Some Series Themes: Arizona begins the second half of its conference slate with a critical road trip to Corvallis, a place it has not visited for two seasons due to a quirk in the schedules . . . The Wildcats have lost consecutive series, but salvaged a come-from-behind victory Monday over rival Arizona State to hopefully build some momentum . . . Oregon State is also struggling, having lost six of the last nine games overall. So something has to give this weekend . . . Arizona would like to break the recent trend which has seen the Beavers win five of the last six in this series . . . On paper, it's certainly the pitching of the Beavers against the hitting of the Wildcats . . . Arizona's Scott Kingery leads the nation in batting, while Bobby Dalbec is the midseason home run leader in the conference . . . Oregon State's Andrew Moore and Drew Rasmussen provide a formidable 1-2 punch in the starting rotation . . . On the flip side, the Wildcats shuffle their rotation for the second consecutive week, inserting reliable long-reliever Nathan Bannister into the rotation with Cody Hamlin on Friday and Bobby Dalbec on the back-end for the second straight weekend . . . Andy Lopez will give full confidence to his trio of starters, asking them to go as deep into games as possible before mixing and matching out of the bullpen when needed . . . These are two strong defensive clubs that turn a lot of double plays . . . Neither side has stolen many bases in recent games, and Logan Ice has been tough to run against this season for the Beavers . . . Still, the Wildcats will play aggressively on offense and timely hitting will be key for each club . . . The winner of this series remains on the positive side of the ledger and within striking distance of the league leader, while the loser likely falls out of any serious contention . . . In opposing dugouts are coaches who each have a pair of national titles. Their philosophies are cemented into their programs, so there won't be any surprises this weekend . . . If the forecast holds, it will be a pleasant weekend. So what are we waiting for, let's play ball!

2014 UA-Oregon State Recap: Then-ranked seventh in the country, Oregon State captured two-of-three games from the Wildcats in Tucson last March 28-30 at Hi Corbett Field . . . Interestingly, the winning team scored 11 runs in each contest, with the teams splitting 11-2 decisions in the first two contests. The Beavers then prevailed 11-0 in the Sunday final to claim the series . . . OSU impressively hit .367 on the weekend, including .340 with runners in scoring position. Meanwhile, the Wildcats struggled to .231 clip with runners in scoring position and were outscored 10-3 in two-out RBI . . . Zach Gibbons (6-for-10) and Kevin Newman (5-for-11) led the UA offense, while Trent Gilbert had a pair of extra base hits and drove in three runs in the series . . . Cody Hamlin earned an impressive win over 8.2 innings in the Saturday game, while James Farris and Austin Schnabel both suffered losses in starts on Friday and Sunday . . . Dylan Davis found success against the Wildcat pitchers with seven hits, including a homer, while collected eight runs batted in for the Beavers . . . Jace Fry carried a no-hitter into the eighth inning of Sunday's game en route to the series-clinching victory on the mound. Willie Calhoun broke up the no-hit bid with a sharp single up the middle . . . The Beavers won the series in Tucson for the third-straight time, and the road team has won the series four straight years.

Arizona's Last Visit to Corvallis: Due to a scheduling quirk, Arizona has not played in Corvallis since its national championship season of 2012 (March 23-25) when Arizona won its second-straight weekend series and captured its first road series win of the year by taking two-of-three games . . . In Game 1, the Wildcats fell behind 5-1 in the early stages, before rallying to tie the game in the top of the ninth inning. But a leadoff error led to an unearned run scoring on a walk-off single by Ryan Dunn to give the Beavers a 6-5 win . . . In Game 2, the Wildcats found themselves trailing again, but tied the game 3-3 in the eighth and then received back-to-back home runs by Bobby Brown and Riley Moore to take a two-run lead. The homers were the first in the careers of each player, and snapped a stretch of 616 at-bats without a homer for the club. Mathew Troupe gave up a run in the ninth, but stranding the tying runner at third as he collected the save in the 5-4 win . . . In Game 3, a four-run fifth inning propelled UA to a 7-5 victory. Troupe closed the game by striking out the side in the rain in the bottom of the ninth inning to collect his second save . . . Starters Konner Wade and James Farris each pitched 7.2 innings in no-decision efforts on Saturday and Sunday . . . The Cats hit three home runs in the series to push their season tally to five . . . The Cats turned in a strong weekend in the field, committing just one error - though it was costly in game one.

