The History of Arizona Women's Soccer

December 1993

The UA Intercollegiate Athletics Council reached the decision to add women's soccer as a varsity sport for the 1994 season.

Feb. 10, 1994

UA Athletics Director Jim Livengood announced the hiring of Lisa Fraser as the school's first women's soccer coach.

Sept. 3, 1994

The Arizona women's soccer team made its unofficial debut with a scrimmage at nationally ranked Stanford.

Sept. 4, 1994

In its first-ever match, the Arizona women's soccer team fell at Sacramento State, 3-1. Junior midfielder Ashley Lettis scored the first goal in Arizona history during the 47th minute of the contest. Sophomore Mavia Montano was credited with the assist.

Sept. 11, 1994

Arizona notched its first victory and first shutout both in the same game, as the Wildcats defeated Montana, 2-0, in Missoula, Mont.

Sept. 20, 1994

The Wildcats played their first "home" game at Pima Community College, falling to San Diego State, 3-0.

Nov. 4, 1994

Junior Jenn Duran made Arizona scoring history with the program's first hat trick, leading the Cats to a 3-1 win over Texas Tech at home. She found the net first at the 16-minute mark, then scored the gamewinner at 77:39. Exactly one minute later, Duran capped her performance by connecting on the program's first-ever penalty kick.

Nov. 6, 1994

The Wildcats wrapped up their first season of play with a 3-1 loss to Nebraska at home, finishing the year with a 3-11-0 record. Jenn Duran was the runaway scoring leader, with 18 points off seven goals and four assists.

Sept. 10, 1995

Freshman forward Nikki Jones scored the lone goal of the game at the 91:27 mark to give the Cats their first-ever overtime victory, 1-0, at Creighton.

Oct. 5, 1995

Junior forward Christine Keeley scored two goals, including the gamewinner, and assisted the equalizer as the Wildcats registered a 3-2 come-from-behind win over USC, the program's first Pac-10 victory.

Oct. 29, 1995

Nikki Jones recorded the second hat trick in UA history during the Cats' 4-2 win over Sacramento State at home. Christine Keeley assisted all three goals, posting the program's first multiple-assist game.

Nov. 15, 1995

Christine Keeley became Arizona's first women's soccer player to earn conference honors as she was named second team All-Pac-10.

Sept. 15, 1996

Arizona played its first match in its own home complex, Arizona Soccer Field, losing a hard-fought battle, 2-0, to San Francisco.

Sept. 27, 1996

Senior forward Christine Keeley dented the net twice in the first nine minutes of the match, forcing 14th-ranked Stanford to come from behind for a 3-2 win. It was Arizona's first match with a nationally ranked opponent on its home field, as well as the first official home Pac-10 game for the Cats.

Sept. 30, 1996

Christine Keeley contributed a goal and an assist in the UA's 2-0 shutout of Wyoming, the Wildcats' first victory on their home field.

Dec. 5, 1996

For the second year in a row, forward Christine Keeley earned second team All-Pac-10 honors.

Apr. 2, 1997

Christine Keeley became the first Arizona soccer player to join the professional ranks when she signed with the German club, F.C. Klinge Secack.

Aug. 4-9, 1997

Christine Keeley participated in the U.S. Soccer Festival '97 in Blaine, Minn. She was the first Wildcat to be called up for U.S. National Team participation.

Ashley Lettis (1994-95) scored the first goal in Arizona soccer history on Sept. 4, 1994.

Sept. 5, 1997

Arizona's home field was dubbed the John and Helen Murphey Soccer Stadium.

Oct. 26, 1997

Junior forward Nikki Jones scored the second goal in a 2-0 shutout of Oregon State in Tucson and became Arizona's all-time leading scorer with 19 career goals and seven assists (45 points).

Nov. 9, 1997

Despite falling to Stanford, 5-2, in the final match of the season, Arizona finished the year with best-ever records of 8-11-1 overall and 2-7 in Pac-10 play.

Nov. 24, 1997

Freshman goalkeeper Inger Airheart became the first Wildcat to earn first team All-Pac-10 honors. She was also the only freshman named to the 1997 Pac-10 first team.

Sept. 20, 1998

With an assist during a narrow 2-1 loss to George Washington, senior forward Nikki Jones became Arizona's all-time assists leader. Jones went on to wrap up her career with 14 assists, to go along with her UA career-leading total of 25 goals.

Oct. 4, 1999

Junior forward Chrissy Sanford became the first Wildcat ever to be named Pac-10 Player of the Week, after racking up two goals and two assists to lead the Cats to wins over Pepperdine and Wyoming.

