RICHARD JEFFERSON
GYMNASIUM

RICHARD JEFFERSON GYMNASIUM

On Aug. 17, 2007, former University of Arizona men's basketball player Richard Jefferson pledged to donate $3.5 million to the school's athletic department.

Jefferson's donation is the lead gift towards phase two of a construction project that will include a new $14 million basketball/volleyball practice facility. The facility, currently under construction, will bear Jefferson's name. The project is scheduled for completion in October 2008.

The new practice facility will house two full-court basketball courts running end to end, east to west, as well as have room for four basketball cross courts and five volleyball cross courts. Drop down nets will separate the main courts in order to add flexibility to the multi-use facility.

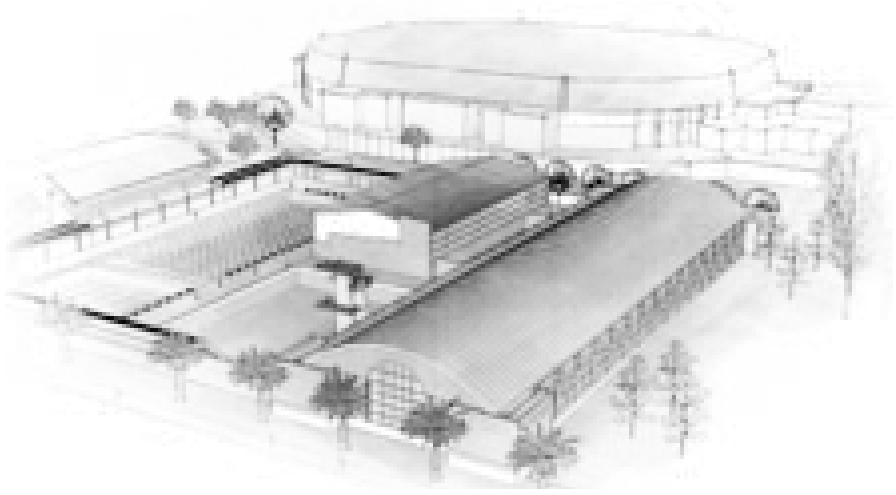

The building is set 17 feet below ground in order to lessen the mass of the building that would be visible if the entire structure were to have been built at ground level. Even at its sunken level, the facility stands 30 feet above ground.

RICHARD JEFFERSON GYMNASIUM

The design will be reminiscent of UA's legendary Bear Down Gymasium, the program's home from 1927-73, without it being an attempt at replicating it. The architecture lovingly mixes the traditional with more contemporary elements and has produced striking results.

The project also includes an expansion of the Mary P. Roby Gymnastics Practice Facility and the addition of a 33-meter x 25-meter diving well with 10-, 7.5-, 5- and 3-meter platforms and new 3- and 1-meter springboards.

Finally, improvements will be made to the entry way and promenade adjacent to McKale Center that will make the space more inviting for fans and students to gather for tailgating or socializing.

"I am pleased and blessed to be able to make this gift to an institution that has done so much to help me," said Jefferson. "For an Arizona kid like me to be able to give something back to the University of Arizona is very special."

The gift is one of the largest individual donations to the University of Arizona athletic department and is also believed to be the largest ever given by a current professional athlete to his alma mater.

"This is a tremendous day for Wildcat Athletics," said Jim Livengood, University of Arizona director of athletics. "I cannot give enough thanks to Richard for his generosity in making a difference for our student-athletes both now and in the future."

RICHARD JEFFERSON GYMNASIUM

A native of Phoenix, Jefferson was a three-year letterwinner for the Wildcats from 1998-2001. During his 84-game career (77 starts), Jefferson averaged 11.2 points, 5.0 rebounds and 2.8 assists per game. He capped his career by leading Arizona to the 2001 national championship game. Along the way, Jefferson was an all-Midwest Regional and all-Final Four selection. He was the 13th overall pick in the first round of the 2001 NBA Draft. Jefferson was the sixth Lottery Pick in Arizona history.

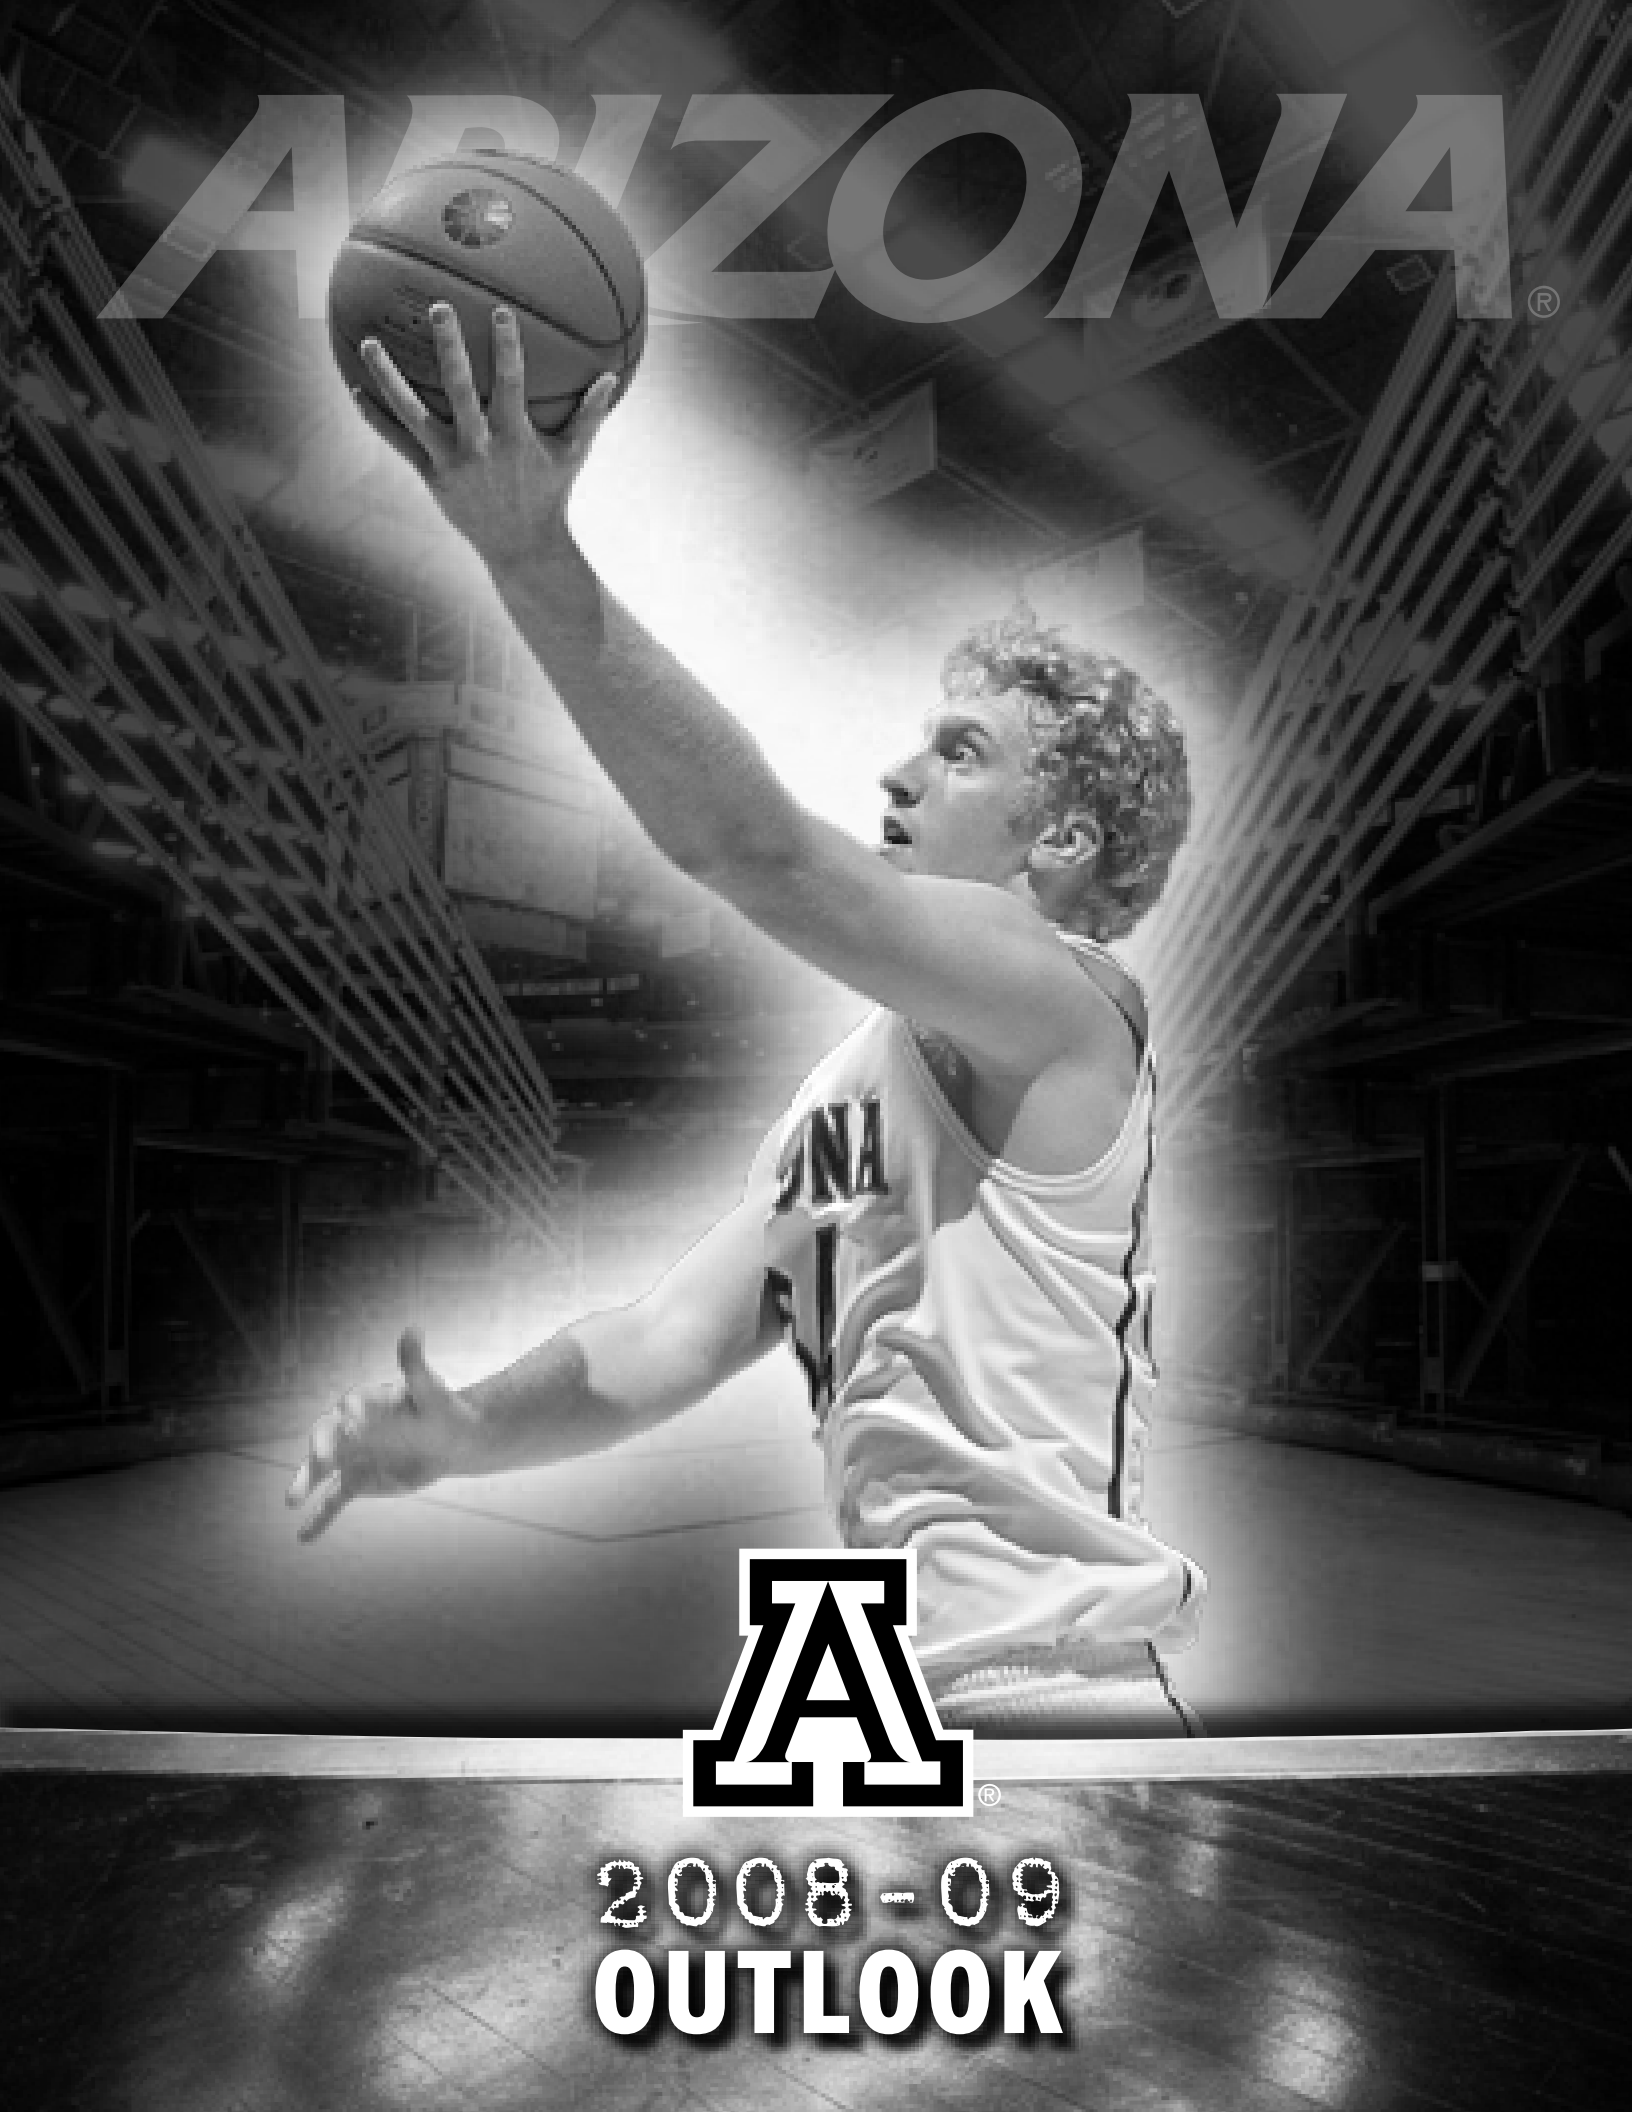

In seven years in the National Basketball Association, Jefferson has averaged 17.4 points, 5.4 rebounds and 3.0 assists per game, and has averaged better than 20 points per game twice (2005 and 2008) for a season during his career. Jefferson led the New Jersey Nets to NBA Finals appearances in both 2002 and 2003 and was an NBA second-team all-Rookie selection in 2002.

Jefferson was a member of the USA Basketball Senior National team in 2003 and 2004, and earned a bronze medal at the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece.

"Richard has always been a stand-up guy, "said Arizona head coach Lute Olson. "For him to make this kind of statement about how much he cares for this program speaks volumes to Richard's character. This is a very, very generous gift."

OUTLOOK

2008-09 OUTLOOK

At Arizona, leadership develops and stars emerge. Hard work within the system brings out the best in players as they matriculate through the program.

This season the torch has been passed to a trio of juniors – Chase Budinger, Jordan Hill and Nic Wise – who will be asked to lead a roster that includes eight freshmen and sophomores. University of Arizona interim head coach Russ Pennell says this trio will set the tone for success.

"How this team does will be determined by that trio," said Pennell. "By them doing their jobs as leaders, we can bring the others along as they develop. Those guys have to provide us with offense, defense and rebounding. They will set the tone."

Most notable of that group is Budinger. The 6-foot-7, 218-pound forward from Encinitas, Calif., returns after a season that saw him improve in nearly every statistical category, including per game averages of 17.1 points, 2.9 assists and 1.1 steals per game.

A third-team all-Pac-10 Conference and Associated Press honorable mention All-America honoree a year ago, Budinger became just the sixth player in school history to score his 1,000th career point as a sophomore.

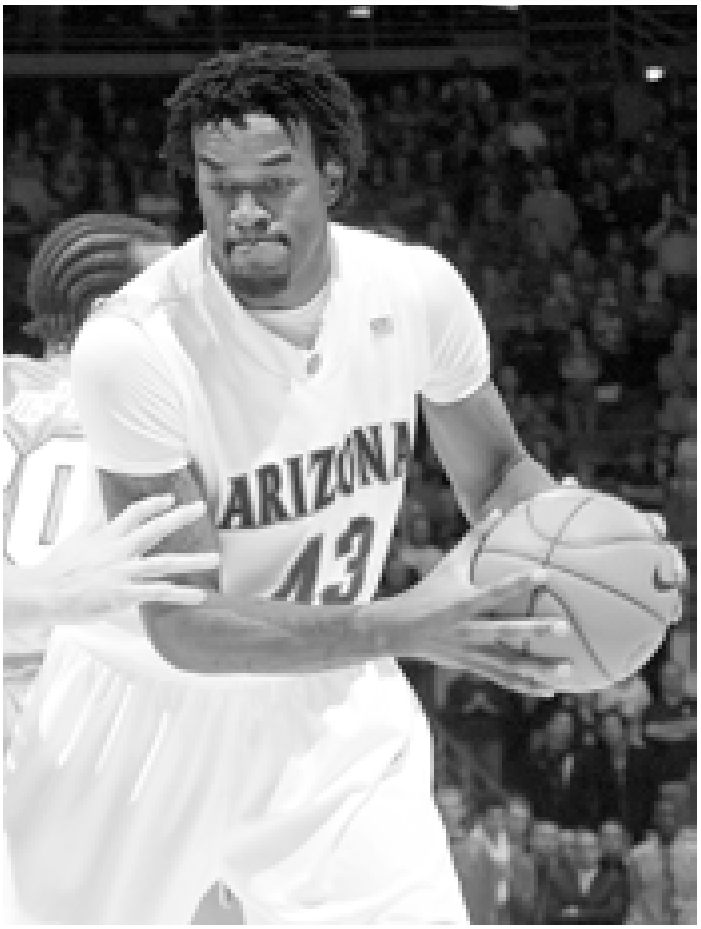

Budinger has proved his worth with his career averages of 16.4 points and 5.6 rebounds and 34.2 minutes per game. After adding 15 pounds to his frame in the offseason, it is his leadership skills that will be honed in 2008-09.

"They key to the ballclub is going to be Chase Budinger, who has worked very, very hard on his strength and conditioning," said Pennell. "He's been providing great positive leadership on the court. That's one of the things coming back – the reputation that he was too quiet to be a team leader – so he's working very hard on eliminating those opinions."

Hill anchors the Wildcat frontline with an emphasis on staying on the floor. A year ago, Arizona was 11-5 when the Atlanta, Ga. product played 30 or more minutes.

Chase Budinger

Jordan Hill

Nic Wise

The 6-foot-10, 235-pound forward continued his development as one of the best big men in the Pac-10 by leading the league and ranking 10th nationally with a 62.0 field goal percentage. He also averaged 13.2 points and 7.9 rebounds per game last season, while posting seven double-doubles.

Since joining the regular rotation in January 2007, Hill has scored in double figures in 31 of 47 games played, including the last nine consecutive.

"Jordan Hill continues to make great progress," Pennell noted. "The biggest thing for us is for Jordan to spend more time on the court. He's worked really hard and he knows the areas that he has to get better. We need him on the court."

Wise, the third member of the triumvirate, blossomed into one of UA's most productive players last season. Despite missing seven games due to a knee injury, he averaged 9.2 points, 4.4 assists and 2.0 steals, while shooting 48.1 percent from three-point range.

As a testament to his value, 16 of Arizona's 19 wins came with a healthy Wise in the lineup. He finished the 2007-08 campaign ranked second in the Pac-10 in steals (2.0 spg), third in three-point field goal percentage (.481) and fourth in assist:turnover ratio (2.00).

"Nic will be key for us," said the Wildcat mentor. "His quickness and his ability to lead the team are essential, and he is an outstanding shooter. We need to incorporate that ability into the team concept."

In addition to his talented veterans – among the best in the Pac-10 – Pennell certainly is confident in the abilities of the rest of his roster.

"The guys all have good quickness, they are long and versatile," he said. "It's just a matter of getting them to play good team defense and recognize just how hard you have to play at this level."

Chief among them are forwards Jamelle Horne and Fendi Onobun.

Horne, a 6-foot-6, 209-pound sophomore forward from San Diego, Calif., averaged 3.0 points and 2.7 rebounds in 26 appearances (nine starts) last year. He collected two double-figure scoring games and one double-figure rebound game in 2007-08, and ranked fourth on the team with 10 blocks.

"Jamelle Horne has tremendous athletic ability, and he will be a solid contributor on both ends of the court," Pennell said. "He's a very good rebounder, which we need from him, and he's worked hard on his perimeter shooting."

The 6-foot-6 Onobun returns for his senior season in the best shape of his career at 249 pounds. The Houston, Texas, native is completely healthy after battling a stress fracture last season. Over three seasons (51 games), Onobun has averaged 2.2 points and 1.4 rebounds. In that span, Onobun has connected on 61.7 percent of his field goal attempts.

"We really need Fendi," said Pennell. "He's a physical specimen and has great hands, especially on the glass. He'll give us a lot and it helps that he's healthy."

Three other returning players bolster the UA depth in Zane Johnson, Alex Jacobson and David Bagga.

Johnson, a 6-foot-5, 204-pound guard from Phoenix, Ariz., is arguably the team's best perimeter shooter. The sophomore, who came out of a redshirt in January last year, averaged 0.9 points and 0.6 rebounds in limited action. Continued improvement on the defensive end will help Johnson earn playing time.

"Zane is one of the best shooters on the team," commented Pennell. "He needs to continue to develop on the defensive end."

Jacobson, a 6-foot-11, 253-pound center from Santa Ana, Calif., will be counted on along the frontline. The freshman has made considerable strides since redshirting a year ago and appears ready to contribute.

David Bagga

Jamelle Horne

"We think Alex will continue to improve a great deal over the course of this season. He is going to help us," Pennell said.

Bagga, a 6-foot-4, 180-pound senior guard from Foothill Ranch, Calif., is the scout team leader who has made 19 career appearances over three seasons.

"David just works hard and helps us by doing whatever he can to make us better," Pennell said.

Five incoming freshmen definitely will push for playing time at a number of positions.

Kyle Fogg, a 6-foot-2, 175-pound guard from Brea, Calif., Garland Judkins, a 6-foot-3, 195-pound guard from Humble, Texas, and Brendon Lavender, a 6-foot-3, 205-pound guard from Mesa, Ariz., each will help solidify the guard play. "They are very quick and each is a hard worker," said Pennell.

Jeff Withey, a 6-foot-10, 210-pound center from San Diego, Calif., and D.J. Shumpert,a 6-foot-6, 177-pound forward from Tucson, Ariz., will bolster the UA fortunes along the front line. Withey posted per game averages of 20.8 points, 13.0 rebounds, 7.3 blocked shots and 4.1 assists while shooting 69 percent from the field, while Shumpert averaged a triple-double in his final season of high school basketball.

"We're expecting good things from Jeff and D.J.," said the first-year coach. "In fact, we're happy with all of the freshmen in terms of their work ethic and coachability."

Pennell is already reaping the benefits of such coachability. He feels that the team chemistry is going to be a strength of the squad.

"The team chemistry I think is going to be outstanding," he said. "I think everyone is really locked in. If we're going to be successful, we're going to have to win as a team. Obviously, we are playing under challenging circumstances, but we just need to be able to lean on each other."

The Cats plan to use a variety of defenses, utilizing both man-to-man and zone options. Pennell says the team's versatility will go a long way towards determining what defense will be used in any given situation.

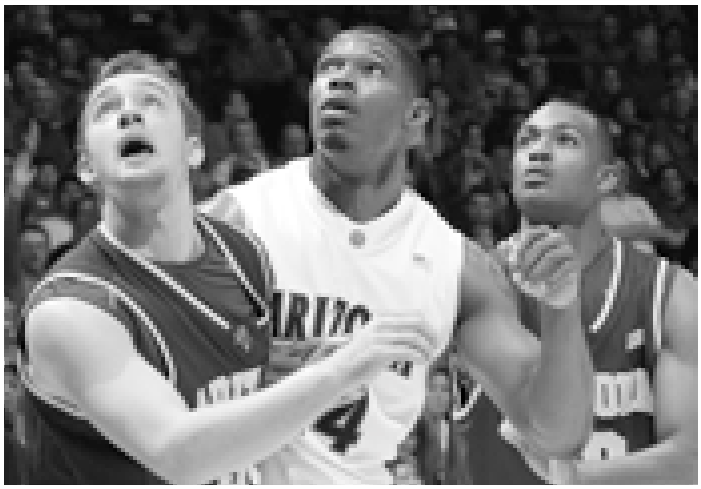

"We will try to be quicker up and down the court," said Pennell. "Defensively, we're trying to establish our half court defense and we'll work on the other wrinkles."