Arizona Head Coach Andy Lopez: The Wildcats are coached by Andy Lopez, who is now in his 14th season with a 482-311-1 record at the school. A three-time national coach of the year, including in 2012, Andy Lopez has re-established Arizona as one of the nation's elite baseball programs, guiding the school to the 2012 NCAA National Championship, two College World Series appearances, and eight postseason berths in the last 12 seasons. In 2012, Lopez became just the second NCAA Division I head coach (also Augie Garrido) to win a title at two schools (Arizona, Pepperdine). He is one of just three coaches (Garrido and Larry Cochell) to lead three different schools (Pepperdine, Florida and Arizona) to the College World Series. Further, he is one of just four coaches to take two schools to Omaha on multiple occasions (Arizona, Florida). Under Lopez, the Wildcats have won at least 30 games in 11 of Lopez's 13 seasons at the school, and have won 40 games in three of the last eight seasons. Overall, Lopez owns a career record of 1,169-729-7 in 32 years as a head coach, including stints at Cal State Dominguez Hills (1983-88), Pepperdine (1989-94), Florida (1995-2001) and Arizona (2002-present). Lopez led Pepperdine, Florida (twice) and Arizona (twice) to College World Series appearances. His total victories are 11th-most among active coaches and 29th-most all-time.

Golden Spikes Watch List Update: USA Baseball last week released its 60-player midseason watch list for the Golden Spikes Award, and Scott Kingery joined Kevin Newman, who was tabbed on the award's preseason list. The Golden Spikes Award is presented to the top amateur baseball player in the country in a presentation on Tuesday, June 23, in Los Angeles. Sponsored by Major League Baseball, and presented in partnership with the Rod Dedeaux Foundation, 2015 marks the 38th year of the USA Baseball Golden Spikes Award. The only Wildcat to ever win the prestigious honor is Terry Francona (1980). Alan Zinter (1989) and Trevor Crowe (2005) are the only other finalists.

Offense Leads the Way: Offensively, Arizona leads the Pac-12 in most every statistical category. The Wildcats leads the league in batting average (.324), slugging (.463), on-base percentage (.402), runs scored (254), hits (382), triples (17) and total bases (546). Arizona is also second in runs batted in (208), walks (145) and sac flies (21), while ranking third for stolen bases (44), sac bunts (37) and doubles (64).

Leaders of the Pac: Individually, Arizona players lead the league in most all major offensive categories. Scott Kingery leads the way in batting (.463), slugging (.694), on-base percentage (.494), runs (42), hits (68), triples (tied with 5), doubles (tied with 12) and total bases (102). Sophomore Bobby Dalbec tops the league in both home runs (10) and RBI (tied with 36), while Kevin Newman is tied for the lead in doubles (12). Justin Behnke shares the conference lead with 12 sacrifice bunts.

King of the Land: Second baseman Scott Kingery, an All-Pac-12 outfielder and honorable mention All-Academic honoree last season, is turning in a sensational junior season. Kingery, who leads the nation with a .463 batting average after 33 games, was added to Golden Spikes Award midseason watch list last week and was named a midseason All-American by D1Baseball.com. The Phoenix, Ariz., native currently leads the Pac-12 in numerous other offensive categories, including slugging percentage (.694), on-base percentage (.494), hits (68), runs (42), total bases (102) and triples (5).

Nothing New for Newman: Junior Kevin Newman, who has started 144-straight games at shortstop for the Wildcats, is posting his best season to date. But that's nothing new to scouts who rank him as a potential first-round draft pick this summer. Newman is a two-time Pac-12 All-Conference performer and is the only player in the illustrious history of the Cape Cod Baseball League to win back-to-back batting titles. Newman has 55 base hits to rank No. 17 nationally and his .390 batting average is third-best in the Pac-12. He is also tied for the conference lead with 12 doubles and is tied for third with a dozen stolen bases.

Multi-Hit Games: Scott Kingery has a team-leading 19 multi-hit games this season. If that's not impressive enough, the junior has 11 games with three or more hits, including two four-hit games and three five-hit games. He is the first Wildcat since at least 1997 to record three five-hit games in the same season ... Kevin Newman (17), Bobby Dalbec (16) and Riley Moore (14) have also routinely turned in multiple-hit games ... Altogether, 13 Wildcats have combined for 106 multiple-hit games this season.

Multi-Homer Games: Entering this weekend, Arizona has five multi-homer games, including each of the last two games. The club did not have a multi-homer game in 2014, and had combined for only five such games in the three previous seasons (2012-2014). The last season with five multi-homer games was in 2011, when the Wildcats had six. That season also was the last time Arizona has homered three times in a single contest (Feb. 19 vs. North Dakota State) ... Bobby Dalbec homered twice against Arizona State on Monday, including the game-winner in the top of the ninth inning. It was the first multiple homer game for a Wildcat since Brandon Dixon on March 12, 2013 (vs. Butler). No Wildcat has homered three times in a game since C.J. Ziegler on May 9, 2008 (vs. Utah Valley), while Dillon Baird also did so that season at USC on March 21. In terms of homering in consecutive games, the last Arizona player to do so in three-straight games was Steve Selsky in 2011 (vs. Oregon and California from March 27 through April 1).