Jan. 3, 2000

After a successful five-year stint at Iowa State, Cathy Klein was named as the new head coach of the Arizona women's soccer program.

Sept. 9, 2001

Senior forward Kristi Loroña racked up an amazing five goals during the Cats' 9-1 rout of Southern Utah. Freshman Candice Wilks also had a hat trick in the match.

Sept. 11, 2001

After her five-goal performance, Loroña was named Pac-10 Player of the Week, becoming only the second Wildcat ever to earn the honor.

Oct. 21, 2001

With a 2-1 overtime victory at home over Oregon State, the Wildcats registered their first-ever back-to-back Pac-10 wins and first-ever Pac-10 sweep. The Cats had beaten Oregon, 2-1, just two days earlier.

Oct. 22, 2001

After scoring both gamewinning goals and assisting another during the sweep of the Oregon schools, forward Candice Wilks became the first Wildcat freshman ever to be named Pac-10 Player of the Week.

The home of Arizona soccer since 1996, the John and Helen Murphey Soccer Stadium has been the site of many important events during the brief history of the UA program.

Nineteen of the program's 40 all-time wins have come on the UA's home field. The Cats have faced 10 nationally ranked teams at home and have compiled a solid 19-28-3 (.410) record in six seasons at Murphey Stadium.

During the 2001 season, the Cats registered a 5-3-1 record in home games, their best mark ever at Murphey Stadium and the first winning home record in the program's history. Included in that victory total was an astounding 9-1 rout of Southern Utah on Sept. 9, 2001, that resulted in six new school records.

The Arizona soccer team spent its first two years of existence playing "home" games at Pima Community College in Tucson.

That nomad existence came to an end on Sept. 15, 1996, as the Wildcats played host to San Francisco on their own field, which was called Arizona Soccer Stadium at the time. The Cats fell to the Lady Dons, 2-0, in a hard-fought contest, but the match marked another successful step for the young Arizona soccer program.

The UA's first victory at home was a 2-0 shutout of Wyoming on Sept. 30, 1996, and the Wildcats finished their first year in the facility with a 1-6-1 mark on their home field.

The facility was dubbed the John and Helen Murphey Soccer Stadium on Sept. 5, 1997, during the Cats' home opener for that season.

The Wildcats have developed a steady following in Tucson, as is evidenced by the growing number of fans which show up at Murphey Stadium for home matches. The Cats had a best-ever attendance average of 708 fans per game in 1998, a number which was up from the previous year by an average of more than 200 people. Overall, the Wildcats have averaged more than 500 spectators at every match since 1996.

Murphey Stadium is located at the corner of Plumer Avenue and 15th Street, adjacent to Drachman Track. In the off-season, the field is shared with the Department of Campus Recreation for intramural and other student activities. However, once practice begins in the fall, the field is closed to public use in order to ensure the facility is maintained at a level befitting a major intercollegiate soccer program.

The grading and sodding of the field and installation of lights for night play was made possible by the generous assistance of Tucson's Murphey Foundation. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has plans for further improvements at Murphey Soccer Stadium as additional private support becomes available.

Prior to the 2001 season, permanent wrought-iron fencing was installed around the facility, and a scaffolding tower was erected to assist teams in videotaping of contests.

The next phase of development could include permanent bleachers, rest rooms, concession and team buildings, as well as lighting enhancements.

The Pacific-10 Conference

Entering the 2002-03 season, the Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions."® Pac-10 members have claimed an incredible 65 NCAA team titles over the past eight seasons, for an average of more than eight championships per academic year.

Even more impressive is the breadth of the Pac-10's success, as those 65 team titles over the past eight seasons have come in 21 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has now led the nation in NCAA Championships 37 of the last 42 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievement, the Pac-10 has captured 317 NCAA titles (240 men's, 77 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 191 titles.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual Sears Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. STANFORD continued its remarkable run in the 2001-02 season, winning its eighth consecutive Sears Directors' Cup. In the 2001-02 final standings, three of the Top 10, and seven of the top 25 Division I programs, were Pac-10 members: No. 1 STANFORD, No. 5 UCLA, No. 9 ARIZONA, T-No. 13 USC, T-No. 13 ARIZONA STATE, No. 20 CALIFORNIA and No. 25 WASHINGTON.

The league tied the SEC for most team championships. Out of those six titles, three different Pac-10 members won at least one NCAA Championship, with Stanford leading the nation with four. The Pac-10 also laid claim to 48 individual titles, the most of any Conference.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-10 in 2001-02. Of the 22 sports sponsored by the Pac-10, 20 witnessed at least half its teams participating in the postseason.

