Assistant Coach Larry Ray

Assistant Coach Larry Ray enters his second consecutive season with the Wildcats but has an Arizona heritage and brings more than 25 years of coaching experience to the staff.

Ray was an assistant coach at Arizona during the 1986-1995 seasons, helping guide teams that claimed NCAA titles in 1991, 1993, and 1994.

Before returning to Arizona in 2002, Ray was head coach at the University of Florida where he established the program and compiled a 169-106 record in his four years of competition. The Gators made the post-season tournament and were ranked in the top 25 two of the four years during his tenure.

He is perhaps known best for the 1998 campaign in which Ray led Florida to a 47-22 season, claiming the Southeastern regular-season title, the SEC Eastern Division title and the Gator's first-ever trip to the NCAA Region 6 Championship. Along the way, Ray earned Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year honors.

After a year of recruiting and developing team processes for the new Florida program in 1996, Ray led the Gators to a 42-25 inaugural season record (16-8 SEC) in 1997, including a third-place finish in the SEC Eastern Division and a trip to the SEC Tournament Championship game. Florida also split with nationally-ranked rivals Florida State and South Florida and defeated No. 12 Oklahoma State, while playing a challenging schedule that included five College World Series teams.

He works primarily with left-handed slap hitters, the outfield and recruiting at Arizona.

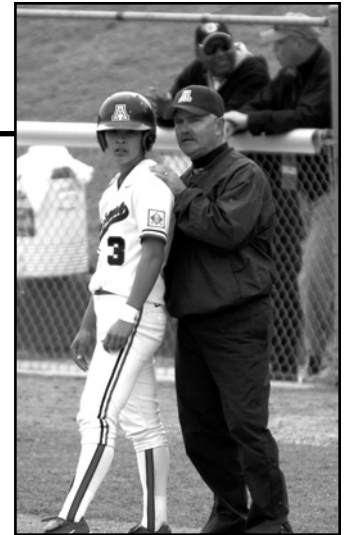

Ray compiled a 70-13 record in four years as coach at Boulder City, Nev., High School from 1982 to 1985. He took over a program that won two games the previous year and guided it to a 17-3 mark and the Class

AA state championship his first season. He also coached BCHS to consecutive titles in his last two years with 20-1 and 24-1 marks.

A graduate of Idaho State University, Ray lettered as a second baseman in baseball and wide receiver and kicker in football. He was selected a District 7 All-American as an infielder in 1972. He lettered two years in football and one year in baseball at West Valley Junior College in Campbell, Calif. (Now in Saratoga) in 1968-69 before transferring to ISU. He was the football scoring leader for California junior colleges in 1969.

Ray played in five World tournaments in competitive fast-pitch as a middle infielder. He has produced a number of successful instructional videos on coaching techniques for slap hitting and the short game.

Ray and his wife, Dawn, have a daughter, Bree, 11, and son, Taylor, 10.

Assistant Coach Nancy Evans

Evans, 27, will complete a full decade with the Arizona program this year. A former National Player of the Year award winner, she enters her third season as a full-time assistant coach on the UA staff. She also worked with the program as a volunteer assistant in the 1999-2000 seasons, and was one of the top players in the game from 1994 to 1998.

Her duties involve considerable practice-session work with Arizona's pitchers, infielders and hitters, and game-day pitching strategy.

During the 2002 season, ceremonies at Hillenbrand Stadium marked the enshrinement of Evans' jersey No. 13 on the outfield fence, testimony to the winning heritage she brings the program.

She took home a mountain of hardware as a top player in the game throughout her career, marked by a redshirt year for injury in 1996. Notable among her honors was the 1998 Honda Softball Award as the National Player of the Year, first-team All-America honors for two consecutive years, Academic All-America honors, All-College World Series honors, College World Series Most Valuable Player. Her Wildcat teams won three national championships.

Evans tied her own single-season record with a 36-2 mark in 1998, striking out 255 and recording a 0.98 earned run average. She finished her career with a record of 124-8, No. 1 on UA's chart and then No. 3 on the NCAA chart. It remains the best winning percentage in NCAA history. She won 10 games at the most critical time of the year — in College World Series action over four years — against two losses, one in the 1998 title game.

Only two other Arizona players — All American shortstop Julie Stander in the 1980s and All-American Toni Mascarenas in the late 1990s — played more games in a Wildcat uniform than Evans. She did it in the circle, at third base, shortstop or second, and was a good enough batter to be the designated player numerous times.