Double the Fun: Arizona's middle infield tandem of Kevin Newman and Scott Kingery help for a dynamic double-play combination for the Wildcats. As a club, Arizona leads the Pac-12 and ranks No. 21 nationally with 36 double plays this season, and the 1.06 double plays per game is 19th nationally. Friday starter Cody Hamlin has coaxed a team-best eight groundball double plays, while Nathan Bannister and Bobby Dalbec are tied for second having benefitted from four apiece.

Keeping it Clean: One of the strengths of Arizona's club this season has been its defense. Overall, the Wildcats are fourth in the Pac-12 with a .974 fielding percentage having committed only 35 errors in 34 games (compared to 73 errors by opponents). Arizona has improved its defense in conference play, posting a .983 fielding percentage with just 10 errors in 15 contests. Continuing to play clean defense will be paramount the rest of the way, especially in close ballgames.

Improving in the Pac: Interestingly, several Wildcats have found more success hitting against Pac-12 pitchers than they did out of conference. The nation's leading hitter, Scott Kingery, is batting .463 in 33 games this season, which is actually slightly below his .469 average in 14 conference games played. Junior outfielder Zach Gibbons, who is hitting .328 for the season, ranks second on the club with a .351 batting average in league play. Meanwhile, Bobby Dalbec is hitting .345 in conference play to raise his season batting average to .343. Additionally, Dalbec has hit seven of his Pac-12-leading 10 home runs against conference opponents. Kingery, Dalbec and Gibbons each rank among the top-6 for conference-only games to date. As a team, the Wildcats are hitting .304 in 15 conference games, narrowly ahead of UCLA (.300) for the best mark to date.

Dalbec Drives Them In: Third baseman Bobby Dalbec is putting together a strong sophomore season. He has reached base in all 34 games this season and leads the Wildcats with 36 runs batted in, mostly out of the cleanup spot. The Parker, Colo., native is batting a healthy .343 and reaching base at a .430 clip thanks to his team-leading 21 walks. He is also the club's most prominent power threat with a Pac-12-high 10 home runs to go with seven doubles and a pair of triples that produces a .649 slugging percentage. He has homered in each of Arizona's first five Pac-12 series and has 10 games with two or more RBI on the year.

Hit And Miss: The last four weeks have proven to be a tale of differing fortunes for the Wildcats. First there was a six-game win streak with consecutive conference sweeps, then the current slide that has seen Arizona drop five of its last six contests. The difference seems to be the ability to deliver timely hits and, at the same time, keep opponents from getting the key hits. Here's a look at how the last 12 games breakdown.

	Six-Game Win Streak	Last Six Games
Batting w/RISP	.381 (24-for-63)	.243 (17-for-70)
2-Out RBI	11	13
Opp. w/RISP	.265 (13-for-49)	.394 (28-for-71)
Opp. 2-Out RBI	6	16

Getting Moore: One of the reasons for Arizona's offense improvement this season is the improvement of catcher Riley Moore. The senior, batting .318, is one of seven regulars above .300 this season and he is tied for third on the team with 28 runs batted in. The run production is welcomed after Moore hit only .247 with 22 RBI a season ago. A native of Santa Barbara, Calif., Moore is hitting .309 with runners in scoring position this season compared to a lowly .203 clip a year ago. In his career, Moore is a .288 hitter with 121 runs scored and 125 RBI in his 198-game career. Moore needs six more hits to reach 200.

Easy as 1-2-3: Arizona boasts a dynamic trio of hitters that can both hit and run. Scott Kingery leads the nation with a .463 batting average, Kevin Newman is top-20 nationally with 55 base hits and speedster Justin Behnke is batting .327 with 19 walks in his first season as a Wildcat. Collectively, the trio bats .399 (159-398) with 104 runs scored and 67 RBI on the season. Thanks to 39 walks and seven hit-by-pitches, they reach base at a staggering .455 clip. They combine for 28 of Arizona's 44 stolen bases, too.