The Pac-10 experienced continued success in football as the league sent five teams to bowl games. OREGON won the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl on its way to finishing No. 2 in the country. Stanford, USC, Washington and WASHINGTON STATE each earned bowl berths.

The Pac-10 also showed its worth on the basketball court, as it sent a record six teams into the Men's NCAA Tournament where Oregon, Arizona and UCLA advanced to the Sweet 16.

The Pac-10 Men's Basketball Tournament returned after a 12-year hiatus, but the results were the same as Arizona won its fourth consecutive Pac-10 Tournament crown and earned the league's automatic NCAA Tournament berth. On the women's side, Arizona State won the inaugural Conference Tournament, upsetting the regular season Pac-10 Champion Stanford Cardinal.

The Conference enjoyed success in softball once again as seven teams made it to the NCAA Regional Tournament, marking the fourth consecutive season the Pac-10 has sent at least seven teams to regionals. Arizona, Arizona State, California and UCLA made it to the Women's College World Series where the Wildcats and Golden Bears battled for the national title, the ninth time Conference teams have faced each other in the championship game, and the 19th time in 21 years the Pac-10 has sent at least one team to the title game.

During the season, the Conference also added to its tennis history as USC garnered the men's title, while Stanford won the women's portion for the second consecutive year. The Cardinal women also continued the Pac-10 volleyball tradition by winning their fifth national title in school history (ninth in Conference history).

On the men's side, Pac-10 members have won 240 NCAA Team Championships, far ahead of the the 182 claimed by the runner-up Big Ten. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-10 - 15 basketball titles by five schools (more than any other conference), 48 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track and field crowns, and 24 baseball titles. Pac-10 members have won 23 of the last 33 NCAA titles in volleyball, 28 of the last 43 in water polo, and 20 total swimming and diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA men's individual champions as well, claiming 1062 NCAA individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 21 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 13 occasions. Overall, the Pac-10 has captured 77 NCAA women's crowns, easily outdistancing the Southeastern Conference, which is second with 54. Pac-10 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 15 softball titles, 14 tennis crowns, seven of the last 12 volleyball titles and nine of the last 13 trophies in golf and eight of the last 14 in swimming and diving.

Pac-10 women athletes shine nationally on an individual basis as well, capturing an unmatched 395 NCAA individual titles, an average of nearly 19 champions per season.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back nearly 87 years to December 15, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. Original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University), was accepted into the Conference, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the Conference in 1924, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new Conference was formed - the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and two other women's sports.

Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He has been succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971), and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pacific-10 Conference offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

Born on 40 acres of land donated by a saloon-keeper and two gamblers, and funded by a $25,000 consolation prize in Tucson's competition for the Territorial capital, the University of Arizona rose from the dusty floor of the desert in true Wild West fashion. Nobody wanted it, and fewer believed it would last. Fortunately, they were wrong, and the bet laid down by E.B. Gifford, Ben C. Parker and W.S. "Billy" Read on Nov. 27, 1886, has paid off into one of the finest research institutions in the world.

When the first 32 students hitched their cow ponies to posts near the only building on campus in 1891, they began a tradition that has now entered its third century. The hitching posts may be gone, but "Old Main" remains as witness to the University's growth into a 355-acre Research I institution with 185 buildings, more than 35,000 students, and a faculty and staff of 12,000. The UA is the largest employer in Pima County and the fourth-largest in Arizona with a payroll of half a billion dollars.

It's hard to believe that in the early days there were more students in the preparatory department finishing the equivalent of high school than there were University students. The number of University graduates never reached more than 10 per year until a decade of rapid expansion beginning in 1910, which saw the Territory become a state and the small outpost in the Sonoran Desert grow into a true educational institution.

Today, the University of Arizona is one of the top 20 research universities in the nation and has played a part in groundbreaking projects ranging from the exploration of Mars to the development of new cancer treatments. UA's observational, theoretical and space astronomy programs are ranked No. 1 in the country by the National Science Foundation (NSF) and recent U.S. News and World Report rankings placed 17 of the school's graduate programs among the top 20 in the nation. In addition, the Nobel Prize, three Pulitzer Prizes and a National Medal of Science have been bestowed upon Arizona educators.

Not to be forgotten, the University's undergraduate programs continue to flourish. The NSF considers Arizona to be one of the 10 universities that best integrates teaching and research for undergraduates. The NASA-funded space grant program pays undergraduates to work in laboratories alongside faculty, and the Undergraduate Biology Research Program includes 43 departments, involves 200 faculty sponsors and funds more than 100 undergraduate researchers each summer.