Pennell also hopes that versatility in his charges will give the Cats advantages on the offensive side of the floor as well. Arizona has the ability to play either big or small with the idea of creating offensive advantages.

"We have players who can fill multiple positions and that could work to our advantage. That should be a plus for us offensively," said Pennell.

Pennell and his charges face a grueling schedule, which will test the team from the outset. Arizona opens the season in the Dick's Sporting Goods N.I.T. Season Tip-Off before facing non-conference foes like Texas A&M, Gonzaga, UNLV and Kansas before the rugged Pac-10 slate debuts in January.

"There is no doubt that this schedule is very demanding," Pennell said.

Fendi Onobun

Pennell is counting on competition, especially in practice, to drive this team toward success. As mentioned above, much is expected from the upperclassmen, and the desired success will come from everyone pulling in the same direction.

"There will be a lot of competition on the court which will make everyone better," Pennell concluded. "There is no question that the majority of the scoring will come out of our juniors. We have plenty of guys who are capable of scoring, we just need to make sure that everyone recognizes that we need to get the best shot possible at our end and make it difficult for the opposition to score at the other. If we can take care of the glass and control possessions, I believe that these guys can do a great job."

Wildcats from A to Z

A – Assists: Guard Nic Wise returns for his junior season a year after leading the team and ranking fourth in the Pac-10 Conference with a 4.41 assists per game average. The 5-foot-10, Houston, Texas, product passed out 119 assists in his 27 appearances and for good measure, posted an impressive 2.16 assist:turnover ratio in 2007-08.

B – Balance: Arizona looks for more balance offensively, especially after a 2007-08 season that saw the Cats' regular starters score 89 percent of the offense. Greater production for the UA bench will go a long way toward helping the squad improve on last season's 71.9 points per game average.

C – Chemistry: The Arizona coaching staff feels like the 2008-09 club is a tight-knit bunch with everyone pulling in the same direction. Said UA interim head coach Russ Pennell, "I think the team chemistry (this year) is going to be outstanding. I think everyone is really locked in and on the same page."

D – D. As in…: The most popular middle initial on this year's club is D, as David Bagga, Fendi Onobun and Jeff Withey each have a middle name that starts with the fourth letter of the alphabet.

E - Exempted Games: Arizona routinely plays in a number of exempted games, usually an early season tournament that doesn't count against the 27-game regular-season limit. This year it's the Dick's Sporting Goods NIT Season Tipoff and next year it's back to the EA Sports Maui Invitational. Such events have served UA well. All time, the Cats are 11-1 in the preseason NIT and 8-4 in the Maui Invitational.

F – Field Goal Percentage: A year ago, forward Jordan Hill led the Pac-10 Conference and ranked 10th nationally with a .620 (184-of-297) field goal percentage. Additionally, Hill's 62 percent shooting was the third-best single-season mark in school history.

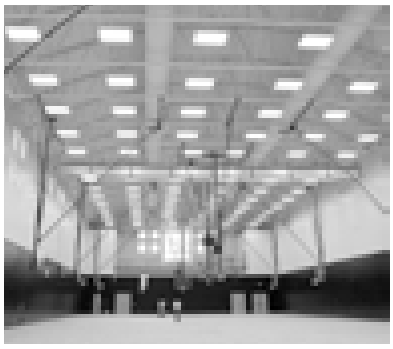

G – Golden State: There is certainly a California influence on this year's roster, as six of the 13 players hail from the Golden State. David Bagga (Foothill Ranch), Chase Budinger (Encinitas), Kyle Fogg (Brea), Jamelle Horne (San Diego), Alex Jacobson (Santa Ana) and Jeff Withey (San Diego). That's the most California-bred players on the UA roster since the 2001-02 club also had six.

H – Home Sweet Home: Since its opening in February 1973, the Wildcats have enjoyed rabid support from the McKale Center faithful. In fact, Arizona basketball will pass the seven-million mark in total attendance in 2008-09. The milestone should be reached around the 10th regular season home game of the year.

I – In the Bag(ga): A David Bagga appearance is generally a good thing for the Wildcats, as the team is 19-1 during his career when he gets in the game. For a McKale Treat, look for the "Single Bagga" and "Double Bagga" prompts on the arena's video boards.

J – Jeffersonian generosity: Former Wildcat Richard Jefferson may have passed out his most important assist last August when he committed $3.5 million towards the construction of a new basketball/volleyball practice facility. The facility, adjacent to the McKale Center, is scheduled to open in late October.

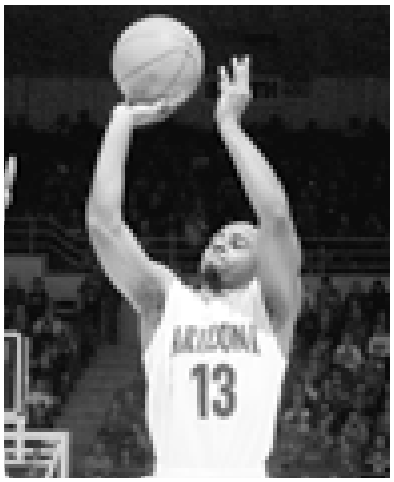

K – Kokoskie: Arizona basketball players get some of the best medical attention around, courtesy of Certified Athletic Trainer Justin Kokoskie. Stability is always a good thing when it comes to care, and Kokoskie is in his seventh year with the program.

L – Leadership: Preseason All-American Chase Budinger returns for his junior season, and the forward is focused on being a better and more vocal leader. As he told the Arizona Daily Star during the preseason, "I'm trying to work on my leadership skills. I know I'm going to be a leader on this team. I'm trying to get their respect, as they're trying to get mine."

M – Madison Square Garden: "The World's Most Famous Arena" is the goal for the 16 teams included in the field of the Dick's Sporting Goods NIT Season Tip-Off. A return to New York City finals would be good for Arizona because Lute Olson has an all-time record of 12-1 in the arena at 7th Avenue between 31st and 33rd Streets.

N – NBA Players: Few programs have been as good as Arizona in terms of developing National Basketball Association talent. No program has produced as many draft picks as Arizona's 29 since the draft was shortened to two rounds in 1989. Thirteen of those picks, including Jerryd Bayless in 2008, were first-round picks. Last season, the NBA season ended with 11 former Wildcats on active rosters and eight of those players made the playoffs.

O – Outside Shooters: For a school with a history of great three-point shooters like Steve Kerr and Salim Stoudamire, 2008-09 will provide an interesting adjustment, as the three-point line was moved back one foot to 20 feet, nine inches. "I think it's going to be interesting for all NCAA teams to determine whether a three-point shot from that extra foot is a good shot or not," said Pennell. "It will make a difference."

2008-09 NOTEBOOK

P – Points: Eight lettermen return for the '09 campaign and bring with them a total of 1,410 points (57.7 percent) of last season's offense. A rise in the points per game across the board would be nice, as the Cats have averaged 74.5 points per game over the last three seasons, including a 71.9 ppg figure last year.

Q – Quarter Century: Arizona takes to the hardwood this season with the hopes of extending to 25 the streak of consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, which is the longest active streak in the nation.

R – Rebounding: Led by forward Jordan Hills's 7.9 rebounds per game average in 2007-08, Arizona looks to improve its rebounding efforts. A year ago, Arizona ranked ninth in the Pac-10 in rebound margin (-1.5 rpg), which marked the second time in the last three seasons that Arizona had been outrebounded.

S - Staff Members: Lute Olson's Oct. 23 retirement shuffled what was already a brand new staff, as Russ Pennell, Mike Dunlap and Reggie Geary came aboard for 2008-09. Dunlap (assistant coach, Denver Nuggets) and Geary (head coach Anaheim Arsenal, NBA D-League) came from the NBA family, while Pennell has more than 15 years of experience as an assistant on the NCAA Division I level.

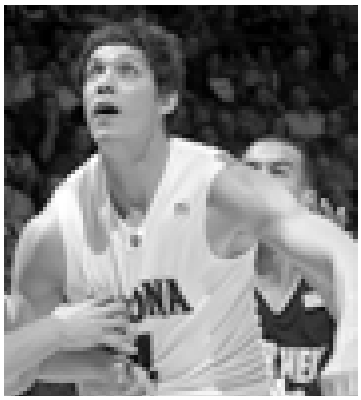

T – Tucson: When Tucson native D.J. Shumpert was added to the roster in August, he became the first local product to suit up for the Cats since Anas Fellah in 2001-02. Shumpert is the seventh Tucson product to earn a scholarship during the Lute Olson era.

U – Undergraduate Assistant: After spending the last four seasons as a forward for the Cats, Bret Brielmaier has made the jump into coaching, as he will serve as the team's undergraduate assistant coach in 2008-09 while he completes he degree. Brielmaier averaged 1.7 points and 1.9 rebounds per game in 92 career appearances (11 starts), while shooting .567 (59-of-104) from the field from 2004-08.

V – Victories: The University of Arizona enters the 2008-09 season with an all-time record of 1,547-844 (.647). That ranks the UA in the top-20 all-time among Division I institutions.

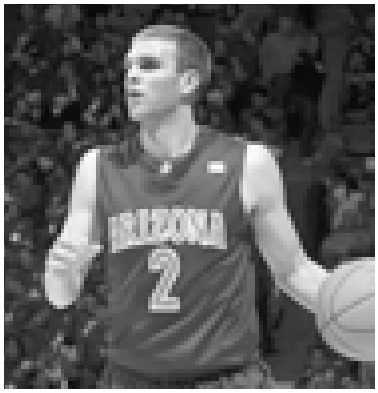

W – Wing Play: Few programs have ever had as much success in developing wing players as Arizona. The lineage of UA guys who have thrived on the wings include Sean Elliott, Chris Mills, Khalid Reeves, Michael Dickerson, Richard Jefferson, Luke Walton, Andre Iguodala, Hassan Adams and Chase Budinger.

X – X-Ray: No one's had as many of late as Fendi Onobun, who after battling a stress fracture in his leg all of last season, is finally healthy. The 6-foot-6, 249-pound, forward will be a key part of the UA frontline.

Y – Youth: The 2008-09 edition of the Arizona Wildcats will be a decidedly young one, as eight of the 13 players on the roster are either freshmen or sophomores. Of that bunch, only Jamelle Horne has averaged more than 15 minutes per game during his collegiate career.

Z – Zane Johnson: Long-range shooter extraordinaire Zane Johnson looks toward his first full season of action after coming out of a redshirt in January. The Phoenix, Ariz., native made 15 appearances last season and averaged 0.9 points and 0.6 rebounds per game. All four of his field goals in 2007-08 were from behind the arc.

2008-09 WILDCATS

DAVID BAGGA

11 – GUARD, 6-4, 180, SENIOR

Foothill Ranch, Calif. (Mater Dei H.S.)

General: A very unselfish and team-oriented guy ... Joined the program as a walk-on ... His size and ability to play multiple positions certainly will help in practice situations ... Possesses a tremendous work ethic ... Another in the long line of Southern California prep products to join the Wildcat roster, but the first since Hassan Adams in 2002-03 ... Joins Alex Jacobson as Mater Dei graduates on the UA roster ... Prior to Bagga's arrival, the last two Mater Dei graduates to appear on the UA roster were Reggie Geary (1992-96) and Miles Simon (1994-98).

Junior (2007-08): Knocked down the first two FTs of his career in a season-best three minutes on 3/12 vs. Oregon State in the Pac-10 Tournament ... Garnered a brief appearance (0+ minutes) vs. Washington on 1/26 ... Earned the first first-half minute of his career 1/5 vs. Oregon and responded with his first career steal ... Sprained an ankle in pregame shootaround on Dec. 29 ... Played two minutes vs. Cal State Fullerton on 11/28.

Sophomore (2006-07): Played in seven games — each one at McKale Center ... Saw one minute of playing time vs. Washington on 2/3 ... Grabbed a rebound in two minutes vs. Arizona State on 1/24 ... Suffered a sprained right ankle in practice on 1/17 ... Hit his only FG in a season-high three minutes vs. California on 12/28 ... Grabbed his second career rebound on 12/17 vs. Houston in one minute Garnered a minute vs. UNLV on 11/28 ... Saw two minutes of action on 11/22 vs. Samford ... Nailed a trey in his first appearance of the season on 11/15 vs. Northern Arizona.

Freshman (2005-06): Struggled from the floor of late, missing six of last eight FG attempts after making his first two ... Hit a FG in his first career NCAA Tournament appearance on 3/17 vs. Wisconsin ... Missed FG attempt on 2/25 vs. Arizona State in one minute of action ... Grabbed a rebound in his first action in nine games on 2/11 vs. Oregon State, but missed his two FG attempts ... Saw his first action since Dec. 19 with one minute vs. USC on 1/7 ... Got six minutes of playing time on 12/19 vs. Sam Houston State and went 1-of-4 from the field ... Buried a tough turnaround, fade-away jumper with time running down at Utah on 12/17 ... Saw one minute of action on 12/10 vs. Saint Mary's ... Knocked down a trey on his first official FG attempt on 11/27 vs. Virginia.

High School: Prepped at Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana, Calif. ... Helped Monarchs to a 31-4 record as a senior and a CIF Division II state championship game appearance for coach Gary McKnight ... Monarchs also posted a 5-1 Sierra League record in 2004-05 ... Averaged 1.0 points, 1.5 rebounds and 0.3 blocked shots per game as a senior ... Tallied single-game highs of six points and five rebounds ... Monarchs went 29-5 and played in the CIF state semifinals.

Personal: Born Dec. 22, 1986, in Tustin, Calif. ... Full name is David Davindes Bagga ... Son of Steve and Liz Bagga ... Father works for IBM and mother is in the mortgage business ... FENDI ONOBUN

24 – FORWARD, 6-6, 249, SENIOR

Houston, Texas (Alief Taylor H.S.)

General: A career 61.7 percent (50-of-81) FG shooter ... A relentless rebounder who possesses a steady mid-range jump shot ... Needs to be more intense on the court ... Carries a strong physical presence ... Continues to work hard on his perimeter skills ... Unselfishly came out of a redshirt midway through the 2005-06 season and made solid contributions on both ends of the court.

Junior (2007-08): Registered three rebounds, an assist and a block on 3/12 vs. Oregon State ... Collected two points and three rebounds at Oregon on 3/8 ... Tallied four points in three minutes at Oregon State on 3/6 ... Earned the first start of his career on 3/2 vs. UCLA ... Scored a season-high six points in a career-high 19 minutes to go with an assist and a block on 2/28 vs. USC ... Posted four rebounds and two blocks on 2/21 at Washington ... Played 12 minutes vs. Stanford on 2/16 ... Saw four minutes of action vs. California on 2/14 ... Played 12 minutes vs. Arizona State on 2/10 ... Missed two FG attempts and collected a rebound in four minutes at UCLA on 2/2 ... Grabbed a rebound and a bucket in one minute at USC on 1/31 ... Garnered a brief appearance (0+ minutes) vs. Washington on 1/26 ... Passed out his first assist of the season on 1/19 at California ... Tallied four points and two rebounds on 1/17 at Stanford ... Posted season-high totals of four points, five rebounds and an assist in 17 minutes at Houston on 1/12 ... Scored a bucket and grabbed a rebound in five minutes at Arizona State on 1/9 ... Tallied four points and a rebound on 1/5 vs. Oregon ... Collected a steal in two minutes vs. Oregon State on 1/3 ... Played a season-best 13 minutes on 12/29 at Memphis, collecting four points, a board and a steal ... Corralled two boards and a field goal on 12/22 vs. San Diego State in eight minutes ... Tallied a bucket and a rebound in three minutes of action on 12/16 vs. Fresno State ... Sat out much of the preseason and the first eight games due to shin problems.

Sophomore (2006-07): Finished the season shooting 55 percent from the field (11-of-20) in 14 appearances ... Hit his only FG attempt on 3/16 vs. Purdue ... Saw two minutes of action in Pac-10 Tournament vs. Oregon on 3/8 ... Collected three points and two boards in seven minutes at Stanford on 3/3, his first action in seven games ... An athletic and versatile player with ability to play inside and out ... Tallied four points and a rebound on 2/3 vs. Washington ... Equaled a season-high with three rebounds vs. North Carolina on 1/27 ... Collected a bucket and a board in 10 minutes vs. Arizona State on 1/24 ... Played one minute vs. Oregon on 1/14 ... JORDAN HILL

43 - FORWARD, 6-10, 235, JUNIOR

Atlanta, Ga. (The Patterson School N.C.)

General: No player has come as far in the last season and a half than Jordan Hill ... Has quickly become one of the Pac-10's best big men ... A big-time athlete and strong shot blocker who is quick off the floor ... Still learning the game, but continues to make rapid progress ... A player in the mold of Channing Frye — one not highly recruited out of high school, but has shown tremendous ability ... His work ethic should help him continue to improve.

2007-08 (Sophomore): An honorable mention all-Pac-10 and Pac-10 all-Defensive team selection ... Needs to stay out of foul trouble, as the Cats were 11-5 this season when he played 30 or more minutes ... Ended the season ranked first in the Pac-10 Conference with a .620 FG percentage (184-of-297), while ranking fourth in blocked shots (1.65 bpg) ... Ranked ninth on the UA single-season blocked shots list with 56 ... Registered a double-double vs. West Virginia in the NCAA Tournament with 16 points and 12 rebounds on 3/20 ... Notched 16 points and six rebounds on 3/13 vs. Stanford ... Hit all seven FG attempts to set a Pac-10 Tournament record for FG percentage en route to 16 points and eight rebounds on 3/12 vs. Oregon State ... Connected on 8-of-9 FGs en route to 16 points, nine boards and four blocks on 3/6 at Oregon State ... Hit 8-of-11 field goals to finish with 18 points and six rebounds vs. UCLA on 3/2 ... Scored a team-high 18 points (7-of-10 FG) to go with five boards and two blocks on 2/28 vs. USC ... Tallied 13 points and nine boards in 38 minutes at Washington State on 2/23 ... Posted his eighth double-double of the season (10 pts./13 reb.), but played just 24 minutes at Washington on 2/21 ... Collected his seventh double-double of the season with 21 points and 11 rebounds to go with two steals on 2/14 vs. California ... Grabbed 10 boards on 1/31 at USC, but struggled from the floor (3-of-10 FG) ... Registered his sixth double-double of the season (ninth career) with 16 points and 11 rebounds on 1/26 vs. Washington ... Collected 10 boards, first time in his career he's grabbed 10 or more boards and failed to notch a double-double, and a career-high six blocks on 1/24 vs. Washington State ... Registered 11 points, eight rebounds and three blocks on 1/17 at Stanford ... Recorded 17 points, (8-of-10 FG), nine rebounds and a career-high five blocks at Houston on 1/12 ... Collected his fifth double-double of the season with 18 points and 14 rebounds on 1/9 at Arizona State, where he equaled career bests for FGs (8) and FGA (18) ... Posted 12 points and seven rebounds vs. Oregon on 1/5 ... Tallied fourth double-double of the year with 20 points and 14 rebounds vs. Oregon State on 1/3 ... Scored all 14 points (7-8 FG) in the second half on 12/29 at Memphis, where he was limited to just 22 minutes due to foul trouble ... Posted his second straight double-double with 15 points (6-7 FG) and 10 rebounds to a pair of assists on 12/22 vs. San Diego State ... Notched his second double-double of the year with 16 points and a career-high 19 rebounds on 12/19 at UNLV, the most rebounds for a UA player since Nov. 20, 2000 ... Attempted a season-high 13 field goals vs. Fresno State, finishing with

JORDAN HILL'S HONORS

2007-08

- Pac-10 Player of the Week (Dec. 10)
- Honorable Mention all-Pac-10
- Honorable Mention all-Pac-10 Defensive team

15 points and nine rebounds ... Named Pac-10 Player of the Week on Dec. 10 after logging career highs of 23 points and 14 rebounds to go with three blocks and two steals on 12/8 vs. Illinois ... Played a season-high 32 minutes vs. Texas A&M on 12/2, totaling 13 points and five rebounds ... Posted 14 points and five boards vs. Virginia on 11/17.

2006-07 (Freshman): The biggest surprise of the freshman class ... Emerged as a shot-blocking presence in the middle with 18 blocks in his last 14 games ... Runs the floor and finishes well ... Ranked 10th in the conference with 0.90 blocks per game ... Posted his third double-double with 15 points (7-of-11 FG) and 14 rebounds, a figure that equaled a UA Pac-10 Tournament record, on 3/8 vs. Oregon ... Tallied 11 points and nine rebounds on 2/17 vs. UCLA ... Collected six points and six rebounds to go with his first collegiate assist on 2/15 vs. USC ... Collected his second double-double with 12 points and a season-best 11 rebounds in 35 minutes at Oregon State on 2/8 ... Posted game-high totals of 16 points (7-of-9 FG), eight rebounds and a UA season-high five blocks on 2/3 vs. Washington ... Posted his first career double-double with 13 points and 10 rebounds on 1/27 vs. North Carolina ... Broke out with career-best totals of 12 points (5-of-7 FG) and nine rebounds to go with two blocks in 32 minutes of his first career start on 1/24 vs. Arizona State ... Productivity continues to rise with four points, four boards and a block on 1/6 at Washington State ... Matched or set season highs of three FG, seven FGA and six boards on 12/28 vs. California ... Collected eight points, four boards and three blocks on 11/15 vs. Northern Arizona ... Tallied a blocked shot and a rebound in his collegiate debut on 11/12 at Virginia.

Fall 2006: Might have been the surprise of Arizona's Tour of Vancouver with a strong, athletic performance in the middle ... Averaged 8.2 points and 5.2 rebounds in five appearances, while shooting 51.7 percent (15-of-29) from the floor ... Posted two games with 10 or more points ... His best outing came on Sept. 3 vs. the Vancouver All-Stars where he totaled 11 points, seven rebounds, three assists and four steals in 19 minutes.

High School: Signed with Arizona during the November Early Signing Period ... Ranked as the No. 86 overall recruit and the No. 11 power forward prospect by hoopscooponline.com ... Prepped at The Patterson School in Patterson, N.C. ... Helped team to a 43-4 record as a senior ... Averaged 16.4 points, 10.3 rebounds and 4.2 blocked shots per game for his AAU team in 2006 ... Did not play organized basketball as a junior.

Personal: Born July 27, 1987 ... A sociology major.

NIC WISE

13 - GUARD, 5-10, 177, JUNIOR

Houston, Texas (Kingwood H.S.)

General: Proved to be one of the Pac-10's most productive guards, as he finished in the top 10 in three statistical categories ... Dropped more than 20 pounds since the end of 2006-07 and the resulting boost in quickness made him an asset on both ends of the court ... Better shot selection and fewer turnovers boosted his playing time as a sophomore and will continue to pay dividends.

2007-08 (Sophomore): Had arthroscopic surgery on his left knee on Feb. 5 and missed four weeks ... All 14 career double-figure point games came this season ... Had 103 assists and 48 steals in his last 20 games ... Ended the season ranked second in the Pac-10 in steals (2.0 spg), third in the league in 3-point FG percentage (.472), and fourth in assist:turnover ratio (2.00) ... Played most minutes of any reserve (29.4 mpg), though he had 11 starts to his credit ... Collected 12 points and three assists vs. West Virginia on 3/20 ... Posted 11 points, four boards, five assists and a blocked shot on 3/13 vs. Stanford ... Equaled a Pac-10 Tournament record with five steals (all in first half) to go with 15 points and eight assists on 3/12 vs. Oregon State ... Equaled a career high with eight assists to go with 12 points and three steals in 40 minutes at Oregon on 3/8 ... Played 34 minutes in his return from surgery on 3/6 at Oregon State and responded with 15 points, six assists on two steals ... Injured the knee on Jan. 31 at USC, but still played 68 minutes in the games at USC and UCLA ... Played 380 of 445 minutes in his last nine games (85 percent) before the injury ... Posted 12 points (4-of-5 FG), two assists and four steals on 2/2 at UCLA ... Passed out a career-high eight assists (zero turnovers) to go with 3-of-5 shooting from behind the arc on 1/31 at USC ... Hit 3-of-4 treys en route to 10 points vs. Washington State on 1/24 ... Scored 11 of his 15 points in the second half on 1/19 at California and grabbed a career-high seven rebounds to go with three assists and two steals ... Tallied 13 points, four rebounds and four steals on 1/17 at Stanford ... Played a career-high 41 minutes at Arizona State on 1/9, where he equaled a career-high with five rebounds and attempted five three-point field goals ... Sank a career-best 7-of-14 field goals en route to 16 points and seven assists in 40 minutes vs. Oregon on 1/5 ... Tallied career highs of 17 points, seven field goals and five steals on 1/3 vs. Oregon State ... Made his first career start on 12/29 at Memphis and equaled career highs with 12 points, four rebounds and four steals to go with five assists in 40 minutes ... Scored all 12 points (career high 5 FG) in the second half vs. San Diego State on 12/22 to go with four assists ... Posted career-high totals of 11 points, four rebounds and eight assists in 35 minutes played vs. Illinois on 12/8 ... Posted career-high tallies of six assists, three rebounds and 32 minutes played on 11/25 at Kansas ... Passed out a career-high three assists, blocked his first shot and collected two steals on 11/13 vs. Virginia ... Posted four points and an assist vs. Northern Arizona on 11/13.