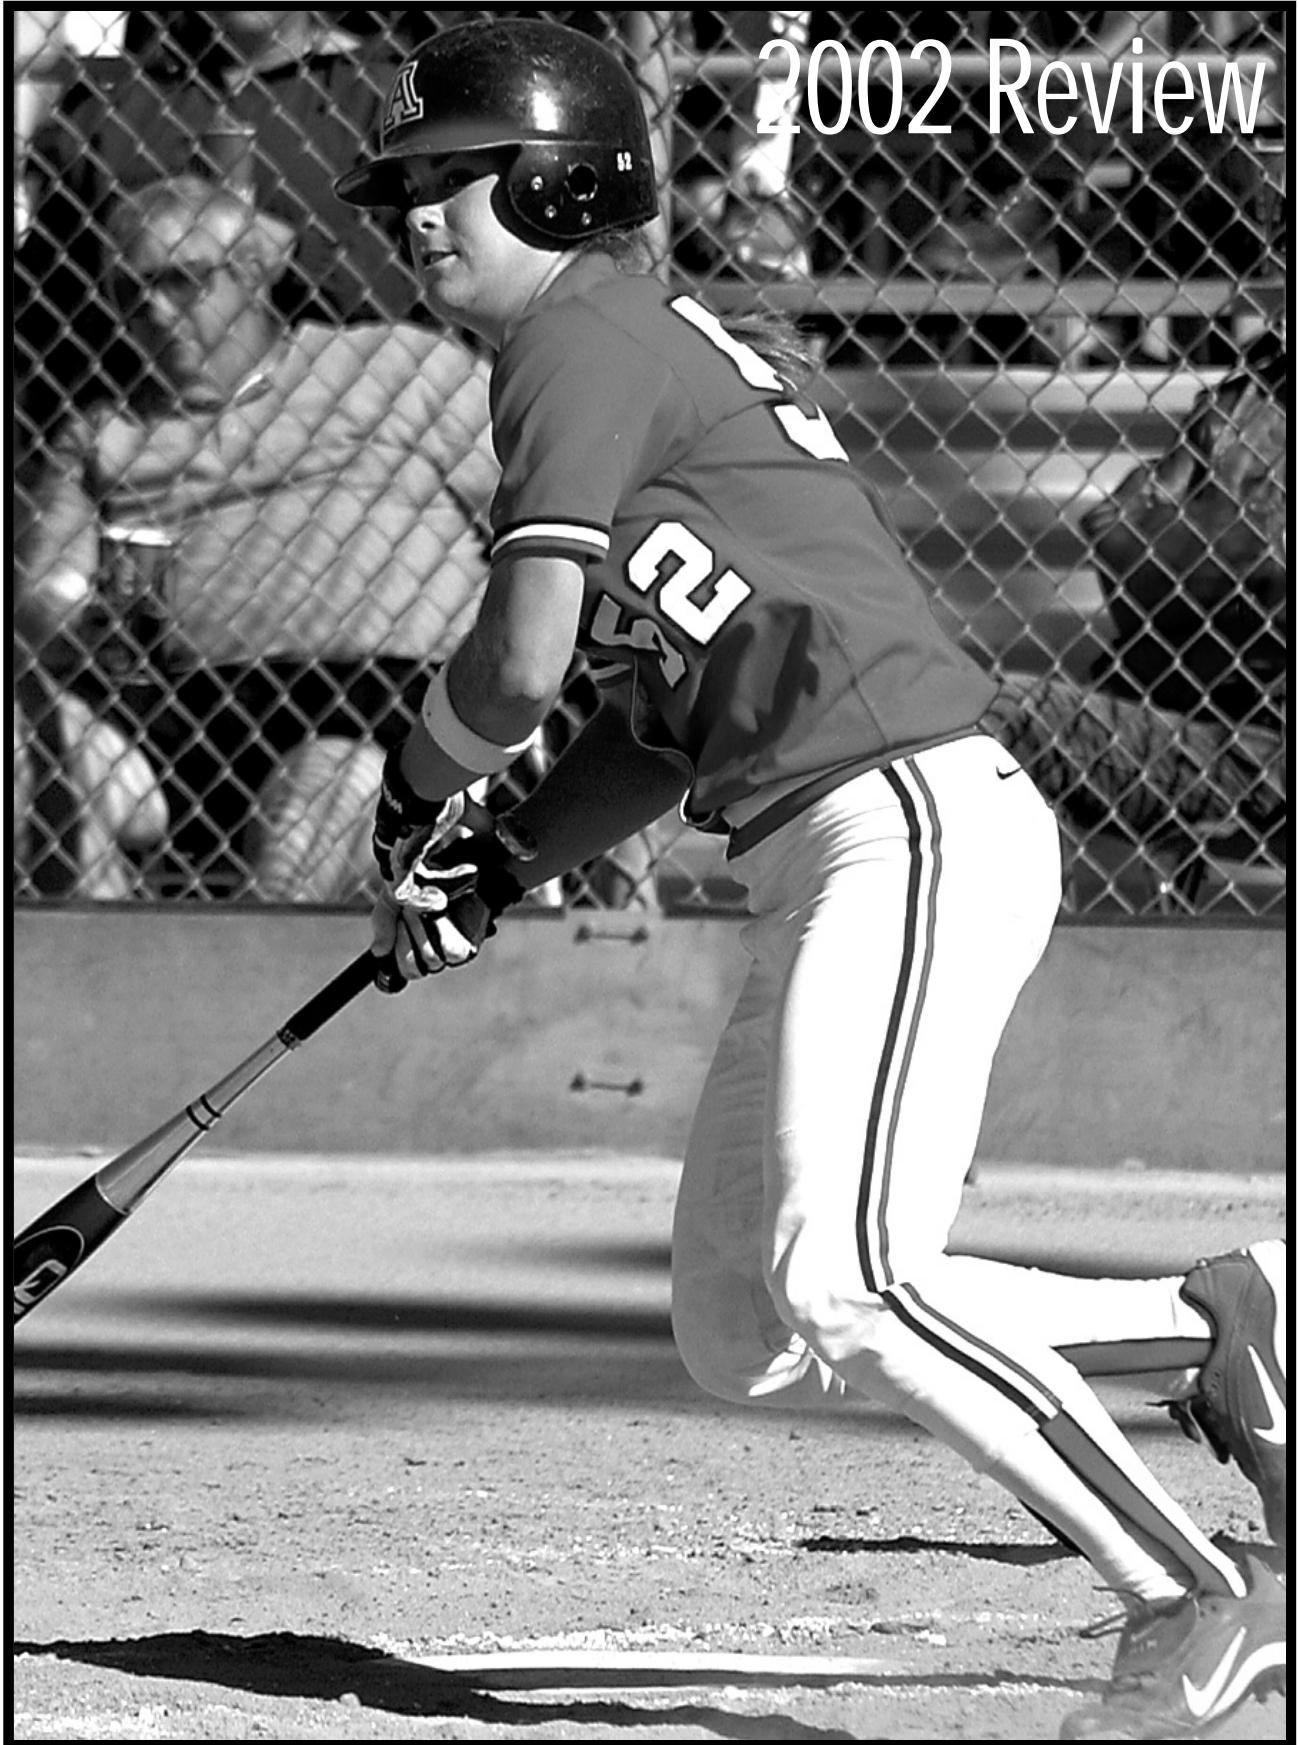

She finished her career in a number of top-10 Arizona offensive record categories, including hits, doubles, home runs, runs batted in and walks.

Evans played on the USA National team in 1997 when her team won the gold medal in the Pan Am Games. In 1998, she went on to play overseas in Italy where she played in the European Championships. In 1999, she continued her professional career with the WPSL (Women's Professional Fastpitch League) as a member of the Tampa Bay Firestix and won a national championship.

Evans graduated from the University of Arizona in 1998 with a degree in psychology. She is engaged to Steve Fesperman.

2002 Review

2002 Review

Arizona finished the 2002 season with a 55-12 overall record and a 15-6 mark in the Pac-10 Conference. The Cats made their 10th appearance in the national championship game and their 15th consecutive appearance in the College World Series, the longest active string of appearances and second-most all time. Head coach Mike Candrea won his 900th game during the 2002 season, becoming one of only five coaches in the history of the game to do so.

