) in 22 career games (20 starts) and he ranks No. 7 in UA history with 38 career passing TDs (19 each of last two seasons).
- Senior center Colin Baxter (49-game starter) and left tackle Adam Grant (30-game starter) were both named to the All-Pac-10 Second Team. Baxter, a finalist for the Rimington Award, will miss the bowl game after undergoing knee surgery in early December to repair a torn meniscus, which he played with for the final month of the regular season.
- UA averages 445.2 yards per game, second-best in school history. The mark sits slightly ahead of the 444.9 turned in by the 1998 club.
- UA's 310.0 passing yards per game would be a school record at this point. It edges out the 308.5 passing yards per game set by the 2008 squad which won the Las Vegas Bowl.
- The Cats have passed for 250 or more yards in a game a total of eight times this year. That ties the 2007 squad for most 250+ games in a single season.
- The Wildcats average 29.8 points per game in 2010. The figure checks in No. 6 in program history.
- Receivers David Douglas and David Roberts have combined for 88 catches for 892 yards and seven touchdowns. Douglas is second on the team with 46 receptions for 424 yards and five touchdowns, while Roberts has 42 catches for 468 yards and two touchdowns.
- RB Nic Grigsby currently stands as UA No. 6 rusher in school history with 2,898 yards. His 28 career rushing TDs is No. 2 in school history.
- Arizona has eight players with 20 or more receptions, to match its biggest group of "20" guys in history -- the group in 2007.

DEFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS

- DE Ricky Elmore, a second team All-Pac-10 selection, led the conference with 11.0 sacks. His 0.92 sacks per game tally checked in No. 7 in the nation during the regular season. In 2010, the 6-foot-5, 250-pounder has 48 total tackles, including 13.0 for loss. His 25.5 career sacks are seventh-most for active players in the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision and second-most in UA history behind Tedy Bruschi.
- DE Brooks Reed was named First Team All-Pac-10. He totaled 6.5 sacks on the season and was voted a team co-captain prior to the season.
- Arizona ranks No. 14 in the nation with 2.75 sacks per game. The Cats also tally 6.75 tackles for loss per game, the second-best mark in the Pac-10 during the 2010 season.
- UA is 15-1 in the last 16 games when holding an opponent under 100 net rushing yards.
- Arizona is just 13-23 in games when its opponent rushes for 100+ yards in a game since '06.
- Only five teams have beat UA when rushing for less than 100 yards since the start of '06.
- Paul Vassallo has a team-high 94 tackles (30 more than No. 2 Joseph Perkins), 7.5 tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks entering the bowl game. An honorable mention all-league selection, he currently ranks No. 7 in the Pac-10 in tackles per game (7.83).
- Trevin Wade's 85-yard interception return for a touchdown was his 10th career interception, most for any active UA player.
- Redshirt freshman DT Justin Washington was second on the team with 10.0 tackles for loss. He ranked No. 10 individually in the league in the category, despite missing two games with an injury.
- Arizona allows just 21.6 points per game, the second-best mark in the league.
- Arizona returned just three starters to the 2010 defense, after the 2008 and 2009 versions finished ranked in the top 25 nationally in total defense.

Arizona returned only three starters from a season ago after back-to-back finishes in the top-25 for total defense. It was an area of concern, particularly at linebacker, where not a single player on the roster had played meaningful minutes at the position prior to this season.

On top of the personnel turnover, Arizona lost its six-year defensive coordinator, Mark Stoops, who left following the 2009 season to take the same job at Florida State. Head coach Mike Stoops promoted linebackers coach Tim Kish, who had been on staff since 2004, and brought in Greg Brown, a well-respected secondary aide, from Colorado to assist in the coordinator duties.

Along with the shuffling of the staff, Arizona changed its defensive schemes slightly. More man-to-man coverage concepts were implemented last spring as UA looked to get its best athletes on the field. That shift was firmed up in fall camp as Arizona brought in a handful of talented defensive backs that were capable of immediately challenging for playing time. Indeed, nickel and dime packages were going to be used more often with the depth the Wildcats had.

Unfortunately, the Wildcats defense had a rough go at things in camp going up against a veteran offensive unit. It was cause for concern amongst people inside the program and those outside it with a rooting interest. It seemed the Cats were too young and the learning curve was going to take much longer than hoped for.

But then came the season opener at Toledo, when the Wildcats thumped the Rockets, 41-2. Surprisingly, it was the Wildcat defense that made headlines in a dominating effort. From that point forward, expectations for the defense changed.

Arizona knew coming into the year that it had the best duo of defensive ends in the league in Brooks Reed and Ricky Elmore. Both were healthy throughout the year and lived up to expectations, while D'Aundre Reed emerged as a tough run-stopper as a third player in the rotation.

Inside, the Wildcats returned veteran Lolomana Mikaele and found a future star in redshirt Justin Washington, who recorded two sacks in that season-opening game. Sione Tuihalamaka, Willie Mobley and Dominique Austin provided depth for a rather stout defensive interior despite losing two starters from 2009's squad.

At linebacker, junior college transfers Paul Vassallo and Derek Earls stepped in and produced immediately. Earls intercepted a pass in the season-opening game, while Vassallo went on to be one of the Pac-10's top tacklers, collecting 94 on the season. Sophomore Jake Fischer, an undersized but instinctual player, rounded out the position with three solid starters who were highly reliable throughout the year.

In the secondary, Trevin Wade headlined a unit that featured talented defensive backs. But despite an 85-yard interception return for a score against Iowa, Wade's play was inconsistent much of the season. Fellow corner Robert Golden made the shift from safety during the offseason and struggled with consistency at times, too. Fortunately, Arizona had depth with true freshmen Shaquille Richardson and Jonathan McKnight, who both saw significant time in games throughout the season. Overall, it was a solid unit that was perhaps unspectacular much of the year.

At safety, Joseph Perkins emerged as one of the leaders of the team and was steady in his play throughout the year, ranking second on the club in tackles. He slid down at times to the linebacker level in nickel and dime packages and is strong in run support. Anthony Wilcox played steadily at the other safety position, while sophomore Adam Hall burst onto the scene the second half of the season, becoming a big hitter and playmaker evidenced by interceptions against USC and Oregon.

When it was all said and done, the Wildcat defense surpassed expectations this season, but struggled down the stretch against some of the top offenses in the Pac-10. Even so, the nucleus is in place for a strong unit to return next year as eight positions will return players with starting experience. That means extra practices for the bowl game will be critical to the continued growth of the unit.

Record: 40-44 overall

Bowl Record: 1-1

Mike Stoops, the 28th head football coach in Arizona's century-plus football history, took over a 2-10 program and turned it into a championship contender and bowl champion, taking no shortcuts along the way. He has guided the Wildcats to three-consecutive bowl games for just the second time in the school's history.

His recruiting success and the player development program under his guidance have given Arizona a roster deep with talent and full of players who own the same fortitude he brings to work every day.

His background in national-caliber football as a player and coach helped pave the way in Tucson, with improvement across the board from day one. His teams have beaten ranked squads each of his years at UA (including 2010), and in 2009 he helped return the Wildcats to the national rankings, where they also appeared for the majority of the 2010 season. He's begun a succession of bowl appearances that has extended to three with this year's berth in the Valero Alamo Bowl.

Toughness, passion and accountability mark his style and program, along with his coaching love – defense. His recent work on the other side of the ball has helped refine his head coaching system into one of balance and consistency.

Under Stoops' direction, Arizona again slots players annually in the NFL Draft, earns first-team All-Pac-10 accolades, competes with the best... while the players comport themselves on and off the field as student-athletes and citizens befitting an institution of higher education.

Prior to his arrival in Tucson in December 2003, Stoops' coaching development took place at three stops – Iowa under Hayden Fry, Kansas State under Bill Snyder and Oklahoma under his brother, Bob. The theme at each was similar: build a foundation and then win. During his 18 years with those programs he helped build a combined record of 158-48-4, and remains among those credited with the success of the three programs including the 2000 national title year at OU.

At Arizona, Stoops endured some growing pains incorporating his system, wrapping up 2004 and 2005 with 3-8 years. Throughout, he and his staff worked tirelessly to recruit the kinds of players he helped mold into Lombardi, Butkus, Nagurski and Thorpe awards winners at Oklahoma. Three years into the effort, Arizona cornerback Antoine Cason added his name to the list of honorees Stoops helped develop.

His third and fourth Arizona clubs kept improving but didn't come through with finishing efforts in key games, finishing 6-6 and 5-7, respectively.

It changed in 2008, when the Wildcats shed their decade-old mantle as a second-division squad and fought for a 5-4 league record and 8-4 overall mark to return UA to the bowl season. That trip culminated with a championship in the Las Vegas Bowl over BYU in a game marked by the Cats' resiliency and determination, as well as offensive fireworks and tough defense. The 8-5 mark was UA's best in 10 years.

Last year Arizona took the Pac-10 race to the wire, facing off in late November against Oregon with the Rose Bowl on the line. The Ducks prevailed in two overtimes, but UA bounced back and won two rugged road games at ASU and USC to finish alone in second place and earn a slot in the Holiday Bowl at 8-4.

The head coach went through a bit of juggling on his staff in the offseason, and his work in that area looks to be one of the key moves in his tenure, assigning co-coordinators and bringing in a quarterback-dedicated assistant to work with UA's talented group.

In 2010, he and his staff were able to piece together a surprisingly stout defense after just three starters returned. The offense continued to stand as one of the best in the league, and the Wildcats cemented a winning record for the third straight season. The bowl berth for a third straight season is the second-longest in the conference behind Pac-10 Champion Oregon.

Arizona Football Under Mike Stoops

- Coached the Wildcats to three-straight winning seasons and three-straight bowl appearances. The three consecutive bowl appearances equal a school record.

- Arizona's 34-27 victory over No. 9 Iowa on Sept. 18, 2010, marked the seventh straight season in which the Wildcats knocked off a nationally ranked team.

- Guided the Wildcats to a 3-0 record in non-conference games to open the 2010 season, the first time the school had done so since 2001.

- Ranked in the top 25 much of the season, the 2010 Arizona Wildcats drew an average of 54,408 fans per game in seven contests at Arizona Stadium, the third-best mark in program history.

- In 2010, helped Arizona record a seventh consecutive 50,000-plus per-game attendance figure, its best streak in the 30 years Arizona Stadium has been near its current capacity. The 2006 club attracted a record 390,589 fans for the second-best game average in UA history, 55,798.

- Returned Arizona to the national rankings in 2009, with the team ascending to No. 18 in November. The Cats returned to the rankings for much of the regular season in 2010, jumping as high as No. 9 in the polls, the highest ranking for the school since a preseason top-5 ranking in 1999.

- Led Arizona to a second-place finish in the Pac-10 in 2009, its highest finish in 11 seasons.

- Helped lead the program's defense to consecutive years in the nation's Top 25 in total defense in 2008 and 2009.

- Arizona's victory over No. 20 Southern California in 2009 gave Stoops victories over each Pac-10 program during in his tenure.

- Arizona has had 12 players selected in the NFL Draft the past four seasons after their development under Stoops' training systems.

- Capped the University's first eight-win season in 10 years with a bowl victory over No. 17 BYU in the Pioneer Las Vegas Bowl in 2008.

- Has coached in 17 bowl games and competed in four others as a player.

- Stoops added 2007 Jim Thorpe Award winner Antoine Cason to his long list of national award winners. Cason was a consensus All-American and later first-round pick by the San Diego Chargers. Moreover, he was a team spokesman and representative of the program from his first day onward.

MIKE STOOPS IN BOWL GAMES

Arizona Coach Mike Stoops is 1-1 in bowl games as a head man, beating BYU in the 2008 Las Vegas Bowl and dropping a decision to Nebraska in last year's Holiday Bowl. However, his playing (Iowa) and coaching history have put him in bowl action 18 other times for a 21-trip history. He played and coached in the Rose Bowl, played and coached in the Peach Bowl, was an assistant coaching national champion with Oklahoma in the 2000 Orange Bowl and has worked in nine other different bowls:

2010	Valero Alamo Bowl	Arizona head coach
2009	Holiday Bowl	Arizona head coach
2008	Las Vegas Bowl	Arizona head coach
2003	Sugar Bowl	Oklahoma coordinator
2002	Rose Bowl	Oklahoma coordinator
2001	Cotton Bowl	Oklahoma coordinator
2000	Orange Bowl	Oklahoma coordinator
1999	Independence	Oklahoma coordinator
1998	Alamo Bowl	Kansas State coordinator
1997	Fiesta Bowl	Kansas State co-coordinator
1996	Cotton Bowl	Kansas State co coordinator
1994	Aloha Bowl	Kansas State assistant
1993	Copper Bowl	Kansas State assistant
1991	Holiday Bowl	Iowa volunteer assistant
1990	Rose Bowl	Iowa volunteer assistant
1988	Peach Bowl	Iowa volunteer assistant
1987	Holiday Bowl	Iowa graduate assistant
1984	Freedom Bowl	Iowa player
1983	Gator Bowl	Iowa player
1982	Peach Bowl	Iowa player
1982	Rose Bowl	Iowa player

Bill Bedenbaugh

Tim Kish

*Co-Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers Coach - Seventh Year*

Kish recruits the Inland Empire in Southern California and the Phoenix area for the Wildcats... Molded the trio of Paul Vassallo, Derek Earls and Jake Fischer from inexperienced group to one of the conference's top linebacking corps in 2010... Helped Vassallo to All Pac-10 honorable mention list after the junior college transfer led UA with 94 tackles... A veteran assistant coach, Kish has been a defensive coordinator in both the Big Ten and Pac-10 during his 35 seasons in coaching.