2006-07 (Freshman): Registered an assist in four minutes vs. Purdue on 3/16 ... Totaled two points and a rebounds vs. Oregon on 3/8 ... Collected five points and a steal in 16 minutes at Stanford on 3/3 ... Played five minutes vs. Washington State on 2/1 ... Collected a steal in 11 minutes vs. North Carolina on 1/27 ... Posted a season best with two assists on 1/24 vs. Arizona State to go with a board in eight minutes ... Scored two points in two minutes at UCLA on 1/20 ... Tallied an assist and a steal in six minutes at USC on 1/18 ... Garnered three minutes at Washington on 1/4 ... Hit a trey and added a free throw in five minutes vs. Stanford on 12/30 ... Tallied four points and a rebound on 12/28 vs. California ... Saw five minutes of action vs. Memphis on 12/20 ... Collected three points, a rebound and an assist on 12/17 vs. Houston ... Posted four points, an assist and no turnovers in 13 minutes at San Diego State on 12/9 ... Tallied two points, an assist and two steals on 12/5 vs. Louisville ... Hit two FTs in three minutes vs. UNLV on 11/28 ... Set season highs with nine points, three FG and 19 minutes on 11/22 vs. Samford ... Grabbed a rebound and added an assist on 11/9 vs. New Mexico State ... Missed both three-point FG attempts vs. Northern Arizona on 11/15, but managed an assist and steal ... Collected five points, two rebounds and a steal in 15 minutes at Virginia on 11/12.

Fall 2006: Averaged 10 points, two assists and one steal in five appearances during UA's Tour of Vancouver ... Closed the tour with a 21-point (4-of-8 3-point FG), three-assist performance on Sept. 4 vs. British Columbia ... Wasn't afraid to take big shots as three of his field goals in that contest gave the Wildcats the lead in a tight game throughout

High School: Rated as the No. 26 overall prospect and the No. 4 point guard in the nation by Bob Gibbons' All-Star Sports Top 100 ... A proven winner, Wise completed his high school career with a 131-23 (.851), the most wins of any player in Texas Class 5A history ... Attended the same high school as former UA assistant coach Josh Pastner ... A four-year letterwinner at Kingwood High School for coach Royce Huseman ... Averaged 19 points, 8.0 assists, 6.0 rebounds and 4.0 steals per game as a senior ... Garnered all-22-5A District, all-regional and first-team all-state honors as both a junior and senior ... Named Texas Class 5A Player of the Year by the Texas Basketball Coaches Association and co-Mr. Basketball ... Averaged 18.0 points and 8.0 assists per game in 2004-05 to lead Kingwood to the Texas Class 5A state championship, where he was named tournament Most Valuable Player ... Along with UA teammate Chase Budinger, Wise was selected to the all-tournament team at the Nike Junior World Championships in Douai, France, in June 2006, where he led the tournament by averaging seven assists per game as Team USA went 6-0

Personal: Born Sept. 8, 1987, in Houston, Texas ... Full name is Dominique Giovanni Wise ... Son of Greg and LaVerie Wise ... Father is in realty and investments, mother is an assistant principal ... Father played basketball at Houston Baptist University (1976-80) ... Has a younger brother (Dondre) ... A sociology major.

RUSS PENNELL

INTERIM HEAD COACH

First Year at Arizona
Pittsburg State, 1989

Veteran college assistant Russ Pennell assumed the role of interim head coach at the University of Arizona on Oct. 24, 2008, in the wake of Lute Olson's retirement a day earlier. He will oversee all aspects of the program during the 2008-09 season.

Pennell returned to college basketball on May 5, 2008, when he joined the Wildcat staff, ending a two-year stint as the head of the Arizona Premier League in the Phoenix area. He also provided color commentary for the Arizona State University radio network during the 2007-08 season. Most recently, Pennell served as an assistant coach for Arizona State for eight seasons from 1998-2006.

"This is an exciting opportunity for me," said Pennell. "I look forward to the challenge of leading this program. As the son of a former coach and one who has spent his life around the game of basketball, I'm humbled to get a chance to lead such a storied program. The proud tradition of this program is unparalleled."

While working for the Sun Devils under coach Rob Evans, the program amassed a 119-120 (.498) record that included one NCAA Tournament berth (2003) and three trips to the N.I.T. A highly competitive person, Pennell has long been considered an excellent tactician with an outstanding work ethic.

Prior to his tenure in Tempe, Ariz., Pennell served on Evans' staff at the University of Mississippi for six seasons (1992-98). In that span, the Rebels went 86-81 (.515) and made back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances in 1997 and 1998. In those two seasons, Mississippi won the Southeastern Conference West Division championship and won at least 20 games. It was the first time the program had posted consecutive 20-win seasons in 60 years.

He began his coaching career at Oklahoma State University from 1990-92. In those two seasons, the Cowboys went 52-16 (.765) under coach Eddie Sutton. During the 1990-91 campaign, the Cowboys shared the Big Eight Conference championship with a 24-8 overall record and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. The following year, OSU posted a 28-8 record, was ranked as high as No. 2 in the Associated Press Top 25 poll. The Cowboys advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 in both of Pennell's seasons in Stillwater.

"Russ is a veteran assistant coach with a wealth of coaching experience," said Arizona director of athletics Jim Livengood. "His experience of working in three of the best basketball conferences in the nation will serve us well."

Pennell, 47, earned a degree in physical education from Pittsburg State University in 1989 and received his master's in P.E. from PSU in 1990.

Before joining the coaching profession, Pennell played for the Spirit Express, a traveling exhibition team from Memphis, Tenn., from 1984-88.

His collegiate playing career began at Arkansas, playing under Eddie Sutton in 1979-80. The Razorbacks finished second in the Southwest Conference. Pennell transferred to Central Arkansas in 1981 and was a two-year starter at point guard. As a senior, he led the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference with 8.2 assists per game. He was a teammate of Scottie Pippen on the 1983-84 squad.

A native of Pittsburg, Kan., Pennell is a 1979 graduate of Pittsburg High School, where he played for his father, Dewey, and was an all-state performer. As a senior, he helped his school maintain the No. 2 ranking in the state throughout the season.

Pennell is a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and is extremely active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He and his wife, Julie, were married in 1986 and have two daughters, Morgan Rachel, (born May 1, 1996) and Emily Katherine (Oct. 26, 1999).

MIKE DUNLAP

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

First Year at Arizona
Loyola Marymount, 1980

Mike Dunlap joined the University of Arizona staff as the associate head coach on May 15, 2008, and brings with him an incredible amount of success on both the collegiate and professional levels.

Dunlap, 50, joins the NCAA Division I ranks after spending the last two seasons as an assistant coach with the National Basketball Association's Denver Nuggets. While working under head coach George Karl, the Nuggets compiled a 95-69 (.579) record and made two playoff appearances. The 2007-08 club won 50 games, a first for the organization in 23 seasons.

"I'm very excited to be a part of the University of Arizona and to help Coach Olson further the rich tradition of Arizona basketball," said Dunlap. "My family and I look forward to being a part of this program and to the Tucson community."

Prior to joining the Nuggets, Dunlap, a two-time National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) Coach of the Year and winner of two national championships, was the head coach at Metropolitan State College, for nine seasons. In his nine years at the Denver, Colo., school, Dunlap posted a 248-50 (.832) record.

During his tenure, Dunlap built the Roadrunners into a nationally prominent program. With national championships in 1999-2000 and 2001-02 and nine consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, Dunlap quickly became Metro State's all-time winningest basketball coach.

In May 2006, he was a court coach for the Under-18 National Team trials for USA Basketball. He also was a court coach at the 2005 USA Men's Under-22 National Team trials.

In 2003-04, Dunlap led Metro State to a school-record 30 consecutive victories, including a perfect 19-0 mark in Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference (RMAC) play. It was the first time an RMAC team went undefeated in league play since Fort Hays State did it in 1995-96. The Roadrunners led the nation in margin of victory (28.1 points) and were third in scoring offense (93.4 ppg).

Metro State won its second national championship in 2001-02, defeating Kentucky Wesleyan, 80-72. Dunlap was named the NABC and the Bulletin Division II Coach of the Year. The squad posted a 29-6 record and finished second in the RMAC, but after a loss in the RMAC Tournament, the Roadrunners won six straight games to win the national title.

Dunlap's first national championship came in 1999-2000, also a win over Kentucky Wesleyan, 97-79. The Roadrunners tied for the RMAC regular-season championship, won the RMAC Tournament title and went 33-4 after winning their final 12 contests. The 33 wins is a school record and Dunlap was honored as the NABC National Coach of the Year and the RMAC Coach of the Year.

"We're glad that Mike chose to join our staff," said Olson. "We feel very fortunate to add a coach to our staff that has his experience and ability. He's a great coach and an even better family man and I'm looking forward to working with him."

Prior to his tenure at Metro State, Dunlap served three seasons as the head coach of the Adelaide 36ers, a professional team in Australia. The 36ers posted a 59-33 (.641) record during his tenure and advanced to the National Basketball League Final Four in 1995 and 1996.

Before arriving in Australia, Dunlap served five years as head coach at California Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks, Calif. He led his 1992, 1993 and 1994 teams to Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC) titles and appearances in the NCAA Division III National Championship. The Kingsmen also advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1992 and 1994. The Kodak District Coach of the Year in 1994, Dunlap was 80-54 (.597) in his five seasons, and his 1993-94 team was ranked No. 1 for two weeks during the season.

Dunlap also served as an assistant coach at the University of Southern California under George Raveling, as an assistant coach at the University of Iowa and he spent five years at Loyola Marymount University.

Dunlap, who prides himself in teaching the game of basketball, has had several articles published nationally, including Shooting: The Simple Approach (1990), The Free Throw (1990), Let Your Feet Do the Talking (1989), Motion Offense (1987) and Basic Framework for Achieving Academic Eligibility for Your Players (1987).

A native of Fairbanks, Alaska, Dunlap earned as associate of arts degree in science from Pierce College in 1978, before earning a bachelor's degree in English from Loyola Marymount University in 1980. An avid runner, Dunlap has a 100-mile race to his credit.

Dunlap and his wife, Mollie, have three children, Holt, Spencer and Ellie.

REGGIE GEARY

ASSISTANT COACH

Second Year at Arizona
Arizona, 2005

Former UA standout Reggie Geary returns to the Wildcat coaching staff after spending the majority of the last two seasons as the head coach of the Anaheim Arsenal in the National Basketball Association's Development League. Prior to that, Geary served as Arizona's recruiting and basketball operations coordinator during the 2005-06 campaign.

"My family and I are excited to come back to a program, a university and a community that we hold so dear," said Geary. "I've learned a great deal over the last two years away from this program and I'm eager to get back and work alongside Coach Olson."

Geary amassed a 36-39 (.480) record in guiding the D-League's Arsenal. First hired as an assistant coach, he was promoted to head coach mid way through the 2006-07 season, leading the team to a 13-12 record over the final 25 games of the season. His 2007-08 club posted a 23-27 record and finished fourth in the West Division.

Geary originally joined the Wildcat staff as an assistant coach on June 2, 2005, before shifting to the recruiting and basketball operations coordinator in August 2005, where he handled all recruiting organization and supervised the program's daily office operations.

He spent the 2004-05 season as the assistant varsity boy's basketball coach at Tucson's Flowing Wells High School. While at FWHS, he was primarily responsible for individual workouts for both guards and post players, scouting, and game-day preparation. Geary helped the Caballeros to a 17-10 record in 2004-05 and an appearance in the 5A state playoffs.

His foray into coaching came after a highly successful eight-year professional playing career that took him around the world. A second-round pick by the Cleveland Cavaliers in the 1996 NBA Draft, Geary played two seasons in the NBA and averaged 2.1 points, 1.1 assists and 9.2 minutes per game in 101 career games played with the Cavaliers (1996-97) and the San Antonio Spurs (1997-98).

"We're happy to have Reggie back on the staff," said Olson. "I think the D-League was a good experience for him and I know he and his family are excited to be back in Tucson. This will be an easy transition for everyone."

Geary also spent two seasons in the Continental Basketball Association (1998-2000) before playing professionally in Israel, Portugal, France and the Ukraine. His closed his playing career in 2003-04 with B.C. Kiev in the Ukraine. Additionally, Geary served as an NBA/NBDL Ambassador in Argentina and Brazil in 2001.

One of the finest defenders in Arizona basketball history, Geary was a four-year letterwinner for the Wildcats from 1992-96 and earned all-Pac-10 Conference and NABC all-District 15 honors as a senior. In 127 career appearances (101 starts), Geary averaged 7.0 points, 3.1 rebounds and 4.4 assists per game.

During his UA career, Geary, a 6-foot-2 guard from Santa Ana, Calif., led the Wildcats to a 104-23 (.819) record, two Pac-10 championships (1992, 1994) and a berth in the 1994 Final Four. He closed his career as Arizona's all-time steals leader (208) and ranked third in assists (560). He still ranks fourth and sixth in those categories, respectively. As a senior in 1995-96, Geary became just the third player in Arizona history to pass out 200 or more assists in a single season (231).

Geary earned his B.A. degree in political science from Arizona in May 2005. He and his wife, Candace, have two sons, Quincy, 4, and Wesley, 1.

MATT BRASE

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT/VIDEO COORDINATOR

Third Year at Arizona
Arizona, 2005

Former Wildcat letterman Matt Brase was named administrative assistant/video coordinator in October 2006. Brase will aid the program's video scouting efforts, while also filling the capacity of administrative assistant.

Brase, 26, returned to the Arizona program after playing for the Wildcats from 2003-05. Since graduation in 2005, Brase was employed by Hamilton Aerospace Technologies. During the summer of 2006, he was the assistant coordinator of the Arizona Cactus Classic, a national AAU tournament.

"It's an honor to be back in this program," said Brase. "I am excited to get started. I can't think of a better place to begin my coaching career than at the University of Arizona."

Brase averaged 0.7 points and 0.5 rebounds in 26 appearances during his collegiate career playing for his grandfather. He posted career-high totals of four points and four rebounds against Oregon on Feb. 20, 2005, his final McKale Center appearance. He graduated in May of 2005 with a degree in business management. He is a member of Phi Beta Lambda and Phi Theta Kappa.

Prior to his Arizona career, Brase played two seasons at Central Arizona College, where he earned all-region and honorable mention all-Arizona Community College Athletic Conference honors and helped the Vaqueros to the 2002 NJCAA national finals in Hutchinson, Kan. He averaged 14.6 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.3 assists per game as a sophomore.

BRET BRIELMAIER

UNDERGRADUATE ASSISTANT COACH

Fifth Year at Arizona

After spending the last four seasons on the Wildcat roster as a forward, Bret Brielmaier moves into the coaching ranks in 2008-09 as the team's undergraduate assistant coach. Brielmaier has all of the responsibilities as the three full-time assistant coaches with the exception of off campus recruiting.

A former walk-on who played his way into the regular frontline rotation and a scholarship, Brielmaier averaged 1.7 points and 1.9 rebounds per game in 92 appearances (11 starts), while shooting .567 (59-of-104) from the field. His best year was his senior campaign in 2007-08, where he averaged 2.7 points and 2.9 rebounds per game to go with a .714 (25-of-35) field goal percentage. He made nine starts as a senior and averaged nearly 14 minutes per game.

He scored a career-best eight points on two occasions, most recently at UCLA on Feb. 2, 2008, and grabbed a career-high 10 rebounds in the NCAA Tournament vs. Wisconsin on March 17, 2006.

A first-team Pac-10 All-Academic team honoree in 2007-08, Brielmaier is completing his degree requirements in education.

JUSTIN KOKOSKIE

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Ninth Year at Arizona
Pittsburgh, 2000

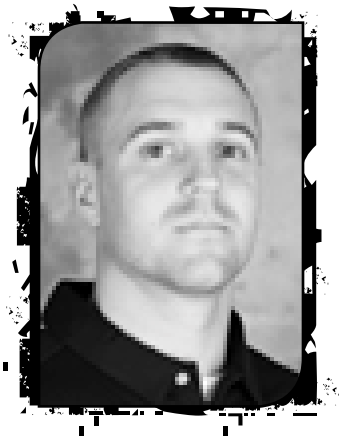

Justin Kokoskie is in his seventh year as the head men's basketball athletic trainer. He handles the daily medical and health-related concerns of the players. Kokoskie is involved in the prevention, treatment and constant care of the players' injuries. He also educates the student-athletes so that they can remain healthy and return to the basketball court.

In addition to his basketball duties, Kokoskie also serves as the head athletic trainer for Arizona's nationally ranked men's and women's golf teams. Prior to joining the men's basketball program in 2002-03, Kokoskie spent the previous two seasons at Arizona as the athletic trainer for women's soccer and football. He also serves as an adjunct instructor at the university where he teaches an undergraduate sports medicine class.

In his spare time, Kokoskie serves as the personal caddie for his friend and former UA All-American and current professional golfer Chris Nallen. A former college golfer himself, Kokoskie was on the bag as Nallen won his first professional tournament, the Nationwide Tour's Gila River Classic at Wild Horse Pass Resort, by eight strokes on Oct. 10, 2004.

Kokoskie graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in May 2000 with a B.S. in sports medicine. He earned his master's degree in education from Arizona in 2002 and is currently completing work on his Ph.D.

Kokoskie was married in June 2002 to the former Laura (Katie) Fischer. The couple has one son, Jackson, born in October 2005, and Gianna, born in April 2008.

JIM KRUMPOS

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT

Fifth Year at Arizona
Arizona, 2004

Associate director of performance enhancement Jim Krumpos rejoined the Wildcat staff in February 2008. He is directly responsible for the strength and conditioning duties for the men's basketball program.

Krumpos came back to Tucson after serving as the director of strength and conditioning at Cal State Fullerton in 2007-08. While a member of the Titan staff, he was directly responsible for designing and implementing the year-round strength and conditioning programs for all 13 intercollegiate sports.

He spent four years at UNC Charlotte (2003-07) as an assistant strength and conditioning coach, directly responsible for men's and women's tennis, volleyball, baseball, men's and women's soccer, and women's basketball. He earned a master's degree in liberal studies in May, 2006. His master's project was titled "A Handbook for UNC Charlotte Freshmen on Proper Exercise and Nutritional Habits in Order to Promote Good Health and Academic Success."

Krumpos began his career at the University of Arizona, where he graduated with a degree in Interdisciplinary Studies in 2004 with emphasis in three areas: psychology, physiology, and physical education. He worked in the Arizona strength and conditioning program for three and half years and was responsible for their nationally ranked baseball program, as well as the cross country teams. He also assisted with the strength and conditioning efforts with the Wildcat football, women's basketball, women's soccer and swimming and diving programs.

In his nine-year career, Krumpos has had the good fortune of working with athletes in all levels of professional sports as well, including athletes in the NBA, NFL, MLB, Arena Football, Olympic Medalists, and minor league baseball.

His current certifications include: CSCS, USAW Club Coach, Functional Strength Training for Contact Sports, Kettleball Training for Optimal Performance, and P.I.C.P strength and conditioning specialist level 2.

Krumpos and his wife, Kristin, reside in Tucson.

COACH O

LUTE OLSON

ARIZONA HEAD COACH — 1983-2007

Record at Arizona: 589-187 (24 years)
Career Record: 780-280 (34 years)

How do you summarize the career of Lute Olson? Somehow, Hall of Fame just doesn't suffice.

In a career that spanned 49 seasons and included six decades, there have been treasure trove of moments that made Olson's career one to behold.

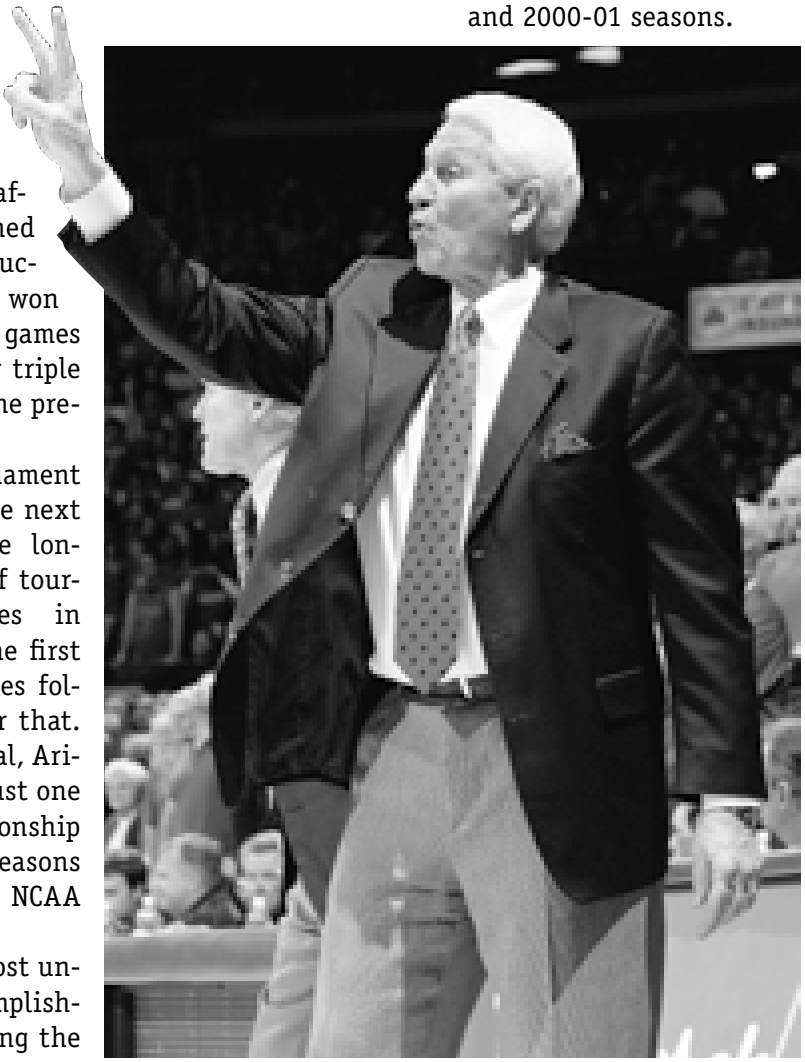

He burst into major college basketball consciousness in 1973-74 with 24 wins and a .923 winning percentage in his first season as a Division I coach at Long Beach State. Five years later, at Iowa, Olson's Hawkeyes won 20 games and a Big Ten championship, Iowa's first in nine years.

Hired at Arizona on March 29, 1983, Olson's efforts were immediately apparent. Just a season after a 4-24 record opened the door for him in Tucson, his Wildcats won six of its last eight games in 1983-84 to nearly triple the win total from the previous season.

An NCAA Tournament berth followed in the next year, beginning the longest active streak of tournament appearances in the nation, while the first of his 11 Pac-10 titles followed a season after that. Prior to Olson's arrival, Arizona had captured just one conference championship in the previous 29 seasons and earned three NCAA Tournament berths.

One of Olson's most underappreciated accomplishments occurred during the summer of 1986. It was then that Olson guided a collection of college players to the World Championship in Madrid, Spain. Olson is the last coach to win a major international men's basketball championship with a roster made completely of amateur athletes.

He guided Arizona to the top of the polls for the first time in school history on Dec. 21, 1987. In fact, Arizona has been the No. 1 team in the country for 30 different polling periods, with the last coming on five consecutive occasions in 2002-03. This ranking also occurred during the 1988-89, 1990-91, 1996-97, 1997-98 and 2000-01 seasons.

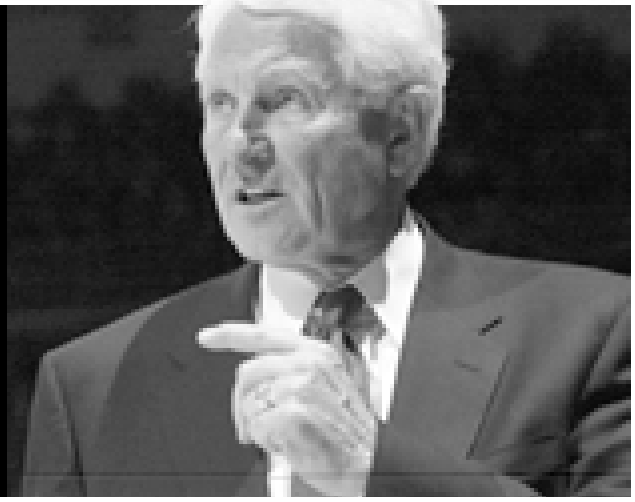

Olson led Arizona to the Final Four for the first time during that magical1988 season in which the program vaulted into the national conscience. Spurred by a 35-3 record, Arizona would hold the nation's best cumulative winning percentage for the next 18 seasons.

In that span, Arizona won 10 Pac-10 championships, averaged better than 25 wins per season, advanced to 10 Sweet 16s, including four Final Fours (1988, 1994, 1997, 2001), and won 71 straight games at McKale Center – the 10th longest homecourt streak in NCAA history.

Olson and the Cats reached the pinnacle of the college basketball world in 1997 when he turned a middle-of-the-pack Pac-10 squad into a champion. Along the way, UA polished off the three winningest programs in college basketball history and three No. 1 seeds to earn the school's first national championship.