UA's top-notch programs develop top-name graduates who have continued on to success in their respective fields. The UA boasts a laundry list of graduates who have significantly impacted society. From the late U.S. Congressman Morris K. Udall to Joan Ganz Cooney, founder of the Children's Television Workshop, to Emmy Award winning actor/comedian Garry Shandling, UA graduates have made their mark on the world. Other notable ex-Wildcats include Native American artist Fritz Scholder, the late astronaut Richard Scobee, Arizona Supreme Court Justice Stanley G. Feldman and August Busch III, the CEO of Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

The UA also plays host to the world, with students representing all 50 states and 130 countries. Nearly a quarter of the student body consists of under-represented racial and ethnic groups, and the campus is located in one of the most diverse locations in the country, with the influence of Native American and Mexican cultures evident throughout the Tucson community.

The University of Arizona enters its third century of service with a continued commitment to providing support to its undergraduate population. Recently completed and current construction projects are testaments to the fact that the UA is putting its money where its mouth is. The Integrated Learning Center, located underneath the grass Mall in the middle of campus, provides a home base for freshmen, with classrooms and offices for easier access to faculty and staff. In addition, the new Student Union, scheduled for completion this year, will contain the ambience of the Southwest with shaded terraces and open-air walkways, while providing services such as the bookstore and restaurants that serve the UA community. A new SALT (Strategic Alternative Learning Techniques) Center is under construction to enhance aid to students with learning disabilities, and the Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion, which includes a strength training center, medical services center, and the Jim Click Hall of Champions — a museum to showcase Arizona Athletics Heritage and Tradition.

This commitment to excellence ensures that the University of Arizona will continue to grow from its auspicious beginnings as a single-building outpost in the desert into a world-renowned center for knowledge and research well into the next century.

Jim Livengood - Director of Athletics

The University of Arizona's athletic leadership is in capable hands as the department embarks on its 105th year and pursues success in 2002-03.

Jim Livengood became UA's eighth athletics director in January 1994. He has provided leadership that has brought an already successful program to new heights competitively and administratively, in addition to making considerable facility improvements, including construction of the Eddie Lynch

Athletics Pavilion. During his tenure, the UA has maintained its ranking among the best programs in the nation, finishing among the top 10 schools in the Sears Directors' Cup standings each of the last nine years. This record reflects success throughout Arizona's broad-based program, highlighted by: participation in the 1994 and 2001 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Final Four; becoming 1997 NCAA Men's National Basketball Champions; winning the 1994, 1996 and 1997 and 2001 NCAA Division I National Softball Championships, along with the 1996 and 2000 NCAA women's golf titles.

He is active on the national and regional level. Livengood became chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee in July 2002 after serving on the committee since 1999. He is a member of the NCAA Fellows (Pilot) Program to mentor new athletic directors and served on the NCAA Peer Review team from 1994-99. This year, Livengood is Vice President of the Pac-10 Conference, chairs the Pac-10 Athletic Directors Revenue Sharing Committee, is a member of the Rose Bowl Management Committee, serves on the Pac-10 Men's Basketball Tournament Subcommittee, and is the Pac-10 AD's Liaison to Men's Basketball Coaches. In 2001-2002, he chaired both the Pac-10 Budget & Finance Committee and the Pac-10 Athletic Directors Committee TV Subcommittee, and also served on the Pac-10 Men's Basketball Tournament Sub-Committee.

He is among national leaders in gender equity issues, continuing these efforts through his service to the Pac-10 Gender Equity Committee (1997-98) as well as his continued diligent work to place the Arizona Athletics program in a leadership role in gender issues.

On the national scene, Livengood served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1998-99 and continues to serve as a member of the NACDA Executive Committee, the NACDA Finance-Management Committee, the NACDA Strategic and Long Range Planning Committee, and the NACDA Preseason Football Games Committee. He was president of the Division I-A Athletics Directors Association in 1998-99 and remains actively involved with that association. Livengood's hard work was recognized in the spring of 1999 when he was named the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA)/Continental Airlines Division I-A Athletic Director of the Year.

Born in Quincy, Wash., Livengood earned honorable mention all-state honors in basketball at Quincy High School. He attended Washington State, Everett (Wash.) Community College and Brigham Young University, earning a bachelor's degree in physical education from BYU in 1968. He completed his fifth-year education requirement for teaching certification at Central Washington in 1972.

Washington State hired Livengood as its Cage Camp director in 1980-81 and promoted him to assistant athletics director in charge of Cage Camp and high school relations in 1981-82. He was associate athletics director responsible for development and public relations in 1982-85. Livengood became director of athletics at Southern Illinois University in 1985-87, where he oversaw a 20-sport Saluki program in the Missouri Valley Conference and the Gateway Conference. He served as President of the Gateway Conference in 1986-87. Washington State rehired him as athletics director on September 1, 1987.