Greg Brown

*Co-Defensive Coordinator
Secondary Coach - First Year*

Prior to the Alamo Bowl, Brown accepted a position at the University of Colorado... Recruited Dallas and Colorado for UA... Helped Robert Golden with the transition to a starting cornerback role in 2010... Improved Arizona's depth in secondary as freshmen Shaquille Richardson and Jonathan McKnight saw playing time ... Factored into sophomore safety Adam Hall's emergence towards the end of the year... Will not be with Arizona for the Alamo Bowl

Garret Chachere

*Inside Receivers Coach
Second Year at Arizona*

Recruiting Orange County, Calif., Nevada and Texas for Arizona, Chachere specializes in working with UA's inside receiving group... Coached Dave Roberts to 468 yards receiving on 42 receptions and two scores... Arizona's passing offense recorded 310.0 ypg and 24 touchdowns through 12 regular season games... Currently in his 20th year in coaching with stints most recently at Tulane and Memphis before joining the UA staff in 2009.

Jeff Hammerschmidt

*Special Teams Coordinator
Defensive Ends Coach - Seventh Year*

Oversees Arizona's recruiting efforts in San Diego and Northern California...Hammerschmidt, a three-year starter at safety for Arizona from 1988-90, coaches UA's defensive ends and special teams...Helped DE's Brooks Reed and Ricky Elmore to All Pac-10 team selections in 2010...Elmore led the Pac-10 in sacks with 11 while Reed totaled 6.5...Coached Alex Zendejas to second in the Pac-10 in field goal percentage as he connected on 13 of 16 attempts... Hammerschmidt is in his second stint with the program after serving under Dick Tomey from 1992-1995.

Dave Nichol

*Outside Receivers Coach
Fourth Year at Arizona*

Nichol recruits Southern Arizona along with California's Ventura County and San Fernando and Central Valley...In his fourth season at Arizona after working under former UA offensive coordinator Sonny Dykes and the spread offense at Texas Tech...Coached Juron Criner to All Pac-10 First Team selection with Criner leading UA with 73 receptions for 1,186 yards and 10 scores...Arizona's sideline signal caller, Nichol helped David Douglas with a transition to outside receiver as Douglas was second on the team in touchdown catches with five... 11th season in coaching with stops at Baylor and Texas Tech.

Frank Scelfo

*Quarterback Coach
First Year at Arizona*

Scelfo recruits Louisiana and Texas for UA...In his first season with Arizona after serving as Tulane's offensive coordinator for eight seasons...Coached quarterback Nick Foles to All Pac-10 honorable mention list as Foles recorded over 2,900 yards passing to go along with 19 tds...Provided veteran offensive coaching voice as he has mentored four NFL quarterbacks while at Tulane...Has specialized in wide-open passing attack throughout his career...Currently in his 29th season coaching.

Mike Tuiasosopo

*Defensive Line Coach
Seventh Year at Arizona*

Prior to the Alamo Bowl, Tuiasosopo accepted a position at the University of Colorado...Recruited Los Angeles, Hawaii and Utah for Arizona during seven years with Mike Stoops and Arizona...Coached redshirt freshman Justin Washington to breakout year with 10.5 tackles for loss and six sacks...Helped Arizona to a top five total defense in the Pac-10...Comes from football-rich family with strong recruiting ties...Will not be with the team for Alamo bowl.

Alamo Bowl Game Quick Hits

Arizona has 15 players from state of Texas ... It will be Arizona's fourth bowl appearance in Texas after 1969, 1985 and 1992 participation in the Sun Bowl ... Arizona's three-game bowl streak matches the school's best previous string from 1992-94 (Sun, Fiesta, Freedom) ... Arizona's active streak is the second-longest in the Pac-10 Conference ... Arizona is 3-3 against Oklahoma State, all from 1931 to 1942, during UA's Border Conference days. UA beat the Cowboys, 22-13, in Phoenix in 1937 and 1940 (24-0), the only neutral site games in the series.

Following Foles

Junior quarterback Nick Foles' Arizona career is 22 games deep (20 starts), with a handful of games as a backup in 2009 and a pair of missed games this year due to a knee strain. This year he's thrown for 2,911 yards and should become only the third Wildcat to pass for 3,000 in a season. A year ago he posted 260 completions, No. 2 on UA's single-season chart; this year he takes 254 into the bowl game (currently fourth). His 19 TD throws last year and this are fourth-best. The 38 scoring pitches are No. 7. Mike Stoops' notion of offense has come a long way since his first year in Tucson when the team leader (true freshman Richard Kovalcheck) threw for 940 yards in 2004. Foles had nearly that many (888) in two games against Oregon State/Oregon this year. Foles has all the throws, is mobile enough to find more time and has a stable of talented receivers to deliver the catch. His career pass efficiency rating of 134.96 would be a school record by a hair over Willie Tuitama's 134.70 (2005-08) if he reached the 1000-attempts level. For the record, he has 786 throws and 514 completions for 5,397 yards. That's completing 65 percent of the tosses, better than Tuitama's mark of .616.

All-Pacific-10 Conference

Arizona placed junior receiver Juron Criner and senior defensive end Brooks Reed on the first-team All-Pac-10 squad in 2010, with senior center Colin Baxter, graduate offensive tackle Adam Grant and senior defensive end Ricky Elmore earning second-team honors. UA missed out on first-team picks a year ago, with Baxter, Grant and soph corner Trevin Wade earning team-two nods along with departing DT Earl Mitchell and LB Xavier Kelley. Honorable mention picks this year include four juniors -- QB Nick Foles, RB Keola Antolin, LB Paul Vassallo and slot receiver David Douglas ... Criner joins first-team UA receivers of the past in Mike Thomas (2008 and 2007), Bobby Wade (2002), Dennis Northcutt (1999), Derek Hill (1987) and Brad Anderson (1983) in earning first-team all-Pac-10 honors ... Reed joins a select group among Wildcat ends or edge rushers on the first team in Tedy Bruschi (1993-95) and Chris Singleton (1988-89). Louis Holmes (2006), Copeland Bryan (2005), Joe Tafoya (2000), Danny Lockett (1986) and Steve Boardway (1984) earned second-team honors.

All-America Honors

Four Wildcats earned All-America recognition by various publications following terrific individual seasons ... Junior wide receiver Juron Criner's breakout season did not go unnoticed. Following a 73-catch, 1,186-yard season that produced 10 touchdowns, Criner earned second team All-America accolades by cbssports.com and by Sports Illustrated. He was also named a third team All-America by Rivals.com ... Senior center Colin Baxter was a second team All-America selection by Rivals.com ... Senior defensive end Ricky Elmore was named honorable mention All-American by Sports Illustrated ... Redshirt freshman defensive tackle Justin Washington collected first team Freshman All-America honors from College Football News.

Coin Op Defense

Arizona's defense operates out of a base 4-3 like many teams; however, don't be surprised when you see five or six defensive backs on the field, particularly against the Oklahoma State Cowboys' offense. The Cats will swap a linebacker out of the game in favor of an extra defensive back for the nickel package against teams that employ three or four wide receiver sets. Typically, that means safety Joseph Perkins slides down to the linebacker level in the nickel package, with Adam Hall and Anthony Wilcox manning the true safety positions. If teams empty the backfield, Arizona will counter with a dime package, which brings extra coverage corners. Corners Trevin Wade and Robert Golden usually bump inside, while reserves Shaquille Richardson, Jonathan McKnight or Mike Turner will rotate to take the two outside coverage spots. It allows the Wildcats to mix in man coverage with zone principles over the top.

Back Home in Texas

Arizona has not played a football game in the state of Texas since 1999, when an early season non-conference visit to TCU resulted in a thrilling 35-31 victory. So it's safe to say Arizona's Alamo Bowl appearance will be a welcomed homecoming for the 15 players on the roster who hail from the Lone Star State. Arizona has found recruiting success in the talent-rich football state, providing the school with a blend of players from Texas, Arizona, California and other western states. Last season, UA had 21 players from Texas on the roster. How many will be on there next year? Perhaps a visit to the state for a bowl game will spike the recruiting efforts in this area.

Offensive Stats in Perspective

Arizona's offense has had little trouble throughout the season moving the football, particularly through the air. This year's squad has moved itself into UA's record charts in several categories. Here are a few:

- UA averages 445.2 yards per game, second-best in school history. The mark sits slightly ahead of the 444.9 turned in by the 1998 club.
- UA's 310.0 passing yards per game would be a school record at this point. It edges out the 308.5 passing yards per game set by the 2008 squad which won the Las Vegas Bowl.
- The Cats have passed for 250 or more yards in a game a total of eight times this year. That ties the 2007 squad for most 250+ games in a single season.
- The Wildcats average 29.8 points per game in 2010. The figure checks in No. 6 in program history.

Team Awards

Arizona held its annual Team Banquet on December 10. Among other festivities, the team recognized some of its outstanding performers of the season ... Arizona's trio of quarterbacks -- Nick Foles, Matt Scott and Bryson Beirne -- were named co-Offensive Players of the Year. All three had tremendous seasons, including Beirne who is as well-liked and well-respected by his coaches and teammates as anyone on the team. It shows the hard work and commitment all three players have put into improving their respective games on and off the field with QB coach Frank Scelfo ... The Offensive Scout Team MVP award was given to wide receiver Dan Buckner, who transferred from Texas last spring. Buckner, at 6-foot-4, will likely make a significant impact next season and could combine with Juron Criner to form one of the best WR combos in the nation ... The Defensive MVP award was presented to senior Brooks Reed, who recorded six sacks on the season and was a relentless presence off the edge in the run and pass game ... The Defensive Scout Team MVP Award went to true freshman Aiulua Fanene. The defensive tackle from American Samoa is the younger brother of Cincinnati Bengals' end Jonathan Fanene ... The Special Teams MVP was given to fifth-year senior Mike Turner, a defensive back whose speed allows him to excel on punt and kickoff coverage. He forced three fumbles on the season while collected 16 tackles, most on coverage units ... The team's highest honor -- The Tedy Bruschi Award -- was handed out to senior center Colin Baxter, a 49-consecutive game starter on the offensive line. A two-time team captain, Baxter for his outstanding performance, leadership and character representing the program.

None Finer Than Criner

Arizona junior wide receiver Juron Criner has turned in an All-America season, with a league-best 73 catches for a league-best 1,186 yards. The receptions are the seventh-most on Arizona's chart while the yards check in at No. 3. He's scored 10 touchdowns this year, the No. 3 single-season total in UA history, where he also owns the No. 6 spot with nine a year ago. He's a deep threat with touchdown catches of 85, 52, 45, 41, 38 and 28 yards this year, and a serious yards-after-contact and yards-after-catch guy. He's rushed for 65 yards at a 9-yard average on end-around or speed-lateral plays. Career-wise, with another year of eligibility and a similar effort, he's poised to become a 200-catch, 3,000-yard Wildcat, accomplished only three times, by guys who moved on to the next level -- Mike Thomas (2005-08), Bobby Wade (1999-02) and Dennis Northcutt (1996-99). Criner is sitting on career marks of 125 receptions (seventh on UA chart), 1,856 yards (ninth) and 20 receiving touchdowns (fifth).

In the Zone

Arizona and Oklahoma State have some similarities in terms of offensive output, but one area the Cowboys dominate is in scoring offense (44.9 ppg compared to UA's 29.8 ppg). The key, surely, for OSU has been its ability to capitalize in the redzone, a place where the Wildcats have struggled mightily. OSU leads the nation with a 95-percent success rate, while the Cats check in lowly at No. 107 in the country (75-percent). The Cowboys have scored touchdowns on 39-of-59 trips (66-percent). Amazingly, those 39 redzone touchdowns are more than UA's total redzone scores (38). The Wildcats have 29 touchdowns out of 38 total redzone scores.

Foles Making a Name for Himself

Arizona junior quarterback Nick Foles showed throughout the 2010 season why he was one of the nation's top quarterbacks. Now the honorable mention All-Pac-10 quarterback will take his talents back to his home state for a game. Here are some quick hits on Nick Foles:

- Preseason watch list for Davey O'Brien and Manning awards
- Currently ranks No. 10 in nation for active career completion percentage (65.48%)
- Currently ranks No. 3 in nation for active career completions per game (23.4)
- Has thrown for 5,397 yards (No. 8 in UA history) in 22 career games (20 starts)
- No. 7 in UA history with 38 career passing TDs
- Has 19 passing touchdowns in 2010, 4th most in UA single season
- 63.41% completion percentage in 2009 No. 3 in UA history
- Career-high 448 yards passing at Oregon in 2010
- Holds UA record for single game pass completion % for 30+ attempts (86.49% at Toledo, 2010)

Foles Flinging Facts

Quarterback Nick Foles' 54 pass attempts at Oregon were the third-most in a game in Arizona history, behind 61 by Willie Tuitama at California in 2007 and 56 by Marc Reed against Oregon State in 1966. Foles threw 53 times at Washington in 2009. One rub in Eugene was his completion percentage of .537 (29 complete), well below his average of 71 percent entering the game, which dropped to 68 percent afterward... Foles connected with Juron Criner for an 85-yard touchdown pass at Oregon, tied for the seventh-longest in school history, the career-long for both players and the longest pass play for the Wildcats in eight years... Foles is within reach of 3,000 passing yards this year (currently 2,911), accomplished just three times in Arizona's football history, twice by Willie Tuitama (3,683 in 2007 and 3,088 in 2008) and once by Jason Johnson (3,327 in 2002)...His 19 TD tosses this year match his 19 from 2009, a single season mark that is No. 4 in UA history.