Regional Champs Mark

UA finished 4-1 in NCAA Region 2 play in Minneapolis, Minn, to win its 15th consecutive NCAA Regional and advance to the CWS. Arizona defeated Boston University, 4-1, Penn State, 4-3 and DePaul, 2-0. Arizona lost to DePaul 0-6 but ultimately defeated DePaul, 1-0, to advance to the College World Series. It was UA's 16th consecutive NCAA appearance.

At the World Series

Arizona made it to the championship by beating Nebraska, 1-0, in the opening round and Arizona State, 1-0, in a quarterfinal contest. Senior Jennie Finch pitched shutouts in both games. Arizona then beat Florida State, 6-2, to get reach the title game. Before the runs scored by FSU, Finch had tossed 27 consecutive scoreless innings in WCWS play, spanning the 2001-02 seasons. Arizona faced California in the title game and Cal senior Jocelyn Forest threw her second one-hitter of the year to help the Bears earn a 6-0 victory over the Cats.

Nifty 50

Arizona won 50 games for the 12th time in school history and the 12th time in coach Mike Candrea's 17 seasons as head coach. Arizona's highest victories total was a then-NCAA-record 67-4 mark in 1998. Candrea also has four other 60+ seasons - 66-6 in 1995, 65-4 in 2001, 64-3 in 1994 and 61-5 in 1997.

National Player of the Year

Jennie Finch was named winner of the Honda Softball Award as the national player of the year for the second consecutive season. She finished the season with a 34-6 record and an earned run average of 0.97. Finch established an NCAA record in 2002 by winning 60 consecutive games over three seasons. Finch also set a UA record with 366 strikeouts. Offensively, she had a .311 batting average and 56 RBI, hitting 16 home runs.

All-NCAA Tournament Honors

All-American Honors

Two Arizona players earned National Fastpitch Coaches Association All-America honors. Senior pitcher Jennie Finch earned first-team honors for the third consecutive year, and sophomore first baseman Leneah Manuma earned first-team honors for the second consecutive year. The Wildcats have had at least one player selected for first-team All-America honors since 1990.

Post-season Habit

Arizona appeared in its 15th consecutive College World Series and 16th consecutive NCAA tournaments under coach Mike Candrea. Arizona also played in the 1974 and 1975 College World Series of the former Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women under coach Judy Spray and in 1977 and 1979 under coach Ginny Parrish. Arizona was a regional host 11 times - in 1988, 1990, 1992-95, 1997-2001.

Arizona's Record in NCAA Play

Arizona has a 89-24 overall record in NCAA Tournament games.
Arizona is 46-6 in NCAA Regional games.
Arizona is 43-18 in NCAA College World games.
Arizona has won at least one game in 14 different College World Series.

Strength of Schedule

Arizona played 36 regular-season games against teams picked for the NCAA Tournament and was 27-9 in those games. The Cats were 15-3 against others and 12-6 against Pac-10 teams selected for NCAA action. Against ranked teams, Arizona posted a 26-9 record in 2002. The final coaches poll says it best - the Pacific-10 Conference had seven of eight teams in the rankings, including the top three.

2002 Winning Streaks

Arizona had a three-season 70-game home winning streak, its best in history, snapped by UCLA on April 7. The same game also saw pitcher Jennie Finch's personal NCAA-record winning streak end at 60 games. The team's home winning streak dated back to a loss versus Stanford on April 9, 2000. The Cats had a 2002 season-best overall winning streak of 20 games.

Arizona Home Softball Attendance

Arizona set home attendance records in 2002 with an average crowd of 1,755 and a total draw of 49,140. The Wildcats drew the single-game record for the April 7, 2002, game against UCLA, with a 3,161 fans in the ballpark. Arizona also had several crowds displace others in its all-time Hillenbrand Memorial Stadium top 10 crowds list- the No. 3 crowd of 2,987 for the April 30 ASU game, the No. 5 crowd of 2,773 for the April 5 Washington game and the seventh-largest crowd of 2,739 for the May 4 Stanford game. The Cats led the nation in total attendance in 2001 at 46,499.

Going, Going, Gone

Arizona didn't close in on its own NCAA record of 126 home run set in 2001 but managed to hit 93 homers in 2002, which is the fourth-highest total in school history and among NCAA bests. Leneah Manuma led the way with 21 home runs, followed by Lovieanne Jung and Jennie Finch each with 16, Jackie Coburn with 14, Mackenzie Vandergeest with 12 and Jenny Gladding with 11.