Livengood and his wife, Linda, have two grown children. Both graduated from The University of Arizona. Michelle graduated from the College of Law in May 2000, and Jeremy graduated in December 1999.

Kathleen "Rocky" LaRose - Sr. Assoc. Athletics Director

Kathleen "Rocky" LaRose begins her 24th year at the University of Arizona, her ninth year as Senior Associate Director of Athletics and her 14th year as the Senior Woman Administrator. Currently, she oversees the operations of all 19 sports at the UA, being the first woman in her capacity to have day-to-day operational responsibilities over Division I-A football and men's basketball programs.

As the Senior Associate Athletics Director, LaRose also oversees the compliance unit, heritage and the Hall of Champions, public relations and special events, media relations and C.A.T.S. student-athlete services. She also chairs the department's Equity and Title IX committees; and she directs the NCAA certification process.

LaRose joined the Arizona staff in 1979 as the UA softball coach and worked from 1980 until 1989 in various capacities including coordinator of athletic special events and special projects, and as assistant athletics director for fund development. LaRose is a past Vice President of the Pac-10 Conference and is a current member of the Pac-10 Council, which governs and regulates all Pac-10 policies. On the national level, she was a member of the NCAA Management Council (the legislative body of the NCAA) as the Pac-10 representative for four years and was appointed Management Council liaison to the NCAA Student-Athlete Advisory Board. She also has chaired various Pac-10 committees.

In 1990, LaRose developed the Commitment for Athletes' Total Success (C.A.T.S.), an educational approach used by student-athlete services to better the student-athlete academically, athletically, and personally.

Raised in Phoenix, Ariz., LaRose received both her Bachelor of Science and Master's degrees from The University of Arizona. While in attendance, she competed on the UA softball team as a starting infielder and clean-up hitter, leading the Cats to their first-ever conference championship title in 1979. She competed in the 1979 World Cup Softball championship as a member of the USA National Championship team. She also was a member of the Arete Society (UA's Athletics Honorary) and was the 1978 UA Homecoming Queen.

Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion

Years of planning came to fruition in late spring 2002 with the completion of the UA's new Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion on the north end of McKale Center.

A three-level modern edifice, the expansion project gives Arizona athletics a showpiece for its heritage on the upper levels, and lower-level facilities for strength training, conditioning and treatment that are unmatched in a collegiate setting.

The Kasser Family Sports Medicine Center occupies 5,300 usable square feet of space on one end of the lower level, including the Alex and Elisabeth Kasser Aqua Rehab Facility which features an underwater treadmill and other hydro-therapy equipment. The facility has stations for taping and treatment, examination rooms and offices for UA physicians, staff offices and reception area, and an X-ray examination room.

A spacious area with 32 different treadmill, stair and cycle machines for cardio workouts sits adjacent to the medical training room and the Bill Estes Jr. Family Strength and Conditioning Center, the eye-opening area for Wildcat athletes to perform weight work.

The strength and conditioning center covers more than 19,000 usable square feet and has 50 yards of three-lane synthetic turf track, a 10 by 20-yard sand pit two feet deep, 17 multi-purpose racks, 22 full body circuit machines, four complete sets of dumbbells and more than 10 tons of weights in customized "Arizona" logo and bumper plates. Nearly half a million dollars was invested in the new customized equipment that will help train Wildcat student-athletes. The space can accommodate nearly the entire football team in various workouts.

Legacy Lane leads from the curbside walks at the campus Mall to the Eddie Lynch Athletics Plaza a level above the strength center. The lane project allows former student-athletes, supporters and friends to own a bit of history with a custom-inscribed walkway tile, many in memoriam, and others noting cherished moments in UA sports history.

The legacy tiles cover the plaza terrace, an outdoor multi-purpose area on game days, and lead visitors to the doors of the Jim Click Hall of Champions, where Arizona's Sports Hall of Fame and rotating exhibits will showcase the heritage and tradition of Wildcat athletics in nearly 10,000 usable square feet of space.

Marble terrazzo flooring, glass walls and soaring bright ceilings make the Hall of Champions a vibrant area. Above, via twin glass, steel and marble stairways, the George Rountree Mezzanine features maple basketball flooring and is used for news conferences, receptions, convocations and other special events above the exhibits.

The Eddie Lynch Athletics Pavilion's construction tied in with existing McKale Center ramps and walks, and access for events held in the arena is accommodated just off the tiled terrace or through the center doors of the Click Hall of Champions.