To this day, the '97 Wildcats are the only squad in NCAA Tournament history to defeat three No. 1 seeds in the same tournament.

Dwelling on only the postseason would overlook a wealth of wonderful regular season moments. For any Wildcat fan, these are as memorable as any: Pete Williams downs Arizona State…twice; McClutch; the 1988 Fiesta Bowl Classic; the Duke double-OT win; Khalid goes coast to coast; Damon's double-OT effort in Pullman; Miles drains a 70-footer to give Lute his 500th win; Dickerson at UCLA; Michael Wright sinks No. 1 Stanford; Jason, Luke and Ricky erase two 20-point deficits in 2002; Andre's triple-doubles, Salim's three game-winners in 2005 and Radenovic's herculean effort at Stanford in 2007.

Those regular-season wins only spotlighted what was Olson's continuous effort to face only the best, no matter the location. True to his rugged North Dakota roots, Olson believed that the best way to challenge his team was to play the toughest opponents. No cupcakes. No games against Podunk State. He often said that you learn far more from a tough loss than you ever would from a blowout win.

So the Wildcats annually played the best in the nation. Since his arrival, Arizona played 49 non-conference, regular-season games against teams that played in the Final Four later that same season. Further, the Wildcats matched wits with a team that played in the NCAA title game in 11 of his last 13 seasons.

Additionally, Olson amassed a 103-79 (.566) record in games against nationally raked opponents. In total, UA faced 74 ranked non-conference opponents during Olson's tenure in Tucson.

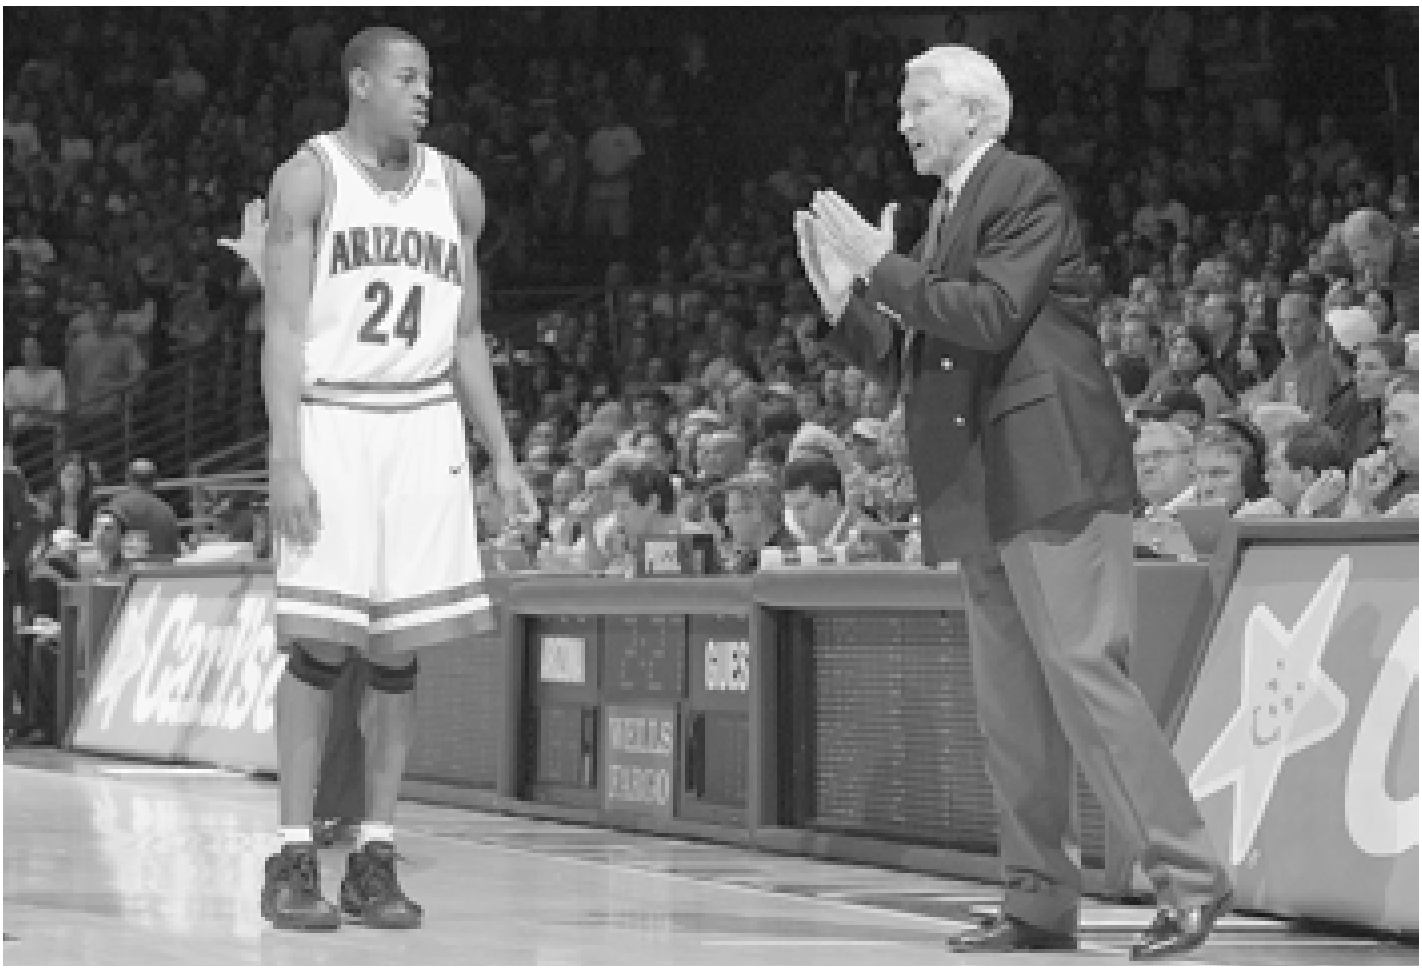

You may have admired Olson for his dogged determination to annually line up a tough schedule, but you could also relate to the work ethic that was as much a part of him as the blue collar on his game day sport coat. He was a guy who worked his way up the professional ladder. Olson coached for 12 years on the high school level in Minnesota and California, often working two jobs, while helping to raise five children.

Olson's Wildcat squads finished the season ranked in the top 10 in one or both major college basketball polls in eight of his last 11 seasons and 14 times overall. In fact, Arizona has finished the season with a national ranking in 18 of the last 20 years. As a testament to his long-term greatness, CBS-TV included Olson on its list of the "Ten Greatest Coaches in College Basketball History" during the 2003 Final Four.

Olson was 39 years old when he got the job at Long Beach State in 1973 with 283 career wins under his belt. And as he worked his way into the pantheon of college coaches, you cheered his successes, but also related to his failures. Of his 378 defeats, there were some tough ones – most of those in March. Nine times he lost in the NCAA Tournament first round. Three more came in regional finals and three others in the Final Four. Interestingly, Olson can claim to have finished first, second, third and fourth in the NCAA Tournament. One cannot approach greatness without experiencing failure along the way.

So now the man with a sideline demeanor that would make Rudyard Kipling proud has retired. Gone from the position he's occupied along the sideline and in our minds for the last quarter century.

However, one question still remains. What was his greatest accomplishment?

Simply put, he gave Wildcat fans something to be proud of. He turned a seemingly remote western outpost into a college basketball destination. He asked for our help when he was laying the foundation of his dynasty and his successes became ours as well. In the end, it was a wonderful partnership.

Perhaps Arizona Daily Star columnist Greg Hansen said it best in a piece he wrote in the 2007-08 UA media guide, commemorating Olson's 25th season as the UA head coach. A season, unfortunately, that never happened.

"No man in the history of this town, not Pancho Villa or John Wayne, has done more to make us feel better about ourselves than Lute Olson. His once-modest basketball program has become such a source of community pride that we, through him, have come to feel like winners."

These numbers – familiar to all of us – don't tell the whole story, but they are awe inspiring:

- 9,341 days as the Arizona head coach
- 1,063 victories covering all levels. Olson is one of only 17 coaches in the history of the game of basketball to win more than 1,000 games in his career. To put his impact into perspective, Olson won 1,008 more games in his coaching career than James Naismith, the man who invented the game in 1891
- 780 victories on the Division I level. Entering the 2008-09 season, that win total was the eighth highest in NCAA history
- 589 victories at Arizona, making Olson the winningest coach in program history
- 327 victories in Pac-10 Conference play. That's more wins than any other coach in league history, including John Wooden
- 312 consecutive weeks ranked in the Associated Press regular season poll, a national record
- Twenty-nine 20-win seasons, making him one of only three coaches in NCAA history to records as many 20-win seasons
- 28 NCAA Tournament appearances, including 23 consecutive at Arizona
- 19 All-Americans
- 12 conference championships with 11 of those coming at Arizona
- Nine conference coach-of-the-year honors, including seven times in the Pac-10
- Five Final Four berths. Olson is one of only 11 coaches to appear in five or more Final Fours
- Three 30-win campaigns
- One national championship

PLEASE NOTE: This list should not be considered all-inclusive, but was compiled based on information provided by the National Basketball Association (NBA), National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Federation of State High School Associations (HFHS) and the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. All records for coaches with NBA experience include playoff victories. Records for active coaches (*) are through games of the 2007-08 season. Auerbach's victory total does not include his four seasons as a high school coach.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Olson's Wildcat squads finished the season ranked in the top 10 in one or both major college basketball polls in eight of his last 11 seasons and 14 times overall. In fact, Arizona has finished the season with a national ranking in 18 of the last 20 years.
- Lute Olson is one only three coaches in NCAA history to record 29 or more 20-win seasons. His streak of 20 consecutive was the longest active streak in the nation for any one coach.
- At Arizona alone, 19 of his players earned a total of 61 All-America accolades. Additionally, Arizona players have earned all-Pacific-10 Conference honors 47 times since 1984.
- Olson is one of just 17 coaches to win 1,000 or more games in a career, covering all levels of basketball from high school to professional. He is one of only two mentors to win a majority of his games on the collegiate level, as 780 of his 1,063 victories (73.4 percent) have come on the NCAA Division I level. Of the other 15 coaches, nine earned the majority of wins in professional basketball, while six accomplished the feat exclusively on the high school level.
- Olson's 780 career victories ranked second and his .736 career winning percentage ranks fourth among active NCAA Division I coaches with at least 10 years of experience entering the 2008-09 season.
- Lute Olson is one of 10 coaches in college history to coach in five or more Final Fours.
- Olson is one of 11 coaches who have taken two different teams to the Final Four. Olson's five Final Four appearances are tied for the most in that group of 11 coaches.
- Olson's (23) and Arizona's string of 24 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances is the longest current streak in college basketball. Further, it's the second longest in NCAA history, trailing only North Carolina's 27 consecutive appearances (1975-2001).
- Olson's 27 NCAA Tournament appearances ranked first among active coaches heading into 2008-09.
- Olson's 46 NCAA Tournament wins are the fifth-most in NCAA history.
- Olson's 1997 Arizona National Championship team was the first and only squad in NCAA history to beat three No. 1 seeds in the same tournament.
- Olson guided Arizona to 11 NCAA Sweet 16 appearances in his last 21 years and a 24-11 record in the Cats' last 35 NCAA tournament games.
- Olson produced 53 NBA Draft picks, including 32 at Arizona. No school in the Pac-10 has produced as many first round picks in the last 25 years than Arizona's 13.
- Since the NBA Draft was shortened to two rounds in 1989, Arizona leads the nation with 29 total selections. Thirteen of those selections were first-rounders, including nine Lottery Picks.
- Olson has had 14 former players appear in the NBA Finals in the last 13 seasons. In that time span, nine former Cats have earned world championship rings.

SEASON IN REVIEW

2007-08 SEASON IN REVIEW

Season Recap:

Arizona (19-15, 8-10 Pac-10) earned a berth in its 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament ... The Cats' 24 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances is the longest active streak in all NCAA divisions and is the second-longest streak in Division I history ... UA posted a six-game win streak and was 10-3 entering conference play ... Arizona had three players score 450 points or more and saw four players log more than 1,000 minutes played.

Arizona in the National Statistical Rankings:

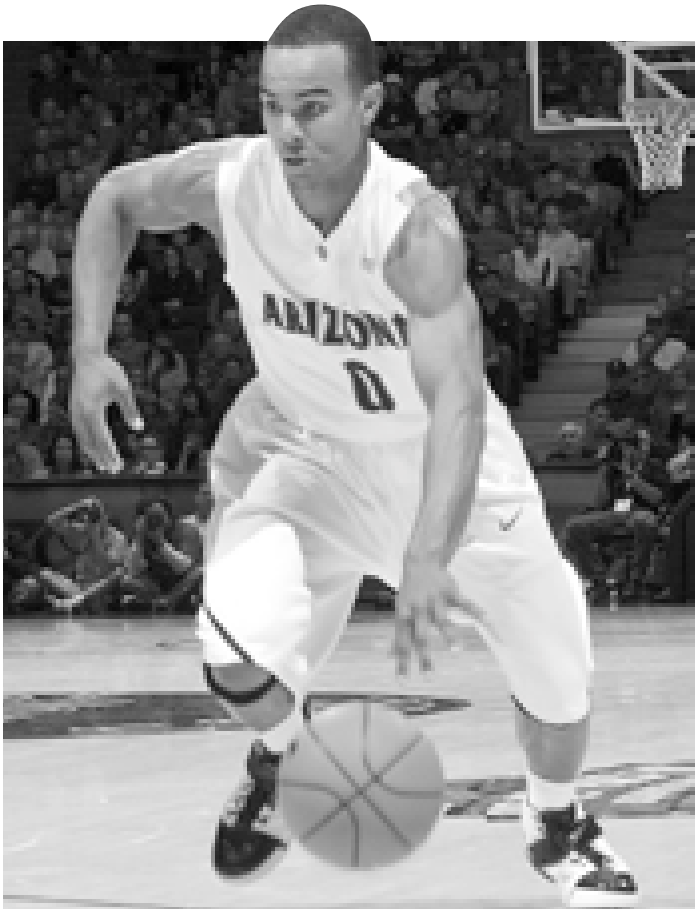

As a team, Arizona ranked in the top 30 nationally in five statistical categories: assist:turnover ratio (1.27/19th), free throw percentage (.749/20th), field goal percentage (.478/21st), three-point field goal percentage (.390 /25th) and turnovers per game (12.2 /26th). Individually, UA players ranked in the top 50 of four categories: Jerryd Bayless, scoring average (19.7 ppg/37th); Jordan Hill, field goal percentage (.620/10th); and Nic Wise, assist:turnover ratio (2.16/44th) and steals per game (2.0 spg/45th).

The Beat Goes On:

As mentioned above, Arizona made its 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, which is the longest active streak and second longest tournament appearance streak in NCAA history. The streak trails only North Carolina, which made 27 straight appearances from 1975-2001. Regarding the active streak, each of the top five teams made it into the 2008 NCAA Tournament (Arizona 24, Kansas 19, Kentucky 17, Duke 13, Michigan State 11).

All-America:

Jerryd Bayless was a second-team All-American as selected by Sports Illustrated. Bayless is the 22nd Wildcat to earn a total of 85 All-America honors since 1950-51. Additionally, he is the first UA freshman to earn All-America kudos since Jason Gardner in 2000 and the first Wildcat of any sort to earn such accolades since Channing Frye and Salim Stoudamire in 2004-05.

All-Region:

Two Arizona players earned all-region honors in voting released by the NABC and the USBWA. Jerryd Bayless was a first team all-District 15 pick by the NABC, while Chase Budinger claimed second team honors. Additionally, Bayless was an all-District IX selection by the USBWA.

All-Conference:

Four Arizona players earned all-Pac-10 honors in voting released March 10 by the league's head coaches. Jerryd Bayless was a second team all-conference honoree, while Chase Budinger was a second-team pick. Additionally, Jordan Hill was an honorable mention all-league and all-defensive team selection and Jawann McClellan was an honorable mention all-defensive team honoree. Bayless also was named to the all-freshman team.

Keys to Victory:

Look no further than the field goal percentage column as an indicator of UA success. The Cats were a spotless 15-0 when shooting better than their opponents and 4-15 when not. On the year, UA shot 47.8 percent from the field (843-of-1,765), a figure that was 37 percentage points higher than the opposition. UA held foes to less than 40 percent shooting nine times in 2007-08. Additionally, the Cats were 13-0 when shooting 50 percent or better from the floor.

Shouldering the Load:

Arizona's regular starters accounted for 88.3 percent (2,158 of 2,443) of the scoring. No matter your perspective, the 285 points contributed by the UA bench was the is the fewest by percentage in school history, going back to 1931-32, the first year on file with complete individual statistics.

Get on the Glass:

Rebounding was an Arizona area of concern all year long, as the club posted a -1.6 rebound margin during the season, the program's worst effort since 1982-83. During Pac-10 play it was even worse at -4.5. When Arizona outrebounded the opposition, the club was 8-2. All told, the Wildcats were outrebounded in 14 of 18 Pac-10 games.

Young and Productive:

Make no mistake about the 2007-08 Wildcats — they were a very young bunch. There were seven freshmen and sophomores on the 15-man roster, including four in the probable starting lineup, and that septet accounted for 81 percent of the scoring, 65 percent of the rebounding, 72 percent of the assists and 66 percent of the minutes played.

A Rarity Around Here:

Jerryd Bayless narrowly missed becoming the first freshman and 15th player in school history to score at least 600 points in a season. At the Pac-10 Tournament, Bayless passed Coniel Norman (576 points in 1972-73) as the highest-scoring freshman in Arizona history, but finished the season with 592 points. Salim Stoudamire (662 points in 2004-05) was the last Wildcat to score 600 points in a season.

Better With Age:

Sophomore forward Chase Budinger continued to play under the weight of high expectations, and it should be stated that the 6-foot-7 forward continued to produce and improve. In 34 games, Budinger improved on nearly every statistical category, most notably minutes per game (35.3), three-point FG percentage (.380), assists (2.9 apg) and scoring (17.1 ppg). He is just the sixth player in Arizona history to score 1,000 career points as a sophomore.

Center Of Attention:

Forward Jordan Hill finished the year as the Pac-10 leader with a 62.0 (184-of-297) FG percentage. What's interesting is that the 6-foot-10 sophomore averaged just 8.7 attempts per game, third on the team. He ranked fourth on the team in minutes played (29.4), which may underscore his true value. When Hill played 30 minutes or more, UA was 11-5 and he took an average of 12.6 shots. When that number is 29 or fewer, the team was 8-10 with just 5.5 attempts. As a freshman, Hill averaged 4.7 points, 4.1 rebounds and 14.1 minutes played in 29 games.

Might Be Most Valuable:

Nic Wise proved his worth this year by averaging 9.2 points, 2.3 boards and 4.4 assists per game. He ranked third among Pac-10 players in assists per game and three-point FG percentage (.481), second in steals (2.03 spg) and fourth in assist:turnover ratio (2.15). He missed seven games due to knee surgery and the Cats were 16-7 with both Wise and Jerryd Bayless in the line-up.

Scoring 80:

Perhaps no statistic is more telling of UA success, as the squad is 170-19 (.899) since the start of the 1997-98 season when scoring at least 80 points. Arizona was 8-0 in 2007-08 when topping the 80-point plateau

BRET BRIELMAIER

44 - FORWARD, 6-6, 237, SENIOR

Mankato, Minn. (Loyola H.S.)

General: Proved to be a hard worker from his first day in the program and played his way into a key frontline role that saw him make nine starts as a senior ... Adds depth in the post with increasing productivity as his scoring and rebounding improved in each season ... Tenacious on the glass and yet the most fun-loving guy on the squad ... Injuries limited him in both his junior (knee) and senior (shoulder) seasons ... Saw action in 30 games as a sophomore, including the first two starts of his career, and posted his first double-figure scoring effort vs. Wisconsin in the NCAA Tournament.

2007-08 (Senior): A key part of the frontline rotation, as he averaged nearly 15 minutes per game ... Shoulder injury kept his playing status on a game-by-game basis, which caused him to miss a total of 13 games ... Totaled three points and two boards in seven minutes vs. West Virginia on 3/20 ... Registered three boards and a steal on 3/13 vs. Stanford ... Hit only FGA and grabbed two boards on 3/12 vs. Oregon State ... Collected two points and three rebounds on 3/8 at Oregon ... Made his first appearance in eight games and responded with three rebounds and an assist in 12 minutes at Oregon State on 3/6 ... Scored a season-high eight points at UCLA on 1/31 in 16 minutes played — his first action in four games ... DNP in the four games from Jan. 19-31 ... Tallied a field goal and a rebound on 1/17 at Stanford ... Re-aggravated his right shoulder on 1/9 at Arizona State, which limited him to only four minutes ... Collected two points, two rebounds and an assist on 1/5 vs. Oregon ... Returned from shoulder injury on 1/3 vs. Oregon State, totaling six rebounds and four points ... Shoulder injury kept him out of game 12/29 at Memphis ... Separated his right shoulder on 12/22 vs. San Diego State, where he collected four points, two boards and an assist ... Earned a start, but logged just one minute on 12/19 at UNLV ... Tallied four points, five rebounds, two assists and zero turnovers in 27 minutes vs. Fresno State on 12/16 ... Grabbed two boards in seven minutes vs. Illinois on 12/8 ... Played a career-best 31 minutes vs. Texas A&M on 12/2 and totaled five points, five boards and a career-best two steals ... GAME 1

No. 17 Arizona 76, Northern Arizona 69
Nov. 13, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Chase Budinger and Jawann McClellan combined to hit 17-of-17 free throw attempts and Arizona needed every one in the seven-point win. Outrebounded (39-31) and hampered by poor shooting (38.3 %), the Cats' 24-12 free throw advantage provided the difference. Jerryd Bayless added 18 points and five assists as UA collected more blocked shots (7) than turnovers (5).

GAME 2

Virginia 75, No. 17 Arizona 72
Nov. 17, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Virginia built an 11-point halftime lead on the strength of nine first half treys and withstood an Arizona rally to earn the three-point win. Trailing by one with 26 seconds to go, Arizona forced a five-second call, but responded with a turnover of its own on the ensuing inbounds play and couldn't get a potential tying field goal on its final possession. Jerryd Bayless led all Cats with 21 points, including 13 in the second half.

GAME 3

Arizona 81, UMKC 62
Nov. 19, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Daniel Dillon scored a career-high 14 points, including nine points in an 11-0 UA second-half run that broke the game open, to lead the Wildcats to victory. The run covered just 1:31 and pushed the lead to 22 points. Dillon, who did not miss a shot all game, helped the Cats shoot better than 64 percent from the field. Freshman Jerryd Bayless (20 pts./9 reb./9 ast.) was a rebound and an assist shy of a triple-double.

GAME 4

Arizona 88, Adams State 64
Nov. 21, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Jordan Hill scored 17 points to lead six Wildcats in double figures as UA pulled away late from a scrappy Adams State club. Hill knocked down all seven field goal attempts in the game and scored 11 of his 17 points in the second half as Arizona connected on 59.3 percent of its shots after the break. UA forced 19 turnovers, outrebounded the Grizzlies, 32-22, and held a 22-8 scoring advantage from the line. Arizona's 88 points were a season high.

GAME 5

No. 4 Kansas 76, Arizona 72 (OT)
Nov. 25, 2007 • Lawrence, Kan.

In a game that featured six ties and four lead changes after halftime, Chase Budinger scored 27 points to lead a spirited effort, but the Wildcats could not overcome 25 turnovers in a four-point overtime loss at No. 4 Kansas. UA erased an 11-point first-half deficit and controlled play for much of the second half, holding a two-point lead with 1:26 remaining, but could not close it out with two possessions in the final minute. Kansas took control in overtime, hitting 5-of-6 field goal attempts.

GAME 6

Arizona 91, Cal State Fullerton 65
Nov. 28, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Hot shooting and solid defense helped Arizona score 53 first-half points, hold a 23-point halftime lead and cruise to victory. UA shot 67 percent from the floor and held CSUF to just a 36.4 percent clip in the first period. Twelve players saw action and shared in an effort that saw the Cats outshoot, outboard and outdefend the Titans. Jerryd Bayless led all scorers with 21 points, while Chase Budinger (17) and Jamelle Horne (12) combined for 29 points.

GAME 7

Arizona 78, No. 9 Texas A&M 67
Dec. 2, 2007 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona struggled early, found itself in a big hole and then impressively dug itself out in earning a hard-fought win. Trailing 32-12 with 6:47 to go in the first half, UA outscored Texas A&M 66-35 the rest of the way, including 50-27 in the second half, to pull away. Jerryd Bayless led all scorers with 26 points and joined with Chase Budinger and Jordan Hill to outscore the Aggies in the second half. The Cats shot 59.1 percent and held Texas A&M to just 34.5 percent shooting in the second half.

GAME 8

No. 22 Arizona 78, Illinois 72 (OT)
Dec. 8, 2007 • Chicago, Ill.