Big Play Juron

Wide receiver Juron Criner turned in a monster junior season, which drew the attention of some around the country. He was a unanimous choice for First Team All-Pac-10 and earned several All-America honors on second and third teams by various publications. Here are some quick hits on Juron Criner:

- No. 5 in UA history with 20 career receiving touchdowns
- 125 career receptions are No. 7 in UA history
- No. 9 at UA with 1,856 career receiving yards
- No. 8 in nation with 98.8 receiving yards per game in 2010
- Career-highs of 73 catches for 1,186 yards in 2010
- Game-winning TD catch vs. California with 1:11 remaining followed 51-yard reception.
- Led Pac-10 receivers with nine (9) receiving touchdowns in 2009
- 13 of 20 (65 percent) career TD grabs have been 20+ yard plays
- 80 of 125 (65 percent) of career catches result in first down or TD
- 16.2 yards per catch on 73 receptions in 2010
- Five 100-yard games in 2010 (Six in career)
- 10-catch, 176-yard performance at Toledo 2010
- 12-catch, 152-yard effort against Stanford in 2009
- 12-catch, 179-yard (career high) effort against Oregon State in 2010
- Career-high three (3) touchdowns vs. Oregon in 2009

JC for the TD

Junior receiver Juron Criner has 20 career touchdown receptions, fifth-most in school history, largely in two years as a key guy in the rotation. His had nine touchdowns a season ago and surpassed that with 10 during the regular season this year. Juron has a shot at the season mark of 11 TD catches, a tie between Bell (1974) and Mike Thomas (2007). He will also have a shot at the school record of 30 TD receptions, by Theopolis "T" Bell from 1972-75 in Jim Young's tenure as UA's head coach under a wide-open attack directed by then QB Bruce Hill.

Staring at the Numbers...

...Junior David Douglas has done a good job of working as an outside receiver this year after a juco wide-guy never enrolled. He has 46 catches and five TDs after totals of 34 and two his first two seasons in the slot. Those 76 catches put him in good shape to find a spot on Arizona's career receiving chart where the top 15 starts around the 100 mark. Aside from being a good receiver, he's Nick Foles' roommate and thereby closer to the thought processes in the UA passing game... Arizona's 84 penalties are the most during Mike Stoops' seven years in Tucson but thankfully well short of the school record of 114 by the 1999 Wildcats. Stoops' first six teams averaged 66 penalties per year and 5.5 per game. The team is averaging 7.0 per game this year... Another annual average for a Stoops' club is 12.6 interceptions by his defenders, which means this year's teams is slightly behind pace with nine... UA's 33 sacks are the second-most for a Mike Stoops' UA club (34 last year). Interestingly, UA did not have one against Stanford, USC or Oregon. A sack or two would have helped in those games, no doubt. Stanford is the best pass-pro team in the country, and USC and Oregon opted to run the ball a combined 103 times against 59 combined passes... The 57 running plays (389 yards) by the Ducks in November were the second-most in Stoops' tenure, behind 61 totes (for 310) by Oregon State in Mike's first year in 2004. USC and Washington ran the ball 52 times against Arizona in 2005. Washington had the highwater mark in yards gained rushing (333 in 2005) before the Ducks' onslaught... Linebacker Paul Vassallo has a chance to hit the 100-tackle mark this year, sitting on 94 entering the bowl game. The last Wildcat to hit the plateau was current Denver Bronco linebacker/fullback Spencer Larsen with 131 in 12 games in 2007...

Elmore Got More In a Big Way

Senior defensive end Ricky Elmore put an exclamation mark on his outstanding career in his home finale against Arizona State as he racked up a career-high three sacks. The performance vaulted him into the No. 2 spot on UA's all-time list for quarterback sacks, behind only Tedy Bruschi's remarkable 52 sacks. It also pushed Elmore's season total to 11.0, the top mark for any player in the Pac-10. Elmore's 0.92 sacks per game tally checked in No. 7 in the nation during the regular season. In 2010, the 6-foot-5, 250-pounder has 48 total tackles, including 13.0 for loss. His 25.5 career sacks are seventh-most for active players in the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision. He was named Second Team All-Pac-10 and also was named an honorable mention All-American selection by Sports Illustrated.

Oh So Close

Arizona's Mike Stoops has coached in 84 games in his seven-year tenure at the school. Of those, 32 of them (38 percent) have been decided by seven points or less, which discards a few eight-point decisions that could also be considered one-possession outcomes. Added up, Stoops is just 12-20 in the seven-point-or-less games, with many of the tough losses coming in his first several years. The Cats have won a few more close calls the last couple years, including a 10-9 comeback stunner over Cal back in September. Even so, the hard losses have been tough to shake. The mark was 2-3 in 2010, with losses coming by three points to USC, two points to Oregon State and one point to Arizona State. They say these things even out in the end, but when they don't turn out in your favor, they are tough to swallow.

20 Grabs

Arizona has eight players with 20 or more receptions, to match its biggest group of "20" guys in history -- the group in 2007. Last year the Cats had six players with 20 or more. This year's group is led by Juron Criner with 73, while the 2007 group was led by Mike Thomas with 83.

Miller's Fantastic Finish

Sophomore wide receiver Terrance Miller had a sensational final third of the season, stepping up in place of fellow inside receiver Bug Wright, who missed time with injuries and a late-season suspension. In the final four games (against Stanford, USC, Oregon and ASU), Miller pulled in 23 receptions for 312 yards. That's some good work against some pretty talented teams. The only thing missing from Miller's resume in those games was a touchdown, which he has yet to tally in his career. Even so, the late-season emergence of Miller is promising for his next two seasons in the program.

Cobb's Steady Play

Senior wide receiver Travis Cobb turned in a steady season as a wide receiver and kick returner for the Wildcats. He had a 100-yard kickoff return against Iowa earlier in the season (the second return score of his career) and he notched his first career scoring reception against USC on a 31-yard play. He hauled in 25 catches in the regular season, totaling 275 yards. He also netted 44 yards on six rush attempts throughout the season. And, for the second consecutive season, Cobb surpassed 700 kickoff return yards. In two seasons, he has 1,470 kickoff return yards on 58 run-backs, which averages 24.9 yards per try. Pretty good clip.

Numb in November

Arizona played to a 7-1 record through September and October, and then endured its first winless November since 2000 (when Dick Tomey's final Arizona club also started strong -- 5-1 -- and then lost its last five ballgames including an 0-3 slate in November. Mike Stoops' Arizona clubs have typically been strong in the late season throughout his first six years in Tucson. The seventh pitted the Cats against some strong clubs this year -- Stanford, USC and Oregon -- and it showed on the scoreboards.

The Davids

Don't get confused between No. 85 David Douglas and No. 81 David Douglas. While both are receivers, the former played "inside wide receiver" his first two seasons before sliding to "outside receiver" this season, although you'll see him in the slot at times, too. Roberts, meanwhile, is a steady inside receiver who is able to find holes in defensive coverage. Neither player has electrifying speed or a big frame, but both are reliable guys who move the chains and come up with big catches at key times. Douglas is second on the team with 46 receptions for 424 yards and five touchdowns, while Roberts has 42 catches for 468 yards and two touchdowns. Added up, that is 88 catches for 892 yards and seven touchdowns. Good numbers for sure.

Out of the Backfield

While Arizona's trio of running backs (Nic Grigsby, Keola Antolin and Greg Nwoko) average just 24.2 carries per game, they factor into the passing game quite often. They have combined for 53 catches for 395 yards, which averages out to 7.45 yards per catch and nearly 35 extra markers per game for the tailbacks. That's a nice extension of the running game even it doesn't show up that way statistically.

Quarter Scores

Arizona has scored points rather evenly throughout the course of games en route to outscoring opponents by nearly 100 points on the season (357-259). The Wildcats have scored 73 points in the opening quarter of games, 105 in the second, 89 in the third and 81 in the fourth quarters, respectively. ASU defeated UA in overtime, outscoring the Cats 10-9 in early December. Meanwhile, opponents have not combined to score more than 67 points in any quarter, with that tally coming in the third period and fourth periods. Otherwise, opponents have scored 55 in the opening quarter, 60 in the second and 67 in the third and fourth.

Plenty of Patrons

Arizona enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in program history in terms of fan support. In seven games, the Wildcats averaged 55,408 fans per game at Arizona Stadium, which holds 57,400. This year's mark stands at No. 3 in school history, behind the record season attendance average of 56,562 in 1994 and the 55,798 in 2006. Arizona has drawn a home crowd in excess of 50,000 for 14 straight games and has averaged over 50,000 per game for seven-straight seasons, a school record.

Three in a Row

Arizona earned a bowl appearance for the third-consecutive season for just the second time in program history. The last time the Cats tripped to the postseason in three straight years was from 1992-1994. The '92 squad started the streak with an appearance in the John Hancock Bowl, which was followed up by the 1993 club's Fiesta Bowl season and the 1994 team's Freedom Bowl berth.

Hall Emerging Quickly

Sophomore safety Adam Hall has emerged as a key playmaker on defense this season after playing mostly special teams as a true freshman in 2009. Hall had two interceptions down the stretch in big games against USC and Oregon. He moved up to No. 5 on the team with 50 total tackles on the season, which includes 3.5 for loss. Hall is a big hitter who has good range in pass coverage. Consistency will continue to be a primary goal for Hall, like any young player. But the 6-foot-4, 205-pounder is emerging as perhaps the top playmaker in the secondary.

Plugging the Middle

Two unheralded players in UA's defense are tackles Lolomana Mikaele and Justin Washington. Mikaele is a fifth-year senior co-captain, while Washington is a rookie as a redshirt freshman. Mikaele has 32 tackles on the season, paced by 7.5 tackles for loss and 0.5 sacks. Washington, who missed two games with a knee injury, has 45 tackles, including 10.5 for loss and 6.0 sacks. Combined, that's 77 tackles and 18.0 tackles for loss for the two primary inside guys.

Rushing to Success

The spread offense has taken over college football in recent seasons and the Wildcats jumped on the bandwagon with Sonny Dykes and his staff in 2007. With it came a record-setting passing season for Arizona in 2007 and back-to-back eight-win seasons in 2008 and 2009. But the Wildcats have found their success most consistent in running the football, not tossing it around for 300-plus yards per game. Not coincidentally, a more consistent ground game the last few seasons has helped the Wildcats win more games. Consider this rush of facts:

- Arizona is 8-10 in games when it passes for 300+ yards since the start of 2006
- Arizona is 6-2 in games when its opponent throws for 300+ yards in a game since '06
- Arizona is 26-9 in games when it rushes for 100+ yards in a game since '06
- Arizona is just 13-23 in games when its opponent rushes for 100+ yards in a game since '06
- Only five teams have beat UA when rushing for less than 100 yards since the start of '06
- UA is 15-1 in the last 16 games when holding an opponent under 100 net rushing yards

Where Grigsby Stacks Up

Senior tailback Nic Grigsby has moved up to No. 2 on the UA career rushing touchdown chart (28) and No. 6 in school history with 2,898 career rushing yards. Grigsby needs 102 yards to become the school's sixth player to reach 3,000 career rushing yards. Against Oregon State this year, he became the eighth player in school history with 500 carries in a career. Here are some more quick hits on Nic Grigsby:

- Currently stands as UA No. 6 rusher in school history with 2,898 yards
- His 28 career rushing TDs is No. 2 in school history.
- His 556 career rush attempts are sixth-most by a UA player
- His 107 rushing yards against The Citadel marked his 11th career 100-yard game
- Arizona is 10-1 in games he rushes for 100 yards or more.
- Tied career high with three rushing touchdowns against The Citadel
- Average of 5.3 yards per carry in career, including 5.7 ypc since start of 2008.
- Had 1,153 yards and 13 touchdowns in 2008

The Matt Scott Factor

Junior backup QB Matt Scott played a pivotal role in UA's steady 7-1 start to the season, but injured his wrist in a victory at UCLA in late October (the second game he started in place of Nick Foles, who had a dislocated kneecap). He missed the Stanford and USC games with the injury and did not play at Oregon. In place of then-injured Nick Foles against Washington and UCLA, Scott proved that he brings a special element to the Arizona offense. In two starts against Washington and UCLA, Scott combined to complete 45-of-58 pass attempts (72.4 percent) with three touchdowns and one interception. That checks out to an impressive 165.98 pass efficiency rating. Not to mention, he added 136 rushing yards on 19 total carries. Arizona averaged 525 yards and 36.5 yards per game in those two starts. Even in a limited role, he may be called upon to make a few situational plays for the Cats from here on out.

Don't Forget D'Aundre

One player who has gone under the radar throughout his career is senior defensive end D'Aundre Reed. Often overshadowed by all-conference players Brooks Reed (no relation) and Ricky Elmore, D'Aundre has been steady as a third guy in the rotation at end. While he often doesn't appear as the starter, he rotates equally with Brooks and Elmore. D'Aundre may be the best of the trio against the run, but he also brings some explosion off the edge. He has 38 total tackles on the season, including 6.0 for loss and 2.0 sacks. He earned a start at Oregon, due in part to his ability to make plays near the line in the run game.

Vassallo Making a Name for Himself

Junior linebacker Paul Vassallo has quietly become one of the leaders on the UA defense and earned honorable mention all-conference accolades. Vassallo settled comfortably into his role as a 12-game starter after joining the program as a junior college transfer last December. He has a team-high 94 tackles (30 more than No. 2 Joseph Perkins), 7.5 tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks entering the bowl game. He was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week following a dominating 14-tackle performance against Washington on Oct. 23. He currently ranks No. 7 in the Pac-10 in tackles per game (7.83).

Ten For Trevin

Junior cornerback Trevin Wade snared his 10th career interception against Iowa on Sept. 18, which put him in a tie for No. 10 in the NCAA for career active leaders in interceptions. Amazingly, it was second career "pick-six" with both coming against the Hawkeyes (one in 2009). His 85-yard return against the Hawkeyes this year tied for the sixth-longest in school history. To date, he has 43 tackles, two pass breakups and one interception on the season. He was a preseason candidate for a handful of national honors, including the Jim Thorpe Award, the Bonko Nagurski award and the Bednarik Award.