Arizona Athletics C.A.T.S. Program

“A Program of Excellence”

Introduction

The University of Arizona Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to the academic, physical and personal development of each and every Wildcat student-athlete. To assist in that endeavor, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics (ICA) has developed a philosophical approach called C.A.T.S. (Commitment to an Athlete's Total Success). C.A.T.S. consists of four programs: Academics, Personal Development, Strength and Conditioning and Medical Services. These programs provide a philosophical framework for ICA and staff to use in the task of assisting in the personal, physical and emotional growth and in the educational development of the student-athlete.

Mission

- To provide a personal development program designed specifically for the individual student-athlete.
- To help develop personal and life skills needed to lead a healthy and positive lifestyle.
- To bring life-long and lasting growth in the individual
- To assist in academic, athletic and personal development, academically, athletically.

Benefits

- Student-athletes may realize higher academic achievement
- Increased likelihood of retention
- Graduation and a path toward a chosen profession
- A higher level of maturity, well-rounded experiences, personal responsibility and accountability
- Greater overall success

Character, intellect, and athletic ability are the combined qualities that make a student a candidate for athletic participation. Once those qualities have been demonstrated, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to a program that will develop the leadership potential of all students as they pursue their education, develop their athletic skills and prepare for rewarding careers.

C.A.T.S. Academics is designed to enhance the experience of the student-athlete in the University setting. The primary goals are:

- To support the efforts of every student-athlete who attends the University to earn a degree;
- To provide assistance for the student-athlete in the development of values, emphasizing the qualities of leadership;
- To enhance the interpersonal relationships and communication skills of the student-athlete;
- To facilitate the fulfillment of career and life goals of each student-athlete; and
- To safeguard the academic integrity of the UA by insuring compliance with all rules of the University and NCAA.

Mission

The C.A.T.S. Academic Office strives for excellence in regard to the academic, athletic, and personal performance of its student-athletes. Toward these goals, C.A.T.S. Academics commits itself to exemplary leadership and necessary services to support, manage, and lead its student-athletes.

We realize the unique commitments and pressures placed on the student-athletes. These very differences provide opportunities upon which the office may build a strong academic, athletic, and personal foundation for its student-athletes within and beyond the University.

The Staff

The C.A.T.S. Academics staff, under the direction of Associate Athletics Director Dr. Richard Bartsch, consists of:

Jerry Stitt, Special Assistant to the Senior Associate Athletics Director
Bobbi Madison, Coordinator - Football Academics
Julius Holt, Academic Counselor
Jennifer Mewes, Academic Counselor
Anthony Wright, Academic Counselor
Ken Crandall, Support Systems Analyst

Academic Advising

The academic advisor designated by each College has primary advising responsibilities for student-athletes who are currently enrolled in that College's curriculum. The C.A.T.S. Academics Office also offers supplemental counseling to all student-athletes regarding course selection for degree requirements and NCAA requirements for continued eligibility. The academic advisory staff are responsible for monitoring the student-athlete's progress towards a degree and preserving academic integrity in the advising process. Counseling student-athletes in course selections is one of the most important functions. Our approach is one that encourages the cooperating efforts of several individuals.

A staff member first works with the student-athlete to formulate a tentative course plan for the targeted term. This plan is based on the student's academic background, career objectives, and areas of interest. Then the student meets with a faculty advisor or college advising center staff member to review the plan.

The Athletic Department counselors and campus advisors work together in order to insure progress toward a degree as well as meet eligibility requirements.

Tutorial Program

Tutorial services are available to all student-athletes upon request. These sessions may be conducted in-groups or individually. Graduate students and outstanding undergraduate students are recruited from all departments and are selected on the basis of faculty recommendation and knowledge of subject area. Although special arrangements are sometimes made, tutoring is usually conducted at the C.A.T.S. Academics Center, McKale Room 126. This policy encourages student-athletes to attend and, thus, contributes to the positive atmosphere of the program. It also allows close staff supervision and safeguards the integrity of the program. The services provided by the tutorial staff are an integral part of the total C.A.T.S. Academic program.

Competent tutors who possess excellent communication skills are an invaluable learning resources for busy student-athletes. Some tutors are hired to be subject tutors and all tutors sign statements of confidentiality.

F.A.S.T. Program

(Freshman Academic Scholastic Training)

The primary focus of the student-athlete should be academic success. It is especially important that the freshman student-athlete understands this very early in their college career. With this in mind, the F.A.S.T. Program is designed to enhance the academic skills of the freshmen student-athlete to increase their chances of success in the classroom. Attendance in the F.A.S.T. Program is recommended for all teams and required by some. The F.A.S.T. program structure includes a daily 45 minute meeting when student-athletes schedule their time and review their notes. Topics emphasized during the F.A.S.T. Program include: time management and organizational skills, note taking and test taking strategies, paper structure, content and writing, and final exam preparation. Additional academic skills training is offered throughout the year. The program is unique because the information presented is focused on developing the student-athlete as a "whole" person. The ultimate goal is to develop the student-athlete academically, athletically, and socially.