As has almost become commonplace, Arizona found itself in a 12-0 hole four minutes into the game and used the next 36 minutes to dig itself out. Jordan Hill, who posted career-high totals of 23 points and 14 rebounds, and Jerryd Bayless each scored 20 to help UA pull an overtime win. Hill's bucket with 57 seconds left gave the Cats its first lead of the game, then his put-back with eight seconds to go sent the game into overtime before Bayless scored eight points in the extra session to clinch it.

No. 19 Arizona 52, UNLV 49
Dec. 16, 2007 • Las Vegas, Nev.

With all else awry, Arizona relied on its defense and rebounding to secure another come-from-behind win. The Cats forced the Runnin' Rebels to miss 14 of its last 16 field game in the game to erase as much as an eight-point, second-half deficit. UA limited UNLV to just 31 percent shooting and posted a +17 rebound margin in what turned out to be Arizona's first-ever win in Las Vegas. Jordan Hill totaled 16 points and 19 rebounds, while Jawann McClellan buried a trey with 26 seconds to go to secure the win.

Dec. 29, 2007 • Memphis, Tenn.

In a reversal of fortune, Arizona jumped out to an early eight-point lead then went more than 12 minutes without a field goal and could not dig itself out of the hole in the 13-point loss. Leading 14-6 with 13:52 to go in the first, UA managed just four free throws over the next 12 minutes and trailed by 10 points at the half. The Cats cut the deficit to seven points four different times in the second half, but could get no closer. Chase Budinger led all scorers with 20 points, while Jordan Hill added 14 second-half points.

GAME 15

Arizona State 64, No. 24 Arizona 59 (OT)
Jan. 9, 2008 • Tempe, Ariz.

Arizona squandered too many chances to put this game away and ultimately had no answer for James Harden as Arizona State earned the overtime win. UA built an early 12-point lead, led by as many as 10 in the second half, and held a five-point cushion with 1:53 remaining in regulation before succumbing in the extra session. ASU's Harden proved to be the difference, scoring 22 of his game-high 26 points in the second half, including five in overtime. Jordan Hill collected 18 points and 14 rebounds to lead the Wildcats.

GAME 21

Arizona 80, USC 69
Jan. 31, 2008 • Los Angeles, Calif.

Chase Budinger scored a game-high 29 points and Jawann McClellan added a career-high 23 points to lead Arizona to its fourth straight win. The duo scored 28 of the Cats' 46 second-half points as the team came from behind to win. UA used a 20-7 run over 4:12 late in the half to take control of a contest that featured seven ties and 11 lead changes. Three-point shooting proved to be the difference as Arizona connected on 47.6 percent (10-of-21) and outscored USC, 30-12, from behind the arc.

GAME 22

No. 5 UCLA 82, Arizona 60
Feb. 2, 2008 • Los Angeles, Calif.

Arizona missed 10 of its first 12 field goal attempts, found itself in a big hole early and never recovered in suffering its worst defeat of the season and snapping a four-game win streak. UCLA shot 61 percent in the first half, limited Arizona to just 32 percent in the same period, and held a 20-point lead at the break. The Cats had no answer for the Bruin attack, as UCLA scored 52 points in the paint, converted 12 UA turnovers into 18 points and went to the free throw line 20 times.

GAME 23

Arizona State 59, Arizona 54
Feb. 10, 2008 • Tucson, Ariz.

Jerryd Bayless scored 39 of Arizona's 54 points, but the visiting Sun Devils had just enough offensive balance to overcome that in a five-point win. Behind Bayless' 26 first-half points UA jumped out to an early 22-6 lead, but was outscored, 53-32, over the last 31:46. The Cats shot 37 percent from the field for the game, including just 30 percent (6-of-20) in the second half. In addition to UA's poor shooting, ASU outrebounded UA, 28-21, and no Wildcat other than Bayless managed more than one field goal in the contest.

GAME 24

Arizona 83, California 73
Feb. 14, 2008 • Tucson, Ariz.

Jerryd Bayless topped the 30-point plateau for the second straight game, but this time he got help from his teammates as the Cats pulled away late. Bayless finished with a game-high 33 points and Chase Budinger and Jordan Hill combined to score 28 of their 39 points in the second half. Arizona shot 60.9 percent from the floor after the break and outscored the Golden Bears 52-43 in the period. UA used a 21-12 run over 6:18 in which the Cats knocked down 10-of-10 free throw attempts.

GAME 25

No. 7 Stanford 67, Arizona 66
Feb. 16, 2008 • Tucson, Ariz.

Trailing by eight points with 4:07 remaining, Arizona outscored Stanford 9-0 over the next two minutes to take the lead but could not hold on in the one-point loss. Stanford's Brook Lopez made two free throws with 18 seconds to go that provided the final margin. UA's Chase Budinger had his shot blocked by Brook's twin brother Robin in the final seconds. Arizona shot just 37.3 percent for the game and was outrebounded 40-26. UA's Jerryd Bayless, who scored a game-high 31 points, became the first player in Arizona history to score 30 or more points in three straight games.

GAME 26

Washington 75, Arizona 66
Feb. 21, 2008 • Seattle, Wash.

Sloppy play and too much Washington depth proved to be Arizona's downfall as the Cats lost for the fourth time in the last five games. UA turned it over 17 times, including 10 in the first half, and shot just 38.9 percent from the field. Washington played nine players at least 13 minutes and eight of those scored at least five points apiece as the UW bench outscored UA's 23-3. Jerryd Bayless (22) and Jawann McClellan (19) combined for 41 points, be the remainder of the Wildcat offense was largely ineffective.

Arizona 65, No. 17 Washington State 55
Feb. 23, 2008 • Pullman, Wash.

The Wildcats put forth a solid effort on both ends of the court to earn a much-needed win. UA limited WSU to season-low totals of 17 field goals and a 34.0 field goal percentage, while shooting 50 percent at its own basket and placing three players in double figures. Chase Budinger, who hit his first five shots from the floor, knocked down two key treys in the second half to keep the Wildcats in the lead, and Jerryd scored all 20 of his points in the second half. It was UA's third win over a ranked team this season.

USC 70, Arizona 58
Feb. 28, 2008 • Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona fell behind by double figures in the first seven minutes and, ultimately, didn't have the horses to play catch-up in the 12-point loss. The Cats rallied multiple times, cutting the deficit to four points in the first half and three points in the second, but each time USC had a stern response. The Cats shot 49 percent for the game, but were outrebounded by 10 and had 11 turnovers that led to 15 Trojan points. Jordan Hill and Jawann McClellan combined for 32 points, but USC held the duo of Jerryd Bayless and Chase Budinger to just 15 points.

GAME 29

No. 4 UCLA 68, Arizona 66
March 2, 2008 • Tucson, Ariz.

In what seems to be a recurring theme at home, Arizona exhibited another solid effort against a ranked team only to come up short at the end. The two teams traded blows for much of the game with UA rallying from a six-point deficit with 2:28 to go before failing on the final possession. Ultimately, UA had no answer for Kevin Love, who tallied 24 points, 15 rebounds and three blocked shots. Chase Budinger led the Cats with 24 points, while Jordan Hill added 18.

GAME 31

Oregon 78, Arizona 69
March 8, 2008 • Corvallis, Ore.

A 15-2 Oregon run covering 3:09 of the second half broke open what was a tight game as the Ducks sprinted away for the win. Arizona was no match for a Duck attack that placed five players in double figures, shot 58.3 percent from the field, including 10-of-19 from three-point range, and posted a +13 rebound margin. Oregon's Tajuan Porter proved to be the difference by scoring 14 points in the second half, including 11 points in the decisive run. UA hit 13-of-16 (.813) FG attempts in the second half.

GAME 32

(7) Arizona 87, (10) Oregon State 56
Pacific Life Pac-10 Tournament, First Round
March 12, 2008 • Los Angeles, Calif.

With all five starters in double figures, Arizona blitzed Oregon State in the opening round of the Pacific Life Pac-10 Tournament. The Wildcats connected on 71 percent (22-of-31) of its field goal attempts in rolling to a tournament-record 59 points in the first half and a 38-point lead at the break. Jerryd Bayless and Nic Wise combined for 26 first-half points, while Wise added seven assists and a tournament-record five steals in the opening period alone. UA's 31-point win equaled its largest in Pac-10 Tournament history.

GAME 33

(2) Stanford 75, (7) Arizona 64
March 13, 2008 • Los Angeles, Calif.

Stanford's size and depth ultimately proved to be too much for the Wildcats, as the Cardinal broke open a close game with a late run. The Stanford front line totaled 45 points and 26 rebounds and led a total of five players in double figures. The contest featured 13 ties and three lead changes before Stanford broke things open late with a 12-2 run over 3:16. Arizona shot just 36 percent from the field and was outrebounded 50-27, a figure that led to a 20-10 second-chance-points deficit for the Cats.

NCAA West Region, First Round
March 20, 2008 • Washington, D.C.

Arizona's season came to a close courtesy of a 10-point loss to West Virginia. Three-point shooting ultimately proved to be the difference in the contest, as the Mountaineers connected on 11-of-19 (.579) and outscored the Cats, 33-18, from behind the arc. WVU's Darris Nichols and Alex Ruoff combined to knock down 9-of-14 attempts to thwart every UA run. Chase Budinger led all scorers with 23 points and Jordan Hill notched a double-double with 16 points and 12 rebounds. It was Arizona's 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance.

Wednesday-Saturday, March 11-14, 2009
Staples Center – Los Angeles, Calif. – FSN & CBS-TV

For the 12th time in its history, and eighth consecutive season, the Pacific-10 Conference will hold a postseason basketball tournament to determine the league's automatic berth in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament.

For the fourth straight year, all 10 teams will advance to the 2008 Pac-10 Tournament, scheduled for Wednesday-Saturday, March 11-14 at the Staples Center in Los Angeles, and be seeded based on regular season finish.

Fox Sports Net will broadcast first round, quarterfinal and semifinal action on March 11-13, while the Championship game will be televised by CBS at 3 p.m. PST on Saturday, March 14.

The original incarnation of the Pac-10 Tournament ran from 1987-90. The inaugural event was held following the 1986-87 season at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles. Tournaments were also held in Tucson, Ariz., (1988), Los Angeles (1989), Tempe, Ariz. (1990), and Los Angeles' Staples Center (2002-08) as well.

UCLA captured the first Pac-10 Tournament title on its home court in 1987 before Arizona won four consecutive championships from 1988-2002. Oregon (2003, 2007), Stanford (2004), Washington (2005) and UCLA (2006, 2008) have each won titles, respectively, with the Bruins capturing the postseason tournament title last season, courtesy of an 67-64 win over Stanford.

Prior to announcing the return of the tournament on Oct. 23, 2000, the Pacific-10 Conference was one of just two NCAA Division I leagues (Ivy) in the nation without a postseason tournament.

ARIZONA IN THE POLLS

Under head coach Lute Olson, the University of Arizona has become a fixture in the men's college basketball rankings. Over the last 21 seasons, the Wildcats have been ranked in the nation's top 25 in 336 of 365 Associated Press polls released in that span (92.1 percent). In fact, the Wildcats' string of 312 consecutive regular-season appearances in that span is an AP poll record.

Further, until being left out of the 2001-02 preseason poll, Arizona had been ranked in the polls for six straight seasons, covering 109 consecutive ranking periods, dating back to Nov. 20, 1996.

Arizona's record in the coaches poll is almost as impressive. Since the 1989-90 campaign, the Wildcats have been ranked in 307 of 340 polls (90.3 percent) dating back to Dec. 4, 1990. The only breaks in that streak prior to 2005-06 were the 2001-02 preseason and the 2003-04 final poll.

Arizona has been the No. 1 team in the country for 30 different polling periods, with the last coming on five consecutive occasions in the 2002-03 season. The team's initial climb to No. 1 came Dec. 21, 1987 and also happened during the 1988-89, 1990-91, 1996-97, 1997-98 and 2000-01 seasons.

JASON GARDNER 22

JERSEY RETIRED AUG. 14, 2005

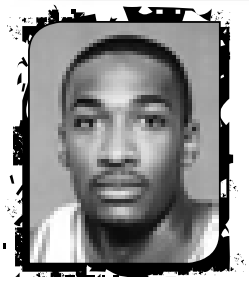

At a school known for great point guards, Gardner closed his career as one of college basketball's finest ... The 2003 Frances Pomeroy Naismith Player of the Year and the 2000 national Freshman of the Year ... One of the most decorated athletes in school history, Gardner earned All-America honors 12 times in his four-year career, including Player-of-the-Year honors as a senior (just the third in UA history) ... One of just four players in Pac-10 history to amass 1,500 career points, 500 assists and 200 steals ... His unquestioned leadership has been essential to UA's success, as the squad went 107-29 (.787) during Gardner's career ... Led Cats to the 2001 National Championship game, two Pac-10 championships and one Pac-10 Tournament title ... Finished his as Arizona's career leader in games played, games started, minutes played and three-point field goals ... Shines when in the spotlight with a knack for hitting big shots ... An iron man who played 40+ minutes 31 times in his career ... Worked hard to improve the range and accuracy of his jumper ... Made a seamless adjustment from distributing point guard in 2001 (10.9 ppg/2.33 assist:turnover ratio) to a scorer in 2002 (20.4 ppg/4.6 apg) ... The highest-scoring guard in Arizona history (1,984 points/3rd all-time) ... Ranks among the career top 10 in 13 statistical categories at Arizona ... Was the 38th player in Pac-10 history to be a three-time all-conference honoree ... A John R. Wooden Award All-American and second-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, NABC and Senior CLASS Award as a senior in 2002-03 ... USBWA second team All-America and the District 9 Player of the Year as a senior ... Foxsports.com third team All-America ... An all-NCAA West Regional selection in 2003 ... Named Arizona tri-most valuable player in a vote of his teammates ... Wildcats were 55-9 in Gardner's career when he collected at least five assists ... Played 40+ minutes 31 times in his career (five times in 2002-03) ... Had 10 career games with 30+ minutes and zero turnovers ... Scored more points (692) than any other player in the Pac-10 in 2001-02 ... Only league player to be ranked in the top 10 in points, assists and steals as a junior ... Became the first Arizona freshman to be named to the all-Pac-10 first team ... Currently playing professionally in Germany.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

1996-97 ARIZONA WILDCATS

Back Row (l to r): Josh Pastner, Mike Bibby, Quynn Tebbs, Jason Lee, Miles Simon, Justin Wessel, A.J. Bramlett, Donnell Harris, Bennett Davison, Eugene Edgerson, Michael Dickerson, Ortege Jenkins, Jason Terry, John Ash, Jason Stewart. Front Row: Ed Orr, Trainer; Daron Davenport, Senior Manager; Phil Johnson, Asst. Coach; Jessie Evans, Asst. Coach; Lute Olson, Head Coach; Jim Rosborough, Asst. Coach; Brad Jepson, Coord. of Basketball Operations; Walter Teike, Equipment Manager, Ryan Hansen, Video Coordinator.

Nothing could have been a bigger surprise than the journey of the 1996-97 Wildcats to the national title. The path was unconventional, but the results were just as satisfying as the team overcame a mediocre regular season and transformed from unknown commodity to the talk of the entire nation practically overnight.

Things didn't look good early in the season as the Cats faced a grueling schedule made more difficult by the loss of their top returning scorer, Miles Simon, to academic probation. With Simon gone for the opening 11 games, and five seniors missing from the previous season, the team was bound to suffer through some growing pains. However, somebody forgot to tell them that as they reeled off wins over top-ranked opponents North Carolina, Utah and Texas. The quick start boosted the Cats from a preseason No. 19 ranking to sixth in the nation before a 73-71 overtime loss to fourth-ranked Michigan at Auburn Hills.

Everybody was forced to step up in some way to fill Simon's absence, but none did more to carry the team than fellow junior Michael Dickerson, who quickly took over the offensive load with 25.5 ppg in the first six contests. Dickerson led the team in scoring 10 of the first 11 games and would finish the season as the top scorer on a squad full of potent weapons.

Five straight wins helped Arizona rebound from the loss to the Wolverines, including two consecutive one-point thrillers against California and Stanford. Freshman Mike Bibby gave a preview of the cool he would show in pressure situations throughout the season by sinking a pair of free throws with 3.6 seconds left in the 81-80 win over the Golden Bears.

With a 10-2 record and plenty of momentum, the Cats headed into the Los Angeles road trip with plenty of confidence. But it proved to be too much too soon for the young squad, as USC and UCLA swept Arizona for the first time since the 1991-92 season. The trip proved to be the low-point of the season and put the team in a difficult situation trying to climb back to the top of the league standings.

They did just that with nine wins in their next 12 games, with an average victory margin of 20.7 ppg. The three losses, by a combined 12 points, were all within reach and included a first-place showdown with UCLA in McKale. But the Bruins took control of the Pac-10 race with a 66-64 decision over the Cats, and Arizona never returned to the top of the standings.

Despite back-to-back losses to Cal and Stanford to end the season, the team was optimistic heading into the NCAA tournament. The luck the team had experienced to begin the season seemed to be reversing itself as the Wildcats lost by just one and two points to the Bay Area schools. But a fifth-place Pac-10 finish and No. 4 seeding did not affect the team's confidence.

"People will look at us like we are on a downswing after losing our past two games in a row," guard Jason Terry said the week before the NCAAs began. "I hope they do just that and underestimate us. I really like the way we are playing as a team right now and I think we have the chance to do some damage in the next few weeks—no matter what people outside the program say."

The Cats began their shredding of the tournament in Memphis with a couple of gut-wrenching victories in the first and second rounds. Down by 10 points with 7:34 to go against South Alabama, Arizona went on a 22-4 run to finish the game. Two days later, the team hit its free throws down the stretch to squeeze out a 73-69 win to break 12th-seeded College of Charleston's 23-game winning streak. Bibby scored 18 points, and Simon led the team with 20, with both hitting key free throws down the stretch.

From there, Arizona advanced to Birmingham and the Sweet Sixteen for a showdown against top-ranked Kansas. The Cats turned in their best performance of the season when they needed it most as four players scored in double figures. As in the previous game against Charleston, Bibby displayed nerves of steel in sinking two free throws with 18 seconds left that gave UA an 85-82 advantage in one of the biggest upsets in NCAA tournament history.

However, the road to Indianapolis was not yet paved in gold for Arizona. The Southeast Region Final proved to be challenging as 10th-seeded Providence took the Wildcats to overtime. Arizona had a 12-point lead with six minutes remaining before the Providence comeback. The Cats survived in the extra period and moved on to the school's third Final Four appearance and second in four years.

At first glance, Arizona was the stepchild of the 1997 Final Four, an uninvited four seed rubbing elbows with three top seeds. But that was just the way the team wanted it. With little pressure and nothing to lose, the Cats calmly overcame an 11-point deficit in the first half against North Carolina. Bibby's three-point shooting and the usual big-game performance from Simon led to a 66-58 win that set up a showdown with Kentucky in the title game.

Lute Olson aaddresses the crowd at the RCA Dome after accepting the 1997 National Championship trophy.

The title showdown, with 16 ties and 18 lead changes, turned out to be one of the most exciting championship games in history. The teams traded baskets for 40 minutes, including a wild final half-minute, that kept the 47,028 fans in attendance on their feet.

Bibby found an open Bennett Davison under the basket for an easy lay-up with 18.9 second remaining that gave Arizona a 74-71 lead. Kentucky's Anthony Epps responded with a three-pointer with 12 seconds on the clock that sent the game into overtime.

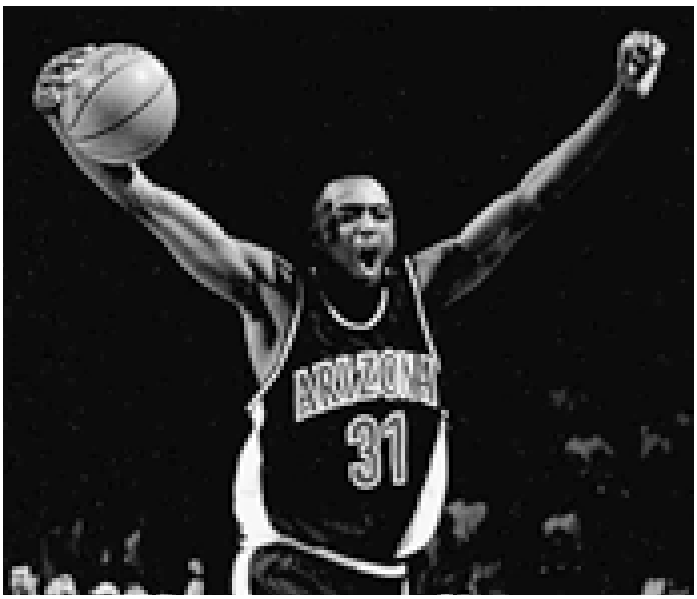

In the extra period, Arizona scored all 10 of its points from the line and built a 79-74 lead when Kentucky failed to score on its first four possessions. The team never looked back after that, giving head coach Lute Olson his and the school's first national championship.

"For the excitement, for effort, for tremendous defense, this game had everything a national championship game should have," Olson said. "I may be a little biased, but I wish I could have been a spectator watching it in the stands."

Simon led the Cats with 30 points, which earned him Most Outstanding Player honors. In the final three games of the tournament, he scored 30 points against Providence, 24 against North Carolina, followed by the championship game performance.

When all was said and done, the Wildcats had a 25-9 record and gave Lute Olson the highlight of his coaching career. Ultimately, the 1996-97 Arizona squad—one without a senior among its top eight players—was able to accomplish what it did because it believed in itself and played together.

"I'm just so proud of these guys," Olson said after the title game. "It's been a never say die group. They have had faith in themselves—they've had faith in their teammates. It's been a closely-knit family all year long. And as I told them in the locker room, I could not ever be prouder of a group of young people as I am of this group. They were willing to pay the price and that is the reason why we won."

Jason Terry reacts to the Wildcats' 85-82 win over top-ranked Kansas in the NCAA Southeast Regional in Birmingham, Ala.

Tournament Most Outstanding Player Miles Simon cuts down the nets after UA's 84-79 overtime win over Kentucky in the Natinoal Championship game.

Remembered as one of the finest teams in the history of Wildcat basketball, the 1987-88 squad put Arizona and the city of Tucson on the college basketball map. The team entered the season with plenty of question marks. Senior point guard, Steve Kerr, the anchor of the team, was attempting to complete a remarkable comeback from a career-threatening knee injury, while the rest of the team had plenty of untested talent.

Any questions were quickly answered, though, when Arizona defeated No. 9 Michigan and third-ranked Syracuse and emerged from the frozen north with the championship of the Great Alaska Shootout. Three more victories over top ten teams in the next two weeks earned the Cats the first No. 1 ranking in school history, which they held for a week and a half before falling to New Mexico in the Pit. It was a short trip back to the top, however, as Arizona continued to pound Pac-10 opponents and held the top ranking for four straight weeks before suffering its only conference loss to Stanford in Maples Pavilion.

Easy victories in the Pac-10 tournament gave Arizona the Pac-10 Championship and the No. 1 seed in the West Region of the NCAA tournament. The Cats were hardly challenged, with easy victories over Cornell (90-50) and Seton Hall (84-55) in the subregional. Lute Olson defeated his former team, Iowa, for the second time of the season, 99-79, in the Sweet Sixteen to force a showdown with North Carolina in the regional final. The Cats trailed at halftime, 28-26, for only the second time in the season, but Tom Tolbert's 18 points in the second half helped propel the team to a 70-52 win.

Arizona's dream season came to an end in Kansas City, with an 86-78 defeat at the hands of Oklahoma. In a showdown between the two teams with the most wins in 1988, the Sooners kept the Cats transition game in check with a swarming press defense and used a strong inside game combined with key outside shooting to edge the Wildcats in the second half. Consensus All-American Sean Elliott scored 31 points and added 11 rebounds to earn NCAA All-Tournament honors.

In leading the Cats to their second Final Four in six seasons, Khalid Reeves averaged 27.3 points in five games during the 1994 NCAA tournament.

They may not have had the most overall talent of Arizona's Final Four teams, but the 1993-94 Wildcats surprised everybody but themselves by making it all the way to Charlotte. The questions surrounding this squad early in the season revolved around the missing 7-footers in the middle. After spending the previous few years "centering" his game plan around a couple of towers, Olson found himself with two of the best guards in the nation and a smaller frontline. Unfazed, the Cats steamrolled over teams, proving that size is often no match for quickness.

Arizona rolled into the season, winning 12 of its first 13 games. The lone loss in that stretch would later be considered as the turning point of the season. Eighth-ranked Kentucky defeated the Cats, 93-92, on a buzzer-beating tip-in for the championship of the Maui Classic, but the game proved to the team that they could play with anybody in the nation. They proved that a week later, capturing their eighth consecutive Fiesta Bowl Classic title with a 119-95 win over seventh-ranked Michigan. Khalid Reeves proved himself to be one of the best guards in the nation, connecting on 23-of-25 attempts from the field and 10-of-11 from the line in the two games of the tournament.

Despite four league losses, the Cats managed to capture their second consecutive Pac-10 title and earned a No. 2 seed in the West Region of the NCAA tournament, much to the chagrin of Wildcat fans everywhere. The Cats chased away any first-round ghosts, however, with easy victories over Loyola-Maryland (81-55) and Virginia (71-58) in the first two rounds that were built on sound defense. The Cats continued that defensive attitude in the next two rounds, holding Louisville to 37.3% in the Sweet Sixteen, while Damon Stoudamire led the team with 27 points and 11 rebounds in its win over top-seed Missouri to reach the Final Four.