The Future in the Secondary

Arizona's future appears bright in the secondary, especially at corner. The Wildcats already have two experienced players at the position in Trevin Wade and Robert Golden, both juniors. But a pair of true freshmen have made the competition in practice fun to watch this season. Shaquille Richardson and Jonathan McKnight both have seen significant playing time this season, with Richardson starting two games, including at Washington State where he picked off two passes. Filling in for the injured Trevin Wade, the Carson, Calif., native intercepted a pair of passes, broke up three additional passes and registered seven tackles – all solo – against the Cougars. His two picks in his first career start are the first for a Wildcat since current San Diego Charger Antoine Cason snared two against Northern Arizona in the season opener of his true freshman season of 2004. Interestingly, Cason and Richardson both hail from the same high school – Los Alamitos – and both wear the same number: No. 5. The man Richardson filled in for – Wade – also picked off two passes in his Arizona debut, but did so as a redshirt freshman and in a reserve role. Wade's pair of picks came against Idaho in the 2008 season opener.

Colin the Shots

UA center Colin Baxter was named a finalist for the Rimington Award in early December. Unfortunately for Baxter, he will be unable to play in the bowl game following knee surgery to repair a torn meniscus, which he played with in the final month of the season. Otherwise, he started 49-consecutive games along UA's line, providing stability at a position of need over the last four years. In 2008, he was slid from guard to center mid-year after center Blake Kerley went down with a season-ending injury. Thereafter, Baxter never looked back. He's a featured spokesman for the team, offering unique perspective acquired from his time in the trenches and his tireless work with the program on and off the field. He was named a team captain prior to the season for the second straight year. He earned Second Team All-Pac-10 honors from the league coaches and was named second team All-American by Rivals.com.

Old Man on the Block

Arizona graduate offensive tackle Adam Grant, who moved to the left side this year after a couple of years on the right, is an NCAA-approved sixth-year player thanks to some earlier medical problems that caused him to miss nine games as a sophomore (knee) and his redshirt freshman year in 2006 (knee). He also missed six games with a hand injury in 2008. Grant's tenacity and physical situation are at all-time highs. The 24-year-old religious studies student earned his degree two Mays ago. He's a 30-game starter in 32 overall appearances and one of the team's spokesmen on a variety of topics, notably perseverance. He initially was recruited as a tight end (redshirted 2005 in that role) but his big frame (now 6-foot-8, 325) was evident, and his future was a few feet closer to the ball from the onset of his career. His showcase game was likely against then-No. 9 Iowa on Sept. 18, when he went head-to-head with Adrian Clayborn, an All-American defensive end. Clayborn finished with just three tackles and was never a threat in the backfield on pass plays. He gets to finish out his collegiate career playing in a third-straight bowl game.

Rushing Attack Intact

Arizona's running back trio of Nic Grigsby, Keola Antolin and Greg Nwoko has combined for over 5,000 career rushing yards. Through 12 regular season games this season, the current tally is 5,181 rushing yards, paced by Nic Grigsby's 2,898 yards, which places him No. 16 amongst active players in the NCAA for career rushing yards. Throw in Matt Scott's 632 career markers as a dual-threat quarterback, and you tally 5,813 career rushing yards ready to see the field at any time. Of course, UA's receivers are also threats on reverses and end-around plays, notably Travis Cobb, Terrence Miller and Juron Criner (50 rush yards at Stanford in 2010).

Not to Be Offensive

Over the course of the last 49 games, Arizona has scored 15 non-offensive touchdowns (nearly every 3 games or so). In 2007 and 2008, the Wildcats scored on two punt returns and two interception returns in each season. In 2009, Travis Cobb scored on a kickoff return (95 yards), Bug Wright returned a punt to the house (86 yards), Orlando Vargas blocked a punt and returned it for a score (23 yards), and defensive backs Trevin Wade (38 yards) and Robert Golden (79 yards) had pick-six's. This season, Trevin Wade (85 yards) returned an interception for a score against Iowa, and Travis Cobb has a 100-yard kickoff return against the Hawkeyes. UA has gone eight straight games without a non-offensive touchdown this season.

Turnover Fortunes

Arizona's success on the gridiron hinges greatly on its fortunes in the turnover battle, particularly on the road. Since the start of the 2006 season (57 total games), the Wildcats are an impressive 15-3 when they win the turnover battle in a game. Conversely, they struggle to a 6-15 mark in games when they lose the critical battle. The Cats linger just over .500 in games they split the turnover margin with a 13-10 mark. In multiple miscue games, Arizona is just 14-16 when it turns the ball over two or more times, but has benefitted with a 12-3 clip when opponents turn it over twice or more in a game. But perhaps the most notable statistical trend as it relates to turnovers is the fact that the Cats are 0-10 when they lose the turnover battle on the road. At the same time, UA is 12-5 away from the home when it wins or splits the turnover battle. In bowl games, the Cats split the turnover battle with BYU, 3-3, at the Las Vegas Bowl in 2008 and lost the turnover battle, 1-0, to Nebraska in the Holiday Bowl a season ago.

Zendejas In the Books

Arizona junior place kicker Alex Zendejas has scored 79 points this season (13-16 FGs, 40-45 PATs). That tally has boosted his career total to 173 points, which stands at No. 10 in UA history. Zendejas is 30-for-38 (.789) on field goal attempts the last two seasons. Interestingly, that percentage trails UA career percentage leader Jason Bondzio (.833), but leads Zendejas' uncle Max Zendejas, who connected on .738 percent of tries in his career (1982-84).

Don't Confuse Your 2's

Arizona has a handful of regular players that share duplicate numbers. Perhaps the most troublesome for those high in the press box to identify is UA's pair of 2's. Junior running back Keola Antolin is the guy you'll see making the plays on offense in the running game and passing game, and he may make a foray onto a kick return team. His number-sharing teammate is a guy that will make plays on the side of the ball - Mike Turner. Turner is a speedster on special teams that is adept at creating big plays, particular in punt coverage. He has two forced fumbles on punt plays in 2010, and was the man who recovered a muffed punt against ASU in 2009 that set up UA's last-second game-winning field goal. He'll also be featured at cornerback in UA's dime packages in passing situations. Certainly a valuable multi-talented player who has been in the program for five seasons.

Don't Confuse Those 3's, 4's, 5's, 6's and 14's

A few other bothersome duplicate numbers to consider: The primary No. 3 for UA is senior safety Anthony Wilcox. Often an overlooked part of UA's defense, he's played steady in his six games this season, and he'll appear on a coverage team once in a while, too. The other No. 3 is running back Daniel Jenkins. He's an elusive runner who you'll mostly see on UA's kick return team as an upback. But he may field a short kick at some point ... The No. 4 is shared by quarterback Matt Scott and freshman defensive back Marquis Flowers. Scott will be easy to pick out when he's in the game on offense, but you'll find Flowers on several UA special teams units and in various defensive coverage packages throughout a game ... The No. 5 is shared by senior running back Nic Grigsby and freshman defensive back Shaquille Richardson. If you see a No. 5 in the game on defense or special teams, it's the talented corner Richardson, who is featured prominently in UA's dime defense and made his first career start at Washington State... The No. 6 is used by WR/KR Traivs Cobb and freshman DB Jonathan McKnight. On coverage teams and perhaps in the secondary is where you'll find McKnight ... Place kicker Alex Zendejas is the prominent No. 14 in kicking situations, but you'll find No. 14 Richard Morrison, an inside WR, on offensive plays and perhaps on some non-place kicking special teams units.

Moving the Chains

The Wildcats' offensive attack the last several years has been very good at moving the chains and keeping drives alive. A good game in this category includes accumulating 20 or more first downs in a game. When the Cats reach that mark, they are 17-8 over the last 38 games and 22-9 since the start of the 2006 season. At the same time, keeping opponents under that mark is critical, too. UA has captured 25 of its 34 victories over the last four years by keeping opponents under 20 first downs in a game. If UA gets 20 and keeps its opponents below that number in the same game, the Cats win better than 80-percent of the time (16-3 record).

Game of Possession

While not always the case, maintaining possession of the football is a sign that one's offense is moving the ball and its defense is doing a sound job controlling the opposing offense. That has usually been the case for the Wildcats, although some quirky games (such as a 23:32 edge in possession at Oregon in 2008) skew TOP from being a perfect stat. Even so, Arizona is 25-7 since the start of 2006 when it has a positive margin in time of possession and struggles to just a 9-20 mark when its opponents keeps the ball longer. For games in which the opponent controls the ball four or more minutes longer than the Cats yields a 4-17 record for the Cardinal and Navy. When the tables are turned and UA has the four-plus minutes of possession, the Cats are 17-6.

Smart Guys

Arizona placed five student-athletes on the 2010 Pacific-10 Conference All-Academic Football Teams last week including first-team honors for sophomore linebacker Jake Fischer, senior safety Anthony Wilcox and junior kicker John Bonano. Earning second-team nods were linebacker R.J. Young and safety Adam Hall. Four Cats earned honorable mention -- junior quarterback Nick Foles, senior tight end A.J. Simmons, redshirt freshman tight end Jack Baucus and junior receiver David Roberts. Roberts earned second-team honors in 2008 and Young repeats from second-team honors a year ago. The Cats' five first- or second-team honors matched its historical high from 2008.

1921 East-West Christmas Classic -Centre (Ky.) 38, Arizona 0
SAN DIEGO, Calif.—A dominating squad from Centre (Ky.) College splashed to a 38-0 victory over Arizona in front of several thousand rain-soaked fans, spoiling Arizona's first-ever bowl game appearance.

The Praying Colonels held the Cats to zero first downs in the first half, and Arizona was unable to maintain a good drive throughout the game.

Centre's Red Roberts, one of Walter Camp's first All-America ends, scored the first touchdown five minutes into the match. Later, All-American Alvin (Bo) McMillin went over the right tackle for another score. Centre led 18-0 at the half.

The second half was much the same, as Centre dominated every phase. Just as Arizona was mounting a drive late in the third stanza, an interception ended Western hopes, and the Wildcat defense was unable to halt the potent Eastern attack. Centre's Herb Covington scored on a punt return and a sweep to seal the victory.

1949 Salad Bowl - Drake 14, Arizona 13

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Arizona couldn't overcome crucial mistakes, and the Drake Bulldogs triumphed, 14-13, before a crowd of 14,000 in nostalgia-filled Montgomery stadium.

The feisty Midwesterners were outgained by coach Miles Casteel's troops, 355 yards to 206, but the Cats had two fumbles and an interception that ended any hope for a victory. Drake built a 14-7 halftime lead on the strength of Frank Metzger's 1-yard run and Floyd Miller's interception of Ed Wolgast for a 20-yard score. The Cats got on the board with a 15-yard Wolgast rollout.

Arizona roared back in the second half, as running back Charlie Hall romped 79 yards with the third quarter kickoff. The Cats failed to score on their first thrust after the thrilling return, but after an exchange of punts, the durable Wolgast tallied his second touchdown.

Drake carried the luck on this afternoon. Arizona's Wrinfred Tackett, one of the Border-Conference's top extra-point kickers, booted the pigskin against the left upright, the ball bounced away from the goal posts, and Drake escaped with a one-point margin.

Wolgast finished the day with 133 yards rushing, eight yards more than Drake's team total.

1968 Sun Bowl - Auburn 34, Arizona 10

EL PASO, Texas—Arizona battled Auburn on even terms for one half, but within a period of seven minutes in the second half, the Tigers scored 24 points to crush the Wildcats, 34-10, before 32,302 weather-beaten fans and a national television audience in the 34th annual Sun Bowl.

Auburn had taken the lead, 10-0, on a John Riley 52-yard field goal, tying a Sun Bowl record, and a 65-yard touchdown pass from All-SEC quarterback Loran Carter to Mickey Zofko. But the Cats were fit to be tied as Steve Hurley booted a 37-yarder after both teams exchanged turnovers. Arizona held Auburn on fourth down with under two minutes left in the half, and Arizona's Bruce Lee went to work. Two first-down pass completions set up a 12-yard toss to Hal Arnason in the end zone, tying the score 10-10 at the half.

In the third quarter, Auburn took the lead and didn't look back as Tommy Taylor scampered nine yards to put the Tigers up 17-10. Then Buddy McClinton intercepted Lee for the third time in the game and raced 32 yards to score. Arizona's next possession produced a dazzling Carter to Tim Christian 42-yard touchdown pass. Riley then kicked a 41-yard field goal to secure the victory with 11:14 left.

Auburn's Buddy McClinton was voted MVP of the game, and All-America tackle Dave Campbell was honored as the outstanding lineman.

1979 Fiesta Bowl - Pittsburgh 16, Arizona 10

TEMPE, Ariz.—The 10th-ranked Pittsburgh Panthers survived a late rally and hung on to defeat Arizona, 16-10, in the 1979 Fiesta Bowl.

A national television audience was able to watch superb defensive play on both sides. Arizona's defense held Pitt to 299 yards, while the offense dented the Panther's nationally-ranked defense for 317 yards.

Pitt led 6-0 at halftime on the strength of 46-and 36-yard field goals by the game's most valuable offensive player, Mark Schubert. Arizona moved the ball well, but couldn't get the one big play it needed. The Cats drove to Pitt's 37, 26 and 22, but came up empty each time.

The Cats' trouble came on key plays. Midway through the first period, they were stopped on fourth-and-two at the Pitt 21. Arizona managed to get on the board late in the third period on a 38-yard field goal by Brett Weber, but Pitt answered with a touchdown to expand its lead to 13-3.