Zach in the Pac: Junior outfielder Zach Gibbons continues to enjoy success hitting in the Pac-12. Last season, Gibbons led the club with a .327 batting average in conference-only games (only regular starter above .300). This year, Gibbons is hitting better in Pac-12 games (.351) than he is overall on the season (.328). Combining the last two seasons, Gibbons is batting .335 (57-of-170) in the Pac-12. For his Wildcat career, Gibbons is a .329 hitter in 141 games played.

Better Late Than Never: Monday's 7-2 victory, in which Arizona trailed ASU 2-1 entering the ninth inning, was the Wildcats' second win this season when trailing after eight innings. Both have come in rather dramatic fashion. On Feb. 21, Arizona scored four times in the ninth inning to defeat Rice, 7-6, as Kevin Newman stole home for the walk-off run. On Monday, Bobby Dalbec crushed a 2-run home run in the top of the ninth to give the Cats the lead for good. Those wins have put Arizona at 2-7 when trailing after eight innings, something notable since the club was 1-27 in such games a season ago. Going back even further, the Wildcats have won just 14 times in 327 chances when trailing after eight innings since 2000. That's a .043 winning percentage.

Rotation Notation: For the seventh-straight week, right-hander Cody Hamlin will toe the rubber as the Friday night starter. Hamlin is 4-1 with a 4.50 earned run average overall this season and the Wildcats are 4-2 in series openers when he starts. While not overpowering, Hamlin is a strike-thrower who has issued only eight walks in 56.0 innings pitched, a 1.29 walks per nine innings ratio that is fifth-best in the Pac-12 . . . The Wildcats will send junior Nathan Bannister to the mound Saturday for his first career start after 32 total appearances. The right-hander has been more than reliable as a long-reliever and setup man this season, posting a 5-1 record and a 3.60 earned run average. Like Hamlin, Bannister makes opponents earn their way on base: he's walked only eight in 45.0 innings pitched, and the innings are third-most on the team despite his work as a reliever. His longest career outing is 5.1 innings, which came at Mississippi State on Feb. 27 of this season . . . For the second straight week, right-hander Bobby Dalbec will get the ball in the series finale. In his first career start on Monday at Arizona State, Dalbec tossed a season-high 4.1 shutout innings in which he scattered five hits, walked two and struck out four. Previously, Dalbec served as the team's closer for the last two seasons and he has a team-high five saves this year. His career-long outing is 5.1 innings in relief at USC last April 18 . . . With Dalbec's shift to the rotation, Tyger Talley has slid into the closer's role after making 18 starts over the last two seasons in the Sunday slot. Talley leads the club with 40 strikeouts this season in 46.0 innings pitched, and he's limited opposing hitters to a .228 average. Talley, who is 4-0 on the year, including a win in relief on Monday, has one career save which came on April 13, 2013, at Washington State.

Extra! Extra! The Wildcats lead the Pac-12 and rank No. 14 nationally with a slugging percentage of .463 which is boosted by 64 doubles, 17 triples and 22 home runs. Those 103 extra base hits rank behind only UCLA (107) in the conference as of Wednesday. Arizona has collected an extra base hit in 23-consecutive games dating back to March 1 against Samford, which remains the only game this season the Wildcats have failed to produce an extra base hit.

Walk It Out: Arizona ranks second in the Pac-12 having drawn 145 walks entering this weekend. Coupled with the nation's second-best batting average (.323), and the Wildcats reach base at the 11th-best rate in the nation (.402). Those two factors help Arizona score 7.5 runs per game, which ranks No. 12 in Division I. Yet with all of that said, the Wildcats have missed out on numerous scoring opportunities in conference play. In 15 conference games, Arizona has drawn 73 walks, yet only 19 of those runners have scored. That issue was most noticeable two weekends ago against USC when the Cats walked 18 times, but only pushed on free base runner across the plate.

Timely Turnaround: One of the areas Arizona has improved the most from a season ago is timely hitting, and that will surely be a key this weekend against Oregon State. Unlike last year, the Wildcats are frequently capitalizing on opportunities with runners in scoring position and driving in key two-out runs. Here's a look at this season compared to last:

	2015	2014
Avg. w/RISP	.315	.289
2-out RBI (UA-Opp)	73-42	79-99

Sluggish Starts: One tendency the Wildcats would like to break is allowing opponents to score in the first inning. Arizona has been outscored 32-23 in the opening inning this season, and six of its 11 losses have come when the opposition has posted at least one run in the first inning. However, when the Wildcats strike in the first inning, the club is 11-2. Once settled into the game, when Wildcats outscore their opponents 76-22 in the second and third innings combined.