Arkansas spoiled the school's second trip to the Final Four with a 91-82 win. Damon Stoudamire tied the game at halftime with a three-pointer at the buzzer, and Arizona held a five-point lead with just over eight minutes remaining. But the Razorbacks wiped out that deficit with a 14-1 run over the next three minutes that sent the Cats home. Despite the loss, the Cats returned home with the satisfaction of having proved their doubters wrong and exceeding all expectations but their own.

28-8 OVERALL; 15-3 PAC-10

NATIONAL RUNNERS-UP

Back Row (l to r): Jason Gardner, Lamont Frazier, Gilbert Arenas, Jason Ranne, Michael Wright, Luke Walton, Justin Wessel, Loren Woods, Andrew Zahn, Rick Anderson, Eugene Edgerson, Richard Jefferson, Travis Hanour, Mike Schwertley, John Ash, Russell Harris. Front Row: *William French, Senior Manager; Ed Orr, Trainer; Jay John, Asst. A preseason No. 1 ranking and the national championship expectations that came with it put plenty of pressure on the 2000-01 squad from the start, but nothing could prepare the team for the adversity ahead. The Wildcats opened the season by capturing the Maui Invitational championship, but lost three of their next five games to fall in the rankings and leave many wondering if the preseason expectations were too high.

In the next month, the team struggled through the news of the death of Lute Olson's wife, Bobbi. Burdened by off-the-court concerns for their head coach, the team fell to Mississippi State, 75-74, in the Fiesta Bowl Classic final and second-ranked Stanford, 85-76, in the opening weekend of Pac-10 play and any concerns for the rest of the season took a backseat to difficulties faced by Olson.

The UA mentor was away from the team for three weeks, but when he returned on January 15 the squad had a renewed sense of purpose. Informally dedicating the season to Bobbi, the team had a new attitude with its familiar leader pacing the sidelines. After Olson's return, the Wildcats turned into one of the hottest teams in the nation, winning 18 of their last 21 games and finishing the regular season with a six-game winning streak, including a 76-75 win over top-ranked Stanford in Palo Alto.

Arizona took its hot streak and No. 2 seed into the Midwest Region of the NCAA tournament and scorched its first two opponents by a combined margin of 26 points. The regional finals in San Antonio proved more challenging as the Wildcats were forced to bully their way through two defense-minded teams. But a 66-56 win over Mississippi followed by an 87-81 victory in the rubber match with Illinois sent the team to Minneapolis and the school's fourth trip to the Final Four.

Even with the expectations of a Final Four berth fulfilled, the team wanted to cap the season with the national championship. The Cats got one step closer to that goal with an 80-61 win over Michigan State in the semifinal that gave Arizona its second appearance in the championship game in five years. However, the season fell one victory short of being fulfilled with the loss to Duke in a showdown between the top two preseason picks. Despite the loss, the squad gave Olson and UA its fifth top-10 ranking in eight years, 14th consecutive 20-win season, 17th-straight NCAA appearance and a season that will not soon be forgotten.

NCAA TOURNAMENT FACTS

Arizona has made 24 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, the longest active streak in the nation. Since UA's streak began in 1985, 264 different teams have played in the NCAA Tournament. In that span, Arizona ranks fifth in games played and number of wins, and is one of just 18 schools to post at least 20 tournament victories.

AGAINST RANKED OPPONENTS

Since the Associated Press debuted its college basketball rankings on Jan. 20, 1949, the University of Arizona has played 276 games against nationally ranked opponents. The Wildcats have played at least one game against a ranked opponent in 57 of those 60 seasons, including the last 44 consecutive. All told, Arizona has a 121-155 (.438) mark against ranked teams with a 49-38 (.563) record at McKale Center.

In the Lute Olson era, Arizona has built a 103-79 (.566) record in such contests (37-19/.661 record at home), including a 82-57 (.590) record vs. ranked opponents over his last 15 seasons.

* Arizona was a member of the Border Conference from 1931-61, the Western Athletic Conference from 1962-78, and the Pacific-10 Conference from 1978-present.
+ Due to travel restrictions during World War II, no official Border Conference championship was awarded in 1943-44 or 1944-45. Record listed in 1944-45 reflects a limited schedule vs. other conference members.

J.F. "Pop" McKale • Head Coach, 1914-21

Nearly every Arizona athletic accomplishment can be traced to J.F. "Pop" McKale. The longtime Director of Athletics (1914-57) was also one of the Cats' first coaches on the hardwood.

McKale was the first highly successful UA basketball coach. From 1914-21 his teams won 49 of 61 games, good for an .803 winning percentage, and posted three undefeated seasons. From the time he took over in 1914, Arizona won 21 consecutive games over three seasons. No coach with at least three years of experience in the Old Pueblo has ever surpassed McKale's .803 career winning percentage.

The centerpiece of the UA's athletic facilities was officially dedicated McKale Memorial Center on Feb. 1, 1973. Pop was also inducted as a charter member of the Arizona Sports Hall of Fame in 1976.

Fred A. Enke • Head Coach, 1925-61

In a career that spanned 36 seasons, Coach Fred A. Enke was the man responsible for the early successes of Wildcat basketball. Winning more than 60 percent of his games, Enke amassed 509 wins in his tenure on the UA sidelines and still ranks as the second-winningest coach in school history.

Enke guided the Cats to the first four postseason appearances (3 N.I.T./1 NCAA) in school history and in 1950-51 competed in both the N.I.T. and NCAA postseason tournaments. He was the first coach to lead Arizona to a national ranking and two of his teams (1950, 1951) finished the season ranked in the top 15.

Perhaps most impressively, Enke's teams dominated play in the Border Conference. Under his direction, Arizona won 12 conference championships, including a span in which the Cats won or shared seven consecutive Border Conference titles (1942-51). No Border Conference team won as many league games (231) or overall contests (398) during its membership.

Enke was inducted as a charter member of the Arizona Sports Hall of Fame in 1976.

Fred Snowden • Head Coach, 1972-82

Known for his high-octane offense and remembered as a trailblazer, Fred "The Fox" Snowden brought the excitement back to Wildcat basketball during his 10 years on the Arizona sideline.

Snowden, the UA mentor from 1972-82, and his charges averaged more than 80 points per game in six of his 10 years and topped the 100-point barrier 27 times. In that span, he tallied a 167-108 (.607) mark, a winning percentage that is topped by only two UA coaches since 1924. He was the first African-American head basketball coach at a NCAA Division I institution.

"The Fox" led UA to three postseason berths, including the 1975 National Commissioners' Invitational Tournament and the 1976 and 1977 NCAA Tournaments. His best season came in 1976, when the Wildcats went 24-9, won the Western Athletic Conference championship, and advanced to NCAA West Regional Final. He was inducted into the Arizona Sports Hall of Fame in 1988.

MCKALE MEMORIAL CENTER

The McKale Memorial Center is named for UA legend J.F. "Pop" McKale, who served the university as athletics director and coach for more than 40 years.

The opening of McKale Memorial Center in February 1973 marked a new era in Wildcat basketball. After playing several games in front of crowds of a few thousand in Bear Down Gym to open the 1972-73 season, the team moved to McKale Center and literally filled the upscale arena overnight with crowds over 11,000 from the beginning.

Named after the late J.F. "Pop" McKale, athletics director and coach from 1914 to 1957, the arena is just part of a series of showcase athletics facilities located on the extreme eastern edge of campus. It is situated off the UA mall, adjacent to Arizona Stadium, baseball's Sancet Stadium at Kindall Field and the Hillenbrand Aquatic Center. McKale houses the offices for the entire athletics department and in basking in the glow of recent renovations and expansions that added a state-of-the-art 24,000-square-foot weight room, 10,000-square-foot athletic training facility and new lockerrooms within the Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion, including the Jim Click Hall of Champions — all located at the north end of the building.

Following the Arizona State game on Feb. 26, 2000, the University of Arizona athletics department honored head coach Lute Olson with a ceremony to name the McKale Center playing surface "Lute Olson Court". Then, during a memorial service in January of 2001 for Olson's late wife, Bobbi, it was renamed "Lute and Bobbi Olson Court" in recognition of the couple's impact on the university and the city of Tucson. Olson has led seven teams to undefeated seasons at home and Arizona has led the Pac-10 in attendance every year since 1984-85.

Arizona is the only school in the nation to have two home-court winning streaks rank among the top 10 in NCAA Division I history.

UA's 81-game win streak in Bear Down Gym from 1945-51 ranks fifth, while the 71-game win streak in McKale Center from 1987-92 ranks 10th.

Part of the attraction for fans is the winning tradition that was quickly established in McKale Center. Arizona defeated then-Western Athletic Conference rival Wyoming, 87-69, in the first varsity event on Feb. 1, 1973, and went on to win 67 of its first 70 contests in the facility. Then, from 1987-1992, Arizona put together the 10th-best home court winning streak in NCAA history, winning 71 consecutive games in McKale and making tickets nearly impossible to find. By the time UCLA snapped the string on Jan. 11, 1992 with an 89-87 upset of the Cats, there was rarely an empty seat in McKale for any game.

The McKale Center's tradition of excellence grows stronger as the Wildcats continue to win games in front of sellout crowds. All told, Arizona has a 450-88 (.836) record in McKale Center. Those numbers rise higher in the Lute Olson era (1983-2007), as Arizona has posted a 321-43 (.882) mark in the storied facility, including wins in 276 of its last 304 (.908) games played with Olson on the sidelines. Five of UA's nine perfect seasons in McKale Center have come in the last 20 seasons. Since winning the 1997 National Championship, Arizona has won 86 percent of its home games (143-24) and established a new record for average attendance five times in that span.

The seating capacity has fluctuated through the 36 years of the building's existence. McKale opened in 1973 with a capacity of 13,658, but the installation of chair-back seating in 1984 reduced that figure to 13,316. Elimination of all bleacher seating dropped the level to 13,124 in 1986 before additional seats were added in the period from 1988 to 2000 that pushed capacity to its current 14,545. The largest crowd in McKale history was the 15,176 who watched Arizona face Arizona State on March 4, 1978. The largest crowd in the Lute Olson era showed up for the 1997-98 home opener against Morgan State (14,672), the first home game after Arizona's national championship run. Additionally, six of the 10 largest crowds in the Lute Olson era have been registered over the last three seasons.

Since its initial construction at a cost of $8.1 million in 1973, McKale Center has undergone numerous face lifts to keep up with the times. Sophisticated computerized message boards spanning the upper deck on both sides of the court, along with padded press row and officials' tables with computer-driven scoreboards, were added in the early 1990s. The 1992 season saw the installation of four huge video replay screens in each corner of the arena. At the conclusion of the 1997-98 campaign, a state-of-the-art playing surface replaced the old floor that had been in place since 1983. The 2001-02 season brought new changes as well. A new four-sided scoreboard with video replay screens was installed and hung from the center of the arena, ensuring that once again it meets the standard as one of the finest facilities in the country.

The opening of the Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion in 2002 paved the way for further enhancement of the building as additional locker-room space and an expanded academic services department only adds to the complete student-athlete experience. A new lighting system was installed in August 2006.

McKale's recent additions have cemented its reputation as one of the finest all-encompassing athletic facilities in the nation and allowed it to attract several major sporting events. McKale Center was the site for the NCAA Wrestling West Regionals in 1974 and 1980 and hosted the NCAA Wrestling Championships in 1976. More recently, McKale was a site for NCAA first- and second-round basketball action in 1979, 1987, 1989, 1991, 1997, 2000 and 2005. In addition, the USA Basketball Team trained in the arena prior to capturing the 1986 World Championship, and Arizona played host to the second Pac-10 Conference Basketball Tournament in 1988.

The facility is 428 feet long, 339 feet wide and 77 feet from the floor to parapet, and houses the entire off-field operations of the University's athletics department, as well as a suite of 20-plus office labs for the Optical Sciences department. With three levels that consist of equipment rooms, a training and rehabilitation center, locker rooms, storage areas, ticket operations, academic services, computer lab facilities and administrative offices, McKale Center is the primary gathering place for all of UA athletics.

Since its opening in 1973, more than six million fans have attended UA basketball games in McKale Center. In fact, season tickets have been sold out for 21 consecutive seasons, which helps provide one of the finest game-day environments in all of college basketball.

Notes on Streaks

Arizona is the only school in the nation to have two home-court winning streaks rank among the top 10 in NCAA Division I history.

UA's 81-game win streak in Bear Down Gym from 1945-51 ranks fifth, while the 71-game win streak in McKale Center from 1987-92 ranks 10th.

BEAR DOWN GYMNASIUM

Long before Arizona basketball teams were playing in front of 14,000 fans in McKale Center, they were entertaining much smaller crowds within the intimate confines of Bear Down Gymnasium. Completed in July of 1926 by the Clinton Campbell Construction Company of Phoenix, the gym played host to UA basketball for nearly fifty years and still stands as a memorial to the humble beginnings of Arizona basketball.

The numbers from the dedication game demonstrate the true humbleness of those beginnings. On January 21, 1927, an estimated crowd of 3,000 climbed into the bleachers to watch Arizona defeat Arizona State, 29-18. It took nearly thirty years before those same teams gave the gym its first 100-point game, a 104-103 ASU victory in 1955. The period between those games saw a number of changes to the building and the team it housed.

The building was originally called University Gym until the Chain Gang, a junior men's honorary, sponsored a fund-raising dance in December of 1927 to paint the school's new unofficial motto, "Bear Down", on the outside of the gym. The saying came from the legendary last words of student body president and football captain John "Button" Salmon following a fatal car accident the year before. Within a month, the words were painted on the roof and, until a 1983 approval by the Board of Regents, it was unofficially known as Bear Down Gym.

Whether official or not, the spirit of the words on the outside of the building was reflected in the play on the inside. From 1932 to 1953, Arizona captured 11 Border Conference championships in the gym, and from 1943 to 1951 the Cats put together an 81-game home court winning streak that still ranks fifth all-time in NCAA history. That streak included a 62-61 upset of second-ranked Long Island University in front of a record crowd of 4,650 that highlighted a 1951 season in which the Cats had a record of 24-6 and finished with a No. 12 national ranking.

Arizona basketball spent 45 total seasons in Bear Down Gym (games were not played during the war years of 1942-44) with a record of 405-119 for a .773 winning percentage. Arizona teams went undefeated eight times and suffered only two losing seasons in the gym under the guidance of four different coaches. One of those coaches, Fred Enke, earned his 500th career win in 1954 with an 86-81 upset win over Kansas State.

Other milestones in Bear Down include a couple of school records that have yet to be matched. A 26-rebound performance by Bill Reeves in 1956 still tops the school charts, and a 46-point outburst by Ernie McCray is the highest single-game scoring total in UA history.

By the time Arizona won its final varsity game in Bear Down Gym, 79-77, over UC Santa Barbara in 1973, the program had outgrown the small gym. Almost overnight, the few thousand fans that crowded into Bear Down grew to three times that much in McKale Center. But the classic old gym still holds its place as the first home of Arizona basketball and is an important piece of University of Arizona history.

Bear Down Gym Timeline

Nov. 1925 — $130,000 contract awarded to Clinton Campbell Construction Co. of Phoenix. Construction completed in July 1926.

Oct. 30, 1926 — Homecoming dance held in gym. Billed as "largest dance ever held in Arizona on the largest dance floor in Arizona."

Jan. 7, 1927 — First game, Arizona varsity defeats frosh, 33-20.

Jan. 21, 1927 — A Dedication Game crowd estimated at 3,000 sees Arizona defeat Arizona State, 29-18. Waldo Dicus leads Wildcats with 10 points.

Dec. 1927 — Chain Gang, junior men's honorary sponsors fund-raising dance at gymnasium to paint "Bear Down" on roof in honor of John "Button" Salmon's last words to J.F. "Pop" McKale.

Jan. 1928 — "Bear Down" motto painted on roof. Facility unofficially becomes known as "Bear Down Gym."

1932 — Arizona wins first Border Conference title.

Dec. 14, 1945 — Arizona defeats Williams AFB, 50-47, to begin 81-game home-court winning streak.

Jan. 29, 1951 — Arizona upsets second-ranked Long Island University, 62-61, before record crowd of 4,650. Wildcats are 14-0 at home, 24-6 overall, invited to play in both the NCAA and N.I.T. tournaments, and ranked 12th in final AP poll.

Dec. 8, 1951 — Arizona's 81-game home court winning steak ends with 76-57 loss to Kansas State.

1953 — UA wins last of 12 Border Conference titles.

Feb. 1, 1954 — Hadie Redd, UA's first black basketball player, scores 26 points to lead Wildcats to 87-74 upset of 17th-ranked Bradley.

Dec. 6, 1954 — Head coach Fred Enke, in this 30th season, records his 500th career victory as Arizona upsets Kansas State, 86-81.

Feb. 1, 1956 — Bill Reeves sets still-standing UA single-game rebounding record with 26 in 68-53 victory over UC-Santa Barbara.

Feb. 6, 1960 — Ernie McCray sets still-standing UA single-game scoring record with 46-points in 104-84 victory over Los Angeles State. He makes 16 field goals and 14 free throws, also both school records, and grabs 14 rebounds.

Jan. 13, 1960 — Arizona records most points scored and biggest victory margin (52) in Bear Down Gym with 118-66 victory over Eastern New Mexico.

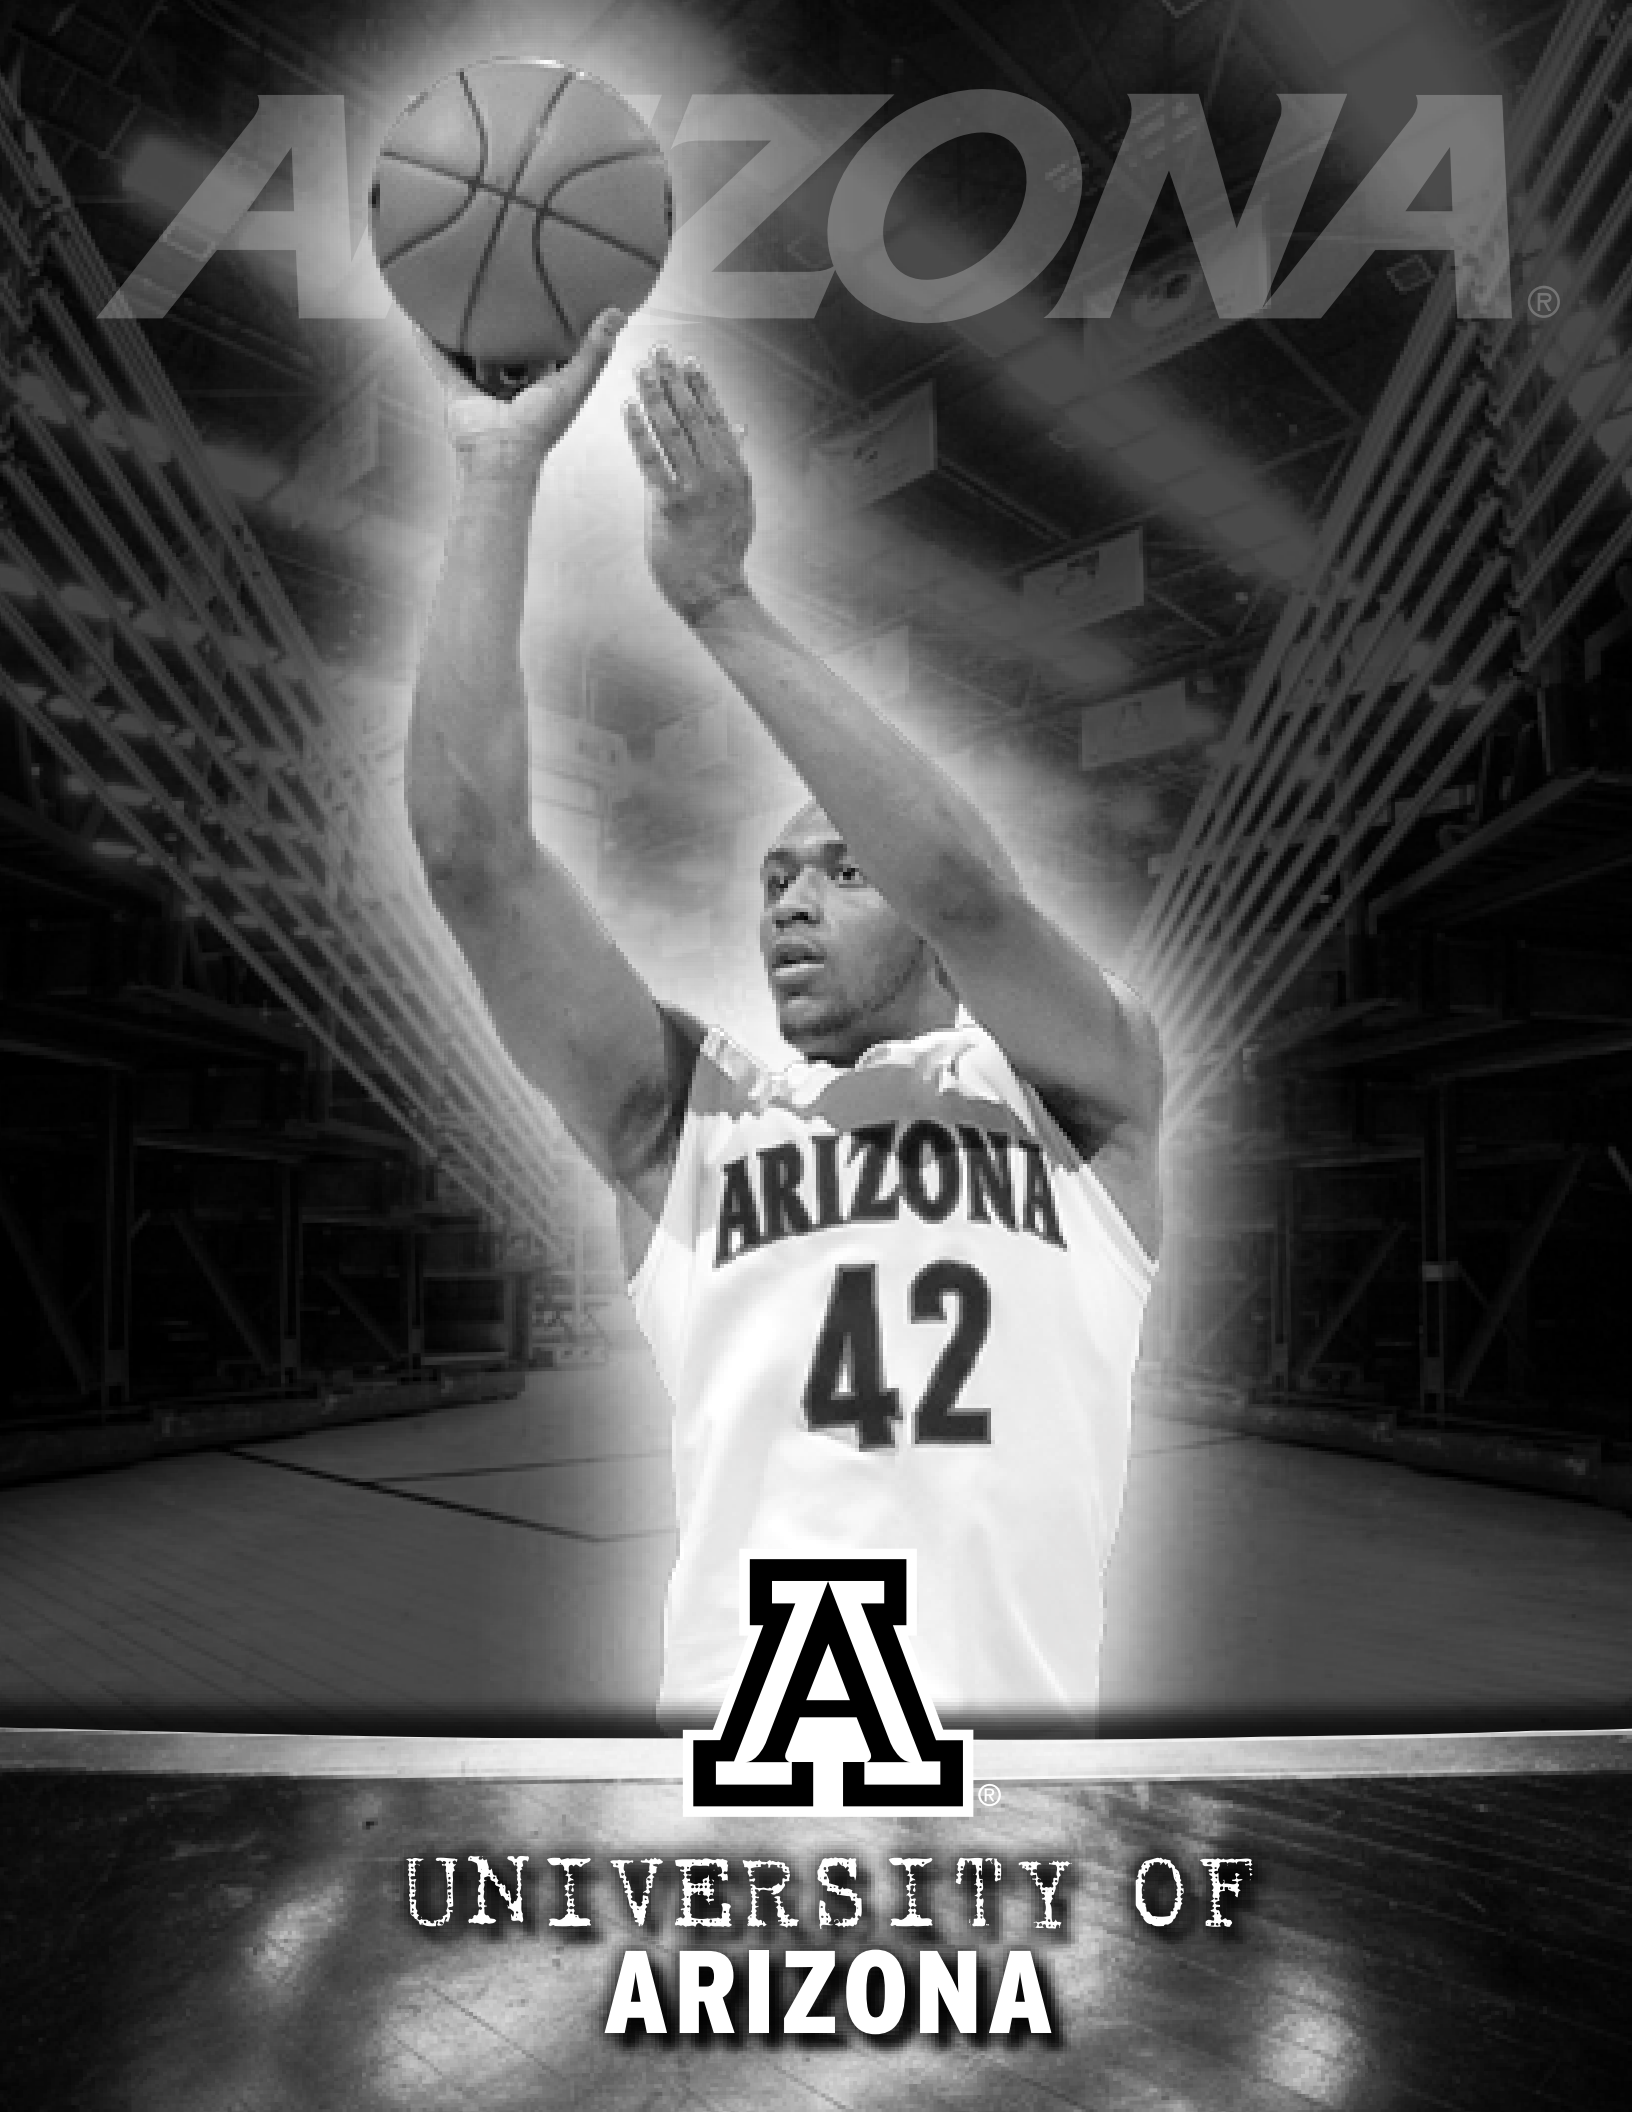

1961 — Arizona plays its final season under Fred A. Enke, who retires after 36 years as head coach with a 510-326 record. Enke's record in games played in Bear Down Gym is 297-85 (.777).