The Panthers appeared to have wrapped up the game when Schubert kicked his third field goal of the day with 8:02 left. But the Cats reached into their bag of tricks to get back in the game. From the Pitt 47, fullback Hubie Oliver took a pitch and launched a pass down field to Greg Jackson who caught it at the Panther one. Oliver scored on the next play.

The outcome was in doubt until Terry White picked off a Jim Krohn pass with :58 remaining. Arizona's David Liggins was voted the game's most valuable defensive player on the strength of two key interceptions of Dan Marino passes to thwart Panther drives.

1985 Sun Bowl - Arizona 13, Georgia 13

EL PASO, Texas—Arizona and Georgia each failed on late field goal attempts leaving the teams tied, 13-13, and the record Sun Bowl crowd of 52,203 going home with an empty feeling.

The teams battled on even terms for a half with Georgia's Steve Crumley booting a 37-yard field goal and Arizona's Max Zendejas adding a 22-yarder after an apparent Arizona touchdown was nullified by penalty.

The third quarter belonged to coach Larry Smith's troops, who drove 34 yards with the second-half kickoff before Zendejas nailed a 52-yard field goal. The Wildcats expanded the margin to 13-3 with 3:30 left to play in the stanza, as Martin Rudolph picked off a James Jackson pass and bolted 35 yards for a touchdown.

Georgia took the ensuing kickoff and drove to the Arizona 28, where Davis Jacobs kicked a 45-yarder to begin the Bulldog rally. Two plays later, James DeBow fumbled, and Georgia's Tony Flack recovered to set up Lars Tate's game-tying 2-yard run. Jacobs missed a 44-yarder with 1:14 to play. The Cats then used a 25-yard David Adams run to give Zendejas a 39-yard try with :10 remaining. However, his attempt was wide-right and short.

Zendejas and Georgia center Peter Anderson won outstanding player honors. Arizona finished the season at 8-3-1, while Georgia wound up 7-3-2.

1986 Aloha Bowl - Arizona 30, North Carolina 11

HONOLULU, Hawaii—Arizona capitalized on big defensive plays to coast to its first-ever post-season victory, 30-21, over North Carolina. All-America free safety Chuck Cecil was the ring-leader of the Cat defense that forced five fumbles with bone-jarring hits.

The Arizona offense showed spark as well. David Adams closed his sterling career with 81 yards rushing and a touchdown and three catches for 77 yards. Offensive MVP Alfred Jenkins finished 12-of-28 passing for 187 yards and a score.

But it was coach Larry Smith's defense which made the big plays to set up points. A Jim Birmingham fumble recovery led to a 31-yard Gary Coston field goal to begin the attack. Later, Boomer Gibson partially blocked a punt, and the Cats put seven more on the board with an Adams one-yard scamper. Danny Lockett's sack of Mark Maye caused a fumble, and the Cats cashed in with another Coston three-pointer for a 13-0 halftime lead.

It was more of the same in the third quarter. Arizona's Jeff Valder booted a 52-yard field goal to set an Aloha Bowl record. Then Cecil clobbered Jonathan Hall, and Jerry Beasley recovered the subsequent fumble at the Tar Heel 30. Jenkins found Jon Horton from 13 yards out for the quick score. Another Tar Heel fumble led to Greathouse's five-yard scoring run, and the Cats were in control.

1989 Copper Bowl - Arizona 17, North Carolina State 10

TUCSON, Ariz.—Arizona cashed in on big plays to defeat North Carolina State, 17-10, before an Arizona Stadium crowd of 37,237 in the inaugural Copper Bowl. The Wildcats were dominated statistically, 310 yards to 130 yards including a season-low 50 yards on the turf. However, two unlikely heroes, Olatide Ogunfidiimi and Scott Geyer, made the big plays to pull out the victory.

In the first stanza, neither team could sustain drives, but the Cats got on the board first as Ronald Veal found a double-covered Ogunfidiimi 37 yards down field for a 7-0 advantage. The second quarter proved more magical as Geyer, the Defensive MVP, intercepted Shane Montgomery and raced 85 yards for a score.

But the Wolfpack had a magic wand of their own as Montgomery, the Offensive MVP, capped a 56-yard, nine-play drive with a four-yard touchdown toss to fullback Todd Varn to cut the lead, 14-7. The half ended with a Gary Coston 34-yard field goal. Score: 17-7.

The second half included a Damon Hartman 43-yarder to inch the Pack closer, 17-10. However the New Year brought a little luck to the Cats, as Montgomery just missed a diving Chris Williams over the middle for the possible tying touchdown with 1:02 left.

Arizona Dick Tomey notched a victory in his first-ever bowl game in 13 years as a head coach. The Wildcats finished 8-4 on the season, and the Wolfpack closed at 7-5.

1990 Eagle Aloha Bowl - Syracuse 28, Arizona 0

HONOLULU, Hawaii—Marvin Graves ran for two touchdowns and passed for another score as Syracuse embarrassed Arizona, 28-0, in the ninth Eagle Aloha Bowl game in rain-drenched Aloha Stadium.

Graves scored on a pair of 5-yard runs and threw 47 yards to Terry Richardson and 6 yards to Chris Gedney as the Orangemen ran their record to 7-4-2. Arizona fell to 7-5. The shutout snapped Arizona's 214-game scoring streak, the second longest scoring streak in NCAA history. The last time the Cats were shut out was a 31-0 defeat by Arizona State in 1971.

The Orangemen drove 65 yards in 13 plays following the opening kickoff with Graves scoring on a quarterback draw from the five with 8:35 left in the first quarter.

Syracuse made it 14-0 with 2:22 remaining in the half as Richardson slipped behind the Cat pass defense for an easy 47-yard reception. Arizona tried to get back into the game in the third quarter, twice reaching the Orangemen 35-yard line. But both drives died, and Syracuse put the game away in the fourth quarter with two long marches.

Graves was selected as Syracuse's most valuable player, and cornerback Todd Burden, who had two interceptions and caused a fumble, was selected as Arizona's most valuable player. The week-long inclement weather put a damper on many activities and caused many ticket purchasers to stay at home. There were 32,217 tickets sold but only 14,185 attended the game.

1992 Hancock Bowl - Baylor 20, Arizona 15

EL PASO, Texas—Arizona's defense lived up to its billing on all but two plays; those spelled doom as Baylor's big scoring passes helped beat the Cats, 20-15, in the John Hancock Bowl.

UA, which unleashed a no-huddle, wide-open passing attack, opened scoring with a Steve McLaughlin first-quarter field goal and increased the lead to 10-0 with a 65-yard scoring drive capped by a George Malaulu quarterback draw for seven yards mid-way through the second quarter.

BU halfback Brandell Jackson hit Melvin Bonner for a 61-yard strike three minutes later, but Arizona answered with a 14-play drive to set up another McLaughlin field goal and take a 13-7 halftime lead.

The Bears, held to 47 yards rushing, went to the air and struck again with another Bonner TD catch for 69 yards from QB J.J. Joe. Shortly into the fourth period, the Bears capitalized on two Arizona fumbles in UA territory and cashed them in for two Terry Weir field goals and a 20-13 lead.

With time running out, Arizona held BU deep on fourth-and-eight, and punter Rhett Delaney took an intentional safety at 0:31. A Chuck Levy 27-yard kickoff return put the

ARIZONA BOWL HISTORY

Cats in decent shape, and UA drove to the Baylor 28. Two passes from Malauulu into the end zone were incomplete although Heath Bray nearly snagged the game winner on the first try.

1994 IBM OS/2 Fiesta Bowl - Arizona 29, Miami 0

TEMPE, Ariz.—Arizona's heralded "Desert Swarm" defense lived up to its name, and the Cats' offensive attack nearly named its own price as UA thumped No. 10 Miami, 29-0, in IBM OS/2 Fiesta Bowl XXIII.

The convincing victory was the bowl's only shutout in its 23-game history.

UA ran for 257 yards and one touchdown, passed for 152 yards and two touchdowns, had three Steve McLaughlin field goals and held Miami to 182 yards in total offense. The Wildcats' swarming defense limited the Canes to Fiesta Bowl record-lows of 22 rushes and 35 yards, plus picked off three Miami passes and sacked the quarterback four times.

Tailback Chuck Levy ran for 142 yards including a 68-yard scoring dash and earned Fiesta Bowl offensive MVP honors, while defensive end Tedy Bruschi recorded a sack and earned defensive MVP honors for UA.

UA jumped to a quick lead on its first possession, driving 75 yards with Dan White throwing a 13-yard TD pass to Troy Dickey. Arizona never looked back.

The Canes' total offense was the second-lowest in Fiesta Bowl history, and the Arizona margin of victory was the second-largest in bowl history. Arizona enjoyed a time of possession advantage of 37:20 to 22:40 for Miami, another bowl record. Miami's frustration was typified by its first possession, starting at its own 37-yard line. Three plays later the Canes punted on fourth-and-41 from their own 6-yard line.

The game gave UA its first 10-victory season in 90 years of football, and its strong showing earned the Cats a No. 9 final ranking in the coaches poll and No. 10 in the media poll.

1994 Freedom Bowl - Utah 16, Arizona 13

ANAHEIM, Calif.—Utah used a 72-yard kickoff return to set up the winning touchdown, as the Utes upset No. 14 Arizona in the 11th annual Freedom Bowl, 16-13. A crowd of 27,477 watched as the Cats used a stifling defense to hold Utah to only 75 yards of total offense.

Arizona quarterback Dan White connected with Ontiwaun Carter from 23 yards out to give the Cats the early lead. After a White fumble deep in Arizona territory, Utah running back Charlie Brown scampered in from six yards out to tie the score.

After a 44-yard field goal by Steve McLaughlin, the Cats had first-and-goal at the Utah 2-yard line, but two dropped passes by Tim Thomas and then Lamar Lovett in the end zone forced the Cats to kick a 20-yard field goal. Late in the fourth quarter with Arizona leading 13-7, and Matt Peyton having to punt from his own end zone, the Cats gambled and took a safety as Peyton stepped out of the back of the end zone.

On the ensuing kickoff, Cal Beck returned the ball to the Arizona 5-yard line. The Wildcat defense held the Utes on three straight downs to set up a fourth-and-goal. Quarterback Mike McCoy scrambled out of the pocket and was in the grasp of Chuck Osborne but managed to get the pass off and found Kevin Dyson in the corner of the end zone for the winning score. A final UA drive ended in an interception.

The Cats recorded six sacks on the day, three of them by Tedy Bruschi, who earned Defensive MVP honors. Chuck Osborne had two sacks, and Sean Harris led the team with nine tackles.

1997 Insight.com Bowl - Arizona 20, New Mexico 14

TUCSON, Ariz.—Four Wildcat interceptions helped seal a hard-fought victory for Arizona over New Mexico in the ninth Insight.com Bowl, 20-14, before a crowd of 49,385 in the Cats' house, Arizona Stadium.

UA ran over the Lobos, using a 209-yard running attack featuring the quicker Trung Canidate and the bruising style of Kelvin Eafon on 43 of the team's 81 plays. Canidate was named the game's Most Outstanding Offensive Player with 97 yards and a touchdown on 24 carries, while Eafon earned the game's Most Valuable Player award for his 75 yards and two touchdowns on 19 totes. Thirteen of his rushes came in the fourth quarter when Arizona used ball possession to turn back New Mexico efforts at a game-winning touchdown.

Arizona picked off four passes by UNM's Graham Leigh—one in the first quarter by cornerback Chris McAlister, two in the third quarter by backup corner Kelvin Hunter and strong safety Rashee Johnson, and one in the fourth stanza by cornerback Kelly Malveaux, who returned the ball 44 yards just as the Lobos were crossing midfield. It was Malveaux's first interception of the year. Arizona outside linebacker Jimmy Sprotte earned the bowl's Most Outstanding Defensive Player honor with nine tackles including four hits for losses of 12 yards. Inside linebacker Marcus Bell was the Cats' leading tackler with 10.

Arizona coach Dick Tomey gave fifth-year senior QB Brady Batten the start in the game. An injury early in the year cost him a shot at the every-day spot. He played all but the fourth quarter, when the nominal No. 1 guy for most of the year, Ortege Jenkins, came on.

1998 Culligan Holiday Bowl - Arizona 23, Nebraska 20

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Arizona's defense held the storied Nebraska option rushing attack to 87 net yards, and the No. 5-ranked Wildcats cranked up some tough-guy rushing of their own to score 14 fourth-quarter points and beat the No. 14 Cornhuskers, 23-20, in the 21st annual Culligan Holiday Bowl.

The Cats secured the school's finest record in history and earned enough acclaim through their efforts in the game — the most watched of any college bowl game in ESPN history — to earn a final No. 4 ranking in both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN polls.

Unanimous All-America cornerback Chris McAlister cemented his reputation with an outstanding effort, intercepting two passes, one which turned the Huskers back on their final come-back try with less than four minutes remaining. He also had a 78-yard reverse punt return called back because of a questionable blocking call against Derek Hall.

Arizona trailed 13-9 at the half, and both teams struggled through five possessions in the third quarter before UA's Dennis Northcutt gave the Cats some decent field position with a 16-yard punt return to start a 10-play scoring drive. Trung Canidate rushed five times for 37 yards in the span, and Keith Smith completed passes of five yards to Northcutt and Paul Shields and topped it off with a 15-yard strike to Brad Brennan for the score.

Nebraska answered, though, and reclaimed the lead at 20-16 with an eight-play, 88-yard drive, almost exclusively through the air.

With 10 minutes remaining, Smith opened UA's next drive with a seven-yard pass to Shields, then the Cats ran the ball eight straight times for the nine-play, 68-yard drive which netted the final score on a Kelvin Eafon one-yard plunge. Smith had runs of 20, eight and eight yards to set up the score.

UA halted the Huskers with McAlister's second pick and then later used enough clock with a first down to force Nebraska to get the ball back with 34 seconds remaining. One short completion and three incompletions, and the game was over.