S.T.A.R.T. F.A.S.T. PROGRAM

(Student-Athlete Resource Training Freshmen Athletic Scholastic Training)

The START FAST Program, required by all freshman student-athletes consists of six (6) hours of directed study time per week in the first semester of enrollment. Each study session focuses on completing academic objectives and is designed to supplement other academic programs.

Computer Lab

The C.A.T.S. computer lab encompasses twenty-three (23) stand alone computers featuring Microsoft office and Windows word-processing programs, and several spreadsheet programs. Each computer has full Internet access, the UA library Sabio system, and E-Mail. Student-athletes can access the Discover Career Exploration program from each computer. The Computer facility is open and supervised seventy (70) hours per week and the lab is maintained by a full-time employee. One laser printer and a scanner complement the lab.

In C.A.T.S. Personal Development, the main focus is on personal development, leadership, career development and community service. More than 50 members of the faculty and various campus departments are actively involved in a network supporting C.A.T.S.

Enrichment and Orientation Programs

Student-athletes explore campus life through an orientation program that consists of a three-day introductory session covering University and Athletics Department programs and policies. It is conducted at the beginning of the fall semester.

Substance Abuse Education & Testing

The Athletics department is committed to being drug-free. Educational programs consisting of a mandatory workshop, follow-up meetings, seminars, and a Substance Abuse Testing Program help in understanding - and avoiding -- any type of substance abuse.

C.A.T.S. Network for Student-Athletes

The purpose of the C.A.T.S. Network is to provide free, confidential and professional assistance to those student-athletes who wish to obtain information or advice in the areas of health, personal growth and well-being and/or explore specific personal concerns.

Personal Assistance Program

This program identifies student-athletes who are considered "at-risk," through an enrichment program which includes special assessment tests. Once recognized, the student-athlete is given assistance through individual sessions with Athletics Department staff members and/or through various campus assistance programs.

Minority Outreach Program

In affiliation with various programs on campus, the minority mentoring program places minority student-athletes in touch with faculty and staff who are there to address the personal or academic concerns of student-athletes.

Peak Performance Program

Peak Performance is designed to help student-athletes learn and use mental skills such as goal setting, visualization, positive self talk, stress management, communication and team building to enhance their effectiveness as a student-athlete and a person.

Peer Athletic Leaders (P.A.L. Program)

P.A.L. is made up of upper-class student-athletes from each team who are dedicated to helping other student-athletes with any questions or difficulties. Every incoming student is paired with a Peer Athletic Leader to help them ease their transition into the University.

Career Development Program

The Career Development Program is designed to offer a variety of services to help student-athletes develop and implement career plans, develop resumes, set goals, and help facilitate use of the campus Career and Placement Service.

L.I.F.E. Program

(Links to Internships and Future Employment)

Student-athletes are placed in internships or have the opportunity to interview for full-time or part-time jobs according to their majors and career interests.

Faculty Fellow Program

The Faculty Fellow allows for a personal relationship between a student and a faculty member to develop and it provides an opportunity to share intellectual, social and cultural experiences.

Seminar Series

The Seminar Series provides interesting and knowledgeable professionals to speak to student-athletes on a variety of health-related and student success issues. Voluntary and mandatory seminars are regularly scheduled for individual student-athletes, specific teams, or all student-athletes.

Student-Athlete Advisory Board (SAAB)

SAAB represents the voice of the student-athlete. Members of the board discuss their ideas and concerns with members of the Athletics Department administration. Student-athlete representatives from each of the UA's 19 sports are selected. The Director of Athletics and the Senior Associate Athletics Director (Senior Woman Administrator) hold non-voting membership on the board. The board meets monthly.

Student-Athlete Giving-Back Program

The Giving-Back Program is designed to educate student-athletes about the importance of giving back during and after athletic eligibility has ended. It also provides venues to learn the heritage and rich traditions of Arizona Athletics.

C.A.T.S. Forever

The C.A.T.S. mission continues long after student-athletes have left the University of Arizona. Former student-athletes who have left the program prior to graduation are encouraged to return to complete their academic degrees. Athletics Department personnel provide assistance in this area. Former student-athletes are also provided with career counseling, internship opportunities, and job search assistance. The University of Arizona Letterwinners Association also provides involvement opportunities and networking.