Jan. 28, 1965 — Arizona upsets eighth-ranked (AP) San Francisco, 71-56. The following week Wildcats earn first national ranking since 1951, No. 14th in UPI poll.

Jan. 19, 1973 — Last varsity basketball game played in Bear Down Gym, Arizona defeats UC-Santa Barbara, 79-77.

March 1983 — Unofficial title of "Bear Down" Gym finally made official by Board of Regents.

Take Note: Arizona's overall record in 45 seasons in Bear Down Gym was 405-119, a .773 winning percentage. Eight undefeated seasons with best records of 14-0 in 1945-46, '47-48, and '50-51.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Born on 40 acres of land donated by a saloon-keeper and two gamblers, and funded by a $25,000 consolation prize in Tucson's competition for the Territorial capital, the University of Arizona rose from the dusty floor of the true old West Nobody wanted it, and fewer believed it would last. Fortunately, they were wrong, and the bet laid down by E.B. Gifford, Ben C. Parker and W.S. "Billy" Read on Nov. 27, 1886, has paid off into one of the finest research institutions in the world.

When the first 32 students hitched their horses to posts near the only building on campus in 1891, they began a tradition that has now entered its third century. The hitching posts may be gone, but "Old Main" remains as witness to the University's growth into a 400-acre Research I institution with nearly 200 buildings, more than 35,000 students, and a faculty and staff of 12,000.

Arizona's first university is the largest employer in Pima County and the fourth-largest in Arizona with a payroll of half a billion dollars. The UA offers 347 degree fields in 15 colleges and 12 specialized schools.

It's hard to believe that in the early days there were more students in the preparatory department finishing the equivalent of high school than there were University students. The number of University graduates never reached more than 10 per year until a decade of rapid expansion beginning in 1910, which saw the Territory become a state and the small outpost in the Sonoran Desert grow into a true educational institution.

Today, the University of Arizona is one of the top 20 research universities in the nation and has played a part in groundbreaking projects ranging from the exploration of Mars to the development of new cancer treatments and pioneering breakthroughs in heart transplantation. UA's observational, theoretical and space astronomy programs were ranked No. 1 in the country by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and recent U.S. News and World Report rankings placed 17 of the school's graduate programs among the top 20 in the nation. In addition, the Nobel Prize, three Pulitzer Prizes and the National Medal of Science have been bestowed upon Arizona educators.

Not to be forgotten, the University's undergraduate programs continue to flourish. The NSF considers Arizona to be one of the 10 universities that best integrates teaching and research for undergraduates. The NASA-funded space grant program pays undergraduates to work in laboratories alongside faculty, and the Undergraduate Biology Research Program includes 43 departments, involves 200 faculty sponsors and funds more than 100 undergraduate researchers each summer. The Eller College of Management and the McGuire Center for Entrepreneurship are rated in the global top 10 by Finance Times.

UA's top-notch programs develop top-name graduates who have continued on to success in their respective fields. The UA boasts a laundry list of graduates who have significantly impacted society. From the late U.S. Congressman Morris K. Udall to Joan Ganz Cooney, founder of the Children's Television Workshop, to Emmy Award winning actor/comedian Garry Shandling, UA graduates have made their mark on the world. Other notable ex-Wildcats include Native American artist Fritz Scholder, the late astronaut Richard Scobee, television fitness personality Denise Austin, Arizona Supreme Court Justice Stanley G. Feldman, August Busch III, the CEO of Anheuser-Busch Inc., Phoenix Suns general manager Steve Kerr, former Boston Globe publisher Richard Gilman, and noted national sports broadcasters Dan Hicks, Tom Tolbert and Sean Elliott.

The UA also plays host to the world, with students representing all 50 states and 130 countries. Nearly a quarter of the student body consists of under-represented racial and ethnic groups, and the campus is located in one of the most diverse locations in the country, with the influence of Native American and Mexican cultures evident throughout the Tucson community.

The University of Arizona is in its third century of service with a continued commitment to providing support to its undergraduate population. Recently completed and current construction projects are testaments to the fact that the UA is dedicated to continued progress. The Integrated Learning Center, located underneath the grass Mall in the middle of campus, provides a home base for freshmen, with classrooms and offices for easier access to faculty and staff. The Student Union embraces the ambience of the Southwest with shaded terraces and open-air walkways, and provides numerous services such as the bookstore, technology center and varied restaurants that serve the UA community. A new SALT (Strategic Alternative Learning Techniques) Center enhances aid to students with learning disabilities. The Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion includes a strength training center, medical services center, and the Jim Click Hall of Champions — a museum to showcase Arizona Athletics Heritage and Tradition.

This commitment to excellence ensures that the University of Arizona will continue to grow from its auspicious beginnings as a single-building outpost in the desert into a world-renowned center for knowledge and research well into the next century.

TUCSON, ARIZONA

Situated in the heart of Southern Arizona, Tucson is a city of stunning contrast and diversity. From the broad desert valley of world-famous saguaro cacti to 9,000-foot mountain forests of pine trees and snow, the city stands at a crossroads geographically and culturally.

In the greater Tucson area, a population of more than 800,000 is spread along a valley floor of some 20 miles between mountain ranges to the east and the west and into the foothills nestled against the backdrop of the Santa Catalina range to the north, Rincon to the east and Tucson Mountains to the west.

On any of the 340 days of sunshine per year, the Santa Rita Mountains can be seen some 65 miles to the south between Arizona and Mexico.

It's just a 40-minute drive to the top of Mt. Lemmon, the southernmost ski resort in the United States, affording snow activities on the same day as a golf game or any of myriad recreational opportunities in the area. Outdoor activities are the norm with hundreds of miles of hiking and biking trails, highlighted by Sabino Canyon which showcases the beauty of the desert with river-guided trails leading into the mountains.

The Sonoran Desert provides a unique setting. Far from the Saharan sand dunes that most first-time visitors expect, the desert boasts a wide range of wildlife and vegetation. An afternoon drive through the Saguaro National Monument with its world-famous display of saguaro cacti highlights the unique beauty of the area. The world-famous Sonora Desert Museum, with its rich collection of desert wildlife is another popular visitors' destination. Tucson is a two-hour drive from Tombstone, four hours from Mexico's Gulf of California coast, 70 miles from border city Nogales and within hours' drives from several major international bird-watching areas.

In addition to its natural attractions, Tucson features a wide range of cultural experiences. From the first Native American inhabitants to the earliest Spanish settlers to the current winter visitors, each group of people left its mark on Tucson. Native American, Mexican and American Southwest influences are prevalent throughout the city. The Mission of San Xavier del Bac, located on the outskirts of town, is one of the original missions built by the Spanish missionaries, and the artist colonies of Tubac and Bisbee are within a few hours drive.

Continuously settled for more than 12,000 years – the oldest such settlement in the United State -- Tucson has grown from a small Native American village into one of the Sunbelt growth cities of the 21st century. It is one of the premier astronomy and optics centers in the world, an important health services center and home to a renowned research institution in the University of Arizona.

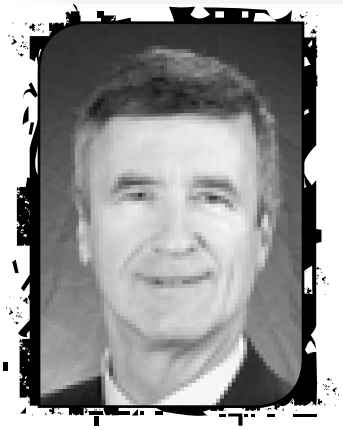

Tucson has held fast to its small-town ambience, despite explosive growth. Locals gather at historic Fourth Avenue for nighttime entertainment and shopping, and the University constantly holds the center of the city's attention with its athletics and cultural activities.

For those in search of a big-city atmosphere, Phoenix is a two-hour drive to the north and is home to NBA, NFL, NHL and Major League Baseball franchises. Further north lie international attractions like the Grand Canyon, Sedona, the Painted Desert, Monument Valley and Lakes Powell and Mead. Las Vegas is only a seven-hour road trip away, as is San Diego and other Pacific beach cities.

The nights are always cooler in the desert after a splendid sunset or a mid-afternoon dousing from a summer monsoon. That's when Tucson's small-town attitude and big-city potential reveal themselves in the nighttime entertainment. From cultural events at the UA's Centennial Hall or the Temple of Music and Art, to the hot spots for a youthful population, there is something to engage almost any interest.

The melding of the city's diverse influences makes Tucson a choice both as a vacation spot and as a home. With a population that includes college students, families of all backgrounds and a thriving groups of young professionals and retirees, Tucson is a city with something for everyone.

DR. ROBERT N. SHELTON

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

The University of Arizona president's leadership and active relationship with the program are keys to the success of the athletics department.

Robert N. Shelton, the 19th president of The University of Arizona, was appointed July 1, 2006 after a stellar administrative and research career at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he was executive vice chancellor and provost for five years.

Shelton heads the UA's quest to advance its standing as one of the country's top public research universities. His leadership focuses on continuing to enhance the overall quality of the university, while increasing diversity and ensuring that the UA is accessible to Arizona students, particularly first-generation college students. He embraces the UA's land grant status, its commitment to the people of Arizona and the important bond between the public and public research universities.

At UNC-Chapel Hill, Shelton was the chief operating officer, responsible for the university's budget, and chief academic officer, overseeing the conduct, coordination and quality of the University's academic and research programs.

He was active on external boards and councils, including the Space Telescope Institute Council that advises and provides oversight and advocacy to NASA for the Hubble Space Telescope; the Board of Trustees of the North Carolina School of Science & Mathematics, responsible for policy decisions for the residential school for high school juniors and seniors; and the Board of Trustees and Executive Committee of Research Triangle Institute, an organization with a distinguished history in scientific research and technology development.

A renowned physicist, Shelton has served as major professor for 24 doctoral and six master's degree students, and is the author of more than 240 published articles. He served as a guest scientist at Kernforschungsanlage in Julich, Germany, and at the National Institute for Materials Science in Tokyo. He has held a visiting professorship at the Universite de Geneve in Geneva, and served as editor of the Journal of Physics and Chemistry of Solids. He is a fellow of the American Physical Society, the California Council on Science and Technology and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Prior to his appointment at UNC, Dr. Shelton was Vice Provost for Research in the University of California Office of the President. In this position, he provided university policy and program leadership among the many offices, campuses, U.S. Department of Energy laboratories and research facilities of the University of California. Previous to that appointment, he served as the Vice Chancellor for Research at UC-Davis, where he also was Professor of Physics.

Other academic appointments include Professor of Physics at Iowa State University, and Assistant Research Physicist at UC-San Diego.

He earned his undergraduate degree from Stanford and his master's degree and doctorate in physics from UC-San Diego. Dr. Shelton and his wife, Adrian, who was a Stanford classmate and now is a well-regarded research compliance officer, have three adult children. Son Christian is an assistant professor in computer science at UC-Riverside; son Cameron is an assistant professor in economics at Wesleyan University and daughter Stephanie is a medical student at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Born in Arizona, Shelton attended Cortez High School in what was then the northern region of Phoenix.

Renowned physicist Dr. Robert N. Shelton became the 19th president of the University of Arizona on July 1, 2006.

JIM LIVENGOOD

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Jim Livengood's leadership and extensive experience at the top levels of intercollegiate athletics give The University of Arizona a strong national ambassador and outstanding continuity at the helm of its program.

Livengood became UA's eighth athletics director in January 1994. Behind his direction, remarkable developments have occurred throughout the program in the past 14 years, both from a competitive and administrative standpoint. He oversees the 19 men's and women's teams that make up one of the nation's more well-rounded athletic programs, one that has garnered 10 team NCAA Championships under his direction.

Notably, the UA continues to thrive on all fronts including the competitive arenas, physical-plant improvements, compliance and equity issues, student-athlete welfare and the necessary financial strategies required to operate a $40 million enterprise. He has developed strong continuity in UA athletics, using his and the institution's reputation to maintain effectiveness on local, regional and national fronts.

But that's only the UA manifestation of his work. He's been Pacific-10 Conference president, chair of the Pac-10 Athletic Directors Revenue Sharing Committee, and a member of the conference's Bowl Committee and Basketball Tournament Subcommittee. He's also been a member of the Rose Bowl Management Committee, the NCAA Fellows program, NACDA President, and chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee, on which he served five years.

In the Tucson community, Livengood and wife Linda have been involved in many civic organizations including the Tucson Boys' Chorus, Rotary Club, Humane Society, the Southern Arizona Community Bank, Big Brothers Big Sisters, United Way and Toys for Tots.

Moreover, Livengood has worked to develop a close working relationship with the most key of university leaders – its president. He follows the direction of UA President Robert Shelton – the third president during Livengood's tenure. That tenure ranks second-longest in the prestigious Pac-10 Conference, a year behind the appointment of his contemporary at USC, Mike Garrett.

Tucson's 2004 Man of the Year by the Chamber of Commerce, Livengood has been considered for administrative roles at several major universities, but the Washington native has found a home and a life's challenge in directing University of Arizona athletics.

His work at the UA and its extension on the national level earned him an Athletic Director of the Year Award from the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in 2006 for Division I-A.

Livengood initiated Campaign Arizona which has raised $130 million to date for athletic facility improvements and endowments. This fall construction will be completed on a new practice facility and aquatic complex adjacent to McKale Center, along with improvements to the gymnastics facility. He renewed the department's commitment to the future with the other facility improvements including the $36 million Eddie Lynch Pavilion that added a world-class strength and condition center, expansive medical treatment complex and a spacious Hall of Champions. On the horizon are substantial upgrades to Arizona Stadium and football operations.

In recent years, Livengood directed other steps forward with the opening of the Cohn Academic Center and the renovation of the women's student-athlete locker room, as well as continued improvements in McKale Memorial Center where all athletic department offices are situated.

During Livengood's tenure, UA has maintained a top-25 competitive record with overall national rankings by the NACDA Directors' Cup (formerly Sears Cup) of sixth in 1993-94, fourth in 1994-95, seventh in 1995-96, sixth in both 1996-97 and 1997-98, ninth in 2001-02, 16th in 2002-03, 12th in 2003-04, 18th in 2004-05, 11th in 2005-06 and 24th in 2006-07. The program headed into the final weeks of the 2007-08 season with solid chances for another Top 25 rating.

That record reflects success throughout Arizona's broad-based program, highlighted by participation in the 1994 and 2001 NCAA Men's Final Four and champions of the 1997 NCAA Men's National Basketball Tournament. Arizona also won the 1994, 1996, 1997, 2001, 2006 and 2007 NCAA Women's Softball College World Series, along with the 1996 and 2000 NCAA Women's Golf titles and 2008 men's and women's NCAA Swimming Championships. The twin swimming titles, another WCWS appearance and strong showings in baseball and track this past year also helped underscore UA's competitive status.

Livengood's focus on the welfare of student athletes and the primary objective of a college education, most exemplifies his tenure. The UA pays more attention to this aspect of intercollegiate athletics than any other, with most major decisions related to the ongoing improvement of the atmosphere for success.

UA's recent student-athlete graduation rate was higher than that of the general student body rate. Nearly 100 student-athletes earned conference or regional all-academic honors, and twenty percent of UA student-athletes attained honors level cumulative grade point averages. Indeed, the program's focus under Livengood includes a strong emphasis on academic performance.

In addition to focusing the University of Arizona Athletic Department's emphasis on the student-athlete, he has maintained a positive fund balance each year, and fostered a cooperative relationship with the university administration that sees the athletics department donating $500,000 annually to the general university fund.

He is a member of the NCAA Fellows Program to mentor new athletic directors, has served as a member of the NCAA Peer Review Team 1994-99, the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force, and the Women's Committee on Athletics. He is currently a member of the NACDA Preseason Football Games Committee, 2000-present, and was a member of the NACDA Strategic Planning Committee from 1999-2001. Jim served as NACDA president in 1998-1999, and in June 1999 was named Division I-A Athletic Director of the Year. Jim is also a member of the Division 1-A Athletic Directors Association, having served as president of that association in 1998.

On a conference level, Livengood continues as the chair of the Revenue Sharing Subcommittee. Livengood previously served as the Pac-10 liaison to the men's basketball coaches from 2000-04, vice president of the Pac-10 Budget and Finance Committee from 2000-02, and chair of the Television Subcommittee in 2001-02. He has also was appointed to the Fiesta Bowl Board of Directors in December of 2003.

His national reputation is well deserved, and he keeps Arizona well positioned to compete at the top level as a standard bearer for intercollegiate athletics in the tradition-rich and highly competitive Pac-10. His program turns a profit, and he has recorded a positive fund balance for the program each of his 14 years in Tucson. As one who serves under the president of a public institution of higher education, that success alone puts Jim Livengood in some select company.

Livengood spent six years as the Athletics Director at Washington State University from 1988-93 where he developed what is still widely regarded as a model gender-equity program. In addition he laid the groundwork for a student-athlete wellness center that is regarded as one of the finest in the nation.

Livengood began his administrative career in 1980-1985 as the Associate Director for Development and Public relations at Washington State before becoming the Athletics Director at Southern Illinois from 1985-87.

Jim Livengood (right) with Wildcat standout Richard Jefferson.

Born March 28, 1945, in Walla Walla, Wash., Jim received his bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University in 1968 and completed his fifth-year education requirement for teaching certification at Central Washington University in 1972. He taught and served as an assistant football coach and track coach at Moses Lake High School in Washington in 1968-69, and as head football and basketball coach and counselor at Ephrata High School in Washington from 1972-80 before moving into athletic administration.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two grown children, Michelle, a lawyer in Tucson, and Jeremy, who now resides in Phoenix. Both children are University of Arizona graduates. Michelle earned her law degree in May 2000 and Jeremy graduated in December 1999.

KATHLEEN "ROCKY" LAROSE

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, SPORTS PROGRAMS AND OPERATIONS

Kathleen "Rocky" LaRose has been at the forefront of University of Arizona athletic leadership for the past three decades.

She enters her 30th year at the UA, her 15th year as Senior Associate Director of Athletics and her 20th year as the Senior Woman Administrator. The continuity added by her administrative skills, and her background as a university graduate and former student-athlete have been of tremendous benefit to the growth and success of UA athletics.

She oversees the internal operations of all 19 sports at the UA, and was the first woman in her capacity to have day-to-day internal operational responsibilities over Division I-A football and men's basketball programs.

As the Senior Associate Athletics Director, LaRose also directs compliance operations, heritage activities and all of the C.A.T.S. student-athlete services -- academics, medical services, strength and conditioning, life skills and equipment operations. She chairs the department's Equity and Title IX committees, directs the athletic department's periodic NCAA certification process and serves in various capacities toward UA's administrative relationship with the Pacific-10 Conference.

LaRose joined the Arizona staff in 1979 as the UA softball coach and worked from 1980 until 1989 in various capacities including coordinator of athletic special events and special projects, and as assistant athletics director for fund development. She is a past Vice President of the Pac-10 Conference and is a current member of the Pac-10 Council, which governs and regulates all Pac-10 policies.

On the national level, she was a charter member of the NCAA Management Council (the legislative body of the NCAA) as the Pac-10 representative for four years and was appointed Management Council liaison to the NCAA Student-Athlete Advisory Board. She also has chaired various Pac-10 committees, and is chairwoman of the Arizona Sports Hall of Fame selection committee.

In 1990, LaRose developed the Commitment for Athletes' Total Success (C.A.T.S.), an educational approach used by student-athlete services to better the student-athlete academically, athletically, and personally. Additionally it puts a central focus on the necessary support services student-athletes are offered.

LaRose was the recipient of the university's 2004 Billy Joe Varney Award, the institution's top career service honor for members of the staff.

LaRose accepts Varney Award from then UA President Peter Likins.

Raised in Phoenix, Ariz., LaRose received both her bachelor of science and master's degrees from The University of Arizona. While a student, she competed on the UA softball team as a starting infielder and clean-up hitter, leading the Cats to their first-ever conference championship title in 1979.

She competed in the 1979 World Cup Softball championship as a member of the USA National Championship team. She also was a member of the Arete Society (UA's Athletics Honorary) and was the 1978 UA Homecoming Queen. She is married to Michael Proctor, the University's associate vice president for outreach. Her nickname comes from her athletic playing days and maiden name of Rockenfield.

SCOTT MACKENZIE

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, EXTERNAL OPERATIONS

Mackenzie was promoted to senior staff in 2006 and directs the department's efforts in development, marketing, ticket office and media services.

During his first several years his leadership has helped bolster development programs and the department's services to its outside constituencies.

He has held a number of positions since joining the department in 1994, including associate athletics director for marketing and development, assistant athletics director for marketing and corporate sales, director of marketing, assistant director of marketing and early work as a marketing intern.

He has worked closely with UA student representatives to promote Arizona athletics and enhance student seating areas for revenue sports, plus has assisted in the formation of the UA Sports Marketing Association. He heads the department's cooperation with student leaders to develop strong and identifiable student sections at major events.

Prior to joining the UA staff, Mackenzie worked in the athletics departments at the University of Miami and the University of Colorado, primarily focusing on marketing issues.

He received a bachelor degree in business administration in 1992 from the University of Montana, his home state, and a master's in sports administration from St. Thomas University in Miami, Fla. in 1996.

Mackenzie volunteers as a Big Brother and serves on the board of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Tucson. He is an active member of The Centurions. He and his wife, Kimberly Clements, have a 1-year-old son, Colt.

JOHN PERRIN

ASSOCIATE TO THE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, ADMINISTRATION

John Perrin continues to lead the Athletics Department's financial missions and has been a key player in UA's success for three decades. He focuses on the program's financial structure, strategic fiscal planning and oversees event operations and facilities services.

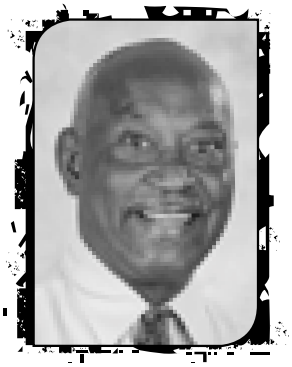

Perrin enters his 29th year of service in 2008-09. He joined the staff as financial officer in 1980. He was promoted in August 1991 from assistant athletics director to associate status. His duties expanded in 1993 to include additional responsibility for other department-wide supervision.