Canidate ran for 101 yards on 22 carries. Smith, who completed 11-of-19 passing for 143 yards and ran for 25 more, was named Holiday Bowl Offensive MVP. UA's Mark McDonald, who was 8-17 in field goals during the regular season, was a big key with a perfect 3-for-3 day, including a career-long 48-yarder. NU outgained the Cats, but UA won the turnover battle and kicking game.

2008 Pioneer Las Vegas Bowl - Arizona 31, BYU 21

LAS VEGAS-- Arizona capped its best season in nine years with a solid effort against No. 17 Brigham Young, beating the Cougars 31-21 in the Pioneer Las Vegas Bowl on Dec. 20.

The Cats took the first lead, set up by a 71-yard pass from Willie Tuitama to Terrell Turner, added a Jason Bondzio 31-yard field goal a third of the way into the second quarter, and then struggled some in the rest of the first half. Tuitama fumbled a low snap on the first play of the second half and BYU took a 14-10 lead four minutes into the frame with the gift 27-yard drive.

After that, Arizona stalled once, missing a 3rd-and-1 opportunity, but turned right around for a defensive three-and-out against the Cougs and Mike Thomas' 11-yard punt return took the ball into BYU territory. Two plays later, Tuitama's 37-yard pass to Delashaun Dean struck home and the Cats were back in the lead.

The Cougs fought back with a 12-play, 39-yard drive, but missed a long field goal attempt. Tuitama hit successive passes of 19 and 17 yards, and after a five-yard gain by Nic Grigsby fired one down the seam to a streaking Chris Gronkowski for a 27-yard score, making it 24-14 at the end of the period.

Five minutes into the final period, Wildcat cornerback Marquis Hundley manned up and intercepted BYU's Max Hall in the end zone, taking it out to the UA 18 yard-line. Tuitama led a seven-play, 82-yard drive, sparked by a 27-yard run by Grigsby and a 23-yard pass to Turner, and then ran it in himself from six yards out for a 31-14 lead. Again the Cougars showed some of their 17th-ranked gumption, using eight Hall passes and two of his runs to get into the endzone quickly, and recovered an ensuing onside kick at the UA 48 yard-line.

Hall drove BYU 28 yards, but Mitch Payne's field goal attempt banged off the left upright with 2:07 left. The Cats ran the ball four times and then Tuitama scootched a three-yard pass to Mike Thomas on the final play of the game, giving the latter the Pac-10 career receiving record with his 259th reception as time expired.

On the field it was clear Arizona was the better team that night. The Cats held BYU to its second-lowest point total of the year, limited the nation's No. 7 passing offense to one touchdown throw, held the Cougs to two touchdowns under their scoring average and kept all-everything receiver Austin Collie (11-119) out of the end zone. Dean led UA with seven catches for 88 yards to help Tuitama complete 24 of 35 throws for 325 yards and the game's MVP award. Grigsby chipped in 87 tough rushing yards and a score. Linebacker Xavier Kelley led UA with 15 tackles, a career high at the right time.

2009 Pacific Life Holiday Bowl - Nebraska 33, Arizona 0

SAN DIEGO—No. 20 Nebraska showed it was more than two ranking spots ahead of No. 22 Arizona by throttling the Wildcats, 33-0, in the Holiday Bowl.

After developing a reputation for high-scoring games and crazy finishes, the bowl got the first shutout in its 32-year history. Zac Lee threw a 74-yard touchdown pass to Niles Paul in the third quarter to highlight the win, but it was only one moment in a dominating effort.

The coaches expected a defensive game, and the Huskers delivered, earning their first shutout in 46 bowl appearances, plus held UA to 109 net yards. Arizona quarterback Nick Foles was harassed all night and had one of his toughest outings of the year, finishing with nine completions in 30 attempts, for a minuscule 48 yards.

The Wildcats had the ball fourth-and-3 at the Nebraska 8-yard line with 1:41 to go, and eschewed a field goal, with safety P.J. Smith batting down Foles' pass to preserve the shutout. Nebraska free safety Matt O'Hanlon intercepted Foles on the third play from scrimmage and returned it 37 yards to the Arizona 5. Lee scored on a 4-yard run two plays later. It was the fastest score in Holiday Bowl history, coming just 75 seconds in.

Nebraska (10-4) got its first 10-win season since 2003. Nebraska's Alex Henery set a Holiday Bowl record with four field goals, from 47, 50, 41 and 22 yards. Arizona finished 8-5. NU coach Bo Pelini earned bragging rights in Youngstown, Ohio, where he and UA coach Mike Stoops grew up and played at Cardinal Mooney High.

Game 1: Arizona 41, Toledo 2

Sept. 3, 2010 | Toledo, Ohio (Glass Bowl) | Attendance: 25,907

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) -Nick Foles threw for 360 yards and accounted for three touchdowns to help Arizona pound Toledo 41-2 on Friday night.

Foles tossed two TD passes and ran for another score as the Wildcats recorded their first road victory outside the Pac-10 in nine seasons. Nic Grigsby added two touchdown runs.

Foles completed 32 of 37 passes with an interception that occurred when a ball went off the hands of running back Taimi Tutogi and bounced to Toledo defensive back Diauntae Morrow.

He showed a nice touch on his first touchdown throw, lofting a 9-yard pass over a defender and into the hands of tight end David Douglas, who got one foot down in the back of end zone with 8:40 left in the first quarter.

Foles completed five passes for 58 yards on the opening drive, but the Wildcats didn't do much after that until late in the first half.

Grigsby, who struggled with a shoulder injury last season, scored on a nifty 36-yard run, cutting across the middle and outracing two Rockets to corner of the end zone, capping a nine-play, 91-yard drive and giving Arizona a 14-2 lead.

One play later, Derek Earls picked off Austin Dantin's pass over the middle to get the ball back for the Wildcats. Foles scored on a 1-yard run with just 17 seconds left in the half, making it 21-2.

Arizona's speedy bunch of receivers seemed to be open on nearly play. Juron Criner led the way, finishing with 11 catches for 187 yards and a touchdown.

Arizona's young defense, with seven new starters, including all three linebackers, did a nice job limiting the Rockets to 80 yards rushing, including just 16 yards in the first half.

It was quite an improvement for a defense that coach Mike Stoops said looked terrible in a team scrimmage two weeks ago.

Toledo had the top offense in the Mid-American Conference a year ago, but it did little right against the Wildcats. Dantin was 14-of-23 passing for 103 yards.

Toledo's only score of the night came when Arizona lineman Conan Amituanai was called for holding in the end zone, giving the Rockets the safety.

Arizona hadn't ventured this far for opener since going to Penn State in 1999. It also was the first time a Pac-10 team has played at a Mid-American Conference stadium.

Game 2: Arizona 52, The Citadel 6

Sept. 11, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 54,814

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)-Nic Grigsby rushed for three touchdowns, including a career-long 62-yard scoring run, and ARIZONA routed The Citadel 52-6 in the Wildcats' home opener on Saturday night.

Nick Foles completed 17 of 22 for passes for 214 yards and one touchdown before calling it a night early in the third quarter as the Wildcats (2-0) rolled for 489 yards in a tuneup for next Saturday's home game against No. 9 Iowa.

Grigsby rushed for 107 yards in 11 carries and boosted his career rushing touchdown total to 25, tied for third-most in ARIZONA history.

The Citadel (1-1), a member of the Football Championship Subdivision (formerly NCAA Division I-AA) Southern Conference, played a Pac-10 team for the first time.

Matt Thompson, freshman quarterback in the Bulldogs' triple-option offense, fumbled the ball twice to set up ARIZONA touchdowns late in the first half and early in the second.

ARIZONA third-stringer Greg Nwoko gained 72 yards in seven carries, including touchdown runs of 23 and 3 yards.

The Wildcats, who opened their season with a 41-2 win at Toledo, have outscored their first two opponents 93-5. Sam Keeler's 39-yard field goal with 6:55 left in the third quarter for The Citadel provided the first offensive points against ARIZONA this season. Keeler also had a 23-yarder.

After a slow start, ARIZONA scored on consecutive possessions at the end of the first quarter and start of the second.

Foles' 44-yard pass to Juron Criner highlighted a six-play, 60-yard drive that put the Wildcats up 7-0 on Grigsby's 3-yard scoring run. Criner caught Foles' long pass, bounced off a would-be tackler, then broke downfield to the Bulldogs' 3.

ARIZONA went 84-yards on 12 plays the next time it had the ball. Foles threw to Bug Wright in the back of the end zone for the touchdown to make it 14-0 with 12:58 left to go in the half. Foles completed 5 of 6 passes on the drive for 69 yards.

Alex Zendejas' 41-yard field goal with 2:25 left in the half made it 17-0. The first play after the subsequent kickoff, Thompson fumbled and Paul Vassallo recovered for ARIZONA at The Citadel 22. Foles threw over the middle to Wright to the 1-yard line, and Grigsby took it in from there to put the Wildcats up 24-0 25 seconds before the half.

ARIZONA scored two touchdowns in a 27-second span the first two minutes of the second half.

Grigsby's 62-yard run one play after the second-half kickoff made it 31-0. Although the senior tailback has a 94-yard run in his career, the 62-yarder was his longest for a touchdown.

The first play after the subsequent kickoff, Thompson's bad pitch was recovered by Derek Earls for ARIZONA at the Bulldogs' 23. Nwoko went 23 yards for the score on the next play to put ARIZONA ahead 38-0 with 12:23 still left in the third quarter.

Game 3: No. 24 Arizona 34, No. 9 Iowa 27

Sept. 18, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 57,864

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Nick Foles hit William Wright with a late 4-yard touchdown pass and No. 24 Arizona held its ground in the national spotlight with a momentum-swinging 34-27 win over ninth-ranked Iowa Saturday night.

Arizona (3-0) jumped out to a 20-point halftime lead behind a slew of big plays that included a blocked punt, Travis Cobb's 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown and an interception returned 85 yards by Trevin Wade for another score.

The Wildcats moved 72 yards in nine plays in the second half for the winning score, then sealed what they hope is a program-defining win with four straight sacks of Stanzi.

Foles threw for 303 yards and two touchdowns on 28-of-39 passing.

Iowa rolled over its first two not-so-challenging opponents by a combined score of 72-14. The road trip to the desert represented a little tougher challenge: a long-distance road game (over 1,500 miles) with a late start (9:30 Iowa City time) in hot-air-dryer heat (close to 100 at kickoff).

On top of that, the Hawkeyes were facing a talented Arizona team looking to prove itself against a big-school program in one of the biggest nonconference games in the 81-year history of Arizona Stadium.

The Wildcats were certainly up for it, producing one big play after another in a stadium-rocking first half.

Arizona held Iowa to a quick three-and-out on its first drive, then David Roberts broke through to block Ryan Donahue's punt, which Marquis Flowers recovered at the Hawkeyes 8. Three plays later, Foles hit David Douglas on a 5-yard slant for a touchdown that had the rowdies in red jumping and pumping their white pompoms.

Iowa was marching on its second drive, but receiver Marvin McNutt Jr. had the ball slip through his hands and it fell right to Wade, who had a clear shot to the end zone for an 85-yard score.

Barely five minutes into the game, Iowa was in a 14-0 hole.

The Hawkeyes kept plugging away on offense, moving 93 yards for a 4-yard touchdown pass from Stanzi to Jewel Hampton, the first touchdown against Arizona this season.

Then, boom! another big play: Cobb burst through a seam like one of the pregame fireworks on the ensuing kickoff and was gone, 100 yards for a touchdown that put Arizona up 21-7.

Tacking on two field goals by Alex Zendejas, including a career-long-matching 47-yarder, Arizona had a seemingly comfortable 27-7 halftime lead.

Seemingly.

Turning up the defensive pressure, Iowa stymied Arizona's offense in the third quarter - 58 total yards - and pulled within 13 points on a 37-yard touchdown pass from Stanzi to Derrell Johnson-Koulianos.

Iowa came up with a big play of its own on special teams, recovering a muffed punt by Bug Wright at the Wildcats 18. Stanzi hit McNutt on a backpedaling touchdown pass at the edge of the end zone on the next play, making it 27-21.

Binns followed with his at-the-line grab and return for a score, only to watch in amazement from the sideline as the PAT wobbled away from the uprights. Then it was Foles' turn.

Getting the ball out quickly to avoid Iowa's strengthening rush, the junior completed 4 of 5 passes on the final drive, hitting Wright for the decisive score with 3:57 left. Foles finished with 303 yards and two touchdowns on 28-of-39 passing, solidifying his - and his team's - place among the country's best up-and-comers.

Game 4: Arizona 10, California 9

Sept. 25, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 50,906

TUCSON, Ariz. - Just when No. 14 Arizona seemed headed for a crushing loss, Nick Foles and Juron Criner finally brought the Wildcats' offense to life.

Foles threw a 3-yard pass over the middle to Criner with 1:11 to play for the game's only touchdown and Arizona escaped with a 10-9 victory over California in their Pac-10 opener on Saturday night.

Just when No. 14 Arizona seemed headed for a crushing loss, Nick Foles and Juron Criner finally brought the Wildcats' offense to life.

Foles threw a 3-yard pass over the middle to Criner with 1:11 to play for the game's only touchdown and Arizona escaped with a 10-9 victory over California in their Pac-10 opener on Saturday night.

The score was set up by Foles' 51-yard pass to Criner, questionable for the game because of a turf toe injury. The 6-foot-4 Criner fought off California's Darian Hagan, who had played smothering pass defense all night, on the big play.

The winning seven-play, 77-yard drive came after California's Giorgio Tavecchio missed a 40-yard field goal try with 2:37 to play. Arizona is 4-0 for the first time since 1998.