Community Outreach Program

Community service, which includes the Smith Project Speakers' Bureau, continues to be one of the most successful segments of the overall personal development program. During an average year, more than 200 student-athletes volunteer in excess of 400 hours to community service and speak to more than 40,000 children in the Tucson area.

Smith Project Speakers' Bureau

The student-athletes who speak for the Smith Project focus on teaching children how to make healthy life choices and the importance of education. They speak to children about their life experiences, impart an inspirational and positive message, and aim to make a difference in the lives of young people.

C.A.T.S. Strength and Conditioning offers the student-athlete diverse programming designed to maximize the physical capabilities of each individual student-athlete. Each student-athlete receives direction appropriate to his or her specific sport and is able to benefit physically and mentally from strength and conditioning efforts.

C.A.T.S. Strength and Conditioning Staff

Brad Arnett, Director of C.A.T.S. Strength and Conditioning
Carla Garrett, Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach
Preston Greene, Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach
Neil Willey, Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Bill Estes Jr. Family Strength and Conditioning Center

The new $13.5 million dollar Bill Estes Jr. Family Strength and Conditioning Center at The University of Arizona is a functional facility with thousands of dollars of strength, plyometric (indoor sandpit), indoor running turf and aerobic equipment. An individualized program is developed for each student-athlete depending on his or her sport, position and specific physical needs. In today's athletic arena, it takes more than just talent to succeed. Physical training that includes speed development, flexibility work, strength training, injury prevention exercises and nutritional counseling will give a University of Arizona student-athlete the greatest chance to be successful in their competitive endeavor. The University of Arizona is committed to helping every student-athlete reach his or her potential.

Free Weight Equipment

Free weight training provides a student-athlete with functional power and strength development to enhance their performance. World-class and state-of-the-art equipment is available to help maximize athletic performance safely and effectively.

Plyometric and Flexibility Equipment

Transitioning strength development into reactive power and foot speed is vital for every student-athlete. Specific equipment such as an indoor sandpit, running turf, jumping machines, plyo boxes, medicine balls and the knowledge of when and how to use them from the strength staff will allow a student-athlete to reach the highest level of competition.

Machines and Dumbbells

Injury prevention and rehabilitation is another aspect that affects a student-athlete's success. A line of top quality selectorized machines and dumbbells, coupled with a staff knowledgeable in functional rehabilitation, will ensure that balanced development, joint isolation and stability can be achieved with the utmost in safety and comfort.

Cardiovascular Equipment

In addition to having some of the best weather in the country for conditioning outside on a year-round basis, the strength and conditioning center has top of the line heart rate monitored equipment for individual student-athletes to use.

C.A.T.S. Medical Services

C.A.T.S. Medical Services addresses the medical needs of the student-athlete and is able to provide valuable assistance for the student-athlete. The Medical Services area focuses on preventative measures in order to allow the student-athlete to enjoy the rewards of his or her sport to the fullest extent. Rehabilitation and physical therapy services assist the student-athlete in recovery and preparation for continued success in a specific sport.

C.A.T.S. Medical Services Staff

The athletic medicine team is comprised of a team physician (family practice specialist), three team orthopedic surgeons, 12 certified athletics trainers and two physical therapists. In addition, the entire staff works with a team of approximately 30 specialists in the Tucson community to provide comprehensive medical care for athletically related injuries and illnesses.

The Kasser Family Sports Medicine Center

The sports medicine center consists of 5,300 usable square feet in space. It includes the Alex and Elisabeth Kasser Aqua Rehab Facility which features an underwater treadmill and other hydro-therapy equipment. The facility has stations for taping and treatment, examination rooms and offices for UA physicians, staff offices and reception area, and an X-ray examination room.

Injury Prevention

The athletic medicine staff is committed to working with strength and conditioning coaches, team coaches and student-athletes in implementing ways to prevent injuries. Although the risk of injury cannot be completely eliminated, proper strength and conditioning, adequate hydration, taping and bracing, and education are all methods employed by the staff to minimize the risk of injury or illness.

Injury Evaluation and Treatment

If a student-athlete is injured during an athletic event, he or she must notify the athletic trainer of his or her sport as soon as possible. The certified athletic trainer will assess the injury and proceed to treat the injury or recommend further consultation from a team physician.

Injury Rehabilitation

The athletic training staff and physical therapist are trained in up-to-date methods of rehabilitating athletic injuries. The staff utilizes equipment located in the rehabilitation area of the training room such as balance boards, Swiss balls, lifecycles and a treadmills. Later stages of rehabilitation may be conducted in the weight room with help from the strength and conditioning staff.