He came to UA from NBC-TV in Burbank, Calif., where he was business manager. During his tenure at NBC, he was responsible for West Coast production facilities' budgets and finances from 1972-79.

Perrin's financial acumen has helped the UA achieve a positive fund balance each year for the past two decades, and as financial officer, Perrin helped nurture the UA Athletics' budget from $6 million to its current total approaching $40 million.

Perrin and his wife, Jeannie, have two sons, John Jr. and Michael. He earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from New Mexico State University.

Perrin is a native of Roswell, N.M., and an avid outdoorsman.

GAYLE HOPKINS

ASSOCIATE TO THE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, ALUMNI DEVELOPMENT AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

Gayle Hopkins reports directly to Athletics Director Jim Livengood and spearheads the effort to secure support from former athletes as well as other special efforts to incorporate alumni in current departmental activities. He also directs projects to influence former athletes to return to complete their degree, and coordinates other special community-minded relationships for ICA.

His background covers the last three decades of Arizona Athletics and he is a charter member of the Arizona Sports Hall of Fame.

He initially joined the UA staff in 1983 — coming from Claremont College where he was track coach and director of physical education — to help develop Arizona's academic services office. He assumed development duties in 1992. A native of Davenport, Iowa, Hopkins was one of the greatest athletes in Iowa prep history and is a member of the Quad Cities Sports and the Drake Relays Halls of Fame. He also was elected to his High Schools' Wall of Honor.

Hopkins was a standout athlete in track at Arizona and was the Wildcats' first NCAA champion, in the long jump in 1964. He represented the United States in the 1964 Tokyo Olympics as a long jumper. He is a former member of the NCAA Track and Field Committee. He is active in many community activities including the Urban League Caucus, and is on the Board of Directors for the Arizona Children's Association and the Carondelet Health Network Public Policy Council, as well as the UA Sports Hall of Fame selection committee. He also is the President of the University of Arizona Black Alumni Association.

Hopkins taught school in Tucson and California and was an instructor at San Francisco State and Claremont. He was an EEO specialist for the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in 1979-80. He holds a bachelor's degree from Arizona, a master's degree from San Francisco State and a doctorate from Claremont. He is married to Patricia Hopkins, and they have a daughter, Alissa, a 1992 UA graduate, and a son, Chris, an Arizona State graduate and running back from 1992-95.

C.A.T.S. PROGRAM

The University of Arizona Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to the academic, physical and personal development of each and every Wildcat student-athlete. To assist in that endeavor, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics (ICA) has developed a philosophical approach called C.A.T.S. (Commitment to an Athlete's Total Success). C.A.T.S. consists of four programs: Academic Support (while housed in ICA is an academic unit within student affairs), Personal Development, Strength and Conditioning, and Medical Services. These programs provide a comprehensive philosophical framework for ICA and staff to use in the task of assisting in the personal, physical and emotional growth and in the educational development of the student-athlete.

C.A.T.S. Academics

C.A.T.S. Academics Goals

C.A.T.S Academics is committed to providing an academic support program that will develop the learning potential of all student-athletes as they pursue their education, develop their athletic skills and prepare for rewarding careers after graduation.

C.A.T.S. Academics is designed to enhance the educational experience of the student-athlete in the university setting. The primary goals are to:

1. Strive for excellence in the academic performance of every student-athlete who attends the UA to earn a degree.
2. Create an educational atmosphere where learning is fun and lifelong.
3. Commit to providing services necessary to support and lead its student-athletes.
4. To assist in the student-athlete's transition to the University and to develop independent learners.
5. Provide assistance for the student-athlete in the development of values, emphasizing the qualities of leadership.
6. Enhance the interpersonal relationships and communication skills of the student-athlete.
7. Encourage and facilitate the fulfillment of career and life goals of each student-athlete.
8. Safeguard the academic integrity of the UA by ensuring compliance with all rules of the University and NCAA.

Freshmen and First Year Students

The focus of the program is predicated on the belief that the key to retention of student-athletes in higher education is for an academic professional to engage the student on a personal level and assist the student in developing a personalized academic support plan. C.A.T.S. is committed to developing a strong first year experience.

The transition process from high school to college begins early and continues with intensive academic support throughout the first year. Students are assigned to C.A.T.S. Academics professionals upon arrival on campus who will assist them with course selection, tutorial support, study skill development, and assistance with navigating through the university.

A comprehensive Student-Athlete Orientation is conducted prior to the start of school upon arrival in August and members of the academics staff greet each student-athlete and family and addresses the specialized issues relating to the new student-athletes' transition to the university.

Peak Performance UNVR 197 for Academic and Life Success

The purpose or goal of this three-credit course is to acquire knowledge, and to develop skills, abilities and attributes that will enhance student-athlete academic and personal success. All freshmen are required to enroll in the class, which is designed to assist the freshmen with the transition from high school to college and develop a foundation for success. The early focus of the class is centered around academic skill development, critical thinking and problem solving skills, goal setting and enhancing or developing consistent time management skills. Other topics may include a broad range of academic, personal and career concerns.

Academic Advising

The academic advisor designated by each College has primary advising responsibilities for student-athletes who are currently enrolled in that College's curriculum. The C.A.T.S. Academics Office also offers supplemental advising / counseling to all student-athletes regarding course selection for degree requirements and NCAA requirements for continued eligibility. The academic advisory staff members are responsible for monitoring the student-athlete's progress towards a degree and preserving academic integrity in the advising process. Counseling student-athletes in course selection is one of the most important functions.

C.A.T.S. PROGRAM

The student-athlete meets initially with an academic advisor or member of a college advising center staff to review an academic plan based on the student-athlete's academic background, career objectives and areas of interest and declared major. Once this meeting has concluded, the student-athlete may register for classes. The C.A.T.S. Academics counselors work cooperatively with academic advisors throughout the university to ensure progress towards a degree as well as compliance with all NCAA eligibility requirements.

Directed Studies Program

The Directed Studies Program has a two-pronged approach to meet the academic needs of incoming freshmen and continuing student-athletes who have transitional issues. All first year student–athletes have required study hall hours. Students meet with Academic Learning Specialists, academic mentors, content-based tutors, or a combination of all three, to ensure a successful and seamless transition into the university community.

Learning Specialists meet daily with those student-athletes who may require additional academic attention. The Learning Specialists provide a more focused approach to the rigors of academia while guiding the program's mentors and content-based tutors in providing additional academic assistance.

The academic mentors assist with time management, study skills and the transition to college. In addition to academic mentors, tutors are available, if needed, in specialized subjects. These outstanding graduate and undergraduate students are recruited from all academic departments and are selected on the basis of faculty recommendation and demonstrated knowledge of subject area. They are recruited, hired, and supervised by the C.A.T.S Tutorial Coordinator. The services provided by the tutorial staff are an integral part of the total C.A.T.S. Academic Program and are an invaluable learning resource for busy student-athletes.

Facilities

C.A.T.S. Academics facilities are comprised of the four main areas designed for academic study:

1. The C.A.T.S. Advising Center
   - Houses five academic advisors
   - Work areas available for student-athletes to have individualized tutoring sessions
2. The C.A.T.S. Learning Center
   - Houses three full-time Learning Specialists, Tutorial Coordinator, and Math & Science Center
   - Wireless Internet Access available for student use
3. The C.A.T.S. Computer Lab
   - Forty-three (43) stand alone computers featuring Microsoft Office Professional word processing and several spreadsheet programs and full high speed internet access
   - Student-athletes can access the Discover Career Exploration program from each computer
   - The Computer facility is open and supervised 70 hours per week, and the lab is maintained by a full-time employee
   - Three laser printers compliment the lab
4. 120-Seat Auditorium
   - Seats 60 for quiet study
   - Seats 60 for tutorial appointments

Medical Services

The Kasser Family Sports Medicine Center

The sports medicine center consists of 5,300 usable square feet in space. It includes the Alex and Elisabeth Kasser Aqua Rehab Facility, which features an underwater treadmill and other hydro-therapy equipment. The facility has stations for taping and treatment, examination rooms and offices for UA physicians, staff offices and reception area, and an X-ray examination room.

Injury Prevention

The athletic medicine staff is committed to working with strength and conditioning coaches, team coaches and student-athletes in implementing ways to prevent injuries. Although the risk of injury cannot be completely eliminated, proper strength and conditioning, adequate hydration, taping and bracing, and education are all methods employed by the staff to minimize the risk of injury or illness.

C.A.T.S. Medical Services Staff

The athletic medicine team is comprised of a team physician (family practice specialist), three team orthopedic surgeons, 12 certified athletics trainers and two physical therapists. In addition, the entire staff works with a team of approximately 30 specialists in the Tucson community to provide comprehensive medical care for athletically related injuries and illnesses.

Injury Evaluation And Treatment

If a student-athlete is injured during an athletic event, the certified athletic trainer will assess the injury and proceed to treat the injury or recommend further consultation from a team physician.

Injury Rehabilitation

The athletic training staff and physical therapists are trained in up-to-date methods of rehabilitating athletic injuries. The staff utilizes equipment located in the rehabilitation area of the training room such as balance boards, Swiss balls, lifecycles and treadmills. Later stages of rehabilitation may be conducted in the weight room with help from the strength and conditioning staff.

MEDIA

MEDIA INFORMATION

Arizona Media Relations

Media relations director Tom Duddleston supervises the University of Arizona athletic media relations office. He is assisted by associate SID Richard Paige, assistant SIDs Blair Willis and Eric Montgomery. For men's basketball information, please direct your requests to basketball contact Richard Paige.

Lute Olson Interview Procedures

Arizona head coach Lute Olson is available for interviews by pre-arranged appointment through the UA media relations office. Olson's weekly press conference will be held in McKale Center on Monday or Tuesday afternoons in either the media relations work room (room 109C) or Ashley Lohse Room (room 329). Check with the UA media relations office for start times and locations.

Another way to get in touch with Olson is through the weekly Pac-10 head coaches teleconference. Media members are advised to call the Arizona or Pac-10 Media Relations Offices in advance to get the accurate time and date for each week's call.

UA Player Interview Procedures

Arizona players will be available to the media following Olson's weekly press conference and as scheduled through the media relations office. Players are not to be contacted at home and home phone numbers will not be given to the media. For interviews with assistant coaches, call the men's basketball office directly. Please respect the student-athlete's academic responsibilities when requesting longer interviews. Requests for coach and player interviews should be made at least 24 hours in advance. Players are off limits on game days (except postgame) and on days in between games on the road.

Press Releases

The UA media relations office will produce regular basketball press releases that will generally be available by mid-day on Mondays and mid-day on the day after a game during the week. This will be available via the UA athletics' website (www.arizonaathletics.com), at the weekly Lute Olson press conference, or at the media relations office. Please contact Richard Paige to receive releases via e-mail.

Credentials

Seating at press row, access to the press room, the interview room, photo areas and lockerrooms is restricted to accredited media only. Credentials are issued by game to members of the professional working media only, and should be requested at least 48 hours in advance on company letterhead. Credentials and media parking passes shall be granted on a space available basis to daily newspapers, television and radio stations on assignment and other coverage approved by the UA's media relations director. Due to limited space on press row, not all requests will be approved. Credentials will not be issued to station general managers.

Media Parking and Entrance

For the 2008-09 season, media parking will be located on the UA Mall (immediately in front of McKale Center). All credentialed media should enter the arena through the northeast corner of the arena, through the doors off Martin Avenue next to the Hillenbrand Aquatic Center.

Media Will Call

All credentials will be available for pickup at the media relations office until three hours prior to game time, then will be available at the media entrance (northeast corner of McKale Center). Please have proper forms of identification when picking up press credentials. Except for special cases, credentials will not be mailed.

Game Day Media Services

Game notes, media guides and rosters will be available in media work room, which is located just off the hallway under the seats in the north end of the arena (McKale Center Room 109C). Halftime statistics will be distributed along press row and in the media work room. Final statistics will be delivered to the interview room and the work room. Full statistics, play-by-play sheets, postgame notes and quotes will be distributed in the work room as well. Five phone lines will be available on a shared basis in the work rooms for media use. The media relations office will fax a final box at your request.

Radio/TV statisticians, spotters, runners, etc. are available through Richard Paige in the UA media relations office. We request that when prior arrangements are made to use the statisticians, they must be paid whether they were employed or not.

Postgame Procedures

Arizona's lockerroom is open to accredited media only following a 10-minute cooling off period after each game for approximately 20 minutes. Anyone requesting a specific player should contact Richard Paige prior to entry into the lockerroom.

Lute Olson has a contractual obligation to television networks and the Wildcat Radio Network first and then will proceed to the interview room (109C). Visiting teams will follow their own policies.

Phone Lines

The Wildcat Radio Network has installed extra phone lines for visiting radio on a reciprocal basis. Contact Brian Jeffries at (520/626-7660) for additional information. Media requesting own phone lines on press row can contact the University of Arizona phone office (520/621-5232).

Still Photographers

Courtside photo access will be granted only to working media photographers and must be requested by editors or sports directors. Tripods are prohibited. Strobe lighting for non-NCAA Championship games may be installed on a case-by-case basis, but must be approved and installed well in advance of any game. Still photographers are restricted to the designated baseline areas (northwest and southeast floor area).

Additionally, anyone with permission to access strobes in the rafters MUST BE OUT of the rafters 90 minutes prior to tip-off. NO EXCEPTIONS. Access to this area is for technical purposes related to strobes ONLY and NOT a vantage point for photos. Access onto the catwalks is restricted during events. Failure to obey this policy affords the University the right to press charges that include endangerment and trespass.

RESERVING PHOTO BOXES: The baseline photo boxes marked for photographers will be assigned to photographers possessing a UA season media credential. All other available spots remain available on a first-come, first-served basis. HOWEVER, those boxes CANNOT be reserved with a card any more than three hours prior to tip-off. Any cards placed in the boxes in advance of that deadline will be removed. Please note that this does not allow photographers the right to interrupt any assigned practice or event (i.e. volleyball, gymnastics, women's basketball, etc.), which may take place in the arena between the three-hour window and tip-off. Cards placed before any such practice/event may be removed and not replaced.

News Television Photographers

Television photographers are restricted to the same baseline areas as still photographers. No live shots will be permitted on the floor prior to or during any game.

Broadcast Television

Live television crews have locations at mid-court. There is opportunity for baseline camera locations next to the basket supports. Per Pac-10 rules, at no time will cameras be allowed in the team bench area. All television cables are permanently installed.

Broadcast Rights

All requests for radio and television rights and fees should be directed to UA director of event management Suzy Mason (520/621-6484).

Press Row

Press seating is located on the floor along the west side of the McKale Center playing floor and along the baselines. Press row is reserved for working media members only. Friends, spouses and children are not allowed to sit at press row, in compliance with the United States Basketball Writers Association working code. It should go without saying that cheerleading is not permitted.

NBA Scouts

All authorized NBA scouts will be required to purchase a ticket through The McKale Center Ticket Office at (800) 452-2287 (fax 520/621-2419). All NBA requests must be made on team letterhead and be guaranteed with a credit card. All requests will be verified by the NBA. The best available seat will be issued, however with McKale Center being sold out for the last 20 years, these tickets may not be near courtside (NBA scouts do not sit on press row). Media guides and game notes will be available for all NBA scouts in the work room (McKale Center Room 109). It is recommended that NBA organizations contact the McKale Center Ticket Office on or before Nov. 1, the date any remaining single-game tickets go on sale to the general public.

Directions to McKale Center

From Tucson International Airport: Follow Tucson Boulevard out of Tucson International airport to Kino Parkway (three miles). Turn right on Kino Parkway and head north (Kino Parkway eventually changes name and becomes Campbell Avenue) for four miles. After crossing Sixth Street take the first left and McKale Center will be on your immediate right.

From Phoenix: Take I-10 East (approximately 100 miles). When arriving in Tucson exit off to Speedway Boulevard. Turn left onto Speedway and go two and one-half miles to Campbell Avenue. Turn right onto Campbell Avenue and go approximately one-third of a mile. Entry to McKale Center will be the first right after the light.

IMG - SPONSORSHIP MARKETING & BROADCASTING

IMG College and The University of Arizona department of Intercollegiate Athletics have partnered for a long-term agreement that puts the premier marketing, licensing and media company in the leadership role as administrator for the UA's media rights.

Founded in 1960 with a handshake between Mark McCormack and golf legend Arnold Palmer, the New York City- and Cleveland-based global sports media and entertainment company directs Arizona's radio networks, publishes printed game programs and produces radio and television coaches' shows. Moreover, its major focus is the administration of the athletics department's entire corporate partnership program with more than 100 outside entities.

IMG acquired Host Communications, the UA media rights partner since 2004, last November. IMG partners with CBS College Sports Network to produce the athletic department's web site and its online information-marketing platform.

The initial contract with Host began with the 2004 football season, and significantly expanded beginning June 2007 to provide UA with substantial guaranteed revenue through June 2019. The rights fee magnitude ranks at the top of the Pac-10 and in the top seven nationally.

The radio portion of the contract partners IMG with Citadel Broadcasting Company, using KCUB 1290-AM in Tucson as the flagship station for originating broadcasts. Additionally, Citadel uses KCUB's 100,000-watt sister FM station, K-HIT 107.5, to augment broadcast coverage in Southern Arizona. Additionally, Host contracted with Lotus' KTKT 990 ESPN Deportes in February 2007 to originate more than 55 Spanish-language radio broadcasts for all football, the majority of men's basketball and selected women's basketball, baseball and softball games.

IMG works on its marketing and sales strategies with 10 full-time in-house personnel quartered in the athletics department's McKale Center, led by vice president/GM Brent A. Seebohm. The group produces and distributes complete season radio programming for football, men's and women's basketball and selected baseball and softball games. Considerable promotional time provided by IMG and Citadel are unprecedented in college athletics, and Citadel uses all of its five Tucson radio stations to feature and promote Arizona coaches and student-athletes on a daily basis.

Weekly radio and television shows are produced for football coach Mike Stoops and men's basketball coach Lute Olson. In 2004 Host began regular-season softball broadcasts for the first time in school history, and annually produce more than sixteen games aired live by new Wildcats radio broadcaster David Kelly.

IMG prints and publishes game programs for football and men's basketball, and also works with the department to print annual media guides or recruiting brochures for the sport programs under a separate contract.

Named as the No. 1 company in the world of sports marketing by SportsBusiness Journal, IMG provides comprehensive sales, affinity marketing, multimedia, promotional and management services to universities, athletics conferences, associations and corporations. IMG represents a broad network of major-college institutions including new agreements with Oregon, Kansas, Nebraska, Florida, Michigan and Ohio State. IMG also maintains a 30-year relationship with the National Collegiate Athletic Association. While offering significantly diverse services, key company operating areas include collegiate marketing, association management, publishing, radio and television, and Internet strategies.

Brian Jeffries has served as the voice of the Wildcats in game broadcasts of UA football, basketball and baseball since Arizona's 1986 Aloha Bowl football appearance. He was promoted in August 2008 to serve as IMG's full-time director of broadcasting. In the 2004 season, former UA running back Lamont Lovett began his color analyst career on the football broadcasts. In men's basketball, Jeffries teams with former basketball operations director and current assistant director of development and donor relations Ryan Hansen for broadcasts.

UA renewed its partnership with Fox Sports Arizona in 2004 that uses its Arizona regional affiliate to provide television broadcasts for football and men's basketball through the 2008-09 school year. Fox Sports Arizona has been a partner with the university in that regard for the past seven years. The regional cable network serves 2.8 million homes in Arizona and New Mexico, and is available nationwide through the DISH Network and DIRECTV satellite service.

The network televises Wildcat football and basketball games on a regional basis when the contests are not carried nationally by the Pac-10 Conference's television partners – ABC, Fox Sports Net and ESPN – or any other television networks. Also, Fox Sports Arizona produces sports news programming and periodic inside coverage of UA sports. Nationally, FSN reaches more than 80 million homes through its 16 regional sports networks.

Long-time UA broadcaster Dave Sitton provides television play-by-play for football with Lincoln Kennedy as the analyst. Sitton is in his 18th year serving as the TV voice of Wildcat athletics and teams with former UA All-American Bob Elliott for Wildcat basketball broadcasts on Fox Sports Arizona.

FSAZ, which is the first statewide 24-hour regional sports network, also holds exclusive non-broadcast television rights to the NHL's Phoenix Coyotes, Major League Baseball's Arizona Diamondbacks and the NBA's Phoenix Suns. The network, which is an owned-and-operated affiliate of FSN, will televise Pac-10 and Atlantic Coast Conference basketball this winter. Multiple live Pac-10 games of the week are telecast on Thursday evenings and during the weekends. In addition, the network televises various Pacific-10 Conference Olympic sports events featuring University of Arizona athletics.

Arizonaathletics.com is a comprehensive Internet site for Wildcat sports news, and offers premium content radio streaming packages for most football, men's and women's basketball and baseball game broadcasts, along with various video features and other specialty audiovisual and interactive information. UA's collaboration with CBS College Sports Network began in summer 2008.

"The Conference of Champions"

Entering the 2008-09 season, the Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions." Pac-10 members have claimed an incredible 158 NCAA team titles over the past 18 seasons, for an average of nearly nine championships per year. In 2007-08, Arizona helped with its twin NCAA Swimming championships, two of 13 titles clinched by league schools.

Those 158 team titles in two decades have come in 24 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has led the nation in NCAA Championships 42 of the last 48 years and finished second in total titles five times. Currently, the league sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally the conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation in four other men's sports and two other women's sports. All of Arizona sports are Pac-10 Championship programs.

The UA and Arizona State joined the Pac-10 for the 1978 football season and will enter their 31st year in the league this season. For UA it's the longest conference affiliation in its history, matching the 31 years it competed in the since-disbanded Border Conference from 1931 to 1961.

Historically in nearly a century of outstanding athletics, the Pac-10 has captured 371 NCAA titles (259 men's, 112 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's by well more than 100 team championships.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual United States Sports Academy Directors' Cup competition that rates the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country by postseason success. Stanford continued its run in the 2007-08 season, winning a 14th consecutive Directors' Cup. In the 2008 competition, six league teams were expected to finish in the Top 25, while Arizona made a push in four spring sports to work toward another Top 25 finish. UA has been in the Top 10 nine years, in the Top 20 another four seasons and in the Top 25 in 2007. The program began in 1993-94.

NCAA champions from the Pac-10 in 2007-08 came from the UA's men's and women's swimming titles, Arizona State's championships in both indoor track programs and softball, California's men's water polo championship, Oregon's men's cross country title, Stanford's women's cross country title; UCLA's crowns in men's golf, women's tennis and women's water polo; and USC's championship in women's golf and women's soccer. The Pac-10 experienced continued success in football as the league sent six teams to bowl games and had its usual assortment of All-Americans and national award winners. Bowl teams included USC, ASU, Cal, Oregon, OSU and UCLA. The final AP football poll included USC, ASU Oregon and OSU.

Individually, the Pac-10 has produced more than 1,650 NCAA individual crowns, including Arizona's national titles in 2007-08 by high jumper Liz Patterson and a host of swimmers – Lacey Nymeyer, Lara Jackson, Albert Subirats, Darien Townsend and a trove of swimming relay teams – five on the women's side and three by the men.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back nearly a century to December 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. Original membership consisted of four schools – the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University), was accepted into the Conference, and Stanford University joined in 1918

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the Conference in 1924, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new Conference was formed – the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He has been succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971), and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983. Hansen retires at the end of this year.

The Pacific-10 Conference offices are situated 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif. The Pacific-10 Conference web site can be found on the Internet at pac-10.org. Office headquarters phone number: 925-932-4411.

NCAA Tournament Action at McKale Center

The University of Arizona has played host to NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament first and second round action on eight separate occasions, most recently in March 2005.

Overall, the University has been the host for NCAA Tournament games on 10 occasions: 1973, 1977, 1979, 1987, 1991, 1997, 2000 and 2005 for early-round games; and 1974 and 1980 for the West Regionals.

The obvious reason for Arizona's appeal as a tournament site is the tremendous support shown by Wildcat fans each year. Arizona has led the Pac-10 in home basketball attendance for the past 20 seasons. The Wildcats have broken the league record for home attendance in 10 of the last 16 seasons, topped by an average of 14,562 for the 15 regular-season games in 2002-03. Furthermore, a then-Pac-10 record 66,477 fans attended the 1988 Pac-10 Postseason Tournament when McKale Center served as host. McKale Center also served as the host venue for the 1976 NCAA Wrestling Championships and the 1986 USA World Championships Team training camp. The facility also hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament in 2006.

2009 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Championship

ALL TIMES ARE LOCAL

On March 15, the basketball committee will select two teams to play the opening-round game March 17 in Dayton. The winning team will be a 16th seed in the first round.

*First- and second-round and regional sites will be placed in the bracket by the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee March 15.

March 19 and 21 first-/second-round sites: Greensboro, Kansas City, Philadelphia, Portland
March 20 and 22 first-/second-round sites: Boise, Dayton, Miami, Minneapolis
March 26 and 28 regional sites: Boston, Glendale
March 27 and 29 regional sites: Indianapolis, Memphis