A loss would have been devastating for the Wildcats a week after their draining 34-27 home win over then-No. 9 Iowa. Arizona is the only Pac-10 team never to make it to the Rose Bowl.

Arizona has next weekend off.

The Wildcats clinched the victory when Kevin Riley's pass bounced off the hands of Marvin Jones and was intercepted by Joseph Perkins. Perkins fumbled but Robert Golden recovered for Arizona.

It appeared that Tavecchio's field goals of 25, 40 and 23 yards would be enough for the Bears (2-2), who had shut down Arizona's prolific offense a week after giving up 497 yards and being routed 52-31 at Nevada.

The Wildcats helped out with 10 penalties for 99 yards. Foles completed 25 of 39 passes for 212 yards but had two critical first-half turnovers.

His fumble on a sack by Cal's Cameron Jordan on the final play of the first quarter led to the Bears' first field goal. Then, in the final seconds of the half, he was intercepted in the end zone after Arizona had driven to the Cal 13.

Shane Vereen, who had a game-clinching touchdown run in Cal's victory over Arizona a year ago, rushed for 102 yards in 27 carries. He was the workhorse as the Bears drove downfield in the final minutes but Tavecchio's 40-yard field goal try was wide right.

That gave Arizona its last chance.

Tavecchio also had a 40-yard try bounce off the right upright in the third quarter.

Riley was 13 of 26 for 113 yards. The only Cal turnover came on the game-clinching play.

A personal foul penalty called on the Arizona defense, with no individual named by the official, aided California's 11-play, 55-yard drive that ended in Tavecchio's 40-yarder that gave the Bears a 6-0 lead with 5:23 left in the half.

Arizona drove the length of the field after Cal's subsequent kickoff, with a pass interference call against Hagan on a long throw for Criner moving the ball to the California 13 with 45 seconds left on the half.

On the next play, Foles lofted a pass intended for his roommate David Douglas in the right corner of the end zone. California's Marc Anthony deflected the pass and Conte grabbed it, getting a foot down just inbound for the interception.

Arizona finally scored on Alex Zendejas' 46-yard field goal with 10:16 left in the third quarter. The score was set up by Foles' 51-yard pass to Criner, questionable for the game because of a turf toe injury. The 6-foot-4 Criner fought off California's Darian Hagan, who had played smothering pass defense all night, on the big play.

The winning seven-play, 77-yard drive came after California's Giorgio Tavecchio missed a 40-yard field goal try with 2:37 to play. Arizona is 4-0 for the first time since 1998.

Game 5: Oregon State 29, Arizona 27

Oct. 9, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 56,054

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - The Wildcats' Nick Foles completed 35 of 46 for 440 yards and three touchdowns, but Oregon State held on to upset No. 9 Arizona 29-27 on Saturday night.

Add Ryan Katz to the list of impressive Pac-10 quarterbacks.

Oregon State coaches kept things somewhat conservative early in his first season as a starter, then unleashed his strong, accurate arm, along with his elusive scrambling against No. 9 Arizona.

The sophomore from Santa Monica, Calif., threw for 393 yards and two touchdowns, sneaked across for another score and the Beavers held on for a 29-27 upset.

Katz completed 30 of 42 against an Arizona defense that had been ranked No. 2 nationally, giving up 230.8 yards per game. "I just see a lot more confidence in him," Oregon State's Joe Halahuni said. "He's more of a leader off the field and in the huddle. He's doing great running the ball, throwing it and making good decisions."

Three times Katz eluded the pass rush and scrambled for a first down on third-down situations.

The Wildcats (4-1, 1-1 Pac-10), in the top 10 for the first time since the 1999 preseason rankings and coming off a bye week, never led. The loss dampened their hopes for the school's first trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Wildcats' Nick Foles completed 35 of 46 for 440 yards and three touchdowns. "When you look at the entire game, we just weren't all there," Arizona coach Mike Stoops said. "I think we did compete well in the secondary but this was the most yards we've given up in a long time. Oregon State really beat us in a lot of ways. They wanted to throw the ball and they threw it at will, which is very hard to come back from."

Oregon State (3-2, 2-0) lost standout receiver James Rodgers to what could be a season-ending knee injury in the second quarter. He was in street clothes on crutches in the second half after seven catches for 102 yards, including a 33-yarder for the Beavers' first score. Riley said the injury was "not good" and he would know more on Sunday.

Foles' 12-yard touchdown pass to Keola Antolin cut the lead to 29-27 with 1:52 to play but Oregon State recovered the subsequent onside kick attempt. Arizona got the ball on its own 20 with 2 seconds left and tried to use a short pass and a series of laterals to score. But Antolin was stopped at midfield to finish Oregon State's fifth consecutive victory in Tucson.

The teams combined for 1,027 yards in a game that featured five touchdown plays of 33 yards or longer.

Rodgers' younger brother, Jacquizz, rushed for 92 yards in 25 carries and caught three passes for 41 yards. His 1-yard touchdown run with 5:46 to play put the Beavers up 29-20.

James Rodgers made a fingertip catch of Katz's deep pass for what would have been a 56-yard touchdown with 5:07 left in the half. But he was hit by Arizona's Adam Hall as he crossed into the end zone, then went down in pain. He was helped off the field with no weight on his left knee. The score was called back by an ineligible receiver downfield penalty.

Foles connected on touchdown passes of 45, 33 and 12 yards but Katz matched him all the way. The Oregon State coaching staff had held Katz down as he opened his first season as a starter but have unleashed him in the first two Pac-10 games. He threw for 260 yards in the Beavers' 31-28 victory over Arizona State a week ago.

The Wildcats took the second-half kickoff and went 66 yards in just two minutes before Antolin scored on a 33-yard run. The point after attempt was blocked and it was 17-13.

OSU responded with an 11-play, 65-yard scoring drive that finished with Katz sneaking over from the 1. But Justin Kahut's extra point try was no good, giving the Beavers a 23-13 lead. He also missed the kick after the last OSU touchdown.

Nic Grigsby took a swing pass from Foles and weaved through traffic 41 yards for a touchdown that cut the Beavers' lead to 23-20 with 3:20 left in the third quarter. The Beavers responded with a 10-play, 80-yard drive, culminating with Jacquizz Rodgers' touchdown run.

Game 6: Arizona 24, Washington State 7

Oct. 16, 2010 | Pullman, Wash. (Martin Stadium) | Attendance: 23,955

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)--With quarterback Nick Foles knocked out of the game with a knee injury, No. 17 Arizona turned to running backs Keola Antolin and Nic Grigsby for offense.

Antolin ran for 92 yards and two touchdowns, and Grigsby added 66 yards and another score as the Wildcats beat Washington State 24-7 Saturday to remain in contention for the Pac-10 title.

Foles, the league's leading passer, will be out at least two weeks with a sprained knee, coach Mike Stoops said. Backup Matt Scott played nearly three quarters against the Cougars.

"You always have two quarterbacks ready," Stoops said. "Matt was OK, a little rusty."

Arizona (5-1, 2-1 Pac-10) ran 47 times for 142 yards, far above the averages for the league's top passing team.

"We wanted to come out and establish the run game, and that's what we did," said Antolin, who had his best outing of the season.

Despite the win, Stoops was unhappy with inconsistent offensive play that allowed Washington State (1-6, 0-4) to remain within striking distance much of the game.

"We have to play better than we did tonight," Stoops said.

Arizona managed only 352 yards of offense and 24 points against a defense that was giving up more than 500 yards and 42 per game. The Cougars recorded six sacks.

On the flip side, Washington State had just 297 offensive yards and failed to reach double digits in scoring for the first time this season.

"Missed opportunities and points left on the field," offensive lineman B.J. Guerra said.

"We've got to put it together," defensive end Travis Long added.

Foles was injured with 14:07 left in the second quarter when Long was tripped and rolled into his right leg, knocking him to the ground after a completed pass. Foles limped off the field, supported between two Arizona officials.

Scott completed 14 of 20 passes for 139 yards, but was intercepted once and sacked five times.

Washington State has lost 12 straight Pac-10 games dating to 2008, and has beaten only Montana State this season. But its passing attack continued to improve, with quarterback Jeff Tuel completing 18 of 32 passes for 257 yards, despite being sacked seven times. Freshman Marquess Wilson caught six passes for 131 yards.

Antolin scored on a 9-yard run late in the first for a 7-0 Arizona lead.

Foles had started the first eight plays of their second scoring drive when he was injured. Scott directed the team over the final 37 yards, with Antolin running up the middle from the 1-yard line for a 14-0 lead.

Arizona threatened in the closing minutes of the first half, moving 71 yards to the 19, but Scott was intercepted by Casey Locker in the final seconds to kill the drive.

Arizona's 14-0 lead was the first time this season that Washington State was shut out in the first half.

The Wildcats got a break early in the third when Washington State punter Reid Forrest fumbled the snap deep in his own territory. Khyri Knowles dove on the ball at the 7 and, on the first play, Grigsby ran in for a 21-0 lead.

Washington State got on the scoreboard when Tuel hit Wilson with a 23-yard touchdown strike late in the third.

But the Cougars blew a chance to tighten the game after they stopped Antolin on fourth-and-1 on the first play of the fourth quarter. Running back James Montgomery took a handoff and then threw a backward pass that was deflected by Arizona's Brooks Reed and recovered by D'Aundre Reed. Alex Zendejas eventually kicked a 40-yard field goal for a 24-7 lead.

Tuel connected with Wilson for an 83-yard gain midway through the fourth, giving the Cougars the ball on Arizona's 12 and Wilson the fourth 100-yard game of his rookie season. But Tuel was intercepted in the end zone to kill the threat.

The game was also costly for Washington State. The Cougars lost offensive lineman David Gonzales to a broken left arm and cornerback Damante Horton to a sprained knee.

Game 7: Arizona 44, Washington 14

Oct. 23, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 56,244

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Nic Grigsby and Keola Antolin ran for two touchdowns apiece, Matt Scott had no trouble replacing Nick Foles and No. 15 Arizona easily handled up-and-down Washington 44-14 Saturday night.

Arizona (6-1, 3-1 Pac-10) overcame occasionally poor tackling with a balanced offense and by harassing Jake Locker into an ineffective game.

Scott held his own after Foles went down with a knee injury last week against Washington State and looked like he was the starter all along against the other Evergreen State school. He threw for 233 yards and two touchdowns, including a fumble-the-snap, 21-yard heave to Juron Criner in the fourth quarter, and added 65 yards on seven carries.

Washington (3-4, 2-2) continued its season-long, win-one, lose-one pattern, following last week's thrilling double-overtime victory over then-No. 24 Oregon State with a defensive clunker.

Locker finished 17 of 29 for 183 yards with a touchdown and lost 24 yards on six carries before being replaced by Keith Price early in the fourth quarter.

Antolin finished with 114 yards on 14 carries and Criner caught eight passes for 108 yards to give Arizona its best start since opening the 1998 season 6-1.

The Wildcats had hoped to be on better footing than last year's game at Washington.

Arizona lost what's now known as the "Shoe" game in Seattle when Mason Foster returned an interception 37 yards for the go-ahead touchdown after the ball caromed off the size 14 1/2 cleat of Arizona's Delashaun Dean. The Wildcats disputed the call - Dean said it hit the ground - but were kicking themselves more for being in position to cough up a 12-point lead in the final four minutes.

Arizona made sure it didn't get tripped up by a close call this time by steamrolling Washington's noodle-strainer defense - 199 points the past five games - for 467 total yards.

The only question mark came early; Taimi Tutogi fumbled on Arizona's opening drive and Locker marched the Huskies for a quick score, rolling left and throwing across his body for a drop-it-in-there 26-yard touchdown to Jermaine Kearse in the corner of the endzone.

After that, all Arizona almost all the time.

Led by Scott, the Wildcats carved up Washington's 98th-ranked defense, piling up 356 total yards on their way to a 30-14 halftime lead.

Scott looked a lot like Locker on Arizona's first score, rolling left and throwing across his body for a 17-yard touchdown to David Roberts. He then led the Wildcats to a 29-yard field goal by Alex Zendejas and set up Antolin's first TD, a 1-yard dive left, with a 32-yard rumble on an option.

Locker tried to rally the Huskies by setting up Chris Polk's 7-yard touchdown run, but the defense parted on the next play, allowing Antolin to burst up the middle for a 78-yard touchdown.

The Wildcats still weren't done.

Grigsby capped the first half with a 4-yard touchdown run and opened the second with another after Ricky Elmore stripped Locker and the Wildcats recovered.

Scott added a put-it-out-of-reach scoring pass early in the fourth quarter, dropping the snap out of the shotgun and firing a TD strike to Criner just before being laid out on a roughing the passer call.

The starter over Foles the first three games of 2009, Scott finished an efficient 18 of 22 and gave Arizona a confidence boost if Foles isn't ready to play next week at UCLA.

Game 8: Arizona 29, UCLA 21

Oct. 30, 2010 | Pasadena, Calif. (Rose Bowl) | Attendance: 53,408

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Backup Matt Scott had another big game, passing for a career-high 319 yards, and No. 15 Arizona held off UCLA 29-21 on Saturday to remain in contention for its first Pac-10 championship.

Scott was 24 of 36 with one interception and one touchdown. The junior also carried 12 times for 71 yards.

Scott threw for 233 yards and ran for another 65 in a 44-14 victory over Washington last weekend filling in for Nick Foles, who sprained his right knee two weeks ago. Foles might be healthy enough to return next Saturday when the Wildcats play at No. 13 Stanford.

Keola Antolin rushed for 111 yards on 23 carries for the Wildcats (7-1, 4-1 Pac-10), off to their best start since winning seven of their first eight games en route to a 12-1 finish in 1998.

Richard Brehaut passed for a career-best 228 yards and two touchdowns for the Bruins (3-5, 1-4), who lost their third straight game but performed much better than in their last two, when they were outscored 95-20 at California and Oregon.