Hits, Hits and More Hits: Arizona leads the conference with 382 base hits entering this weekend . . . The Wildcats are 19-1 this season when out-hitting opponents, 2-10 when being out-hit and 2-0 when hits are tied . . . According to a list compiled by Auburn SID Taylor Bryan, Arizona is third nationally with 23 bunt base hits, trailing only Campbell (30) and Mississippi State (25) . . . UA has collected double-digit hit totals in 19 contests, including five of the last eight . . . The Wildcats have totaled 106 multiple-hit games this season, led by Scott Kingery's 19 and Kevin Newman's 17. Kingery is the first Wildcat since at least 1997 to tally three five-hit games in a single season.

Dalbec's Dingers: Sophomore cleanup hitter Bobby Dalbec leads the Pac-12 with 10 home runs on the season, including one in each of the last six weekend series. The 10 dingers have Dalbec atop Arizona's home run leaderboard since BBCOR bats were introduced in 2011. Current assistant coach Josh Garcia initially set the initial standard with eight (8) home runs in 2011, and that total was matched by Rob Refsnyder in 2012. A year earlier, Refsnyder hit six (6), and in 2013 Brandon Dixon matched that tally. Prior to Dalbec, no Wildcat had reached double-digit homer runs since four players did so in 2008: C.J. Ziegler (20), Brad Glenn (14), Jon Gaston (13) and T.J. Steele (11).

Cats Dig the Long Ball: With 22 home runs this season, Arizona has blown past its home run total of eight (8) from a season ago. The BBCOR era (2011-present) standard for Wildcat home runs was set in 2011, when Arizona belted 29 long balls. The 2012 national championship team hit 23 home runs in 65 games, including three at the College World Series. Arizona's current clip of 0.647 homers per game will put it on pace to surpass the 2011 mark.

Going Streaking: Bobby Dalbec carries an 11-game hitting streak into this weekend's action, part of his 34-game streak of reaching base safely to open the season. Prior to Dalbec, the last player to reach base in 30-straight games was Johnny Field, who did so in 2013. Dalbec's streak is the longest since Rob Refsnyder reach base in the final 39 games of his career, which ended in 2012 . . . Scott Kingery, who earlier had a 10-game hitting streak, has again hit safely in his last 10 games . . . Riley Moore has reached base safely in 10 consecutive games . . . Zach Gibbons owns the team's longest hit streak this season, which was 13 games from Feb. 28 through March 22.

Pressure the Opponent: Perhaps one of the most important stats for the Wildcats this season is the fact their leadoff batters are reaching base at a .434 clip (126 of 290 innings). Once on base, the Wildcats hit .329 with runners, .315 with runners in scoring position and .321 with two outs. But it's not just how well Arizona hits that is the problem for opponents. The Wildcats force the opposition to execute defensively. Arizona is No. 20 nationally with 37 sacrifice bunts this season, while ranking third in the Pac-12 with 44 stolen bases. The Wildcats then rank No. 19 nationally with 21 sacrifice flies, and once they get to two outs, out-score the opposition 73-42 this season.

A Fix For Six: Perhaps no statistic is more telling of Arizona's success under Andy Lopez than leading after six innings. In Lopez's 14 seasons, the Wildcats are 384-38-1 (.908) when leading after six innings. This season, the club is 19-1 in such games (loss March 15 vs. Utah). The statistic becomes even more telling when looking at the program's record playing at Hi Corbett Field. Since moving into the facility in 2012, Arizona is 73-6 (.924) when leading after six innings at its home ballpark.

Go The Distance: Junior Tyger Talley tossed his first career complete game on March 20 in a 6-0 sweep-sealing victory over Stanford. The complete game was the second of the year for a Wildcat hurler after Cody Hamlin went the distance in a 9-4 Friday win on March 6. The staff has a ways to go to match last season's total of seven complete games, which was paced by then-senior ace James Farris, who had five. In 2013, the Wildcats had four and in 2012 they had 16, led by All-American Kurt Heyer's seven.

Championship Experience: Believe it or not, Arizona's roster includes five players that were a part of the 2012 national championship club. The two most prominent names are catcher Riley Moore and pitcher Mathew Troupe, who returns after undergoing Tommy John surgery last season. Also back for a senior salute is Joseph Maggi, a versatile left-handed bat that has played outfield and first base for the Wildcats. Left-handed pitchers Xavier Borde and Tyler Crawford also return, though Crawford will be sidelined after undergoing Tommy John surgery early last fall.

On Deck: Arizona returns home for a five-game homestand that includes a pair of non-conference contests with rival Arizona State sandwiched around next weekend's Pac-12 series against California (April 24-26). The homestand begins Wednesday evening, April 22, as the Wildcats host the Sun Devils at 7 p.m. at Hi Corbett Field.