UCLA entered ranked 117th among the 120 FBS schools in yards passing with an average of just 104.6 per game.

The Wildcats rolled up a season-high 583 yards and 32 first downs and held the Bruins to 299 yards and 15 first downs, but didn't put the game away until the final minute.

UCLA played without starting quarterback Kevin Prince, who underwent season-ending knee surgery Oct. 23, and standout linebacker Patrick Larimore, sidelined with an injured left shoulder. The Bruins were also without wide receiver Ricky Marvray and offensive tackle Sean Sheller, a pair of starters serving one-game suspensions for violating team rules.

Completely outplayed in the first half, UCLA trimmed Arizona's lead to 19-14 on the fourth play of the third quarter on a 68-yard completion from Brehaut to Randall Carroll - the Bruins' longest touchdown pass since 2007.

But the Wildcats responded with an 80-yard drive capped by Greg Nwoko's 1-yard run.

Neither team threatened again until Brehaut's 49-yard pass to Josh Smith on a flea flicker with 14:24 remaining capped an 86-yard drive and moved UCLA within five points. There wasn't a defender within 10 yards of Smith when he made the reception and trotted into the end zone as the Rose Bowl crowd of 53,408 roared its approval.

UCLA reached the Arizona 34 with 9 1/2 minutes to play, but Smith lost 9 yards on a flanker reverse and the Bruins were forced to punt. The Bruins got the ball with 3:14 remaining at their 20 after a punt, but turned the ball over on downs, putting the Wildcats in position for Alex Zendejas' 30-yard field goal with 1:18 left.

The Bruins reached their 46 before Brehaut fumbled while being sacked and Slone Tuihalamaka recovered.

Game 9: Stanford 42, Arizona 17

No.v 6, 2010 | Stanford, Calif. (Stanford Stadium) | Attendance: 43,506

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) - Andrew Luck threw for 293 yards and two touchdowns, leading No. 10 Stanford to a 42-17 victory in its highly anticipated showdown with 13th-ranked Arizona on Saturday night.

Stepfan Taylor added four short touchdown runs for the Cardinal (8-1, 5-1 Pac-10), who won easily in the first meeting with Arizona (7-2, 4-2) when both teams were ranked.

Luck lead the offense, which put up six touchdowns and 516 yards against the stingiest defense in the Pac-10. Chris Owusu was especially dangerous with nine catches for 165 yards and a score, as well as a key 12-yard run. Stanford also allowed no sacks to a team that led the league with 27 coming into the game.

The defense also did a good job against the Wildcats, who didn't get the offense moving until it was far too late despite the return of injured quarterback Nick Foles.

Foles threw for 248 yards, one touchdown and one interception, with his biggest success coming when the Wildcats went to the no-huddle offense with a big deficit in the second half. Keola Antolin ran for 86 yards and another score on a night starting running back Nic Grigsby played sparingly because of a sprained right ankle.

The Cardinal were still smarting over last year's loss at Arizona, when they allowed two big fourth-quarter touchdown runs in a 43-38 shootout. They built a 21-3 halftime lead in the rematch and didn't let up. Stanford scored on its opening drive of the second half on a 5-yard shovel pass from Luck to Tyler Gaffney to make it 28-3.

Stanford then answered Arizona's first touchdown of the game - a 7-yard pass from Foles to Juron Criner - with a 78-yard drive capped by Taylor's third TD run to make it 35-10 and give the Cardinal their ninth straight 30-point game. Taylor added his fourth TD with 3:23 to go to make it 42-17.

Stanford got off to a strong start against an Arizona defense that has had plenty of success so far this season but hadn't faced the most dangerous offenses in the conference from Stanford, Oregon and USC.

On the opening drive of the game, Owusu got behind the Wildcats' secondary for a 45-yard touchdown pass from Luck to make it 7-0.

Taylor added a pair of TD runs in the second quarter to build the lead to 21-3 at the break. The first capped an 89-yard drive that featured an 18-yard pass from Luck to Owusu on third-and-15. The second came after Owusu gained 12 yards on a perfectly executed option play by Luck.

The Wildcats blew a couple of good scoring opportunities. They drove to the 20 on their opening drive but Foles was called for intentional grounding at the 34 and Arizona punted. A.J. Simmons dropped a potential first-down catch at the 10, stalling another drive that led to a field goal by Alex Zendejas.

Foles then drove Arizona to the 27 late in the half before he was intercepted by Richard Sherman.

Game 10: USC 24, Arizona 21

Nov. 13, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 54,722

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Marc Tyler barely practiced last week because of an injured ankle, then put on a workhorse performance befitting the great Southern California tailbacks of years gone by.

Tyler, who said his workouts last week were limited to "a little bit on Thursday," ran for 160 yards on 31 carries, both career highs, and Southern California climbed into a tie with Arizona for third in the Pac-10 with a 24-21 victory over the 18th-ranked Wildcats on Saturday night.

The junior, son of former UCLA great Wendell Tyler, has three career 100-yard rushing games, all this season. He said he's finally learned to go "north and south" rather than trying to be fancy. He said sitting out the practices helped him handle so many carries.

Matt Barkley passed for one touchdown and sneaked for another as the Trojans (7-3, 4-3 Pac-10) jumped ahead 14-0 and never relinquished the lead.

The Wildcats' Nick Foles threw for 353 yards and three touchdowns, the last an 11-yarder to David Douglas with 1:01 to play. But USC recovered the subsequent onside kick to preserve the victory. Arizona (7-3, 4-3) lost its second in a row and next plays at No. 1 Oregon. The Wildcats were blown out at Stanford 42-17 last weekend.

USC, which won its sixth straight in Tucson, rushed for 206 yards and had the ball almost 15 minutes longer than the Wildcats did. Foles completed 32 of 48 with no interceptions in his second start after missing two games with a knee injury. Barkley was 21 of 35 for 170 yards with one interception. Neither team punted in the first half as USC took a 21-14 lead.

Barkley and Foles each completed 13 of their first 15 passes, but a fumble by the Arizona quarterback and a missed 34-yard field goal by the Wildcats' Alex Zendejas paved the way for an early 14-0 Trojans lead.

Arizona, which used an Oregon-style, hurry-up offense throughout, went 80 yards in nine plays to cut it to 14-7, Foles throwing five yards to David Douglas for the score.

The Trojans then used up almost nine minutes with a 17-play, 66-yard drive that ended with Tyler's 3-yard touchdown run to put USC ahead 21-7 with 3:43 left in the half.

With the drive stalled at the Arizona 11, the USC field goal team went on the field, but Mitch Mustain took the snap from center and threw to Jordan Cameron for the first down. Tyler scored two plays later on a 3-yard run.

Arizona quickly drove for a touchdown before the half ended. Foles threw 31 yards to Travis Cobb for a touchdown to cap another 80-yard scoring drive and slice the lead to 21-14 with 1:24 left.

The Wildcats forced the game's first punt on the opening possession of the second half. With a couple of big third-down catches by Juron Criner, Arizona drove to the Trojans 19, but Douglas fumbled at the 15 and Shareece Wright recovered for USC.

The Trojans used up another 6 1/2 minutes driving to the Arizona 13, where Joe Houston's 30-yard field goal boosted the lead to 24-14 with 3:35 left in the third.

The Wildcats were in a hole in a hurry.

After Zendejas' miss on Arizona's opening possession, Barkley went 5-for-5 on a 10-play, 80-yard drive that ended with his 1-yard sneak for the score.

Arizona kept the ball for just four plays after the subsequent kickoff when Wright sacked Foles, who fumbled and USC's DaJohn Harris recovered at the Wildcats 22, setting up Barkley's 7-yard TD pass to Rhett Ellison to put the Trojans ahead 14-0 with 1:34 still left in the opening quarter.

Game 11: Oregon 48, Arizona 29

Nov. 26, 2010 | Eugene, Ore. (Autzen Stadium) | Attendance: 59,990

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) -Darron Thomas passed for three touchdowns and ran for another and top-ranked Oregon earned at least a share of a second consecutive Pac-10 title with a 48-29 victory over No. 20 Arizona on Friday night.

LaMichael James shrugged off talk of an injury to run for 126 yards and two scores for the Ducks (11-0, 8-0), who trailed 19-14 at halftime but surged in the second half to stay on course for a trip to the BCS national title game.

The Ducks can lock up an outright conference title and a spot in the national championship game in Glendale, Ariz., next week with a victory at Oregon State.

It was the third straight loss for Arizona (7-4, 4-4), which ultimately couldn't keep up with the Ducks' speedy spread-option.

With temperatures in the mid-40s and periodic rain showers, there were concerns that the Wildcats would have trouble with their passing game, which had been averaging about 300 yards a game.

But Nick Foles passed for a career-high 448 yards and three touchdowns, including an 85-yard score to Juron Criner.

Thomas completed 14 of 24 passes for 148 yards and an interception. Oregon finished with 537 yards total offense, but Arizona kept up with 506 yards.

Oregon was playing catch-up the entire first half and trailed for just the second time this season at the break.

But the Ducks bounced back early in the second half with Josh Huff's 85-yard scoring run, the longest play from scrimmage for the Ducks this season. While the conversion failed, Oregon had a 20-19 lead.

Arizona hurt itself on Oregon's next series, when they were called offside on Rob Beard's missed 42-yard field goal attempt. That gave the Ducks a first down and Thomas followed with a 20-yard touchdown run to make it 27-19.

The Wildcats cut the lead on Alex Zendejas' 41-yard field goal, but James ran for a pair of scores, one for 13 yards and another for a yard, to make it 48-22.

James went down late in the first half after he was hit by Arizona safety Adam Hall. While he was helped off the field, he stayed on the sidelines until the break, then earned rousing applause when he returned from halftime hopping across the field with his helmet on.

The Wildcats struck first, capitalizing on Hall's interception of Thomas, which led to Foles' 8-yard touchdown pass to Criner.

Oregon answered quickly with Thomas' 38-yard scoring pass to David Paulson, a drive that took just 1:35. But the Autzen Stadium crowd was stunned just seconds later when Foles hit Criner with an 85-yard touchdown reception.

Thomas tied it again with a 6-yard pass to Jeff Maehl in the back of the end zone.

Oregon botched a punt snap, sailing it out of the end zone for an Arizona safety, making it 16-14. The Wildcats added a 29-yard field goal to take the lead into halftime. Oregon coach Chip Kelly took a pair of time-outs before the attempt, prompting kicker Alex Zendejas to shake a finger at Oregon's sideline before he made it.

Last season Arizona fans readied to rush the field but Oregon scored with 6 seconds left, sending the game into overtime. The Ducks went on to win it 44-41 in double OT, spoiling Arizona's chance for its first Rose Bowl bid.

Game 12: Arizona State 30, Arizona 29

Dec. 2, 2010 | Tucson, Ariz. (Arizona Stadium) | Attendance: 56,253

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Arizona State blocked extra point attempts at the end of regulation and the second overtime, enhancing its bowl chances with an improbable 30-29 win over rival Arizona on Thursday night.

Arizona State (6-6, 4-5 Pac-10) rallied from an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter and broke through for a blocked extra point with 27 seconds left in regulation to keep the score tied at 20-all.

Cameron Marshall scored on a 2-yard run in the second overtime and David Douglas of Arizona (7-5, 4-5) answered with a 9-yard touchdown run, but James Brooks through to block Alex Zendejas' extra point to send Arizona to its fourth straight defeat.

Thomas Weber kicked five field goals for Arizona State, which now must wait to see if the NCAA clears its bowl waiver after one of the wildest finishes in this heated rivalry. Arizona had BCS hopes after opening the season 7-1. A blowout loss to Stanford ended that goal and two more losses left the Wildcats reeling and on course for a smaller bowl.

The Sun Devils found themselves in a tough spot after a series of just-miss losses and a win over an FCS team that didn't count toward a bowl, needing to beat their rivals and get a waiver from the NCAA to get into a bowl.

Both teams' fate came down to a rivalry game, which can have a funny affect on teams, leading to fluke plays and plenty of emotions.

Last year's game had both.

Arizona State's Kyle Williams made a spectacular tying TD catch, muffed a punt about a minute later and Arizona won the defensive battle 20-17 on Max Zendejas' 32-yard field goal. The teams celebrated their dislike afterward with a mini melee at midfield.

The 84th version of the Duel in the Desert was more a Dud in the Desert early on.

The Pac-10's top two passing teams, with quarterbacks who threw for a combined 828 yards last week, seemed like they were playing underwater, trading go-nowhere runs, dropped interceptions and badly overthrown passes throughout an ugly first half.

Weber provided the only points, hitting from 52 and 36 yards to put the Sun Devils up 6-0.

Arizona, after 88 yards and eight punts in the first half, finally came to life in the second.

Back in rhythm after a 49-yard first half, Nick Foles hit Terrence Miller on a pump-faking 38-yard pass down the middle, then hooked up with Juron Criner on the next play, pinpointing a pass in the corner of the end zone for a 28-yard touchdown.

Criner made it 14-6 late in the third quarter, giving Arizona State cornerback LeQuan Lewis a slight bump on an up-for-grabs ball to score a 52-yard touchdown.

The Sun Devils decided to fight back after that.

Weber hit a 38-yard field goal to open the fourth quarter, then Brock Osweiler led Arizona State back down the field for a 3-yard touchdown pass to Mike Willie, adding a 2-point conversion that put the Sun Devils up 17-14.

Arizona State's defense held on a fourth down near Arizona's 30 on the next drive and Weber nailed a 40-yard field goal to make it 20-14 with 3 minutes left.

Foles answered by hitting Douglas on 5-yard touchdown pass, but Arizona State blocked the PAT, adding another wild chapter to a rivalry already filled with them.
